A fearful storm of wind and rain swept over Kansas City, Mo., on the 11th inst., lasting only about an hour, but flooding the streets to a considerable depth, while several buildings were blown down, causing a lamentable loss of life. A tower on a school building, which had twice been condemned as unsafe, but not attended to, was blown over, and with its heavy bell went through the roof and floors to the basement, carrying many of the children down also; over a dozen dead bodies, some of them shockingly mangled, were taken out of the ruins in a short time. An overall factory, in which twenty-five girls were at work, was raised, and most of the girls killed or seriously hurt. Part of the county court house was blown down, killing a deputy sheriff. Smith & Moffatt's spice mill was destroyed, Smith being killed, and Moffatt and three employes badly injured. In all, twenty-three persons were killed, and possibly more, while a large number suffered serious injury, and some of them will die of their wounds. At Leavenworth, Kansas, the storm was very severe and wrecked much property, but only one life was lost.

Labor Matters.

Most of the lumber working establishments in Chicago, and all the railroads, are working on the old basis of ten hours a day and ten hours' pay. On the 11th the metal working mills and foundries were nearly all running, with much larger working forces than on the previous day. The furniture workers were the only large class who were holding out for eight hours. The boot and shoe manufacturers, who yielded to the demand for eight hours, were considering the advisability of returning to ten hours. The total amount contributed to the police officers' fund had reached nearly $75,000. The police claimed to have ample evidence to convict August Spies, Schwab, Parsons and Fischer, the anarchist leaders, of murder.

A drug store kept by a German was wrecked and looted by the Polish and Bohemian anarchists of Chicago on the 5th inst. Now your real, simon-pure anarchist loves rum as much as he hates law; consequently everything in the drug store which smelled of alcohol, and a good deal of liquid which did not, was gulped down by the rioters. Up to the 11th eight of them had died from drinking wine of colchicum, and at least four more were beyond hope of recovery. Seven others were treated by one physician on account of overdoses of paregoric.

Herr Most, the New York anarchist, was arrested and locked up on the 11th; arms and anarchist literature were found in his room.

Alderman Rudzinski, a Pole, has been impeached by the councils of Milwaukee for counselling his countymen to riot.

AFFAIRS IN KITTERY.

KITTERY, ME., May 10th.

Granville C. Spinney has just completed a fine road wagon for D. Ed. Hill; it is finished in the wood and varnished, and when hitched up behind Ed's stepper will make a nobby team.

Mr. Elroy Cottle has recently returned from Waterville, Me., with a lot of fine horses which he purchased expressly for use in his livery stable. He has also bought several new carriages for this season's use.

Miss Addie Remick, a graduate of the Gorham, (Me.) Normal school, is teaching in Yarmouth, Me.

Miss Lillian Urch of Newcastle, who has taught successfully in this town, is at present teaching the spring term of school in district No. 8 in Eliot.

We understand that M. Alpheus Deering, who was recently found drowned at Kittery Point, was a relative of the late Hon. Gowen Wilson.

Miss Minnie Paul is teaching school in district No. 1; Miss Carrie H. Haley in district No. 2; Miss Mattie O. Barrill, of Beech Ridge, York, in district No. 3; Miss Lizzie A. SUB ROSA.

Mina Farnham of Springvale, Me., has confessed that she gave birth to the child whose dead body was found in a box in the river at East Rochester, N. H., May 7th. The child was born April 1st, and her sisters assisted in making away with it. The sisters were arrested in Springvale on the 10th, and on the 11th were before the police court in Rochester on the charge of murder; they were sent to jail without bail, to await the action of the grand jury.

Be Warned

in time. Kidney diseases may be prevented by purifying, renewing, and invigorating the blood with Ayer's Sarsaparilla. When, through debility, the action of the kidneys is perverted, these organs rob the blood of its needed constituent, albumen, which is passed off in the urine, while worn out matter, which they should carry off from the blood, is allowed to remain. By the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, the kidneys are restored to proper action, and Albuminuria, or is prevented. Ayer's Sarsaparilla also prevents inflammation of the kidneys, and other disorders of these organs. Mrs. Jas. W. Weld, Forest Hill st., Jamaica Plain, Mass., writes: "I have had a complication of diseases, but my greatest trouble has been with my kidneys. Four bottles of Ayer's Sarsaparilla made me feel like a new person; as well and strong as ever." W. M. McDonald, 46 Summer st., Boston, Mass., had been troubled for years with Kidney Complaint. By the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, he not only the disease from assuming a fatal form, but was restored to perfect health. John McLellan, cor. Bridge and Third sts., Lowell, Mass., writes: "For several years I suffered from Dyspepsia and Kidney Complaint, the latter being so severe at times that I could scarcely attend to my work. My appetite was poor, and I was much emaciated; but by using my appetite and digestion improved, and my health has been perfectly restored."

Prevented

AYER'S

Hood's Sarsaparilla

Combines, in a proportion peculiar to itself, the active medicinal properties of the best blood-purifying and strengthening remedies of the vegetable kingdom. It will positively cure—when in the power of medicine—Spring Debility, Headache, Dyspepsia, Catarrh, Salt Rheum, Scrofula, and all Diseases caused by a low state of the blood.

"I suffered three years with blood poison. I took Hood's Sarsaparilla, and think I am cured." MRS. M. J. DAVIS, Brockport, N. Y.

"Hood's Sarsaparilla beats all others, and is worth its weight in gold." I. BANNINGTON, 130 Ball Street, New York City.

Purifies the Blood

"I tried a dozen articles to cleanse my blood, but never found anything that did me any good till I began using Hood's Sarsaparilla." W. H. PEER, Rochester, N. Y.

"My wife was troubled with dizziness and constipation, and her blood has been in a bad order—in fact she has been all run down. Hood's Sarsaparilla is doing her a wonderful amount of good." F. M. BALDWIN, druggist, Blanchester, Ohio.

100 Doses One Dollar.

Is so vastly superior to any other sarsaparilla or blood purifier, that one has well said: "Its health-giving effects upon the blood and entire human organism, are as much more positive than the remedies of a quarter of a century ago, as the steam-power of to-day is in advance of the slow and laborious drudgery of years ago."

"While suffering from a severe bilious attack in March, 1883, a friend in Peoria, Ill., recommended Hood's Sarsaparilla. I tried the remedy, and was permanently cured." J. A. SHEPARD, travelling agent for Devoe & Co., Fulton Street, N. Y.

"I was for five years a sufferer with boils, all run down, and was at one time obliged to give up work. Before taking all of two bottles of Hood's Sarsaparilla, was entirely cured." R. M. LANE, Pittsburgh, Pa.

"I was severely afflicted with scrofula, and for over a year had two running sores on my neck. Took five bottles of Hood's Sarsaparilla, and consider myself entirely cured." C. E. LOVEJOY, Lowell, Mass.

CIRCUIT COURT OF THE UNITED STATES.

MAY TERM, Clark, J.

May 12th, Forenoon.—The action Harriet Lindsey vs. the Portland & Rochester Railroad, brought to recover $20,000 damages for personal injuries incurred at Rochester, in October 1882, was entered judgment for the plaintiff, and judgment satisfied. The case has been settled by the parties. Ranney and Clark (of Boston) for plaintiff; William L. Putnam (of Portland) for defendant.

Robertson vs. Northern Railroad was ordered continued nisi.

In case David C. Whittemore in bankruptcy. vs. Amoskeag National Bank, Moody Currier, George B. Chandler, David B. Varney, John B. Varick. Henry Chandler, John S. Kidder, Edson Hill and Reed P. Silver, in which a decree is entered sustaining the demurrer to the plaintiff's bill, the counsel for the defendant claimed an appeal to the Supreme Court of the United States. Wood & Clark for compt.; Briggs & Huse, Livermore & Fish for defendant.

Case Goff vs. Prescott, which was in order for trial this morning, was continued.

The court came in at 11 o'clock a. m., and the petit jurors were excused until the afternoon.

Case Bartlett Land & Lumber Co. vs. Morey, Goff vs. Prescott and Robertson vs. Ketell were continued.

The court took a recess till 2 P. M.

Afternoon Session.—The report of the Grand Jury, finding 10 indictments, is as follows:—

Fred Henry Jones, receiving postage stamps, stolen from the post office at Exeter. Arraigned, plea not guilty; trial Thursday.

George A. Nealley, minor, stealing postage stamps from post office at Exeter. Arraigned, plea guilty; sentence deferred.

Midas King, fraudulent affidavit for reimbursement of pension. Arraigned, plea not guilty. Case continued to October term. Respondent recognized.

Edward B. Towne of Nashua, two indictments for selling liquor without license. Personal recognizance. It is understood that the case will be settled with the collector of internal revenue, awaiting the consent of the department.

Harry Closson, misuse of mails.

Arthur Dealand, East Rochester, stealing money from registered letters.

James H. Rafferty of Manchester, two indictments for selling liquor without license.

Hamilton Giverson, offence against the postal laws.

Israel B. Davis of Bath, fictitious claim for reimbursement of pension.

No indictment was found against Lyman Clark of Winchester, he having paid the tax on the cider brandy distilled by him, and satisfied the demands of the internal revenue.

REV. G. D. GARLAND.

Some weeks ago it was stated that Rev. G. D. Garland, formerly of Newcastle, had been expelled from the Strafford Christian conference, and that it made his third expulsion from religious organizations within ten years, he having previously been expelled from the Freewill Baptist society in Maine, and also from the Maine Eastern conference of the Christian church. Mr. Garland writes us from Centre Tuftonboro', N. H., that this is not true in any particular; that he has now in his possession the identical letters by which he in 1871 withdrew from the Freewill Baptist church in Monroe, Me., signed by the authorized clerk; also a letter showing that he withdrew from the Eastern Christian conference, after they had refused to give him the rights he claimed. He adds:

"I am also a member of the Strafford Christian conference, and its secretary; and have its books in my possession. Am not dead—don't propose to die yet. Have a united church and good congregation. I do not deny but that the executive committee of this conference has taken action, but unfairly, unjustly and uncalled for; their act is not that of the conference."

"QUIEN SABE?"

We have received a letter from Mr. J. Q. A. Gale of Polkton, Anson county, North Carolina, in which he asks "Are there any of the relatives of William C. Gale living in Portsmouth. He left there many years ago and settled in Cheraw, South Carolina, where he died, leaving four children. He left in Portsmouth his mother, Martha Ann Muchmore, and two sisters, Mary T. Gale and Harriet Fuller. If there should be any relatives, please ask them to write me."

COMMITTEES APPOINTED.

At a recent meeting of St John's lodge of Freemasons the following committees were appointed, to perfect arrangements for the celebration of the 150th anniversary of the organization of the lodge, next St. John's day. One member of each committee appointed was from St. Andrew's lodge, which body offered all assistance in its power:

On finance—Wm. Ward, W. Freeman, A. R. Junkins, Ed. W. Riley, D. E. Leavitt, Thos. Entwistle, John Tanton, O. G. Fernald.

On Invitations—W. G. Billings, A. R. Junkins, John H. Locke, B. F. Webster, M. Crowley, H. F. Wendell, Thos. Entwistle, W. H. Page.

On Programme—E. W. Riley, John Christie, W. G. Billings, D. E. Leavitt, Frank J. Philbrick, A. R. Junkins, John Damé, H. F. Wendell, W. B. Grogan, T. J. Mitchell, R. I. Walden.

UNIVERSALIST PARISH MEETING.

The adjourned parish meeting of the Universalist society will be held this (Thursday) evening at 7:30 o'clock, in the vestry. A full attendance is earnestly requested.

Of the play and company which will be at Music hall to-morrow evening, the Cincinnati Enquirer says: "The play and the star have been seen here so often that an extended notice is not necessary. The constant laughter, which at times broke out in roars last night, that was caused by comicalities by the star, showed that the audience were enjoying themselves, and that was what they wanted. 'Uncle Alvin' works hard to make his patrons have a good time, and evidently succeeds. The orchestra, which he carries with him, is an excellent one, and the soloists were loudly applauded."

Capt. Percival C. Pope, U. S. M. C., has been detached from the marine barracks at this navy yard, and ordered to command the barracks at the Washington navy yard, relieving Capt. John H. Highee.

The Riverside base ball club would like to arrange a game with the High school nine or the Red Stockings, at any time. Address W. Dow.

One undivided half of Shapleigh's island,—or Marvin's island, as it is more generally called now,—including the property known as Doane's wharf, is to be sold at auction May 29th.

Captain Albert H. Adams discharged 10,000 bricks at Eldredge's wharf on the 11th inst., from his gondola hailing from Durham. The gondola loaded at Pinkham's brick yard, Dover. She has several aliases, but the last name the captain gave her was the Beaver.

In the United States senate, on the 11th inst., the following proposed amendment to the river and harbor bill was introduced by Mr. Blair: For the improvement of Little harbor, at or near Portsmouth, N. H., $35,000; to complete the improvements in the Cocheco river at Dover, N. H., $30,000; for the improvement of Portsmouth harbor, $50,000.

Mr. John Albee will deliver the Memorial oration in Music hall on Monday evening, May 31st.

Mr. Thomas Neil has been appointed teller at the Rockingham national bank.

One of the stones of the triangle against which the new tide-gates of the north pond will shut, was put in place on Wednesday of this week. It is about twelve feet long, four and a half feet wide and a foot thick, and weighs some five tons.

Rev. Mr. Perry of Cumberland has been engaged as pastor by the Congregational church of Limerick, and commenced his pastorate on the 9th inst.

In Limerick, a few days ago, the Knights of Labor made a good strike. They assembled in force, and put up all the fences on the place of Thomas Nicklin, who, with his son, has for a long time been sick and unable to work.

We learn that the city has already paid out $28 to defend itself in the suit brought by Ex-Policeman Quinn, for back pay, and the case is but just begun.—Penny Post.

To the Cuticura Remedies I owe My Health, My Happiness, and My Life.

A day never passes that I do not think and speak kindly of the CUTICURA REMEDIES. Seven years ago, all of a dozen lumps formed on my neck, ranging in size from a cherry stone to an orange. The large ones were frightful to look at, and painful to bear; people turned aside when they saw me, in disgust, and I was ashamed to be on the street or in society. Physicians and their treatment, and all medicines failed to do any good. In a moment of despair I tried the CUTICURA REMEDIES—CUTICURA, the great Skin Cure, and CUTICURA SOAP, an exquisite Skin Beautifier, externally, and CUTICURA RESOLVENT, the new Blood Purifier, internally; the small lumps (as I call them) gradually disappeared, and the large ones broke, in about two weeks, discharging large quantities of matter, leaving two slight scars in my neck to-day to tell the story of my suffering. My weight then was one hundred and fifteen sickly pounds; my weight now is one hundred and sixty-one solid, healthy pounds, and my height is only five feet five inches. In my travels I praised the CUTICURA REMEDIES, North, South, East, and West. TO CUTICURA REMEDIES I OWE MY HEALTH, MY HAPPINESS, AND MY LIFE. A prominent New York druggist said to me the other day, "Do you still use the CUTICURA REMEDIES; you look to be in perfect health!" My reply was, "I do, and shall always. I have never known what sickness is since I commenced using the CUTICURA REMEDIES." Sometimes I am laughed at by praising them to people not acquainted with their merits, but sooner or later they will come to their senses and believe the same as those that use them, as dozens have before, have told. May the time come when there shall be a large CUTICURA Supply House in every city in the world, for the benefit of humanity, where the CUTICURA REMEDIES shall be sold ONLY so that there will be rarely a need of ever entering a drug store.

Sneezing Catarrh.

The distressing sneeze, sneeze, sneeze, the acrid, watery discharges from the eyes and nose, the painful inflammation extending to the throat, the swelling of the mucous lining, causing choking sensations, cough, ringing noises in the head and splitting headaches,—how familiar these symptoms are to thousands who suffer periodically from head colds or influenza, and who live in ignorance of the fact that a single application of SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE FOR CATARRH will afford instantaneous relief.

But this treatment in cases of simple Catarrh gives but a faint idea of what this remedy will do in the chronic forms, where the breathing is obstructed by choking, putrid mucous accumulations, the hearing affected, smell and taste gone, throat ulcerated and hacking cough gradually fastening itself upon the debilitated system. Then it is that the marvellous curative powers of SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE manifests itself in instantaneous and grateful relief. Cure begins from the first application. It is rapid, radical, permanent, economical, safe.

[Concluded from 1st page.]

Mexican, indifferent, apparently, to one's observation, but alive to a chance to sell a glass of milk, and a master of the art of putting on his broad-brimmed hat to give the most picturesque effect. As for the burro, his face, surmounted by long, flapping ears is as docile but yet as conceited as that of a camel of Egypt. There are dozens of the little animals in the alley, and their presence there every day has given the lane its singular name. Some of them are loaded with bundles of wood, others are half-covered with live chickens that have been brought into town to market, and others are straddled by men who are too lazy to walk, and whose feet nearly touch the ground, owing to the diminutive size of the burro. Early in the morning the strange gathering arrives, and at evening the beasts and their masters march slowly off to their homes in the country.—Santa Fe Cor. San Francisco Chronicle.

Type with a War History.

Very few people know that the type on which this paper is printed has been the object of many ups and downs from war times up to the present. Just a few week's before Gen. Sherman's army passed through the eastern portion of Georgia a printing office was opened in Waynesboro. When the devasting army finished doing the town they left all the type of the new printing office on the floor in a heap. Only one who has worked in a printing office knows how great a task it is to get eight or ten bushels of "pied" type into shape for use, and, indeed, it was so great an undertaking that no one had the courage to tackle it. It has been only a little more than two years since this office was established here, and the work of cleaning up the mixed types had gone on steadily until there are only about two bushels of mixed type left.

The people of Georgia should take a peculiar pride in sustaining this paper, since even the remorseless Union soldiers could not silence the old types, which speak as fearlessly to-day as they did in those days whose memory brings no pleasure.—Gibson (Ga.) Enterprise.

A County in Southern California.

In speaking of counties reminds us that a county in southern California means something. Take for instance the county just north of this—San Bernardino—and you could states of Massachusetts, Connecticut, and Rhode Island and drop them into here borders, and there might be room enough left for another small state like Delaware. This will give you something of an idea of how big and tall California is.—San Diego Cor. Cleveland Leader.

A Remedy for the East Wind.

A remedy for east wind is proposed by The Lancet. The real cause of its malignity being the avidity of the wind to take moisture, and particularly the secretion of the mucous membrane lining the air passages, it is recommended that succulent jujube or any morsel that gives off aqueous vapor should be carried in the mouth during the time of exposure to east wind. —Medical Journal.

The Variations of Negro Dialect.

The editor of The Southern Bivouac gives the reasons of the variation in the expressions and orthography of writers of negro dialect. He says it is accounted for by the fact "that there grew up among the negroes of each neighborhood certain phrases and words which did not travel beyond the very narrow confines of personal intercourse."—Texas Siftings.

DUFFY'S PURE MALT WHISKEY.

What it is.

It is a superior brand of pure whiskey, its chief merit being that it is distilled by a secret process discover d by us in 1869, whereby every trace of fusel oil and other injurious substances are eliminated. It is the only whiskey of the kind manufactured in the world and it is the only absolutely pure whiskey on the market. While as a whiskey and for every purpose to which a whiskey is put, either as a medicine or drink, it is unequalled by any other whiskey, it is, owing to its absolute purity especially fitted for medicinal purposes. Another peculiar feature of it is that it is the only whiskey, so it will stay on the stomach of invalids and debilitated persons, and combining, as it does, a food quality with that of a stimulant, it is the only whiskey that ought to be used in the treatment of the sick; and a still further feature that by whatever quantity it is consumed, there are no after effects from it such as are evidenced from the use of other whiskies containing fusel oil and other poisons. Being a superior brand of pure whiskey distilled from the very best materials, it is of necessity an expensive one and by the demand created for it as such among consumers, dealers are virtually compelled to handle it, although at a profit so fine, and about one-fourth of what is usually made on other whiskies, such as many of them have the reputation of keeping. For this reason we feel impress upon our friends the importance of demanding ours as the only pure whiskey, and we warn them, in view of the hundreds of analyses this whiskey has received at the hands of the most eminent chemists of this country and to which we openly submit at all times, that where any attempt is made by unscrupulous druggists to palm off an inferior and adulterated whisky, as being as good or as pure as ours, they are actuated solely by mercenary motives. We repeat that this is the only whiskey of the kind in the world. We are its discoverers and sole manufacturers and we challenge any one to produce a whiskey like it, either in purity or excellence. Another thing we would impress upon our friends is not to be deceived by other malt whiskies, as there are just as many grades of bad malt whiskies, equally as poisonous as other whiskies, and none of them are pure. It is under this guise that several unscrupulous manufacturers are trying to reap benefits from our name and prestige.

GREETING:

BE IT KNOWN UNTO YOU AND TO ALL THE DWELLERS OF WALLED TOWNS THAT TO THE BRAINERD & ARMSTRONG CO. AND TO THEM ALONE IS IMPARTED THE KNOWLEDGE OF AND THE RIGHT TO USE THE EASTERN OR ASIATIC DYES.

Society of Decorative Art,

23 East 21st St., New York, Dec. 21, 1885.

To The Brainerd & Armstrong Co.—Dear Sirs: Having tested your embroidery silks, and finding them in color and texture uniformly satisfactory, the managers of the Society of Decorative Art believe that you have found the secret of fast dyes. They believe it is no longer necessary to the Society to import dyes from foreign manufactures. I have pleasure in telling you that it has been decided by the board of management to give you the official business of the Society of Decorative Art. Congratulating you that your dyes stand "test" under the severest test, I am,

Very truly yours, A. H. RUDGERS,

President of the Society of Decorative Art.

Also endorsed and exclusively used by the Associated Artists of New York.

The harmful and fatal results attending the use of cough mixtures containing morphia, opium and other poisons, are daily becoming more frequent. It is for this reason that Red Star Cough Cure has received the unqualified endorsement of physicians, and boards of health everywhere, as a purely vegetable compound, entirely free from all narcotics. Price, 25 cents.

At Orono, Me., on Sunday, May 9th, Mrs. Israel N. Mansfield died, and her husband died next morning; they were each aged eighty-two years. Another aged couple, J. B. Chase and wife, each seventy-six years old, and long prominent in the business and church circles of Orono, died on the 10th within a few hours of each other. All these deaths were caused by pneumonia.

WHO IS UNACQUAINTED WITH THE GEOGRAPHY OF THIS COUNTRY WILL SEE BY EXAMINING THIS MAP THAT THE

CHICAGO, ROCK ISLAND & PACIFIC RAILWAY

By reason of its central position and close relation to all principal lines East and West, at initial and terminal points, constitutes the most important and continental line in that section of country. Its uninterruption which forms and facilitates travel and traffic between cities of the Atlantic and Pacific Coasts, it is also the favorite and best route to and from points East, Northeast and Southeast, and corresponding points West, Northwest and Southwest.

The Great Rock Island Route

Guarantees its patrons that sense of personal security afforded by a solid, thoroughly ballasted roadbed, smooth tracks of continuous steel rail, substantially built culverts and bridges, rolling stock at near perfection as human skill can make it, the safety appliances of patent buffers, platforms and air brakes, and the unrivaled discipline which governs the practical operation of all its trains. Other specialties of this route are Transfers at all connecting points in Union Depots, and the unsurpassed comforts and luxuries of its Passenger Equipment.

The Fast Express Trains between Chicago and Peoria, Council Bluffs, Kansas City, Leavenworth and Atchison, are composed of well-ventilated, finely upholstered Day Coaches, Magnificent Pullman Palace Sleepers of the latest design, and superb Dining Cars in which unobtrusive reasonable meals are delicately served a la carte at all hours. Reclining Chair Cars are also run on the Celebrated Reclining Chair Cars.

The Popular Short Line Route

is the direct and favorite line between Chicago and Minneapolis and St. Paul, where connections are made in Union Depots for all points in the Territories and British Provinces. Over this route Fast Express Trains are run to the waterfall, places, resorts, picturesque localities, and hunting and fishing grounds of Iowa and Minnesota. It is also the most desirable route to the rich wheat fields and pastoral lands of Interior Dakota.

Still another DIRECT LINE, via Seneca and Kankakee, has been opened between Chicago, Indianapolis and Lafayette, and Council Bluffs, Kansas City, Atchison and St. Paul and intermediate points.

The Knights of Labor of South Berwick had a grand rally in Newichawanick hall in that town on Monday evening of this week, and stirring and eloquent addresses were made by Frank K. Foster of Haverhill in English, and by Henry I. Lord of Biddeford, in French. The hall could not contain one-half of those who sought admission. Music was discoursed by the South Berwick band, and the rally which commenced at 7:30 o'clock continued until 10:12. It was a very enthusiastic gathering.

Twenty years of suffering from catarrh and catarrhal headache; I never found anything to afford lasting relief until I tried Ely's Cream Balm. I have used two bottles, and now consider my catarrh cured. I have recommended it to several of my friends with like good results.—D. T. Higginson, 145 Lake street, Chicago, Ill.

George W. Jackman, a time-honored democrat, has been appointed collector of customs at Newburyport.

The action of Carter's Little Liver Pills is pleasant, mild and natural. They gently stimulate the liver, and regulate the bowels, but do not purge. They are sure to please.

The employes of Rothschild's Sons' furniture factory at Chicago have struck a second time, notifying the firm that they would not again return to work until the socialistic agitator of their union, Stahlnect, was released from arrest.

If there ever was a specific for any one complaint, then Carter's Little Liver Pills are a specific for sick headache, and every woman should know this. Only one pill a dose.

Representative Morrow has received a monster petition from the Knights of Labor of California. It is over 2000 feet long, contains the names of over 50,000 persons, and prays for action on the part of congress, either by legislation or by a change in the treaty with China, to forever prohibit the further immigration of Chinese to the United States.

A Public Benefaction.

How to laundry linen as it is done in Troy, N. Y., has been kept a secret long enough; it can and should be done in every family. The Elastic Starch is the only starch in the United States that is put up by men who have a practical knowledge of the laundry profession. It requires no cooking, keeps the iron from sticking and linen from blistering while ironing, and gives shirts, cuffs and collars that stiffness and beautiful polish they have when new, which, everybody knows keeps them clean twice as long. Beware of imitations. See that the name J. C. DUBINGER & BRO., New Haven, Conn., is on every package.

William H. Clifford has been elected as the Maine member of the democratic national committee, and invited to preside at the democratic state convention at Bangor, June 3d.

In the spring, hundreds of persons suffer from boils, carbuncles, and other eruptive diseases. These are evidences that the system is trying to purge itself of impurities, and that it needs the powerful aid which is afforded by the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla.

The inventory of the estate of the late Thomas W. Peirce of Topsfield, Mass., has been filed in the Essex court of probate; it is the largest estate ever recorded there, it is said, amounting to $7,036,343.79.

The simplest and far the best regulator of the disordered liver in the world, are Carter's Little Liver Pills. They give prompt relief in sick headache, dizziness, nausea, etc.; prevent and cure constipation and piles; remove sallowness and pimples from the complexion, and are mild and gentle in their operation on the bowels. Carter's Little Liver Pills are small and as easy to take as sugar. One pill a dose. Price 25 cents.

The steam sawmill of Lawrence Bros., at South Gardiner, Me., started up a few weeks ago on a new schedule of ten hours a day demanded by the Knights of Labor. The firm having announced its determination of going back to the day of old time, eleven hours, or else close the mill, the men struck in a body.

Many ladies admire gray hair—on some other person—but few care to try its effects on their own charms. They need not, since Ayer's Hair Vigor restores gray hair to its original color. Sold by druggists and perfumers.

Advice to Mothers.

Are you disturbed at night and broken of your rest by a sick child suffering and crying with pain of cutting teeth? If so, send at once and get a bottle of Mrs Winslow's Soothing Syrup for Children Teething. Its value is incalculable. It will relieve the poor little sufferer immediately. Depend upon it, mothers, there is no mistake about it. It cures dysentery and diarrhœa, regulates the stomach and bowels, cures wind colic, softens the gums, reduces inflammation, and gives tone and energy to the whole system. Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup for Children Teething is pleasant to the taste, and is the prescription of one of the oldest and best female nurses and physicians in the United States, and is for sale by all druggists throughout the world. Price 25 cents a bottle. codlan

A LETTER-CARRIER'S STORY.

"A letter-carrier has his ups and downs as every one else has, I suppose," said one of these messengers of Uncle Sam the other day, in speaking of his experiences, "but take it all in all I would rather be a carrier at $1,000 a year than a clerk at $1,200. In the first place our position is assured as long as we are honest and attentive to our duties, and then we have our little perquisites that net us more than people generally think. I used to have a route along Beacon street near the Public Gardens, and it was a very cold Christmas indeed when the rich nobs didn't remember me to the extent of $300 or $400. For letters that brought good news I have often been given crisp $5 notes from the pleased recipients. And then the little romances, and sometimes deep disappointments and heart-burning that we know of! I shall never forget the pale, anxious face with which an old millionaire used to greet me every morning for a long time, as he opened the door himself in answer to my whistle, and nervously reach for his letters. His hands would tremble as he tore open the envelopes, and then would come a long sigh of relief when he found there was no bad news. At last there came a letter that blanched his face whiter than the paper on which it was written, and he fell down senseless all in a heap at my feet. I helped to carry him up to his room, but never saw him again. Pretty soon a new family moved into the house. It was some financial trouble, I suppose, and the letter had brought ruin to the old gentleman, who had a big family to support."

Letter-Carrier W. B. Goodale, of Hartford, Conn., tells a not less interesting story, though happily its ending is not so tragic. Mr. Goodale is well known in Hartford, and his many friends to whom he had often as a carrier brought tidings of sorrow and of joy, were much pleased to receive his present message:

"For three months," he says, "I was confined to my house with inflammatory rheumatism. So severe, indeed, was my affliction that the doctors took such heroic measures as to prescribe forty grains of morphine a day, beside steaming me five hours and dosing me with all sorts of medicine. I had three doctors, but their combined skill failed to give me any relief. Finally I became discouraged and determined to let the disease do its work. I had a pair of crutches made and was nervously awaiting the worst, when a friend came to see me and advised me to try Athlophoros. After much persuasion I consented. I took the first dose at six o'clock in the evening and two more during the night. The next morning, for the first time in three months, I was able to go to work, greatly to the astonishment of my friends, who all thought I would never get around again. As Athlophoros cured me I believe it will cure anybody suffering with rheumatism. It has many friends in Hartford since the people have seen that it will do all that is claimed for it."

If you cannot get ATHLOPHOROS of your druggist, we will send it express paid, on receipt of regular price—one dollar per bottle. We prefer that you buy it from your druggist, but if he hasn't it, do not be persuaded to try something else, but order at once from us, as directed. ATHLOPHOROS Co., 112 Wall Street, New York.

SETTLERS IN BRAZIL.

SOME EXPERIENCE AS RELATED IN THE DIARY OF A LADY.

Making Homes in the Wilderness of Lagno du Juparanao—Erection of Houses—Hospitality of the Natives—Products of a Plantation—Failure.

I was telling you of the settlement of the "Americanos del Norte" on the Lagado du Juparanaq, Provincio du Espirito Santo, Brazil. We arrived there about the last of June, 1867. We rented a most comfortable house of four rooms, two of which had board floors, which was quite a luxury, for 4 milreis per month—about $2 of our money. Others, less fortunate, scattered around among the natives and other American settlers who had preceded us in the village of Linhares, until the men folk should go out prospecting, make choice of their future homes, and settle a claim, each one being entitled to as much again land as he cleared and cultivated, and no one could turn him off his claim unless he were paid for it. If he wished more land he could buy it from the government at 22 cents per acre and pay for it in six years. The building sites were selected on the borders of the lake, some of the hills being so high they resembled mountains. There was a low range of mountains about four miles from the western shore of the lake. There were no roads or paths in the forest. In many places it was so dense that it was almost impenetrable. All traveling and visiting was done in canoes. Rude houses were erected by putting posts into the ground, using poles for the rafters, and then covering and weather-boarding were made of the palm, many bunches being tied together, and then tied to the rafters and sides of the house with a vine called sepoy, not a nail being used in the whole building. A mortar was then made and pounded down to make a hard, smooth floor.

MAKING HOMES IN THE WILDERNESS.

By the 25th of July nearly all of us had settled down, and the men began clearing to plant. Lawyers, doctors, dentists, etc., laid aside their diplomas and entered into their new life with the proper spirit, facing the forest ax in hand, seemingly with the determination to succeed or die in the attempt.

Again the Brazilians, many of whom in this community are of Indian descent, welcomed us with outstretched arms as it were. The wealthy would take turns and send a few slaves to help first one and then another settler. The poorer classes would visit us and bring as offerings of friendship bunches of bananas, pineapples, a chicken, a few eggs, a bottle of milk and such things as they could spare and knew we could not get.

All seemed interested and anxious to know how we Americans of the United States did things. Many things planted by the new settlers did not do well on account of the land having been so recently cleared. On old clearings everything that can be mentioned grew to perfection and in abundance, yielding more bountifully than the same things do in the United States, with the exception of corn, which did not yield so well in that vicinity, but does exceedingly well higher up the Doce and also in other portions of the empire. We had a substitute in the Farinha du Mandioca. This is a low shrub, the leaves resembling the castor oil tree. The root, which is the edible portion, resembles the sweet potato, and is eaten by man, beast, and fowls and even fish, for the natives bait their hooks with it.

THE PRODUCTS OF A PLANTATION.

The national dishes are black beans, dried beef (which is shipped from Montevideo), and Farinha du Mandioca. We felt satisfied that the land in this vicinity is better adapted to the culture of sugar cane than anything else. It is said it will produce from 3,000 to 4,000 pounds to the acre with the aid of the hoe only—the plow had never at that time been used in this soil. I have seen on one of the farms of our neighbor, Senor Dom Raphael Pereira de Cavalho, cane twelve and fifteen feet high and two and one-half inches in diameter, which received no culture except from the hoe. Three crops can easily be made in twenty-four months. Cotton does well in other portions of the empire. Bananas grow in profusion and to perfection; one acre is said to produce 4,000 pounds. There is nothing better for hogs and chickens, besides being very wholesome and nutritious for man. They bear one year after being planted, multiplying year after year, and I believe they never die out after they are once started.

One year we all remained in this colony. Sickness, failure of crops, etc., began to broke us up; besides we had unfortunately made a bad selection. Most of our men knew more of the culture of cotton, consequently it was an unwise step to go into a sugar raising district. The professional man had been unwise to settle in a wilderness. Many of them were young and unmarried, consequently had no one to cook, wash and attend to the household duties for them. Some decided to remain; and the agent stood by them another year, then had to bring them away, sending them down to San Paulo, in a cotton district where they became successful.—Cor. New Orleans Times-Democrat.

Deserted Halls of Baden Baden.

The managers of Homburg and Baden Baden are trying every device to revive the popularity of their summer resorts but their glory has departed with the boom of the green table. They get up horse-races and concerts, engage lecturers, combinations of lecturers, and calcium artists; but the old-time pleasure-seekers refuse to swallow the surrogate, and the omnibus-drivers of the gorgeous hotels have no cause to complain of overwork. The stream of sporting tourists has set toward the south—to Monaco, to Biarritz, but chiefly to Switzerland. Since they can not risk their dollars on Dame Fortune their insist on risking their necks in the Alps.—Dr. Felix L. Oswald.

Lost Their Grip on Themselves.

"There were a great many men in the army who suffered years of humiliation through losing grip on themselves for a single instant. I remember that on one occasion one of the most reckless men in our company, after fighting like a salamander for an hour, lost his head. After

To Digest Vulcanite,

Requires acids more potent than the solvent juices of the human stomach. And yet, in the form of medicine intended to reform the very evil they aggravate, to-wit, dyspepsia, solids and fluids, irreconcilable in their constituents that have the chemical affinity one with the other, are introduced into it. Are these so-called remedies more digestible than vulcanite? Positively—no! Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, on the other hand, a simple medicine, harmonious in its composition and readily assimilable, is active, and produces marked as well as speedily appreciable effects, because it is a rational remedy suited to the stomach. It is a tonic in the true sense, because it harmonizes and insures regularity of the operations of digestion. Not the least of the benefits which it confers, is a thorough repair of the damage inflicted on the stomach by ill-chosen remedies. For biliousness, constipation, malarial complaints, rheumatism and kidney troubles, it is alike valuable.

A petition has been presented to the Rhode Island supreme court for the abrogation of the constitutional amendment prohibiting the manufacture and sale of liquors on the ground of the payment of registry taxes by others than actual voters.

Hop Plasters cure pain and disease when other remedies fail. Always soothes and strengthens.

G. H. Weigel, at Hamilton, Ont., took Annie Blakeley out in a boat at the reservoir, and some hours later their bodies were found, both shot through the head. Weigel left a note to friends saying, "We wanted to die together."

Always avoid harsh purgative pills. They first make you sick and then leave you constipated. Carter's Little Liver Pills regulate the bowels and make you well. Dose, one pill.

The New York police have shut the pool-selling rooms.

The household cure for sudden pains, stitch, cramps and soreness, is the Hop Plaster. 25 cts.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse."
CHAS. MASON, Commissioner of Patents.

"Inventors can confidently employ a person more trustworthy of more capable of securing for them early and favorable consideration at the Office."
EDMUND BURKE, late Commissioner of Patents.

BOSTON, Oct. 1886.

R. H. EDDY, Esq.—Dear Sir: Your bill for me, in 1840, my first patent, was the first you have acted for and advised me in all my cases, and procured many patents and extensions. I have occasionally used other legal agencies in New York and Washington, but I still give the bulk of my business, in your line, to you to employ you.

Yours truly,

Three Reasons

Why every one needs, and should take Hood's Sarsaparilla in the spring:—

1st: Because the system is now it its greatest need. Hood's Sarsaparilla gives strength.

2d: Because the blood is sluggish and impure. Hood's Sarsaparilla purifies.

3d: Because, from the above facts, Hood's Sarsaparilla will do a greater amount of good now than at any other time. Take it now.

Gen. Gilman Marston was recently interviewed by a representative of the Manchester Union at Concord, relative to the dedicatory exercises of the Webster monument, the general being chairman of the legislative committee on this subject. The old gentleman however was far more profane in his profanity than in giving the information sought, criticising the newspapers and newspaper men in language more forcible than polite.

Bourbon

is a word usually applied to a settled conservative thing. We speak of Bourbon Democrats, meaning those of the old school. It is applied to the G. O. Taylor Whiskey, as Old Bourbon, meaning a safe, reliable and proven article. Pure Rye shows what is meant. Ask your druggist or Grocer for the G. O. Taylor Bourbon and Rye Whiskey, and you get all you ask and pay for. It is bottled by C. H. Graves & Sons, Boston, and is not equalled for purity or medicinal quality.

All Right Enough.

The appointment of Geo. E. Dame of Newport as superintendent of the New England railway mail service, in place of W. H. Bigelow of Augusta, invited to step down, is a guaranty that the president has at last seen the propriety of throwing over his civil service reform pretensions, and begins to appreciate that his party must have the offices. Mr. Dame will make an efficient officer. The republicans are satisfied that men like Dame shall be properly recognized, and the sooner the better for both parties. Mr. Bigelow has made an excellent officer, and as an official there can be no just criticism upon his ability and efficiency. But he is a strong republican, and if the democracy is to be represented in the offices by its party men instead of its opponents, Mr. Bigelow will as gladly vacate his position as Mr. Dame will be to assume it.

It is stated that Congressman Reed of the first Maine district will be renominated without opposition, and that Brunswick, whose delegation opposed his last nomination, will have in the convention this year a solid delegation in his favor. Mr. Reed is said not to be an aspirant for the senatorship.

The people of the first district cannot afford to spare Mr. Reed. He is a wonderfully successful man in the house of representatives. His quickness of perception as to the effect of every measure, his peculiar adroitness, ready wit and good common sense make him a most valuable member. It is a part of wisdom to keep such a man in Congress instead of filling his place with a new member, because very few men could attain such a position of influence as Mr. Reed has achieved. We hope to see his nomination followed by an election "by a large majority."

New Hampshire Patents.

The following list of patents granted May 11th, to citizens of New Hampshire, is specially reported by Franklin H. Hough, solicitor of American and foreign patents, 925 F street, N. W., Washington, D. C.:

No. 341,832. A. E. Bussell, Nashua, rein-holder.

No. 341,599. B. T. Olcott, Keene, shield for the knees of trousers.

No. 341,619. E. O. Wood, Nashua, sad-iron.

The whole number of patents granted to citizens of the United States for the week ending May 11th was 405.

The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Portland, Saco & Portsmouth railroad company is to be held at Kittery on the 7th of June, at eleven o'clock, A. M.

The commissioners appointed by the supreme judicial court of Maine to hear the appeal from the decision of the commissioners of York county, relating to the location and construction of a bridge across the Ogunquit river at Wells on the 11th inst. The parties in interest were Reed & Drummond, and Stackpole, who appeared for the petitioners, Yeaton, and N. & H. railroad, town of Wells in opposition. After viewing the premises on the highway and hearing the commissioners adjourned to June 15th, when several days will be occupied with the taking of testimony, the feeling in the town running quite high on both sides of the question.

Commodore Johnson, commandant of the navy yard, arrived back from Washington on the 12th inst.

should be your crowning glory. Ayer's Hair Vigor will restore the vitality and color of youth to hair that has become thin and faded; and, where the glands are not decayed or absorbed, will cause a new growth on bald heads.

MAY the youthful color and vigor of the hair be preserved to old age? Read the following, from Mrs. G. Norton, Somerville, Mass.: "I have used Ayer's Hair Vigor for the past 30 years; and, although I am upwards of 60, my hair is as abundant and glossy to-day as when I was 25."

BE assured, that a trial of Ayer's Hair Vigor will convince you of its powers. Mrs. M. E. Goff, Leadville, Col., writes: "Two years ago, my hair having almost entirely fallen out, I commenced the use of Ayer's Hair Vigor. To-day my hair is 29 inches long, fine, strong, and healthy."

RENEWED and strengthened by the use of Ayer's Hair Vigor, the hair regains its youthful color and vitality. Rev. H. P. Williamson, Davidson College, Mecklenburg Co., N. C., writes: "I have used Ayer's Hair Vigor for the last ten years. It is an excellent preservative."

BY the use of Ayer's Hair Vigor, Geo. A. Dadman, Waterloo, Mo., had his hair restored to its original healthy condition. He was nearly bald, and very gray. He writes: "Only four bottles of the Vigor were required to restore my hair to its youthful color and quantity."

USING Ayer's Hair Vigor cures diseases of the scalp. F. H. Foster, Princeton, Ind., writes: "I had been troubled for years with a disease of the scalp; my head was covered with dandruff, and the hair dry and harsh. Ayer's Hair Vigor gave me immediate relief, cleansed the scalp, and rendered the hair soft and pliable."

Hood's Sarsaparilla

Combines, in a proportion peculiar to itself, the active medicinal properties of the best blood-purifying and strengthening remedies of the vegetable kingdom. It will positively cure—when in the power of medicine—Spring Debility, Headache, Dyspepsia, Catarrh, Salt Rheum, Scrofula, and all Diseases caused by a low state of the blood.

"I suffered three years with blood poison. I took Hood's Sarsaparilla, and think I am cured." MRS. M. J. DAVIS, Brockport, N. Y.

"Hood's Sarsaparilla beats all others, and is worth its weight in gold." I. BARRINGTON, 126 Bank Street, New York City.

Purifies the Blood

"I tried a dozen articles to cleanse my blood, but never found anything that did me any good till I began using Hood's Sarsaparilla." W. H. PAPPS, Rochester, N. Y.

"My wife was troubled with dizziness and constipation, and her blood has been in a bad order—in fact she has been all run down. Hood's Sarsaparilla is doing her a wonderful amount of good." F. M. BALDWIN, druggist, Blanchester, Ohio.

Is so vastly superior to any other sarsaparilla or blood purifier, that one has well said: "Its health-giving effects upon the blood and entire human organism, are as much more positive than the remedies of a quarter of a century ago, as the steam-power of to-day is in advance of the slow and laborious drudgery of years ago."

"While suffering from a severe bilious attack in March, 1883, a friend in Peoria, Ill., recommended Hood's Sarsaparilla. I tried the remedy, and was permanently cured." J. A. SHEPARD, travelling agent for Devoe & Co., Fulton Street, N. Y.

"I was for five years a sufferer with boils, all run down, and was at one time obliged to give up work. Before taking all of two bottles of Hood's Sarsaparilla, was entirely cured." R. M. LANE, Pittsburgh, Pa.

NEAR B. & R. R. DEPOT.

Having on hand the largest and best selected stock of this side of Boston, I would respectfully call your attention to the same, believing that in most cases it is better for persons about purchasing to see what they are buying than to buy of irresponsible agents with nice looking Photographs of Monumental work. Having a thorough knowledge of the business gained in the principal cities of the Union and still giving my personal attention, all will be satisfied who will give me a call, as to quality of work and prices.

Particular attention given to fencing cemetery lots with marble or granite posts or curbs.

CIRCUIT COURT OF THE UNITED STATES.

MAY TERM, Clark, J.

Thursday, May 13.—At the coming in of the court this morning, the case of United States v. Fred Henry Jones of Exeter was tried. Respondent is indicted for receiving from Geo. A. Neally, a minor, who had stolen them, postage stamps from the post office at Exeter, while employed as a sweeper in the office. The first witness was Neally, a nephew of the respondent, who testified that he took the stamps and gave them to Jones under threats of being whipped, and told Jones where the stamps came from.

Mr. Bachelder of Exeter testified to purchasing stamps of Jones, who said he bought them of a stationery peddler. B. paid Jones sixty cents for 84 cents, and after he heard of the affair, he carried all back to Mr. Hunnewell at the post office. Postmaster Hunnewell testified as to the loss of the stamps, &c. The evidence for the government closed at 12.20.

Mr. Page briefly opened for the defence. The defendant did not deny the theft by Neally or the reception by Jones of the stamps. The question was, the counsel contended, did Jones receive the stamps knowing them to be stolen. He asserted that the charge was not made by the boy Neally until he was told that he could get out of his scrape by laying off the theft upon someone else. Speaking of the evidence, he remarked that there could not be much of a case unless his friend Kent was found in it somewhere. Frink for U. S.; Page for Jones.

PETIT JURY.

Robert M. Fulton, Effingham.
Elbridge M. Doe, Newmarket.
Henry Buckland, Peterborough.
Edward H. Sargent, Nashua.
Hugh McNorton, Conway.
Israel B. Littlefield, Jonathan D. Stratton, ward 2, Dover.
George W. Sanborn, Gilmanton,
Daniel Harmon, Freedom.
Chas. W. Nute, Bartlett, excused.
Corlan C. Farwell, Harrisville.
Eben L. Page, Weare.
Daniel Palmer, Hampton.
Joseph T. Smart, Stratham.
Geo. H. Nims, Ira D. Gates, ward 3, Keene.
Orin W. Hackett, Jackson.
Joseph Jones, Dover.

The first 12 were drawn on the case of United States vs. Fred Henry Jones.

AFTERNOON.—At the coming in of the court, Mr. Page called the respondent as a witness. The government recalled Messrs. Kent and Tilton Lamson, the special agent of the postal department, on one point, the evidence closing at three o'clock.

The jury returned a verdict of guilty, and Jones was sentenced to pay a fine of $20, and be imprisoned at hard labor in the jail at Manchester, for the term of one year.

United States vs. John H. Rafferty. Indictments for being a retail dealer in liquers and cigars without payment of special tax; arraigned, and pleaded not guilty: case continued to October term, respondent to give bail in $200. Frink for United States; John P. Bartlett for deft.

Hamilton Giberson of Northumberland was arraigned on an indictment charging him with illegal use of the mails; plea, not guilty; trial assigned for Friday morning, 14th. Rolfe for respondent.

Foster vs. the American Electric Signal Co. was defaulted. Judgment for $783, and interest from Feb. 21st, 1883, in accordance with the plaintiff's motion to amend, which is allowed. Barnes: Page for pltf.; Frink for deft.

TEACHERS' INSTITUTE.

The opening session of the Teacher's Institute was held in the High school building Thursday forenoon; there being about sixty teachers present, including those of this city and a large delegation from Dover. The majority of the out of town teachers arrived later in the day.

Prof. E. T. Quimby occupied most of the session with exercises on number and Algebra. Prof. J. W. Webster had an exercise on penmanship, which was continued in the afternoon. Mr. F. W. Sweet of this city discussed alcohol, with a class, and gave some experiments, and Miss Flagg and Miss Ida L. Marston had exercises with classes in geography and language, by which their methods of teaching those studies were shown.

The afternoon session was very largely attended by teachers as well as citizens. The exercises by the pupils were particularly interesting. The manner in which answers were given to questions asked demonstrated that much care had been taken in the preparation of the exercise, and study of the different branches.

The following is a list of the pupils in Miss Flagg's class in geography:

Nellie Lang, T. Kittie Hovey, Anna Tracy, Fie Sinclair, Edith Bradford, Celia Fernald, Grace Thurston, Lucy Hill, Virginia Sanborn, Clara Hamlin, Ralph Burbank, Horace Peverly, Willie Robeck, Harry Nowell, Fred Sides.

Miss Marston's class in language:

Alice Hayes, Guy Corey, Barbara Vogler, Bennie Smith, Charlie Batchelder, Mamie Morrissey, Willie Taylor, Georgia Rose, Nellie Taylor, Joe Ross.

Mr. Sweet's class:

Annie Furber, Grace Collis, Addie Whidden, Annie Ross, Mary Hough, Etta Smith, Geo. Walsh, Fred Lydston, Geo. Lord, James Godfrey, Alvah Curtis, Henry Foote, Arthur Wilson, Willie Green, Frank Brewster, Henry Marshall, Andrew Stimson, Austin Locke.

In the evening Hon. W. A. Mowry delivered a lecture on "The Great Northwest" to a very large audience, in Franklin theatre.

The advertised programme for to-day is as follows:

FRIDAY — Forenoon — 9:00 o'clock, opening exercises; 9:20, physiology, Prof. W. S. Smith; 10:00, hygiene, Prof. W. S. Smith; 10:40, recess; 10:50, light illustrated, Mr. John Pickard; 11:30, geometry, with class, Prof. G. I. Hopkins.

Afternoon — 2:00 o'clock, language, Miss Laura Carlton; 2:40, English literature, Miss Laura Carlton; 3:20, recess; 3:30, reading, Mr. L. A. Butterfield.

Evening — 7:30 o'clock, lecture by Hon. G. H. Littlefield; subject: "Daniel Webster."

POLICE COURT--BATCHELDER J.

THURSDAY, May 13th.

Simon G. Smith pleaded guilty to a charge of drunkenness, and was fined $3, costs $6.90. In default of payment he went to the county farm.

MUSIC HALL.

Of Charles L. Davis and his play, "Alvin Joslin," the Troy Telegram says:

Mr. Davis is one of the most ingenious of actors. He does so much to amuse an audience that it would be simply impossible to give a partial description of his comicalities in a review of moderate length. You should go and see him and enjoy the fun yourself. His company is good, the scenery and stage appointments unusually appropriate, and the music, furnished by his own orchestra, enchanting.

Alvin Joslin will be at Music hall tonight, and tickets for his soiree can be procured to-day at Goodrich's.

CHANGE IN NAVAL ORDERS.

The orders of Paymaster George A. Lyon to the navy yard near this city, to relieve Paymaster Hinman, have been revoked, and he is placed on waiting orders. Passed Assistant Paymaster H. E. Drury has been ordered to the navy yard to succeed Paymaster Hinman.

BURGLARY.

When Mr. Wm. H. Stringer, who has recently opened a barber shop on Islington street, opposite the academy, entered the place on Thursday morning last, he found that some one had made an entrance by breaking out a large pane of glass beside the door, and stolen five razors left there to be honed. The city marshal during the day traced the suspected thief to Dover, and brought him to this city in the afternoon; he gives the name of Joseph Lindsay, and has been at work on the big sewer.

PORTSMOUTH SHOE CO.

The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Portsmouth Shoe company was held on Thursday, and the following officers elected: Frank Jones, Charles H. Mendum and Charles A. Sinclair, directors; Frank Jones, president; Charles H. Mendum, treasurer; and William H. Hackett, clerk.

The directors were instructed to wind up the affairs of the corporation, dispose of its assets, and discharge its indebtedness, forthwith.

SOLDIERS' MONUMENT--FINANCE COMMITTEE.

The finance committe met in the city rooms on Thursday evening, and organized by electing C. M. Gignoux chairman and J. Albert Sanborn secretary. The chairman was chosen treasurer, and authorized to receive all subscriptions. A subscription of $81 was received from the employes of the Eldredge brewery—a generous contribution.

The committee will meet at the same place this (Friday) evening at eight o'clock sharp, when all members are requested to be present.

THE COTTAGE HOSPITAL.

The directors of the hospital very gratefully acknowledge the kindness of a friend in sending a refrigerator, and a large number of other valuable articles for kitchen and ward use.

William C. Gale, whose relations were enquired after by Mr. J. Q. A. Gale in a letter from Polkton, North Carolina, a part of which was published in the Chronicle of the 13th inst., was half-brother to Capt. Joseph C. Muchmore of this city, Mr. Gale's mother after the death of her first husband, having been married to Capt. Muchmore's father. After removing to South Carolina Mr. Gale for a long time corresponded with his mother and other relatives in this city, but nothing had been heard from or of him for a great many years until the arrival of this letter.

The schools of the city were closed on Wednesday evening, the 12th, for the rest of the week, to allow the teachers to attend the sessions of the institute.

Capt. J. Albert Sanborn has been chosen chief marshal for Memorial day, and the fire companies have been invited to participate in the parade.

To the Cuticura Remedies I owe My Health, My Happiness, and My Life.

A day never passes that I do not think and speak kindly of the CUTICURA REMEDIES. Seven years ago, all of a dozen lumps formed on my neck, ranging in size from a cherry stone to an orange. The large ones were frightful to look at, and painful to bear; people turned aside when they saw me, in disgust, and I was ashamed to be on the street or in society. Physicians and their treatment, and all medicines failed to do any good. In a moment of despair I tried the CUTICURA REMEDIES—CUTICURA, the great Skin Cure, and CUTICURA SOAP, an exquisite Skin Beautifier, externally, and CUTICURA RESOLVENT, the new Blood Purifier, internally; the small lumps (as I call them) gradually disappeared, and the large ones broke, in about two weeks, discharging large quantities of matter, leaving two slight scars in my neck to-day to tell the story of my suffering. My weight then was one hundred and fifteen sickly pounds; my weight now is one hundred and sixty-one solid, healthy pounds, and my height is only five feet five inches. In my travels I praised the CUTICURA REMEDIES, North, South, East, and West. TO CUTICURA REMEDIES I OWE MY HEALTH, MY HAPPINESS, AND MY LIFE. A prominent New York druggist asked me the other day, "Do you still use the CUTICURA REMEDIES; you look to be in perfect health?" My reply was, "I do, and shall always. I have never known what sickness is since I commenced using the CUTICURA REMEDIES." Sometimes I am laughed at by praising them to people not acquainted with their merits, but sooner or later they will come to their senses and believe the same as those that use them, as dozens have before them. What, by the time some when there shall be a large CUTICURA Supply House in every city in the world, for the benefit of humanity, where the CUTICURA REMEDIES shall be sold ONLY, so that there will be rarely a need of ever entering a drug store.

Sneezing Catarrh.

The distressing sneeze, snèeze, sneeze, the acrid, watery discharges from the eyes and nose, the painful inflammation extending to the throat, the swelling of the mucous lining, causing choking sensations, cough, ringing noises in the head and splitting headaches,—how familiar these symptoms are to thousands who suffer periodically from head colds or influenza, and who live in ignorance of the fact that a single application of SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE FOR CATARRH will afford instantaneous relief.

But this treatment in cases of simple Catarrh gives but a faint idea of what this remedy will do in the chronic forms, where the breathing is obstructed by choking, putrid mucous accumulations, the hearing affected, smell and taste gone, throat ulcerated and hacking cough gradually fastening itself upon the debilitated system. Then it is that the marvellous curative powers of SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE manifests itself in instantaneous and grateful relief. Cure begins from the first application. It is rapid, radical, permanent, economical, safe.

twenty minutes spent in the very fury of charge and counter-charge the man on his right dropped without a word, the man on his left fell across his front, and the branch of a tree cut off by a cannon-ball dropped at his feet. He turned in a blind, dazed way, lost control of his nerves and darted rearward like a frightened deer. Scores of others went with him, and the men who turned and retreated more slowly saw with surprise these men spring up each other with a shriek and jump one after another into a depression in the rocky ground.

"The cellar-like depression was not more than four or five feet deep, and it afforded adequate protection against the storm of shot and shell, but after one man jumped in all these frightened men followed like so many sheep, and they continued to do this until the hole was full, men packed in one on top of the other. The men who retreated slowly, making the best fight they could, escaped. The panic-stricken men who jumped into the hole lay there helplessly after our line passed, and were taken prisoners without a show of resistance. After months of weariness and suffering they came back to the regiment, and I have heard my friend of the reckless mood say a hundred times that one minute of panic-stricken foolishness so injured his self-respect that he was afraid he would never be a man again.—Inter Ocean "Curbstone Crayons."

Principal Causes of Boiler Explosions.

Boiler explosions were formerly attributed to mysterious agencies, and there are some who still cling to that theory, even in the face of satisfactory evidence of weakness or carelessness, or both. After twenty years' study of the subject among thousands of steam boilers, I am satisfied that there is little or no ground for mystery here. The principal causes of boiler explosions are poor material, faulty in type, poor workmanship and careless management. Material and workmanship have already been alluded to. There are new types of boilers devised every year, but the majority of them have but a short existence.

The tendency to employ cheap engineers is no doubt a fruitful cause of disaster, and under careless management the best boiler may be ruined in a week or less. The desire for excessive pressures, especially on boilers that have been some years in use, and that are not of sufficient capacity for the work required, is another fruitful source of disaster. Steam users in many cases forget that with the enlargement of their works for increased production they should, add correspondingly to their boiler power. They often try to provide for this increase of product by ordering their engineers to increase the pressure on the boilers. This is all wrong, and it invites disaster.—Boston Commercial Bulletin.

Description of Dead Sea Fruit.

An account of what is supposed to be dead sea fruit is contained in a paper on the botany of Sinai and Palestine, contributed by Mr. H. C. Hart to the Transactions of the Royal Irish Academy. It is compared to a gigantic cabbage from ten to fifteen feet in height. The fruit, which corresponds to the orange in size, is filled with air and silk.—Chicago Ledger.

A Public Benefaction.

How to laundry linen as it is done in Troy, N. Y., has been kept a secret long enough; it can and should be done in every family. The Elastic Starch is the only starch in the United States that is put up by men who have a practical knowledge of the laundry profession. It requires no cooking, keeps the iron from sticking and linen from blistering while ironing, and gives shirts, cuffs and collars that stiffness and beautiful polish they have when new, which, everybody knows. Keeps them clean twice as long. Beware of imitations. See that the name J. C. HUBINGER & BRO., New Haven, Conn., is on every package.

The simplest and far the best regulator of the disordered liver in the world, are Carter's Little Liver Pills. They give prompt relief in sick headache, dizziness, nausea, etc.; prevent and cure constipation and piles; remove sallowness and pimples from the complexion, and are mild and gentle in their operation on the bowels. Carter's Little Liver Pills are small and as easy to take as sugar. One pill a dose. Price 25 cents.

Advice to Mothers.

Are you disturbed at night and broken of your rest by a sick child suffering and crying with pain of cutting teeth? If so, send at once and get a bottle of Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup for Children Teething. Its value is incalculable. It will relieve the poor little sufferer immediately. Depend upon it, mothers, there is no mistake about it. It cures dysentery and diarrhœa, regulates the stomach and bowels, cures wind colic, softens the gums, reduces inflammation, and gives tone and energy to the whole system. Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup for Children Teething is pleasant to the taste, and is the prescription of one of the oldest and best female nurses and physicians in the United States, and is for sale by all druggists throughout the world. Price 25 cents a bottle.

BETTER THAN PROMISES

Is positive proof.

What has been done in many cases can still be done in others. Sufferers from rheumatism and neuralgia can find relief if they wish. In proof of this statement the following letters are submitted:—

East Somerville, Mass., Jan. 26, 1886.

I have been asked to give my testimony as to what good there is in Athlophoros as a cure for rheumatism, and I simply say to those who are suffering from it try it, and if it does not give relief or a permanent cure it will be a most extraordinary case. In my own case it is a well-known fact among many of my acquaintances it knocked the rheumatism out of me.

GEO. C. BOERUM, U. S. N. 44 Franklin street.

East Douglas, Mass., Jan. 25, 1886.

One-third of a bottle of Athlophoros cured me of inflammatory rheumatism. Being a cattle dealer my business compels me to be around in all kinds of weather and by constant exposure I contracted a severe and painful attack of inflammatory rheumatism in the hips and arms, which defied the supposed healing virtues of nine every known remedy. Hearing that Athlophoros was doing wonders I tried it with the above gratifying results. Although the rheumatism has not troubled me for nearly a year, I always keep Athlophoros where I can lay my hands on it, and now instead of the disease defying the medicine matters are reversed. I feel perfectly safe for I know Athlophoros will cure rheumatism. E. P. HEATH.

Boston, Mass., Jan. 8, 1886.

Yes, sir; Athlophoros will cure rheumatism and so far as my experience goes it is the only medicine that will make a complete cure, for I have tried most every thing with no effect. Certainly there was no good effect from my long use of the many so-called rheumatic cures, for all proved worthless; but when I saw with my own eyes what Athlophoros had done for a friend of mine—cured him of rheumatism—I tried it, and two doses of it relieved me so much as to permit me to put my feet on the ground, and in twenty-four hours I was standing on my feet, after which I steadily improved and soon was entirely rid of the rheumatism. So I truthfully say to anybody suffering with rheumatism take Athlophoros and you will be cured.

GUSTAF NELSSON, 216 Harrison Av. Boston, Mass., Jan. 8, 1886.

I was suffering terribly with inflammatory rheumatism and thought I would just try Athlophoros. I did so, receiving immediate relief after taking three or four doses without any deleterious effects from it. I can honestly recommend it to any one suffering from muscular or inflammatory rheumatism. E. S. RICHARDS. 50 Washington street.

Boston, Mass., Jan. 19, 1886.

I desire to express my feeling of gratitude for the benefit I received from the use of Athlophoros, a medicine of genuine worth; being afflicted with that common but painful disease, inflammatory rheumatism, and being laid up because my feet were so swollen I could not stand up, I commenced using Athlophoros. Before half of the first bottle was used I was able to walk to my store. I continued to use it until in a short while my rheumatism disappeared entirely, the cure complete. I recommend Athlophoros because I know it to be an article of merit.

93 Prince St. FRANK SCHILLER.

If you cannot get ATHLOPHOROS of your druggist, we will send it express paid, on receipt of regular price—one dollar per bottle. We wonder that you buy it from your druggist, but if he hasn't it, do not be persuaded to try something else, but order at once from us, as directed. ATHLOPHOROS Co., 112 Wall Street, New York.

THE ART OF CAMEO-CUTTING.

The First Specimens Brought from Paris —How the Picture Is Cut.

The art of cameo-cutting was introduced into the United States in 1850. It has made no progress. Finished cameos sell for less now than they did then. The only two manufacturers of cameos in the United States are in New York city, and they find very little work to do. The greater part of this work is in imitating antique gems or in matching cameos brought from Europe. There is probably no business requiring so great artistic skill and such delicate manipulation in which the pay of the workman is so poor. One of the manufacturers of this city said:

"Any man would be a fool to learn the trade with the hope of making money by it. I have to import all my workmen from Europe. I tried to teach two apprentices, but they found that the skill which they acquired would prove more valuable in the making of artificial teeth, and in the end they became dentists, and now one of them has a large practice."

Great numbers of cameos are made in Italy, but the finest come from Paris. The quartz blocks from which the cameos are cut are imported into this country in shapes ready for cutting. The kinds of quartz most commonly used are onyx, sardonyx, chalcedony, jasper, turquoise, and certain species of shells. They also can be cut on any stone or jewel except a diamond. A cameo differs from an intaglio in that it is executed in relief, while the latter is a sunk engraving. Cameos are best cut in minerals which present various bands of two or more distinct colors. The raised engraving is generally of one color, while the background is of a strongly contrasting color. The former is generally white and the latter dark. The cutter draws with a lead pencil on the white surface of the block the design which he intends to produce in cameo. He then follows the outlines with a diamond, and cuts away the white parts outside.

If the stone is small he cements it on the end of a stick; if large, he holds it in his hand, and proceeds to work upon it with fine drills. He sits at a table like a sewing-machine table, and by a treadle works a small lathe situated at his right. At his left is a frame filled with drills made of steel wire and of all varieties of shapes. The end of the drills are covered with diamond dust ground in olive oil. The dust is obtained by crushing uncut diamonds by blows of a hammer in a small steel mortar. The cutter then placed before him a picture, or model of the subject to be made. Everything then depends on the correctness of his eyes and his artistic instincts. The work is inexpressibly low, but when completed it is marvelously perfect. Although very small the figures delineated are as complete in every detail as though they were ten feet high. A skilled workman will often make an elegant cutting, or even a portrait, without any model whatever. This making of cameo portraits is one of the most steady sources of revenue in the business. They are made of various sizes, and the likeness is very striking. The price varies from $30 to $300 each. The average time of cutting one is about 120 hours.—New York Mail and Express.

Picking Up a Broken Submarine Cable.

The ends of broken submarine telegraph cables are picked up with an instrument called a grapnel iron. It is a stout bar of iron about two feet long, with five prongs or hooks about six inches long at one end and a swivel at the other. A rope long enough to lower this grapnel iron to the bottom of the ocean is attached to the swivel, and the iron is then dragged along on the bottom by a steamer, which steers directly across the place where the broken cable lies, and two or three miles, as near as may be, from the broken end. By means of two wires, which run down the rope and a simple device on the grapnel iron, an electric circuit is completed whenever the hook catches on anything and a bell on board ship begins to ring, and continues to do so until the strain on the hook is relieved. If the hook should catch on a rock the strain on a dynamometer attached to the drag-rope suddenly increases, and the strain when the cable is hooked gradually increases. A ship may have to steam across the line of the cable many times before a success is attained. When the cable is hooked the end is brought on board the ship and a dispatch sent to the office on shore to test that part of the cable. The end is then unsoyed and sent adrift until the other end is secured. When this is done a new piece of cable is spliced in between the two ends and after through testing the whole is lowered overboard.—New York Sun.

Besieged by Matrimonial Schemes.

The unmarried president has a harder time in the White House than people imagine. He is besieged by matrimonial schemes from all quarters. Letters on the subject of marriage are written to him, and I doubt not that Cleveland has received a number of bare-faced proposals during the past year. Arthur used to get such letters, and Jere Black once said that when he was in Buchanan's cabinet he used to receive proposals of marriage from ladies who wanted to present their claims for the president's hand through him. During the last administration a female crank called at the White House while President Arthur was in the west, and said she did not like to hear of the president paying so much attention to the Indians. She feared he might become infatuated with a squaw, and in order to save the nation from such a calamity as an Indian wife in the White House she would even sacrifice herself upon Arthur's matrimonial altar. —"Carp" in Cleveland Leader.

CIRCULATION OF RELIGIOUS NEWS.

They May Safely Claim a Large Audience —The Various Denominations.

There are more than 200 exclusively religious newspapers published in the United States and Canada, and the best authorities agree that the combined circulation of these is about 2,500,000. Experts in newpaper circulation consider that for each subscriber a weekly journal may count four readers. If this be true, the religious press may claim an audience of 10,000,000. It is undoubtedly true, however, that many heads of families buy religious

To Digest Vulcanite,

Requires acids more potent than the solvent juices of the human stomach. And yet, in the form of medicine intended to reform the very evil they aggravate, so-called dy-peptic solids and fluids, irreconcilable in their constituents that have no chemical affinity one with the other, are introduced into it. Are these so-called remedies more digestible than vulcanite? Positively—no! Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, on the other hand, a simple medicine, harmonious in its composition and readily assimilable, is active, and produces marked as well as speedily appreciable effects, because it is a rational remedy suited to the stomach. It is a tonic in the true sense, because it harmonizes and insures regularity of the operations of digestion. Not the least of the benefits which it confers, is a thorough repair of the damage inflicted on the stomach by ill-chosen remedies. For biliousness, constipation, malarial complaints, rheumatism and kidney troubles, it is alike valuable.

The body had on two overcoats and a fur cap, indicating that death must have occurred in the winter. A gold watch and seventy-five dollars were found on the body. From letters also found, it appears that the remains were those of David Savage of Cambridgeport, Mass.

Educated and Experience.

Hood's Sarsaparilla is prepared by C. I. Hood & Co., Apothecaries, Lowell, Mass., who have a thorough knowledge of pharmacy, and many years practical experience in the business. It is prepared with the greatest skill and care, under the direction of the men who originated it. Hence Hood's Sarsaparilla may be depended upon as a thoroughly pure, honest, and reliable medicine.

The commercial telegraph system of the Canadian Pacific railway is to be run in connection with the Western Union.

Bourbon

Is a word usually applied to a settled conservative thing. We speak of Bourbon Democrats, meaning those of the old school. It is applied to the G. O. Taylor Whiskey, as Old Bourbon, meaning a safe, reliable and proven article. Pure Rye shows what is meant. Ask your druggist or Grocer for the G. O. Taylor Bourbon and Rye Whiskey, and you get all you ask and pay for. It is bottled by C. H. Graves & Sons, Boston, and is not equalled for purity or medicinal quality.

The Fishermen's Strike Over.

The striking fishermen have made terms with the vessel agents. They held a meeting in Boston on the 12th, and after talking over the matter they concluded to go to work for four-fifths of the proceeds, giving the vessel one-fifth. They finally gave up their claim to a portion of the "catch," and a number of vessels started out that evening, others sailing the next morning. The following are the names of the vessels that resume operations: John H. McManus, Sarah A. Prior, William Parnell O'Hara, Belle J. Neil, Emily P. Wright, Edith Emery, Hattie J. Phillips, Julia Whelen, Gertie Winsor and William Emerson. About 200 men go out with the above-named vessels.

MARITIME NOTES.

The steamer May Queen, which has been reported as chartered to run between this port and York beach the coming summer, arrived here on Thursday, the 13th, from Newburyport.

The schooner Mystery went on the marine railway at Kittery on Thursday last, for an overhaul.

The schooner Golden Gate, Amee master, was on the 13th inst. at the navy yard, taking on board a lot of old hawsers recently sold at auction there, to transport them to Gloucester.

J. Albert Walker sent to Fernald's wharf, Exeter, on Thursday last, by Capt. Cheney's gondola Hardchance, fifty tons of coal.

Capt. Zach Randall came up from Newcastle on Friday with a moderate supply of market fish. The cunners are appearing in large schools, and nip off his bait. As the warm weather approaches these fish swarm more and more up the river, and Capt. Zach says that at Elm-tree cove any quantity of them can be taken by a person having traps.

The schooners Mary Willey and Chilion sailed for Bangor on Friday to load lumber, the former for this port and the latter for Hingham.

The Boston & Maine road is about to make some important additions to the rolling stock. Eight elegant passenger coaches, finished in mahogany, are about ready to come out of Bradley's shops at Worcester, Mass., and seven more of similar design are in Wason's shop at Springfield, while four are nearly completed in the company's own shops; and two parlor cars, equal to any on the road, have recently been turned out, and will be ready to run by the 1st of June. Two heavy locomotives for the Maine Central line, now being built at the Portland company's works, are for use on the Bar Harbor branch; one is being fitted so that the air-brake attachment can be used from both front and rear ends.

In the award of prizes on the 12th inst. at the Hartford, Conn., Theological seminary, the Wm. Thompson prize (the income of one thousand dollars, awarded for "greatest absolute efficiency in the Hebrew language and Old Testament literature,") was divided between H. M. Burr, Amherst college '85, and Manning Hodgdon, Dartmouth college '84, of Greenland.

A party of visiting teachers went down river on the steamer James Sampson, Friday morning, and another party took a ride through Newcastle and around by the hotel Wentworth Friday afternoon.

A letter was received at the post-office this week, addressed to a United States official, and following the designation of his office, and as a part of the direction, were the words "under the Mugwump President." The writer lives in and breathes the pure democratic atmosphere of the northerly section of the state, in which no malarious air of mugwumpism has ever communicated.

Rev. J. H. Mugridge of Ogonquit will preach a Memorial sermon in the Christian Baptist church at that place on Sunday afternoon, May 23d, at two o'clock. The services will be attended by Abraham Lincoln Post, G. A. R.

YOUR HAIR

should be your crowning glory. Ayer's Hair Vigor will restore the vitality and color of youth to hair that has become thin and faded; and, where the glands are not decayed or absorbed, will cause a new growth on bald heads.

MAY the youthful color and vigor of the hair be preserved to old age? Read the following, from Mrs. G. Norton, Somerville, Mass.: "I have used Ayer's Hair Vigor for the past 30 years; and, although I am upwards of 60, my hair is as abundant and glossy to-day as when I was 25."

BE assured, that a trial of Ayer's Hair Vigor will convince you of its powers. Mrs. M. E. Goff, Leadville, Col., writes: "Two years ago, my hair having almost entirely fallen out, I commenced the use of Ayer's Hair Vigor. To-day my hair is 29 inches long, fine, strong, and healthy."

RENEWED and strengthened by the use of Ayer's Hair Vigor, the hair regains its youthful color and vitality. Rev. H. P. Williamson, Davidson College, Mecklenburg Co., N. C., writes: "I have used Ayer's Hair Vigor for the last ten years. It is an excellent preservative."

BY the use of Ayer's Hair Vigor, Geo. A. Dadman, Waterloo, Mo., had his hair restored to its original healthy condition. He was nearly bald, and very gray. He writes: "Only four bottles of the Vigor were required to restore my hair to its youthful color and quantity."

USING Ayer's Hair Vigor cures diseases of the scalp. F. H. Foster, Princeton, Ind., writes: "I had been troubled for years with a disease of the scalp; my head was covered with dandruff, and the hair dry and harsh. Ayer's Hair Vigor gave me immediate relief, cleansed the scalp, and rendered the hair soft and pliable."

Mr. Charles W. Randall has taken the agency for Portsmouth and vicinity for an improved contrivance for washing the inner surfaces of lamp chimneys, bottles, small-sized pitchers, and other vessels having openings too small to admit the hand. Mr. Randall is an invalid veteran of the civil war, unable to do any hard work, and carries in his body a bullet shot there in 1864 in front of Richmond, after he had passed through the rest of the war unharmed; and he is worthy of patronage in his endeavor to earn an honest dollar. The little implement is simple in the extreme, and the price is but a trifle; and besides its usefulness as a chimney washer, it will enable a person of the most limited education to extract from a bottle a cork that has got pushed inside. Any lady who has ever unavailingly fished in a bottle, with a string having a knot on the end, after a cork that wouldn't bite, will appreciate this quality of the chimney cleaner.

That Tired Feeling

When the weather grows warmer, that extreme tired feeling, want of appetite, dullness, languor, and lassitude, afflict almost the entire human family, and scrofula and other diseases caused by humors, manifest themselves with many. It is impossible to throw off this debility and expel humors from the blood without the aid of a reliable medicine like Hood's Sarsaparilla.

"I could not sleep, and would get up in the morning with hardly life enough to get out of bed. I had no appetite, and my face would break out with pimples. I bought a bottle of Hood's Sarsaparilla, and soon began to sleep soundly; could get up without that tired and languid feeling, and my appetite improved." R. A. SANFORD, Kent, O.

"I had been much troubled by general debility. Last spring Hood's Sarsaparilla proved just the thing needed. I derived an immense amount of benefit. I never felt better." H. F. MILLET, Boston, Mass.

At no other season is the system so susceptible to the beneficial effects of a reliable tonic and invigorant. The impure state of the blood, the deranged digestion, and the weak condition of the body, caused by its long battle with the cold, wintry blasts, all call for the reviving, regulating and restoring influences so happily and effectively combined in Hood's Sarsaparilla.

"Hood's Sarsaparilla did me a great deal of good. I had no particular disease, but was tired out from overwork, and it toned me up." MRS. G. E. SIMMONS, Cohoes, N. Y.

Hood's Sarsaparilla

"For seven years, spring and fall, I had scrofulous sores come out on my legs, and for two years was not free from them at all. I suffered very much. Last May I began taking Hood's Sarsaparilla, and before I had taken two bottles, the sores healed and the humor left me." C. A. ARNOLD, Arnold, Me.

CIRCUIT COURT OF THE UNITED STATES.

FRIDAY, May 14.

U. S. vs. Hamilton Giberson. Indictment for fraudulent use of the U. S. mail in sending out circulars, inviting correspondents to send fifty cents in postage stamps and receive by return mail a dollar. The government charge that this was a scheme to defraud by means of the post office establishment some person unknown.

Mr. Giberson is proprietor of the Union House at Groveton. The principal witnesses were T. J Boynton an Inspector of the post office department, and postmaster Chesman of Groveton. The latter testified as to the increase of the mail matter going from his office, and the delivery of a "decoy" letter to Giberson, and his giving a receipt for it. Mr. Giberson was not accustomed to come to the office for his letters, or to mail his letters. Wm. Holmes, who assisted Giberson, was the next witness. His cross-examination was at great length. Holmes on re-direct stated that Giberson proposed that he should leave the state and go to Canada; that he had received a letter from Mr. Rolfe; the purport was to frighten him, Holmes; Holmes did not read the letter, but Giberson read part of it (the letter).

Mr. Lamon, a post office inspector, was called, and testified that Giberson spoke to him on the train of the C. & P. R. R., and said he had a matter in court and had been using the mail, and he had addressed letters in this scheme to defraud, sealed and unsealed. The government rested at 11.30 and ex-U. S. Att'y Rolfe opened for the defendant. Mr. Rolfe stated that he was U. S. Commissioner before whom the case was heard, and he made up his mind that the defendant was innocent. (The U. S. Att'y objected that if Mr. Rolfe had been commissioner and was now counsel in the case, he should not be a witness). Mr. Rolfe declared that he did not propose to testify, and thought he knew the proprieties of the profession. Mr. Rolfe called the respondent as the first witness.

Giberson denied any participation in the fraud, and asserted that the correspondence was sent out by one Closson, who boarded at his hotel and had a key of his post office box when he went for his letters. Closson left suddenly and unexpectedly when the inspector arrived at Groveton. If he had directed any envelopes, it was done at Closson's request and with no idea on his part that there was any criminal offence being committed. The evidence closed with this testimony at the adjournment.

AFTERNOON. The arguments of counsel were concluded at 4:30. The court instructed the jury as to the admissions in the case, and the evidence which bore upon the respondent's participation in the scheme by aiding in directing circulars. Giberson's ignorance of the law cannot excuse him for this offence. The jury brought in a verdict of guilty. Counsel for deft. moved in arrest of judgment. Frink for the United States; Rolfe for respondent.

George A. Nealy, a minor, for larceny from the post-office in Exeter, was sentence to imprisonment for one year in the State industrial school at Manchester.

Case United States vs. A. H. Dealand was ordered to be continued, the respondent to recognize with new sureties, his present bail having been called and defaulted, to be taken off if he comes in. The respondent is certified by physicians to be in ill health, and unable to appear in court.

The court took a recess until 7:00 A. M. Saturday morning.

TEACHERS' INSTITUTE.

The second and concluding day's exercises were held in Franklin opera house, the school house having been much too small to accommodate all who wished to attend the previous day. Especially interesting and creditable was the geometry lesson, in the forenoon, by Prof. G. I. Hopkins and a class from the Manchester high school; also light illustrated, by Mr. John Pickard of the Portsmouth high school. The afternoon exercises related principally to the study of language and English literature. In the evening Hon. G. H. Littlefield delivered a lecture on "Daniel Webster," to another large and interested audience. The institute has been a great success, and the visiting teachers were hospitably received at the homes of our citizens.

Rev. Wm. Alger, of Boston, will preach in the Unitarian church to-morrow.

At the Universalist church to-morrow there will be services at four o'clock in the afternoon, with preaching by Rev. H. S. Fiske of South Newmarket.

"Recognition of Friends in Heaven" will be the subject of Rev. Dr. Alden's lecture on Sunday evening in the Middle street Baptist church.

The Appledore opens June 2d.

Naval Constructor Mintonye left this city on the 12th inst. for the New York navy yard, to serve as a member of the board to inspect the Powhatan.

The band of the Alvin Joslin company had an admiring and very numerous audience of small boys, on the march through the streets Friday noon. We had never supposed there were so many boys in the state. The estimate of 2000 was probably high, but we think there certainly were three or four hundred of them.

Hay of good quality has been brought in to Market square quite freely of late, and has sold at $17 to $18 per ton.

There was a variety of entertainments in town Friday evening. At Franklin theatre a lecture on Daniel Webster was delivered; at Music hall "Alvin Joslin" held the boards; and on the Parade a couple of individuals stood in a box set on stilts, and sang some, "hollered" a good deal, and sold to a crowd of people large quantities of a nostrum which of course cures all diseases from nil desperandum to the worst case of impecuniosity.

Rev. Henry E. Hovey, rector of St. John's church, is on a vacation.

Rev. George A. Holbrook of Brunswick, Me., formerly of this city, is in town.

Mr. Meshach H. Bell to-day leaves the store No. 53 Market street, where he has been employed twenty years and six months, to accept the position of chief clerk with Charles E. Laighton & Son. Mr. Bell is a graduate of the Chronicle office, and commenced with the N. E. P. Union, Division 110, Nov. 29th, 1865; became chief clerk Aug. 1st, 1870, and a stockholder Jan. 11th, 1872; and was elected secretary of the company Jan. 6th, 1875. Since Jan. 18th, 1878, he has been in the employ of Mr. John H. Slater, into whose hands the former business of the Union passed.

Rev. E. M. O'Callaghan was a passenger on the Cunard steamer Pavonia which left Boston on the 13th inst. for Liverpool.

Mr. Wm. H. Stringer, whose new barber shop on Islington street was so well advertised by a burglary committed there on the morning of the 13th inst., has got a very neat and well-fitted-up place. He is a skillful workman, and proposes to put in another chair shortly.

The manufacturers' sale of ladies' and children's cotton under wear, etc., which has been so largely patronized, closes to-day at No. 29 Market street. This is the last chance, as the store will be vacant Monday morning.

Pure castile soap is made from soda and olive oil; there are many inferior qualities before the public, in which a cheap cotton seed oil is substituted. Possibly the purest now sold is imported from Spain, and can be bought by the cake, or bar, at Preston's apothecary store.

A REVISED VERSION.

In reading an indictment in the United States Circuit court on Friday, a clause which recited a circular sent out by the accused, offering "cheap money" as a chance to become rich, caused a smile to spread over the calm features of the clerk as he read at the end of the circular, "There is a turn in the tide of man which taken at the cob leads to Fortune —Benj. Franklin. Address P. O. Box 155. Groveton, N. H."

Whether the respondent, who has seen the turn, concluded that he would turn Shakespeare's language into the maxim of a more modern philosopher, we wot not. Taking the tide at the ebb seems to have stranded the writer, whose voyage just at present seems—

"Bound in shallows and in miseries."

It does not do to fool with Shakespeare any more than to tamper with Uncle Sam's mails.

To the Cuticura Remedies I owe My Health, My Happiness, and My Life.

A day never passes that I do not think and speak kindly of the CUTICURA REMEDIES. Seven years ago, all of a dozen lumps formed on my neck, ranging in size from a cherry stone to an orange. The large ones were frightful to look at, and painful to bear; people turned aside when they saw me, in disgust, and I was ashamed to be on the street or in society. Physicians and their treatment, and all medicines failed to do any good. In a moment of despair I tried the CUTICURA REMEDIES—CUTICURA, the great Skin Cure, and CUTICURA SOAP, an exquisite Skin Beautifier, externally, and CUTICURA RESOLVENT, the new Blood Purifier, internally; the small lumps (as I call them) gradually disappeared, and the large ones broke, in about two weeks, discharging large quantities of matter, leaving two slight scars in my neck to-day to tell the story of my suffering. My weight then was one hundred and fifteen sickly pounds; my weight now is one hundred and sixty-one solid, healthy pounds, and my height is only five feet five inches. In my travels I praised the CUTICURA REMEDIES, North, South, East, and West. To CUTICURA REMEDIES I OWE MY HEALTH, MY HAPPINESS, AND MY LIFE. A prominent New York druggist asked me the other day, "Do you still use the CUTICURA REMEDIES; you look to be in perfect health?" My reply was, "I do, and shall always. I have never known what sickness is since I commenced using the CUTICURA REMEDIES." Sometimes I am laughed at by praising them to people not acquainted with their merits, but sooner or later they will come to their senses and believe the same as those that use them, as dozens have whom I have told. May the time come when there shall be a large CUTICURA Supply House in every city in the world, for the benefit of humanity, where the CUTICURA REMEDIES shall be sold cheap, so that there will be rarely a need of ever entering a drug store.

Sneezing Catarrh.

The distressing sneeze, sneeze, sneeze, the acrid, watery discharges from the eyes and nose, the painful inflammation extending to the throat, the swelling of the mucous lining, causing choking sensations, cough, ringing noises in the head and splitting headaches,—how familiar these symptoms are to thousands who suffer periodically from head colds or hay fever, and who live in ignorance of the fact that a single application of SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE FOR CATARRH will afford instantaneous relief.

But this treatment in cases of simple Catarrh gives but a faint idea of what this remedy will do in the chronic forms, where the breathing is obstructed by choking, putrid mucous accumulations, the hearing affected, smell and taste gone, throat ulcerated and hacking cough gradually fastening itself upon the debilitated system. Then it is that the marvellous curative powers of SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE manifests itself in instantaneous and grateful relief. Cure begins from the first application. It is rapid, radical, permanent, economical, safe.

journals because they consider it to be their duty to do so, or for the reason that they have a faint hope that their children will be induced to peruse them. For themselves they prefer they daily paper.

In the matter of the number of papers the Methodists take the lead. They have about fifty papers of large circulation, and altogether their publications circulate over 500,000 copies. The Catholics have forty papers, of which nearly 400,000 are circulated, and it is worthy of remark that the German Catholic papers furnish one-half of this number. The Baptist journals have about 300,000 subscribers; the Presbyterian papers follow with 250,000; those of the Lutheran church with 220,000, while those of the Congregational church have 75,000, mostly in New England. The Mormons—if they can be called a sect—are alone in supporting a daily paper. The Lutherans, though not so strong in numbers as other sects, are generous in support of their press, for on comparison it is found that almost one in three of them subscribes to its support. The Presbyterians follow with a ratio bordering on one in four; the Congregationalists are next at one in five, while the Baptists and Methodists are neck and neck at one in seven each. It must be remembered, however, that the Methodists and Baptists have to carry the greater mass of the illiterate whites and blacks at the south, which prevents them from presenting a better average.

The evangelical and Christian journals can not be classified, since they are strictly sectarian, and calculations as to the literary standing of the weaker denominations would be endless. Most of the Protestant papers are edited by ministers, and it would be natural to suppose that they would be above the practice of wrangling and quarreling. But such is not the case. Some of the narrowest and most bitter writers on journalism are to be found on the religious press, and discussions more numerous and personal than the much-abused daily newspaper ever indulges in are to be found in journals whose editors sign D. D. after their names.—Exchange.

Two Hundred Years Ago or More.

Two hundred years and more ago beds in England were bags filled with straw or leaves, but not upholstered or squared with modern neatness. The bag could be opened and the litter remade daily. There were few bed-rooms in the house of ancient England. The master and mistress of the Anglo-Saxon house had a chamber or shed built against the wall that enclosed the mansion and its dependencies; their daughters had the same. Yong men and guests slept in the great hall, which was the only noticeable room in the house, on tables or benches. Woolen coverlids were provided for warmth; poles or hooks on which they could hang their clothes projected from the wall; perches were provided for their hawks. Attendants and servants slept upon the floor.—Boston Budget.

The snow brings chilblains, and St. Jacobs Oil brings relief. It conquers pain.

John Ahearn, a grocer of Boston, was assaulted and murdered by two young men early Thursday morning, while going home, and Frank C. Nagle and George Sullivan are under arrest for the crime. The motive was robbery.

Without danger the baby's cough can be cured by Red Star Cough Cure. No poisons.

Francis T. Hood, attorney general of Indiana, has been sent to an insane hospital. His mania is ungrounded but furious jealousy of his wife, a most estimable lady.

Almost Killed.

I was almost killed by the doctors, who treated me for bleeding piles. It cost me over $100 without relief. I took Sulphur Bitters for two months, and now I am well.—Gus Hall, Troy, N. Y.

Parsons, the anarchist, is "wanted" on the charge of murder.

The harmful and fatal results attending the use of cough mixtures containing morphia, opium and other poisons, are daily becoming more frequent. It is for this reason that Red Star Cough Cure has received the unqualified endorsement of physicians, and boards of health everywhere, as a purely vegetable compound, entirely free from all narcotics. Price, 25 cents.

The master masons of Providence, R. I., have formed a permanent organization, and voted to return to a ten-hour basis, at thirty cents per hour for first-class men. They also resolved that they would not hereafter "allow employes to employ or discharge help," and pledged themselves to stand by each other.

Geo. W. Tompkins, M. D., 78 Cumberland street, Brooklyn, N. Y., writes June 9, 1883: "I take pleasure in recommending Allcock's Porous Plasters in all cases of general debility, especially where the pains are severe over the regions of the kidneys, liver and chest; marked improvement occurs soon as relief from suffering is obtained. For Lumbago these Plasters surpass liniments, &c."

A waterspout burst over the town of Xenia, Ohio, on the night of the 12th inst., tearing many houses to pieces and flooding the streets. Twenty-five dead bodies were recovered, and eleven persons were reported missing, besides the many injured. Many other towns and cities in that region suffered severely in property, but no lives are reported lost.

Humors of the stomach, salt rheum, and all blood disorders, are radically cured by Ayer's Sarsaparilla.

John Lilly was fatally crushed under a road-roller at Cohasset, Mass.

A fine ornament. Beach Soap Co.'s Banner Picture. Just what you want to hang in your home.

Geronimo's Apaches are supposed to be about thirty miles southwest of Nogales, Ari., where two whites have been killed. Two hundred soldiers are in close pursuit.

The warmer weather often has a depressing and debilitating effect. Hood's Sarsaparilla overcomes all languor and lassitude.

Dr. R. B. Bibber, of Bath, Me., kindly furnished the funds wherewith to equip John Trayner for the voyage he proposed to take across the Atlantic in a rowboat. Mr. Trayner started last summer, and has not since been heard from; but Dr. Bibber is not discouraged, and says he is ready to send out another man. Why not go himself?

CHICAGO, ROCK ISLAND & PACIFIC RAILWAY

By reason of its central position and close relation to all principal lines East and West, as initial and terminal points, constitutes the most important mid-continental link in the system of through transportation which invites and facilitates travel and traffic between cities of the Atlantic and Pacific Coasts. It is also the favorite and best route to and from points West, Northwest and Southwest, and corresponding points West, Northwest and Southwest.

The Great Rock Island Route

Guarantees its patrons that sense of personal security afforded by a solid, thoroughly ballasted roadbed, smooth tracks of continuous steel rail, substantially built culverts and bridges, rolling stock as near perfection as human skill can make it, the safety appliances of Patent Buffers, platforms and air-braking, and that running discipline which governs the practical operation of all its trains. Other specialties of this route are Transfers at all connecting points in Union Depots, and the unsurpassed comforts and luxuries of its Passenger Equipment.

The Fast Express Trains between Chicago and Peoria, Council Bluffs, Kansas City, Leavenworth and Atchison are equipped of well ventilated, finely upholstered Day Coaches, Magnificent Pullman Palace Sleepers of the latest design, and sumptuous Dining Cars in which elegantly cooked meals are served at reasonable rates. Between Chicago and Kansas City and Atchison are also run the celebrated Reclining Chair Cars.

The Famous Albert Lea Route

Is the direct and favorite line between Chicago and Minneapolis and St. Paul, affording the best accommodation to Upland Resorts for all points in the Territories and British Provinces. Over this route Fast Express Trains are run to the watering places, summer resorts, hunting grounds, fishing and boating grounds of Iowa and Minnesota. It is also the most desirable route to the rich wheat fields and pastoral lands of interior Dakota.

Still another DIRECT LINE, via Seneca and Kankakee, has been opened between Cincinnati, Indianapolis and Leavenworth, Council Bluffs, Kansas City, Minneapolis and St. Paul and intermediate points.

A Public Benefaction.

How to laundry linen as it is done in Troy, N. Y., has been kept a secret long enough; it can and should be done in every family. The Elastic Starch is the only starch in the United States that is put up by men who have a practical knowledge of the laundry profession. It requires no cooking, keeps the iron from sticking and linen from blistering while ironing, and gives shirts, cuffs and collars that stiffness and beautiful polish they have when new, which, everybody knows keeps them clean twice as long. Beware of imitations. See that the name J. C. HUBINGER & BRO., New Haven, Conn., is on every package.

A Burglar Captured.

This morning about two o'clock, John Wood, the well known plumber who resides on Main street, was awakened by hearing glass break. On getting out of bed he received a blow on the head. He immediately grappled with the burglar, and after a terrible struggle succeeded in holding him until his wife obtained help. On being searched at the station, Mr. Wood's watch and wallet was found on his person. He gave the name of Robert Terry. The broken glass proved to be a bottle of Sulphur Bitters which had almost cured Mrs. Wood of rheumatism. —Exchange.

Advice to Mothers.

Are you disturbed at night and broken of your rest by a sick child suffering and crying with pain of cutting teeth? If so, send at once and get a bottle of Mrs Winslow's Soothing Syrup for Children Teething. Its value is incalculable. It will relieve the poor little sufferer immediately. Depend upon it, mothers, there is no mistake about it. It cures dysentery and diarrhœa, regulates the stomach and bowels, cures wind colic, softens the gums, reduces inflammation, and gives tone and energy to the whole system. Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup for Children Teething is pleasant to the taste, and is the prescription of one of the oldest and best female nurses and physicians in the United States, and is for sale by all druggists throughout the world. Price 25 cents a bottle. eodtJan

THE HOPE OF NEW ENGLAND.

The last census is not altogether pleasant reading in many portions for the sons of New England, but it conveys lessons which they cannot afford to ignore. If it tells that Maine and Vermont stood stationary as regards populations between 1870 and 1880, it also records the rapid growth and prosperity of many cities and towns which are beginning to tread upon the heels of older communities. It seems to say that to manufactures, not to agriculture, must New England apply herself, and that to the skill of her artisans must she look for her old-time supremacy. This changed condition of affairs is recognized in many enterprising cities, a good example of which may be found in Waterbury, the bustling Connecticut city upon the Naugatuck that is so rapidly coming to the front as a manufacturing center. Waterbury has wide-awake citizens who take every opportunity to push it and to welcome new ideas. The advantage of such a progressive spirit is well shown in the case of G. W. Angell, who lives at No. 204 South Main street, Waterbury, and who gives this personal experience:

"For twenty years I have suffered tortures from chronic rheumatism. The doctors said I was incurable, but thanks to Athlophoros, I have now taken a new lease on life. I had tried numerous remedies with the hope of at least allaying my suffering, but all failed until a friend advised me to try Athlophoros. I did so, and as the result am now looking and feeling as though I had never known what rheumatism was."

Mrs. E. Vickers, of No. 46 Pleasant street, says:

"It is owing to Athlophoros that I am now alive. I suffered with inflammatory rheumatism for years, most of the time being perfectly helpless. One bottle of Athlophoros cured me. I can sincerely say that there is nothing like it for the speedy relief and permanent cure of rheumatism and can recommend it to all suffering from that disease."

The testimony is reinforced by that of Mrs. Jane Downey, of No. 24 Pleasant street, a near neighbor of Mrs. Vicker's, in this story of her case:

"Two bottles of Athlophoros cured me of inflammatory rheumatism. My family physician advised me to take the remedy, saying that he had done all he could for me, but could give me no relief. Athlophoros drove the rheumatism away, and I am happy to say that it has never come back. My daughter, who suffered terribly from rheumatism, was also cured by taking half a bottle of the medicine."

If you cannot get ATHLOPHOROS of your druggist, we will send it express paid, on receipt of regular price—one dollar per bottle. We prefer that you buy it from your druggist, but if he has it not, do not be persuaded to take something else, but order at once from us as directed. ATHLOPHOROS CO., 112 Wall Street, New York.

THE POOR OF THE CITY.

STATISTICS OF THE CHEAP LODGING-HOUSES OF NEW YORK.

Different Grades of Tramps and Sitters—Evils of the Tenement House System—Bath of Inmates to Dwellings in Several of Our Large Cities.

It is always easy to find interesting statistics in relation to the poor people of a country like ours. There are over 200 cheap lodging houses in New York. Most of them are below Fourteenth street. The sanitary laws fix their legal sheltering capacity at about 9,000 lodgers per night, but almost every night from 10,000 to 12,000 dismal souls are crowded into them. It is estimated that there are from 4,000 to 5,000 poor males and females who find shelter at the free-lunch saloons, the stale beer dives and the police stations. About Chatham square and in the streets which traverse the slums and sloughs of New York these unfortunates have a show by working as sitters in the low saloons. They cluster around the stove in cold weather and excite the sympathy of transient customers. During the holiday season, about election time, and when great parades are going on, this dodge of the needy worker and the saloon-keeper works to the advantage of both. At such times the sitters are enabled to keep comfortably filled up, to the advantage of the house.

In some saloons which encourage sitters they are let in in relays. By working up a regular route a tramp can manage to fill up his time all night. The way many of these people keep clothed is a study. One that I have heard of has pretensions in this direction. Every day he watches the death notices in the papers, and whenever the demise of a man is announced he promptly calls at the house with a piteous appeal for cast-off clothing. People are tender-hearted with death in the house, and he rarely goes away empty-handed. A student of the tramp question has classified the different grades of cheap lodgers and sitters. He finds from long experience that 50 per cent. of them are victims of intemperance, 25 per cent. are vagrants from sheer laziness, 20 per cent. are willing to work but can't get it to do, and 5 per cent are unable to work on account of some mental or physical defect. Upon this basis of say 15,000 out-and-out outcasts in New York city, 7,500 are drunkards, 1,750 are indolent knaves, 3,000 decent poverty-stricken people out of work, and 750 invalids and unfortunates.

IN THE ROOKERIES AND SHANTIES.

The next class of poor people, but little better off, are the dwellers in the rookeries and shanties and meanest tenement houses. There the condition becomes somewhat better, but never satisfactory. The evils of the tenement-house system are apparent. This building together of large numbers of men, women and children under one roof breeds vice and dissipation. But the growth of this system in New York has been remarkable. The first tenement house was erected in 1833 on Cherry street. In 1865 there were 15,309 tenements in this city. Now there are at least 30,000, including apartment houses and flats. In a quarter of a century the system developed, and during the last twenty-five years has more than doubled in extent. In 1865 the average number of inhabitants in each tenement house was thirty-five. The average to-day is fifty.

New York has double the number of inmates to a house of any other city in the Union, Philadelphia the least. Out of the 146,212 houses in the Quaker city, there are only six inmates to each dwelling; in the 50,833 houses which make up Baltimore there are six and one-half people to each residence; St. Louis, with 43,026 houses, has eight people to each home; Chicago, with 61,069 houses, has eight and a quarter people; Brooklyn, with 62,238 houses, has nine people to a house; New York, with 73,634 houses, has sixteen and and a half people. The figures as to this city are deceptive, because there are fully 20,000 tenements proper which accommodate fifty people on an average, or a total of 1,000,000 souls. This demonstrates that more than two-thirds of the population of New York are dwellers of tenement houses proper, among which flats and apartment houses are not included. What a singular study these figures are! No city in the Union has half as many houses as Philadelphia, and yet Boston has nearly two-thirds as many as New York, and Chicago almost as many. Truly these statistics justify Philadelphia in its claim of being the city of homes, and Chicago and Boston follow very closely.—Frank Burr in Chicago News.

Mexico's Season for Cutting Mahogany.

In Mexico the season for cutting mahogany usually commences about August. Gangs of Indian borers are employed, consisting of two to fifty each, under the direction of a captain. Each gang has also a cazador, or "huntsman," whose duty it is to search the trackless forest for suitable trees to be felled, and to lead the wood cutters to the places. The felled trees at a single season are scattered over so wide a space that miles of roadway have to be made to reach them, and numerous rude bridges constructed over the rivers that lie in the way. All the larger logs have to be "squared" before they are brought away on rude wheeled trucks along these forest roads. Each truck requires seven pairs of oxen, and the work could be much more expeditiously done by our portable railways and plantation engines. The implements used by the Mexicans in this trade are rude and insufficient, large quantities of timber being often spoiled by their insufficiency, combined with the ignorance of the workmen employed. —Boston Budget.

The largest sauerkraut factory in New York is situated in Forsyth street. It is a dingy, dull-looking building on the outside, but on mornings when the Long Island cabbage arrives, it springs into sudden and seething life. The huge farmwagons dash up in front of the buildings, and the canvass covers are whipped off them in an instant. At the same time the three big front windows of the factory fly open, and the teamsters and their helpers begin throwing the cabbage to two men, who stand in each window. They are the cabbage inspectors, and if a head looks unsound they toss it back to the wagon,

To Digest Vulcanite,

Requires acids more potent than the solvent juices of the human stomach. And yet, in the form of medicine intended to reform the very evil they aggravate, to-wit, dyspepsia, solids and fluids, irreconcilable in their constituents that have no chemical affinity one with the other, are introduced into it. Are these so-called remedies more digestible than vulcanite? Positively—no! Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, on the other hand, a simple medicine, harmonious in its composition and readily assimilable, is active, and produces marked as well as speedily appreciable effects, because it is a rational remedy suited to the stomach. It is a tonic in the true sense, because it harmonizes and insures regularity of the operations of digestion. Not the least of the benefits which it confers, is a thorough repair of the damage inflicted on the stomach by ill-chosen remedies. For biliousness, constipation, malarial complaints, rheumatism and kidney troubles, it is alike valuable.

Station Agent Perkins of the Boston & Maine railroad having gone on a month's vacation, his position is being filled by Mr. Flagg F. Grant, formerly clerk of the Rockingham house.

CHAS. MASON, Commissioner of Patents.

"Inventors cannot employ a person more trustworthy or more capable of securing for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office."

EDMUND BURKE, late Commissioner of Patents.

BOSTON, October 19, 1876.

R. H. EDDY, ESQ.—Dear Sir: You procured for me, in 1840, my first patent. Since then you have acted for and advised me in hundreds of cases, and procured many patents, reissues and extensions. I have occasionally employed the best agencies in New York, Philadelphia and Washington, but I still give you almost the whole of my business, is your line, and advise others to employ you.

Yours truly, GEORGE DRAPER.

Educated and Experience.

Hood's Sarsaparilla is prepared by C. I. Hood & Co., Apothecaries, Lowell, Mass., who have a thorough knowledge of pharmacy, and many years practical experience in the business. It is prepared with the greatest skill and care, under the direction of the men who originated it. Hence Hood's Sarsaparilla may be depended upon as a thoroughly pure, honest, and reliable medicine.

No poison has been found in the stomach of Annie Donohoe, the girl who died so mysteriously in a den in Manchester several weeks ago.

Box Capacity.

A box 8x8 inches and 8 inches deep contains a peck. A box 24x17 inches and 28 inches deep contains a barrel. A box 14 inches long, 10 inches broad and 12 inches high contains 12 bottles of the G. O. Taylor Bourbon or Rye Whiskey, and when you land it safely in your sideboard, you can just rely on having the one absolutely pure liquor that your druggist or grocer can procure and sell you. It is owned by C. H. Graves & Sons, Boston, and is guaranteed as the very best and purest.

For sale by the bottle or case by John Laighton.

Another Spasm.

A feeble show of a feint at reform, for political effect only, has been made in relation to reduction of the cost of maintaining custom houses and ports of entry. Acting Secretary Fairchild has sent a letter to Speaker Carlisle in answer to a resolution of the house, requesting information as to the "number of custom houses or ports of entry at which the expenses of the government are greater than the revenue collected at such ports, and to state what reason exists, if any, why such custom houses should not be dispensed with." Mr. Fairchild inclosed a list of customs districts and ports of delivery of the kinds mentioned, and says that excepting Mobile, Brazos Santiago and Alaska he knows of no good reason for the continued maintenance of them as independent districts and ports, and advises that they be abolished, and the territory comprehended in them consolidated with contiguous paying customs districts. The secretary submits a list of sixty districts and ports which he says should be abolished.

It is also said that some of the offices in the custom houses where the expenses exceed the income (but it will be decided not to discontinue the districts) will be materially reduced by curtailing the number of officers, and perhaps quietly appointing others later, to these downy places.

Of course every one understands this is all the merest nonsense,—that any attempt to reduce officers in the customs branch of the service, other than to discharge republican incumbents, is done only for effect, to be as soon as may be followed by the selection of some properly endorsed democrat, after the collector can certify that the interests of the service require additional aid in collecting the revenues. Oh, Reform! What humbugs the democracy perpetrate in thy name!

Labor Matters.

The brewery proprietors of Boston were early last week served with a copy of certain demands, which while making no demand for increase of wages, practically demanded that the Brewers' Union should control the hiring and discharging of help, and regulate the hours of labor. The proprietors answer that "We claim it to be our right, as employers, to hire and discharge our help without interference from any society, and we shall, therefore, not submit to any dictation in that respect."

The strike of the building trades in Boston still continues; up to Saturday night there was no sign of serious weakening by either side.

The strike in the lumber district of Chicago ended May 14th, in a rush of the strikers for their old places at the old rates and length of day.

The contractors and boss plasterers of Pittsburg, Pa., have yielded to the workmen's demand for eight hours.

The strike of the masons and bricklayers of Worcester, Mass., is over, and was a failure.

The cabinet makers and plumbers of New Haven, Conn., have struck for eight hours a day.

AROUND HOME.

DeWitt Clinton Commandry of Knights Templar have accepted the invitation of Sir Knight Henry E. Hovey, rector of St. John's parish, to attend divine service at Christ church on the evening of Whit-Sunday.

The pugilists of Leach's island returned from exile last week. They met at the depot and shook hands. It is understood they have retired from the ring, and gone to work. Let us have peace!

The Portsmouth cricket club went to Dover on Saturday, and played a one-inning game with the Dover club, which was won by the Dovers, fifty-eight to thirty-three.

Capt. Ellery O. Garland, of the schooner D. K. Ham, is at home in Newington, unwell. Capt. Albert Hurst of Eliot is in temporary command of the vessel.

The choir of St. John's church is composed as follows: Miss Flora Hayes, soprano; Mrs. J. S. Bennett, alto; Mr. L. V. Newell, tenor; Mr. Charles W. Gray, bass; Miss Georgie Hill, organist. The Middle street Baptist choir consists of Miss Alice M. Esty of Boston, soprano; Miss Maud Burdette of Boston, alto; Mr. Cornelius Chenery of Boston, tenor; Mr. T. W. Willey of Newmarket, bass; Miss Annia Plumer, organist.

At the annual meeting of the Rockingham bicycle club the following officers were elected for the ensuing year: C. A. Hazlett, president; secretary and treasurer, W. C. Walton; captain, Goodwin E. Philbrick; first lieutenant, Fred H. Ward; second lieutenant, Charles W. Gray; bugler, W. W. McIntire; color bearer, H. P. Montgomery. The executive committee consists of the president, captain, secretary, and Messrs. J. S. Tilton, Lemuel McIntire and James A. Spead. The club has extended an invitation to the New Hampshire Division, L. A. W., to hold its 11th annual meet in this city on July 5th. In case the invitation is accepted, the company will take dinner at the hotel Wentworth.

The shore-fishing boats brought in last week to Commercial wharf very good fares of fish, which sold at fair prices. Since the winter fisheries ceased, most of the fish landed at that wharf have been bought by Edward Jameson. A few shad were brought up from Fernald's weir off Pocahontas point, Gerrish's island, the latter part of the week. Mackerel continue to be very scarce and poor, in this market.

Mr. Fred A. Fernald of Kittery, of Dartmouth college class of '89, will be one of the clerks at the hotel Wentworth the coming season.

Mr. Herman Brackett has bought the house on the corner of Blossom and South streets from Mrs. Joshua C. Gray. Mr. Samuel A. Hawkes has bought the property on Deer street adjoining his place, from the Hart estate.

NAVY YARD ITEMS.

Lieut. J. K. Cogswell is detached from this navy yard, and ordered to torpedo instruction.

Capt. J. H. Higbee, U. S. M. C., is detached from the marine barracks at the Washington navy yard, June 1st, and ordered to report at the marine barracks at the Portsmouth navy yard for duty, June 8th.

Senator Blair seems to have incited the jealous fear of some of his senatorial associates. They affect to fear that he will succeed in having some measure passed which may cause the people to regard him as an abler or more influential senator than some of the do-nothing members of that body. The seantor has no fears in regard to such associates in the chamber, as the people are with him in his ideas of progress.

Ex-Speaker Woolson, of Lisbon, was in attendance at the United States court in this city during part of last week.

Two ex-senators of the United States from New Hampshire met in the gentlemen's room at the Rockingham on one evening of last week.

Pure castile soap is made from soda and olive oil; there are many inferior qualities before the public, in which a cheap cotton seed oil is substituted. Possibly the purest now sold is imported from Spain, and can be bought by the cake, or bar, at Preston's apothecary store.

Three Peculiarities

Hood's Sarsaparilla, the great blood purifier and regulating medicine, is characterized by three peculiarities, namely:

1st: The combination of the various remedial agents used.

2d: The proportion in which the roots, herbs, barks, etc., are mixed.

3d: The process by which the active medicinal properties are secured.

The result is a medicine of unusual strength and curative power, which effects cures heretofore unequalled. These peculiarities belong exclusively to Hood's Sarsaparilla, and are

Unknown to Others

Hood's Sarsaparilla is prepared with the greatest skill and care, by pharmacists of education and long experience. Hence it is a medicine worthy of entire confidence. If you suffer from scrofula, salt rheum, or any disease of the blood, dyspepsia, biliousness, sick headache, or kidney and liver complaints, catarrh or rheumatism, do not fail to try

Hood's Sarsaparilla

"I recommend Hood's Sarsaparilla to all my friends as the best blood purifier on earth." WM. GAPP, druggist, Hamilton, O.

"Hood's Sarsaparilla has cured me of scrofulous humor, and done me worlds of good otherwise." C. A. ARNOLD, Arnold, Me.

A book containing many additional statements of cures will be sent to all who desire.

YOUR HAIR

should be your crowning glory. Ayer's Hair Vigor will restore the vitality and color of youth to hair that has become thin and faded; and, where the glands are not decayed or absorbed, will cause a new growth on bald heads.

MAY the youthful color and vigor of the hair be preserved to old age? Read the following, from Mrs. G. Norton, Somerville, Mass.: "I have used Ayer's Hair Vigor for the past 30 years; and, although I am upwards of 60, my hair is as abundant and glossy to-day as when I was 20."

BE assured, that a trial of Ayer's Hair Vigor will convince you of its powers. Mrs. M. E. Goff, Leadville, Col., writes: "Two years ago, my hair having almost entirely fallen out, I commenced the use of Ayer's Hair Vigor. To-day my hair is 29 inches long, fine, strong, and healthy."

RENEWED and strengthened by the use of Ayer's Hair Vigor, the hair regains its youthful color and vitality. Rev. H. P. Williamson, Davidson College, Mecklenburg Co., N. C., writes: "I have used Ayer's Hair Vigor for the last ten years. It is an excellent preservative."

BY the use of Ayer's Hair Vigor, Geo. A. Dadman, Waterloo, Mo., had his hair restored to its original healthy condition. He was nearly bald, and very gray. He writes: "Only four bottles of the Vigor were required to restore my hair to its youthful color and quantity."

USING Ayer's Hair Vigor cures diseases of the scalp. F. H. Foster, Princeton, Ind., writes: "I had been troubled for years with a disease of the scalp; my head was covered with dandruff, and the hair dry and harsh. Ayer's Hair Vigor gave me immediate relief, cleansed the scalp, and rendered the hair soft and pliable."

CIRCUIT COURT OF THE UNITED STATES.

SATURDAY, May 15th.

The court came in at seven o'clock in the morning. Mr. Holfe abandoned his exceptions and threw himself on the mercy of the court and asked in behalf of Giberson a light sentence.

The court then ordered the respondent to pay a fine of $200 and be imprisoned in the jail at Concord for the term of one day, or to stand committed until sentence is performed.

The court then took a recess until the 21st.

The case United States vs. Peter D. Pevear, indicted in 1880 for being a retail dealer in liquors without having paid the special tax, was dismissed.

POLICE COURT--BATCHELDER J.

SATURDAY, May 15th.

Mary Grace, for drunkenness, was ordered to spend ninety days at the county farm, and to pay $6.90 costs.

Charles Johnson, a transient person, was fined $3, costs $6,90, for drunkenness; county farm in default of payment.

SOLDIERS'. MONUMENT--FINANCE COMMITTEE.

At the meeting of the finance committee on Soldiers' and Sailors' monument, Friday evening, the following names were added to the committee:

Heman F. Eldredge, Jos. H. Thacher, A. P. Preston, E. P. Kimball, T. Salter Tredick, Daniel Marcy, Arthur W. Walker, Ed. S. Fay, William Ward, Geo. B. French, Josiah H. Morrison, C. W. Tracy, Mark Scott, Wm. H. Sise, Michael Crowley, Hiram C. Locke, John H. Locke, Thomas Entwistle, Frank L. Pryor.

The committee will meet in the city rooms to-morrow (Tuesday) evening at 7:30 o'clock; this will be an important meeting, and every member of the committee is requested to be present.

[We are requested by the chairman of the committee to call the especial attention of members of the committee to the date of the meeting, it having been previously announced for this (Monday) evening.]

THE ANNIVERSARY CELEBRATION.

The committee having in charge the arrangements for the celebration of the 150th anniversary of the organization of St. John's Lodge of Masons of this city, on St. John's day, June 24th, have got their plans well advanced. DeWitt Clinton Commandry of Knights Templar will do escort duty; and all the Masonic bodies of this city, all the lodges in the first Masonic district, the Grand Lodge of New Hampshire, and Naval Lodge of Kittery, Me., have been invited to take part in the celebration. The Salem brass band has been engaged for the occasion, and there will probably be a parade about eleven o'clock in the forenoon, followed by an address by Charles Levi Woodbury, 33°, and other exercises, in Music hall. The procession will then reform, and march to Langdon park or Peirce's island, where a collation or clambake will be served, as the number of Masonic bodies that have already accepted invitations could not be accommodated in any hall in the city.

COMPLIMENTARY CONCERT.

A complimentary concert was given at Union Park, Boston, on Thursday evening last, to Mrs. Howard Frisbee and Miss Isa E. A. Frisbee of this city, by pupils of the latter, assisted by others. The spacious rooms were filled in every part, and the concert was grandly successful,—of course most gratifying to Miss Frisbee, who has labored faithfully and with exceptional skill to impart her own accomplishments to her pupils. Her own part in the concert was an exhibition not only evoking the appreciative and reiterated applause of her auditors, but also explanatory of her success as an instructor, so fully attested at the concert. Mrs. Howard Frisbee was in excellent voice, and her execution was particularly fine. In "The Lesson," Mrs. Frisbee and Mr. Johnson not only edified the musical ear, but convulsed the audience. Miss Fannie P. Hoyt, op that magical instrument the violin, was the star feature of the evening. Mrs. Chambers of New York, as a reader, attested that her place is firmly held with the few. Mrs. George P. Philbrick as accompanist is rarely excelled. Master Osgood Tarr, a lad of about eleven years, deserves particular mention; his execution on the piano not only thrilled but surprised, evoking most emphatic approval—a demonstration that must have been especially gratifying to his teacher, Miss Frisbee. The other artists did finely. COM.

REDUCING CUSTOM HOUSE EXPENSES.

In the report of Acting Secretary of the Treasury Fairchild to the house of representatives, referred to in another column of this paper, it is stated that the receipts of customs reported at this port were $1,801, cost of collection $8,227, or $4.56 to collect a dollar.

At York $28 were collected at a cost of $200, or $9.24 for each dollar.

At Kennebunk $143, cost of collecting $702, or $4.20 the dollar.

At Saco $153, cost of collecting $705, or $4.50 the dollar.

The plan proposed is to put the York county offices under charge of the collector at Portland, consolidate the Portsmouth office with Boston, and restore the telephone in the office here so that orders may be transmitted by wire. We have no great faith that the latter proposition will be carried out. It was attempted by the democrats during Collector Howard's time, but the congressional delegation promptly sat upon it, though the democratic editors went for it body and what little soul they possessed.

PERSONAL.

Among the recently returned residents are Commodore Charles W. Pickering of the navy, who has finished his usual season's stay in the south; Dr. F. E. Potter, who went west to be present at a recent cyclone; and E. C. Stedman, who is spending a week at Kelp Rock, his summer home at Newcastle.

Flagg F. Grant wears a "Station Agent" badge on his cap, while Winslow T. Perkins roams around the great Northwest in search of recreation after close attention to the interests of the B. & M. R. R. in this city.

Francis W. Ham last week left the house in which as man and boy he has resided for half a century, and has gone to live in the Tarlton house near the post-office in Newcastle, fronting on the river.

Frank W. Hackett, Esq., of this city, has leased for the season the Barney cottage at Kittery Point, near the site of Admiral Craven's summer cottage.

Cedric Laighton and wife came in from Appledore and went to Boston on Saturday.

Mr. J. T. Coolidge will occupy the Wentworth mansion at Little harbor with his family in July, after needed repairs have been made to the house.

HEALTH REGULATIONS.

By "an act to render more efficient the health laws of the state," passed by the legislature at the session of 1885, and approved by Gov. Currier, July 23d of that year, it was provided that "The state board of health may make, in addition to the rules and regulations of local health officers, such other rules and regulations, or may make such amendments to existing rules and regulations, as in the judgment of the board the public good may demand, and such rules and regulations shall be enforced by the health officers in the same manner as other health regulations." By virtue of the authority vested in the state board by this act, the board has ordered that "in the rules and regulations adopted by any town or city board within the limits of the state of New Hampshire, the following shall be inserted and included, and that no rule or regulation which will in any way impair the meaning or force of the same shall be adopted by any town or city:"

1. No public funeral shall be held in any instance where the deceased died of small-pox, scarlet fever or diphtheria.

2. No pupil shall attend any school, public or private, from a house or family where there exists a case of scarlet fever or diphtheria, unless such case or cases are thoroughly isolated from the said pupil, and then only upon the certificate of a physician certifying to the fact that such isolation is secured, and that in his judgment no liability to spread the disease will follow.

3. No person who has had scarlet fever or diphtheria shall attend any school or public gathering until three weeks after convalescence has been established, except on a certificate of a reputable physician.

The state board in their circular to health officers and local health boards say: "These regulations are made because sufficient precautions have not been exercised in the past in relation to scarlet fever and diphtheria—both contagious diseases, and each destroying annually lives that might have been saved by the enforcement of reasonable precautionary measures. These diseases have in the last three years taken the lives of over seven hundred persons, mostly children, in New Hampshire. Heart-rending and appalling as is this fact, it is lamentable that it should become necessary to invoke the strong arm of the law to prevent parents from exposing their children, themselves, and others, to these terrible diseases." In the general advice given to local health officers we find the following especially sensible suggestion:

Verbal complaints made to a board of health should be recognized and acted upon as promptly as though they were made in writing. The organic duty of a board of health is to protect the health interest of its jurisdiction, and no complaint relating to any nuisance or condition that requires immediate abatement should be ignored by reason of any informality in making the same known to the health authorities. As well might a fire department require a written notice under date that a fire was actually under headway at a certain street and number, before proceeding to the locality, as for a board of health to demand a written notification when verbally informed of a disease-breeding nuisance that should be immediately removed.

MUSIC HALL.

Miss Lizzie Evans will play a return engagement at Music hall on Friday next, and by request will repeat her performance of "Fogg's Ferry"—the play in which she made so decided a hit here about two months ago. She will be supported by the same excellent company as before. Special scenery is also carried for the third act, the celebrated torpedo explosion scene, etc.

BASE BALL.

On Friday the high school base ball nine played a game at the Plains with a picked nine, the latter winning by a score of twenty to twelve. The pitching of Hoyt and the catching of Mason, for the school boys, were the chief features of the game.

The Riverside club played a game with a picked nine, which included three of the Red Stockings, at the Plains on Saturday afternoon, with the following result: Riversides sixteen, picked nine eight.

William Dow of this city has resigned as captain of the Riverside base ball club, and will play with the Boston Blues. He left this morning for Boston.

To the Cuticura Remedies I owe My Health, My Happiness, and My Life.

A day never passes that I do not think and speak kindly of the CUTICURA REMEDIES. Seven years ago, all of a dozen lumps formed on my neck, ranging in size from a cherry stone to an orange. The large ones were frightful to look at, and painful to bear; people turned aside when they saw me, in disgust, and I was ashamed to be on the street or in society. Physicians and their treatment, and all medicines failed to do any good. In a moment of despair I tried the CUTICURA REMEDIES—CUTICURA, the great Skin Cure, and CUTICURA SOAP, an exquisite Skin Beautifier, externally, and CUTICURA RESOLVENT, the new Blood Purifier, internally; the small lumps (as I call them) gradually disappeared, and the large ones broke, in about two weeks, discharging large quantities of matter, leaving two slight scars in my neck to-day to tell the story of my suffering. My weight then was one hundred and fifteen sickly pounds; my weight now is one hundred and sixty-one solid, healthy pounds, and my height is only five feet five inches. In my travels I praised the CUTICURA REMEDIES, North, South, East, and West. To CUTICURA REMEDIES I OWE MY HEALTH, MY HAPPINESS, AND MY LIFE. A prominent New York druggist asked me the other day, "Do you still use the CUTICURA REMEDIES; you look to be in perfect health?" My reply was, "I do, and shall always. I have never known what sickness is since I commenced using the CUTICURA REMEDIES." Sometimes I am laughed at by praising them to people unacquainted with their merits, but sooner or later they will come to their senses and believe the same as those that use them, as dozens have in this place. May the time come when there shall be a large CUTICURA SUPPLY HOUSE in every city in the world, for the benefit of humanity, where the CUTICURA REMEDIES shall be sold ONLY, so that there will be rarely a need of ever entering a drug store.

Sneezing Catarrh.

The distressing sneeze, sneeze, sneeze, the acrid, watery discharges from the eyes and nose, the painful inflammation extending to the throat, the swelling of the mucous lining, causing choking sensations, cough, ringing noises in the head and splitting headaches,—how familiar these symptoms are to thousands who suffer periodically from head colds or influenza, and who live in ignorance of the fact that a single application of SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE FOR CATARRH will afford instantaneous relief.

But this treatment in cases of simple Catarrh gives but a faint idea of what it can do when will do in the chronic forms, where the breathing is obstructed by choking, putrid mucous accumulations, the hearing affected, and the sense of smell, throat ulcerated and hacking cough gradually fastening itself upon the debilitated system. Then it is that the marvellous curative powers of SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE manifests itself in instantaneous and grateful relief. Cure begins from the first application. It is rapid, radical, permanent, economical, safe.

while if it is all right they pitch it to the women dressers, who with a swift movement of a curved knife lop off the outer leaves and dress it for the cutter. The cutter is run by a five horse-power engine, and requires four feeders to keep it busy. It cuts 150 tons of cabbage a day. When it is cut and properly prepared the cabbage is passed to the vats. They are three in number, and sixteen feet in diameter by eight feet high.

When the cut cabbage has covered the bottom of the vat to the depth of three feet it is covered with a certain quantity of coarse salt. Then half a dozen powerful Germans wearing high rubber boots, which are never used for any other purpose, enter the vat and begin the task of stamping down the cabbage. Cabbage possesses 65 per cent of water, and as the fine fibers are pushed down this begins to assert itself, and the brine begins to form and rise above the solid mass. When the vat is filled the contents are held down by a cover on which heavy weights are placed. Fermentation in making sauerkraut is about the same as in making wine, only the process is slower. It takes about six or seven weeks to mature. When the "taster" pronounces it perfect it is packed in barrels and tubs, and sent forth on its mission of supplying free-lunch counters and gladdening the Teutonic heart.—New York Mail and Express.

Low Postage on Merchandise.

The agitation on the subject of low postage on merchandise was begun by Clare Bartlett, a citizen of Oregon, Mo., who claims the credit of having pushed the matter from the day when he conceived the possibility of such a system until it became a law. The gentleman has been visiting friends in the city for several days, and it was from Mr. Bartlett's lips that a reporter heard the story.

"Some years ago," said Mr. Bartlett, "I was greatly annoyed by the extortions of certain express companies, which, under license, robbed me frequently. One day I sent to Ohio for a ham. When it arrived at my house in Missouri the express charges on it were $2.50. I refused to receive the ham, and protested that there was some mistake in the charge, whereupon the local agent referred me to the superintendent of the company, to whom I at once wrote a polite letter, insisting that there must be an error in the charge. I received an impudent reply, saying, among other things, that the company's rates were fixed without consulting me or other residents of rural districts. I wrote to the superintendent that I intended to make that ham the dearest package his company had ever expressed. I began the agitation of cheap postage on merchandise. I was running a weekly paper, and I filled its columns with editorials on the advantages of low rates of postage. I enlisted Congressman Parker and others on my side of the question. It was not long until the bill was rushed through, greatly to the alarm of express companies all over the country. I got an early copy of the bill and sent it to the superintendent, who had 'fixed his rates without consulting me,' and to him I then expressed my affectionate regards."—Chicago Tribune.

A PROCLAMATION!

FROM THE SAGES OF THE EAST, TO THE CHILDREN OF THE WEST.

GREETING:

BE IT KNOWN UNTO YOU AND TO ALL THE DWELLERS OF WALLED TOWNS THAT TO THE BRAINERD & ARMSTRONG CO. AND TO THEM ALONE IS IMPARTED THE KNOWLEDGE OF AND THE RIGHT TO USE THE EASTERN OR ASIATIC DYES.

Society of Decorative Art,
9 EAST 21ST ST., NEW YORK, Dec. 22, 1885.

TO THE BRAINERD & ARMSTRONG CO.—DEAR SIRS: Having tested your embroidery silks, and finding them in color and texture eminently satisfactory, the managers of the Society of Decorative Art believe that you have found the secret of that dye. They believe it is no longer necessary in the Society to be dependent upon foreign manufacturers. I have pleasure in telling you that it has been decided by the board of managers to give you the silk thread business of the Society of Decorative Art. I may add that your dye is the only "fast" color the severest test, I am,

Very truly yours, A. B. BLODGETT,
President of the Society of Decorative Art.

Also endorsed and exclusively used by the ASSOCIATED ARTISTS of New York.

☞ Avoid imitations by taking only skeins bearing our name and guarantee tag. If your stores do not keep our goods in stock, or will not get them for you, send us your address on a postal card. Wasie Embroidery Silk, assorted colors, 40c. per oz. Send postal note to

BENTON'S HAIR GROWER.

All who are BALD, all who are becoming BALD, all who do not want to be BALD, all who are troubled with DANDRUFF, or ITCHING of the scalp; should use Benton's Hair Grower. EIGHTY PER CENT of those using it have grown hair. It never fails to stop the hair from falling. Through sickness and fevers the hair sometimes falls off in a short time, and although the person may have remained bald for years, if you use Benton's Hair Grower according to directions you are sure of a growth of hair, in hundreds of cases we have produced a good growth of Hair on those who have been bald and glazed for years, we have fully substantiated the following facts:

We grow Hair in 60 cases out of 100, no matter how long bald.

Unlike other preparations, it contains no sugar of lead, or vegetable or mineral poisons.

It is a specific for falling hair, dandruff, and itching of the scalp.

The Hair Grower is a hair food, and its composition is almost exactly like the oil which supplies the hair with its vitality.

DOUBLE AND TRIPLE STRENGTH.

When the skin is very tough and hard, and the follicle is apparently obliterated, the single strength will sometimes fail to reach the papilla; in such cases the double or triple strength should be used in connection with the single, using them alternately.

Price, Single strength $1.00; Double strength $2.00; Triple strength $3.00. If your druggists have not got it we will send it prepaid on receipt of price. BENTON HAIR GROWER CO.,

WHO IS UNACQUAINTED WITH THE GEOGRAPHY OF THIS COUNTRY WILL SEE BY EXAMINING THIS MAP THAT THE

CHICAGO, ROCK ISLAND & PACIFIC RAILWAY

By reason of its central position and close relation to all principal lines East and West, at initial and terminal points, constitutes the most important mid-continental link in that system of through transportation which provides and facilitates travel and traffic between cities of the Atlantic and Pacific Coasts. It is also the favorite and best route to and from points East, Northeast and Southeast, and corresponding points West, Northwest and Southwest.

The Great Rock Island Route

Guarantees its patrons that sense of personal security afforded by a solid, thoroughly ballasted roadbed, protected by miles of continuous wire rail, substantially built culverts and bridges, rolling stock as near perfection as human skill can make it, the safety appliances of patent buffers, platforms and air-brakes, and those exacting details which governs the practical operation of all its trains. Other specialties of this route are Transfers at all connecting points in Union Depots, and the unsurpassed comforts and luxuries of its Passenger Equipment.

The Fast Express Trains between Chicago and Peoria, Council Bluffs, Kansas City, Leavenworth and Atchison are composed of well ventilated, finely upholstered Day Coaches, Magnificent Pullman Palace Sleepers of the latest design, and sumptuous Dining Cars, in which elaborately cooked meals are served ala carte. Between Chicago and Kansas City and Atchison are also run the Celebrated Reclining Chair Cars.

The Famous Albert Lea Route

Is the direct and favorite line between Chicago and Minneapolis and St. Paul, where connections are made in Union Depots for all points in the Territories and British Provinces. Over this route Fast Express Trains are run to the watering places, summer resorts, picturesque localities, and hunting and fishing grounds of Iowa and Minnesota. It is also the most desirable route to the rich wheat fields and pastoral lands of interior Dakota.

Still another DIRECT LINE, via Seneca and Kankakee, has been opened between Cincinnati, Indianapolis and Lafayette, and Council Bluffs, Kansas City, Minneapolis and St. Paul and intermediate points.

A Public Benefaction.

How to laundry linen as it is done in Troy, N. Y., has been kept a secret long enough; it can and should be done in every family. The Elastic Starch is the only starch in the United States that is put up by men who have a practical knowledge of the laundry profession. It requires no cooking, keeps the iron from sticking and linen from blistering while ironing, and gives shirts, cuffs and collars that stiffness and beautiful polish they have when new, which, everybody knows keeps them clean twice as long. Beware of imitations. See that the name J. C. HUBINGER & BRO., New Haven, Conn., is on every package.

A Burglar Captured.

This morning about two o'clock, John Wood, the well known plumber who resides on Main street, was awakened by hearing glass break. On getting out of bed he received a blow on the head. He immediately grappled with the burglar, and after a terrible struggle succeeded in holding him until his wife obtained help. On being searched at the station, Mr. Wood's watch and wallet was found on his person. He gave the name of Robert Terry. The broken glass proved to be a bottle of Sulphur Bitters which had almost cured Mrs. Wood of rheumatism. —Exchange.

Advice to Mothers.

Are you disturbed at night and broken of your rest by a sick child suffering and crying with pain of cutting teeth? If so, send at once and get a bottle of Mrs Winslow's Soothing Syrup for Children Teething. Its value is incalculable. It will relieve the poor little sufferer immediately. Depend upon it, mothers, there is no mistake about it. It cures dysentery and diarrhœa, regulates the stomach and bowels, cures wind colic, softens the gums, reduces inflammation, and gives tone and energy to the whole system. Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup for Children Teething is pleasant to the taste, and is the prescription of one of the oldest and best female nurses and physicians in the United States, and is for sale by all druggists throughout the world. Price 25 cents a bottle. eodtJan

THE WRONG WAY TO GO UP STAIRS.

Going up stairs on one's hands and knees, is a method of ascent not uncommonly seen among infants who are just learning the mysteries and perplexities of ambulation, but fortunately it is seldom that those of mature years have to resort to such means of progress. Mrs. J. C. Chapman, a well known resident of Mansfield, Mass., says that she once tried it and failed, and that others may be deterred from a similar experience it is perhaps worth while to give her experience. Mrs. Chapman now walks as upright as any one, and gives this account of her attempt:

"I was perfectly helpless with an attack of acute rheumatism, and was all doubled up. I could not sit upright even long enough to eat a meal. I tried once to get up stairs on my hands and knees, but failed. After taking everything recommended by my friends, and not getting the least benefit from anything, I despaired of ever getting around again. I had lost all hope of being cured when, like a gleam of light, Athlophoros was recommended to me by a friend who had used it with entire success. I took it and have never been troubled with rheumatism since, now three years. I can cheerfully recommend Athlophoros to any body suffering with rheumatism, for I know from experience that it will make a complete and permanent cure."

From J. A. Crane & Co., prominent druggists of Orange, Mass., comes this statement of a case that came under their observation:

"Mr. Shubel Briggs, of this place, has bought Athlophoros of us. He stated to us to-day that his wife before taking it could not move herself in bed, as she was suffering from a severe attack of rheumatism. After taking a few doses of Athlophoros she could move easily, and before two bottles were finished she had recovered completely and has not been troubled since. Mr. Briggs himself, who was troubled with stiffness in the joints, used some of the Athlophoros and experienced decided relief."

Charles H. Minchew, of Taunton, tells this story of his wife's cure, which was not unlike that of Mrs. Briggs:

"My wife had been afflicted with rheumatism for some time, and I employed a doctor who failed to do her any good. I happened to see Athlophoros advertised and concluded to get and try it. It worked like a charm, curing my wife completely, and I cannot speak too highly of it."

Mr. George H. Surgens is foreman of the cloth room of the Flint mill, Flint Village, Fall River, Mass. He lives at No. 140 County Street, Fall River. Of his wife's case he says:

"My wife was treated by four different doctors for a severe case of neuralgia of six years' standing. Her sufferings were terrible and the physicians could not allay them, though using the most powerful medicines all the time. As she was getting one more worse I bought a bottle of Athlophoros, and that brought the first and only relief my wife had. Now she can attend to her household affairs and other duties as though she had never experienced the tortures of that dread disease, neuralgia. When Athlophoros can be had at the nearest drug store nobody should suffer from neuralgia or rheumatism."

If you cannot get ATHLOPHOROS of your druggist, we will send it express paid, on receipt of regular price—one dollar per bottle. A FIGHT WITH AN ALLIGATOR.

The Wild Freak of a Young Englishman Hunting in Georgia.

A Darien (Ga.) correspondent writes: M. Henry Todd, one of our oldest and wealthiest citizens, tells the following amusing story:

"It is now about fifty years since I happened to make the acquaintance of a young English naval officer who had come to visit some relatives on this side of the Atlantic. He was fiery, ambitious, and daring to such an extent that to encourage him in some of his plans would have led to the most Quixotic enterprises. Luckily, his first visit was of short duration, and as he always looked to me for cooperation in his wild schemes, a feeling of relief came over me when he was ready to bid farewell.

"'Next year I return,' he said, as he vigorously shook my hand, 'and we will then have some glorious sport.' I thought that once in his native land he would soon forget his promise, but it proved otherwise. He returned a year later full of life as ever. Day after day passed, and startling proposals followed in quick succession. To kill rattlesnakes and moccasins seemed to him one of the charming occupations of life, and the greater the danger that accompanied any of his plans the less he could resist them. One day he came and proposed to go alligator hunting, and, displaying a gleaming dagger, he said: 'I propose to finish one with this today.' He had two white duck suits, and he donned one, while he made me put the other on in honor of his anticipated victory. I felt nervous as to the result of his fool-hardy resolution to battle an alligator with such a weapon, but nevertheless I determined to humor him so far as it was safe to do so. High up on a mud flat a huge monster soon appeared basking himself in the sun. The water being at a low stage we had hard work getting our boat up to where he was lying.

"He was fast asleep, however, and we managed to get within three or four feet of him. I touched him with the oar. He seemed dazed, and with his jaws wide open he made for the bow of the boat. I saw the Englishman's dagger glitter in the sun, but apprehending danger, I showed the end of the oar into the threatening gap. Resistance seemed of no avail, however. The brute appeared determined to get into the boat. I saw the English man keel over, and in a second he was completely buried in the mud. I made an attempt to pass the alligator, and get to my friend's rescue, but a violent stroke from the monster's tail, landed me in the mud on the opposite side of the boat. After a desperate effort I managed to get hold of the boat, but was completely blinded with the mud. Thinking of my friend, I sang out a faint halloo, and in response came a despairing groan. We presented a pitiful spectacle—a strange contrast to the gay, fashionably clothed man of an hour ago. The Englishman never proposed a hunt after this experience.

"Many years after this, in glancing through an English newspaper, giving an account of the social life of the officers of a certain English squadron, I found such an alligator story of a captain had made him quite a name, and in perusing this story I recognized every little detail of our adventure."—Atlanta Constitution.

Cuban Children's Sunday Masked Ball.

It was scarcely 10 o'clock and the masses were not yet over in the churches, when from the balcony in front of my window in the Hotel Inglaterra, overlooking the prado or park, I observed numerous little boys and girls, in dominos and fancy dresses the most varied description and richest material, walking along the streets and under the shade of the evergreen Indian laurel trees in the park. They all were attended by parents or nurses, and they all directed their steps to a large building, large not only because of the area it covers, but because it had three stories—an unusual thing in Cuba—and which was directly across the park.

I hailed a passer-by and asked him what this matutinal and sudden eruption of infantile Mephistopheleseses, Capuchin monks, toreadors, Mary queen of Scots, vivandieres signified. With a smile at my ignorance he replied, 'Why, it's the carnival children's masked ball they are going to.' This explained the passion of the Cubans for masked balls. They are brought up them from childhood. Imagine a children's masked ball given by the Union club in its house on a Lenten Sunday morning in New York and you will understand why club life in Cuba is not at first thoroughly understood by the visiting New Yorkers. The little tots went to their ball in the Casino Espanol and danced and chattered in the dominos and pretty dresses the hot afternoon through, and then at 5 o'clock came out to watch the long possession of carriages filled with maskers, which for an hour drove by the principal hotels and club-houses and made high sport, as is done abroad in carnival time.—Cor. New York Times.

Daylight in the Land of Islam.

Daylight has, indeed, made visible progress in the land of Islam. The young Turkish party laughs at the orthodoxy of Rhamadam, the Mohammedan Lent, and many wealthy Turks are liberal patrons of the fine arts, in direct defiance of the by-laws against pictorial imitations of Allah's works. The commandment of the three daily prayers the citizens of modern Stamboul mostly observe after the fashion of Ibrahim Pasha, who on the eve of his departure for the Wahabee campaign advised his troops to pray for a month in advance, as he would not answer for another opportunity after crossing the hostile border. The Arabs, on the other hand, stick to their Koran. They recognize the sultan as the military chief of Islam, but have a proverb that ten Turks and ten Franks make a score of infidels. —Dr. Felix L. Oswald.

The "Sage of Deerfield's" Manners.

Uncle David Gray, of Marcy, an old schoolmate and life-long neighbor of Horatio Seymour, says that the published statement that the Sage of Deerfield "learned his manners" at Capt. Partridge's military school is not true. Uncle David says that the future governor of New York went to the Utica academy, where one of the teachers was Capt. Charles Stewart, a Scotch Highlander and a retired British army officer. His manners were faultless, and

To Digest Vulcanite,

Requires acids more potent than the solvent juices of the human stomach. And yet, in the form of medicine intended to reform the very evil they aggravate, to-wit, dyspepsia, solids and fluids, irreconcilable in their constituents that have no chemical affinity one with the other, are introduced into it. Are these so-called remedies more digestible than vulcanite? Positively—no! Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, on the other hand, a simple medicine, harmonious in its composition and readily assimilable, is active, and produces marked as well as speedily appreciable effects, because it is a rational remedy suited to the stomach. It is a tonic in the true sense, because it harmonizes and insures regularity of the operations of digestion. Not the least of the benefits which it confers, is a thorough repair of the damage inflicted on the stomach by ill-chosen remedies. For biliousness, constipation, malarial complaints, rheumatism and kidney troubles, it is alike valuable.

Rosina Padovani, a remarkably handsome woman belonging to one of the best families in Pisa, Italy, has been sentenced to fifteen years imprisonment for poisoning her seventeen-year-old daughter. The prisoner is thirty-eight years of age, and retains much of her youthful beauty. Jealousy of the superior charms of her daughter caused her to commit the murder. She has made three attempts to commit suicide, and is slowly dying from remorse.

Rev. William Hammond, late pastor of the Freewill Baptist church at Franklin, secured employment on his arrival in Montreal as an agent for a Hartford life insurance company. Upon learning the story about Hammond the vice-president of the company telegraphed to the general agent at Montreal to discharge him at once. Hammond is now looking for a new opening. The proofs of his dishonesty and immorality while in Franklin are said to be conclusive.

The President Annoyed.

It is one of the laws of compensation that all the happiness in this life shall not be awarded to one man, but that joys and sorrows should be properly commingled for a good purpose. Mr. Cleveland appears not to have been excepted from this rule. While he anticipates with pleasurable hopes and fond expectations the happy and serene state of matrimonial relation soon to be his, he is more or less disgusted with the criticism of the "independent" papers which supported him in 1884. Upon these he relied for countenance and support in the Herculean task of reconciling his declared intentions in regard to civil service reform, with the traditions of the democracy. He has been annoyed at their comments upon his appointments. Among these was a sharp letter in the Springfield Republican, abounding in severe criticism upon the president's capacities and his acts, the more bitter because it was true, and the shaft hit the mark. Then the results of following Gorman and Collins' bad advice, the unwise selection of Riley to be postmaster in Cincinnati, have been freely commented upon by the independent journals. These have notified the president every time he has thrown a tub to the democratic whale, that he has committed the unpardonable blunder of either being badly sold or has purposely designated the worst of a bad lot of democrats for prominent positions.

Later on came the comments of the changing but widely-read New York Herald, which contained a Washington letter in which the president was warned that his administration was perishing of dry rot, and that its inefficiency might bring upon the party grave and disastrous scandals. The writer, who is evidently a prominent democrat, advises him to turn out the present cabinet and to recruit his council with men of ideas and action. He says:

Mr. Cleveland's cabinet, when Mr. Manning is left out of it, is a cabinet without ideas, without policies, without influence, without force, without anything to mark its members as more than faithful and laborious fifteen hundred dollar clerks. About Mr. Bayard's total and almost miraculous failure as secretary of state no human being, except perhaps himself, has a doubt. A secretary of state ought to have influence with his party. Mr. Bayard has absolutely no weight now in its councils. It is doubtful whether he could persuade the vote of a single member of Congress. Mr. Lamar is no better off in this respect than Mr. Bayard. He has not mastered the business of the interior department. He depends on his subordinates, and he has not been fortunate in selecting these. These who know this department—what it required and what it has not got in the way of cleansing its dirty ways—know well that unless the president puts there very soon a man of energy and determination and of business skill great scandals will by and by break out there. Mr Garland, the attorney-general, is no poor a lawyer that his decisions are not respected by the bar, and he is, moreover, a political lame duck whom the party ought not to be forced to carry. Mr. Whitney, being both a laywer and a business man, might make a good secretary of the navy if he would take hold and keep hold of the business of his department. He is lazy. Mr. Endicott is secretary of war. What does Mr. Endicott stand for? He is an excellent figurehead. There remains Mr. Vilas, and certainly he ought not to remain long. Of all the cabinet he enjoys the greatest intimacy with his master, because with such a cabinet as he has, from whom he gets no ideas, the president, who likes hard work, has given himself very largely to post-offices. Not one of the lot has any weight with the party in congress or in the country. If they should all combine upon a policy, which they have never done, they have not energy and influence enough to give them even a faint hope of success. They are a fine collection of respectable political nonentities.

The president has recently "opened" upon the independents, and has said he is displeased at their behavior. Singular as it may seem, these patriotic gentlemen are hard to suit. Probably the Utopian president who can satisfy these men is not yet born. The president expresses his belief that the independents are more anxious to blame than to commend him, and that they do not seem to appreciate the difficult position in which he is placed, beset by men who are determined to force him out of his reform purposes. He makes no concealment of his disappointment in this direction. The fierce attack of Henry Ward Beecher on the democratic party, and the recent letter in the Springfield Republican closely following the visit of Mr. Bowles and his interview at the White House, are instances given by Mr. Cleveland showing that the independents are not standing by him as they should, but putting him in a position where he is forced by his party friends to admit that the independents are desirous not so much of helping his administration, as of criticising it because in every respect it does not come up to their idea. The disappointment expressed by Carl Schurz with the president has reached the latter's ears, and caused him uneasiness. He takes it as another indication of the discontent that is growing in the independent quarter, and is the more vexed because he is so sharply reproached by his democratic advisers for his concessions to the independents, which they have told him all the time was bad policy, and which he begins to think is the case. Already his mind is practically made up to pay less deference to the opinions of the independents and rely for whatever he thinks advisable in the war of civil service reform upon his own ideas without much regard to them.

All this political misery when so much personal happiness is in store for Grover! Well may he devoutly pray for the restoration to health of his guide, philosopher and friend, Manning. Without the strong mind of the latter, acting as a rudder, the president is like an unmanageable craft in a cross sea, which yaws wide of the course both ways, and first astonishes and offends his party friends by some sensible act in relation to appointments, and soon heads in an entirely opposite direction and seems to have the misfortune to select the worst candidate of the most unreliable element of his party for some prominent office, for which act not even the most subservient office-holding editor is ready to apologise. Later on he appears to disregard both elements which seek to control the patronage, and designates an appointee, of his own motion, regardless of the wishes and protests of either of the controlling elements of his administration.

But let us hope that these annoyances will, for a time at least, be lost sight of in that personal happiness which awaits the coming of the bridegroom into the matrimonial estate.

The name of William Emery of Alfred is mentioned by democrats as the probable congressional candidate of the democracy of the first Maine district. William has a hundred thousand dollars, and a large acquaintance in the rural districts, but if Ira T. Drew and other dispersers expect to behold the color of this candidate's money, much less handle any of it, they reckon without their host. Emery is not that kind of a candidate.

YOUR HAIR

should be your crowning glory. Ayer's Hair Vigor will restore the vitality and color of youth to hair that has become thin and faded; and, where the glands are not decayed or absorbed, will cause a new growth on bald heads.

MAY the youthful color and vigor of the hair be preserved to old age? Read the following, from Mrs. G. Norton, Somerville, Mass.: "I have used Ayer's Hair Vigor for the past 30 years; and, although I am upwards of 60, my hair is as abundant and glossy to-day as when I was 25."

BE assured, that a trial of Ayer's Hair Vigor will convince you of its powers. Mrs. M. E. Goff, Leadville, Col., writes: "Two years ago, my hair having almost entirely fallen out, I commenced the use of Ayer's Hair Vigor. To-day my hair is 29 inches long, fine, strong, and healthy."

RENEWED and strengthened by the use of Ayer's Hair Vigor, the hair regains its youthful color and vitality. Rev. H. P. Williamson, Davidson College, Mecklenburg Co., N. C., writes: "I have used Ayer's Hair Vigor for the last ten years. It is an excellent preservative."

BY the use of Ayer's Hair Vigor, Geo. A. Dadman, Waterloo, Mo., had his hair restored to its original healthy condition. He was nearly bald, and very gray. He writes: "Only four bottles of the Vigor were required to restore my hair to its youthful color and quantity."

USING Ayer's Hair Vigor cures diseases of the scalp. F. H. Foster, Princeton, Ind., writes: "I had been troubled for years with a disease of the scalp; my head was covered with dandruff, and the hair dry and harsh. Ayer's Hair Vigor gave me immediate relief, cleansed the scalp, and rendered the hair soft and pliable."

Proposals for Bonds.

SEALED proposals will be received at the office of the Treasurer of the Portsmouth Machine Company, in Portsmouth, N. H., until two o'clock, P. M. of June 14th, 1886, for the whole or any part of an issue of $75,000 of the bonds of said Machine company.

These bonds are a series of one hundred and fifty bonds of $500 each, secured by a duly executed deed of trust to Edward F. Kimball, Marcellus Eldredge and Charles H. Meadum, as trustees for the holders of said bonds. These bonds bear interest at the rate of five per cent per annum, payable semi-annually on the first days of April and October on presentation of coupon at the First National Bank of Portsmouth, N. H., the principal payable in ten years, and due in twenty years after date, and the bonds are dated April 1st, 1886. The right to reject any and all bids is reserved.

THE WEATHER.

For New England to-day:—

Fair weather, slightly warmer, variable winds, stationary barometer.

The Thermometer at the CHRONICLE Office, at 4:00 o'clock this morning, indicated 37 degrees above zero.

Clear.

THE ENROLLMENT.

The enrolling officers of the city have finished their work, and the tabulated results have been forwarded to the proper officials. It appears that there are in the city 1325 males between eighteen and forty-five years, and therefore liable to bear arms; of children of the school age, between five and fifteen years, 1586, the males being in excess, as there are 794 boys and only 792 girls; and ownership was discovered for 279 dogs.

A NEW KIND OF MARINE RAILWAY.

J. E. Staples of York, inventor and patentee of a marine carriage or cradle, is setting up at Old Orchard beach the first one ever constructed. It is intended for taking boats loaded with passengers from the dry beach to a point outside of the surf, and launching the boat in smooth water without danger of a capsize or a wetting. It consists of four big wheels, the rims being twelve inches wide, and the felloes a series of water-tight tanks, which can be filled with air to prevent the machine sinking in the sand, or with water where more weight is desired. On the axles of these wheels is an openwork frame of iron, forming a sort of cage open at the rear, in which the boat will be placed, and manned with crew and passengers, while on the beach. The car or cradle will be propelled by an endless cable running over pulleys, one fixed on shore and the other anchored in deep water outside of any ordinary surf; and the motive power may be either horses or steam, acting on the cable and hauling out the car until the water is deep enough to float out the boat, the operation of course being reversed when it is desired to effect a landing. The cradle may also be used for bathing purposes, or as a sort of movable wharf at which yachts may land or receive passengers and freight. If the invention does what the inventor hopes of it, it may successfully solve the problem of a steamboat service between this port and York beach.

The Salvation Army will go to Newcastle this (Tuesday) evening, and hold a meeting in the town hall.

The explosion of the torpedo in "Fogg's Ferry," and saving of the steamer by "Chip," is pronounced one of the handsomest scenes on the stage. The company carry this scene entire. At Music hall next Friday evening. Tickets at Goodrich's.

Rev. Wm. P. Israel is reported to have bought the Sheafe Coffin place on Sagamore creek from his sister, Mrs. Rose.

The house of Mrs. Mary Kelly, No. 8 Creek street, took fire about about nine o'clock Monday morning, probably from a defect in the chimney. Chief Engineer Marden of the fire department was at work at the Eldredge brewery, and a hose being run from the brewery to the house the fire was soon extinguished without an alarm being given.

The schooner Ornatus, which arrived at this port Monday morning from the British provinces with railroad ties, brought four women as passengers. They intend to hire out as domestics in this city. The same vessel brought three other girls on a previous trip, all of whom obtained situations.

Commander Thomas H. Eastman, of the navy, has arrived home from Washington, where he has been detained several months by serious illness.

A petition was being circulated and quite largely signed on Tuesday, praying the secretary of the treasury to take such action as will cause the vestibule of the post-office in this city to be kept open on Sunday for the convenience of that portion of the public who are unable to attend to the getting of their mail matter at noon.

Mr. Charles G. Locke, who went to Florida some weeks ago to work on buildings for Hon. Frank Jones, has returned home. He has made a contract with Haverhill parties to lay two or three hundred thousand bricks.

We have received the report of the state insurance commissioner for 1885. It is not such dry reading as might be inferred.

Conductor Garland of the 7:15 morning train to Boston is off on a visit in Maine. His place is very acceptably filled by Spare Conductor Armitage, who seems to be remarkably well adapted to satisfy the patrons of the road by his gentlemanly bearing and careful discharge of his duties.

A fine oil portrait of Hon. Woodbury Langdon of this city, the first president of the New Hampshire senate in 1784, a justice of the superior court of judicature from 1782 to 1791, a delegate in Congress during the confederation, three years a councillor of the state, and the incumbent of other important offices, has just been presented to the state of New Hampshire by Hon. Walter Langdon of Hyde Park, New York. The original painting was by Copley, and this is a faithful copy. It was secured through the efforts of Ex-Gov. Prescott, whose exertions have added nearly a hundred portraits to the collection in the state house since 1872.

The Appledore house will open June 20th, and not June 2d as erroneously stated.

Some scoundrel on Sunday night cut nearly through one of the guys of the large frame derrick at the north mill-bridge, used by the workmen who are putting in the new tide-gates.

Elijah Brown, the veteran colored teamster of Water street, is engaged in raising poultry and swine at his premises on Pray street. He has a fine crop of young ducks, which from their proximity to the water and feeding ground have every chance of doing well.

Capt. Upton, of the steamer Three Brothers, formerly an excursion boat and up-river tug on this river, was in this city last week in search of a larger boat to run between Beverly, Mass., and "The Willows," this season. The Three Brothers will commence running on that route June 15th.

The Sea Cottage at Long sands, York beach, Charles A. Grant proprietor, has been open for some time, and last week had about a dozen boarders, and others engaged to arrive this week. Landlord Grant has expended nearly $1,000 since last season in altering and increasing the convenience of the hotel's interior arrangement, providing new furniture and carpets, etc., and has just bought a Kalamazoo windmill of large size, to pump water for supplying the house and outbuildings.

The former ship building yard of Master Samuel Badger at Kittery, where so many fine ships were built in years long past, directly opposite the launching ways of the Franklin shiphouse at the navy yard, is being replanted by John Neal, Esq. It produces abundant crops, the soil being rich from the decay of vegetable substances during so many years.

The Newichawanick woollen mills of South Berwick now give the employes an hour's nooning, instead of three-quarters of an hour as has been the rule for many years.

The Methodist parsonage house at York village is completed, and the pastor, Rev. J. A. Corey, has moved in. A good stable has been built, and a small garden is connected. It is altogether a very comfortable residence.

George R. Webber brought in from Lobster cove, York, on Friday last, 300 very fair-sized lobsters, and another similar lot on Monday.

A horse belonging to Mr. John Rogers of Sandy Hill, Eliot, ran against a barbed-wire fence a few days ago, and was so badly lacerated that he will be unfit for use for a long time.

Thomas H. Orcutt of Sedgwick, Me., for a number of years past assistant keeper of the Saddleback rock light-station, off the eastern coast of Maine, has been appointed keeper of the light at Wood island, the late keeper, Albert Norwood, having resigned after thirteen years of service.

Mr. Benjamin Littlefield of Kennebunk Depot was taken with apoplexy on the 12th inst., and died in twenty minutes. He was about seventy-five years old.

Daniel Clark sent from Commercial wharf to Elvin S. Newton at Manchester, Friday of last week, 1000 lbs. of fish; and on Monday another 1000 lbs., and to Boston 2500 lbs. of steak cod and 1000 lbs. of haddock. Ed. Jameson sent off by rail a large quantity of fish on Monday.

Since the water has become warmer lobsters of good size and quality have struck in from the deeper water of the ocean. D. Clark brought in 250 nice ones from the Shoals last week, and Frank W. Hidden came in from Star island on Saturday with 300, and went out again Sunday afternoon. Charles J. Berry boiled 600 lobsters at Commercial wharf on Monday.

The gondola Beaver, Capt. Albert H. Adams, came down the river on Monday with a load of bricks for the Eldredge Brewing Co.

Have you examined that Playing Card at Preston's drug store, selling at sixty-five cents per dozen?

A Progressive Office-Holder.

A democratic paper, in commending the new postmaster at Newburyport, refers to the fact that the post-office is now open on Sundays from one to six o'clock P. M., but the Newburyport building is under the control of the postmaster, and has no custodian who can direct when it shall be opened or closed to the public.

The Newburyport postmaster is also praised for "having succeeded in having a mail leave that city by the Flying Yankee at 8:15 P. M., three hours later than under the old system, and at a time of day especially convenient to business men."

Other improved conditions of mail service are referred to, and it is evident that Postmaster Levi belongs to the progressive element that some times is not holding the offices in his party.

Naval Intelligence.

Capt. J. H. Gillis is ordered to command the Hartford.

Capt. Francis M. Bunce is ordered to command the Atlanta, and Lieut. Comdr. R. M. Berry to duty as her executive.

To the Cuticura Remedies I owe My Health, My Happiness, and My Life.

A day never passes that I do not think and speak kindly of the CUTICURA REMEDIES. Seven years ago, all of a dozen lumps formed on my neck, ranging in size from a cherry stone to an orange. The large ones were frightful to look at, and painful to bear; people turned aside when they saw me, in disgust, and I was ashamed to be on the street or in society. Physicians and their treatment, and all medicines failed to do any good. In a moment of despair I tried the CUTICURA REMEDIES—CUTICURA, the great Skin Cure, and CUTICURA SOAP, an exquisite Skin Beautifier, externally, and CUTICURA RESOLVENT, the new Blood Purifier, internally; the small lumps (as I call them) gradually disappeared, and the large ones broke, in about two weeks, discharging large quantities of matter, leaving two slight scars in my neck to-day to tell the story of my suffering. My weight then was one hundred and fifteen sickly pounds; my weight now is one hundred and sixty-one solid, healthy pounds, and my height is only five feet five inches. In my travels I praised the CUTICURA REMEDIES, North, South, East, and West. TO CUTICURA REMEDIES I OWE MY HEALTH, MY HAPPINESS, AND MY LIFE. A prominent New York druggist asked me the other day, "Do you still use the CUTICURA REMEDIES; you look to be in perfect health?" My reply was, "I do, and shall always. I have never known what sickness is since I commenced using the CUTICURA REMEDIES." Sometimes I am laughed at by praising them to people not acquainted with their merits, but sooner or later they will come to their senses and believe the same as those that use them. As dreams have been, I have told it. May the time come when there shall be a large CUTICURA Supply House in every city in the world, for the benefit of humanity, where the CUTICURA REMEDIES shall be sold ONLY, so that there will be rarely a need of ever entering a drug store.

Sneezing Catarrh.

The distressing sneeze, sneeze, sneeze, the acrid, watery discharges from the eyes and nose, the painful inflammation extending to the throat, the swelling of the mucous lining, causing choking sensations, cough, ringing noises in the head and splitting headaches,—how familiar these symptoms are to thousands who suffer periodically from head colds or influenza, and who live in ignorance of the fact that a single application of SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE FOR CATARRH will afford instantaneous relief.

But this treatment in cases of simple Catarrh gives but a faint idea of what this remedy will do in the chronic forms, where the breathing is obstructed by choking, putrid mucous accumulations, the hearing is affected, smell and taste gone, throat ulcerated and hacking cough gradually fastening itself upon the debilitated system. Then it is that the marvellous curative powers of SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE manifests itself in instantaneous and grateful relief. Cure begins from the first application. It is rapid, radical, permanent, economical, safe.

A Patent for Artificial Stone.

A patent for artificial stone has just been issued by which an improved artificial stone is made of slaked lime sulphur, sulphuric acid, common salt, or other saline matter, and sand, mixed in stated proportions, and made in a special machine, which subjects them to a pressure of one ton per brick.—Scientific Journal.

Crushed by the Weight of Logic.

We have some of the biggest and handsomest theatres away off to the east or west of Broadway—half-price houses—and for one of these the heaviest rental for any play-house in town—$35,000 per year—is paid. The audiences are not unanimously familiar with polites usages, and the ushers have to give and enforce instruction. A tall girl and a short fellow sat together. She wore a flaunting construction in millinery and he had a plain Derby hat, which he made no motion to take off when the curtain went up.

"Remove your hat, please," ordered the usher.

"I ain't going to," defiantly replied the girl, never doubting that her own big new hat, on which her proud thoughts were doubtless centered, was the object meant.

"Certainly not," said the usher; "ladies can keep their hats on. I was speaking to the gentleman. Please remove your hat, sir."

"No I don't, cully," retorted the young man. "' Tain't reasonable. You're willin' ter leave her hat up there," and he indicated the extreme altitude of his companion's crown and ribbons, "but want ter grove about mine down here," as he leaned a little toward her to show that his brim was level with her shoulder. "You've got a right to use common sense, ain't yer?"

The portion of the audience within hearing laughed, the usher was crushed by the weight of logic, and the low hat remained protected by the exalted vase throughout the evening.—"Durandal" in Cincinnati Enquirer.

A Cargo of Tropical Birds.

Dr. C. J. Sketchley, the ostrich farmer, recently arrived at Galveston, Tex., from Port Natal, Africa, with a cargo of ostriches, monkeys, parrots, and tropical birds, intended for his farm at Los Angeles, Cal. Accompanying them are five natives of Madras, India, one of whom is a woman. The latter has a brass scarf-pin neatly hooked through the right lobe of her nose. A red-glass gem ornaments the pin. Her hair is coal black, and hangs below her waist when down. Her features are clearcut and regular. The men wear white turbans. The Madrasee will go with Dr. Sketchley to California and live on the farm.—Boston Budget.

How Absolute Honesty Is Secured.

It is the custom of a house having several branches in the various cities of the Union, all doing a large business, to send twice a year a corps of bookkeepers from the home office to investigate the books of these branches, at the same time taking the bookkeepers from their branch houses to the home office to overhaul the records there. It has secured absolute honesty in their business, systematized their methodoff, and been a stimulus to their employes. Cor. Boston Budget.

OUT OF TOWN WORK A SPECIALTY.

How to Tell the Time by Night.

(From the Boston Transcript.)

Perhaps the most ingenious thing in the way of an advertising novelty that has come out for many years, is a unique contrivance issued by the Duffy Malt Whiskey Company, Baltimore, Md., proprietors of Duffy's pure malt whiskey. Unlike most things of the kind, with which the country has been deluged heretofore, this is a decided departure from the usual run, and while from being one of the most inventive things we have ever seen, it involves a new discovery in science which is both interesting and instructive. So valuable was this discovery regarded it was awarded a first prize gold medal at the Brussels International Exposition, and consequently it will give prestige to the advertising purposes as it is something that is invaluable to institutions of learning, and would readily command a good price if put on sale. However, the Duffy people, appreciating its importance, have gotten it out in the highest artistic style, such as will secure for it a permanent place in every house in the country.

The device is called Duffy's Ancient Mariner's Stellar Time-Piece, its object being to furnish a guide whereby the correct time may be ascertained at any hour of the night, by observance of the North Star and three other bright stars near it, the four stars forming a Cross or Crucifix, which revolves round the celestial pole like the hands of a clock. By the aid of the Duffy's device, which represents a miniature firmament and tabular dial, the time can be ascertained almost to the minute which is destined to render it invaluable to Mariners, Hunters, Fishermen and to the masses generally, as after a little practice, even a child will be able to tell the time at night.

Although the device is quite an expensive one, the proprietors intend distributing it free and in time every-body in the country will have one. Requests for same by mail, must be accompanied by six cents in postage stamps addressed to their Supply Department, as already they are flooded with applications.

GREETING:

BE IT KNOWN UNTO YOU AND TO ALL THE DWELLERS OF WALLED TOWNS THAT TO THE BRAINERD AND ARMSTRONG CO. AND TO THEM ALONE IS IMPARTED THE KNOWLEDGE OF AND THE RIGHT TO USE THE EASTERN ORIENTAL DYES.

Society of Decorative Art,
28 East 19th St., New York, Dec. 22, 1885.

To The Brainerd & Armstrong Co.—Dear Sirs: Having tested your embroidery silks and finding them in color and texture entirely satisfactory, the managers of the Society of Decorative Art believe that you have found the secret of fast dyes. They believe it is no longer necessary to the Society to be dependent upon foreign manufacturers. I have pleasure in telling you that it has been decided by the board of management to give you the silk thread thickness of the Society of Decorative Art. Congratulating you that your dyes stand "fast" under the severest test, I am,

Very truly yours, A. B. Blodgett,
President of the Society of Decorative Art.

Also endorsed and exclusively used by the Associated Artists of New York.

IA MAN

WHO IS UNACQUAINTED WITH THE GEOGRAPHY OF THIS COUNTRY WILL SEE BY EXAMINING THIS MAP THAT THE

CHICAGO, ROCK ISLAND & PACIFIC RAILWAY

By reason of its central position and close relation to all principal lines East and West, at initial and terminal points, constitutes the most important mid-continental link in that system of through transportation which invites and facilitates travel and traffic between cities of the Atlantic and Pacific Coasts. It is also the favorite and best route to and from points East, Northeast and Southeast, and corresponding points West, Northwest and Southwest.

The Great Rock Island Route

Guarantees its patrons that sense of personal security afforded by a solid, thoroughly ballasted roadbed, smooth tracks of continuous steel rails, substantially built culverts and bridges, rolling stock as near perfection as human skill can make it, the safety appliances of patent buffers, platforms and air-brakes, and that exacting discipline which governs the practical operation of all its trains. Other specialties of this route are its Transfers at all connecting points in Union Depots, and the unsurpassed comforts and service of its Passenger Equipment.

The Fast Express Trains between Chicago and Peoria, Council Bluffs, Kansas City, Leavenworth and Atchison are composed of well ventilated, finely upholstered Day Coaches, Magnificent Pullman Sleepers of the latest design, and sumptuous Dining Cars, in which elaborately cooked meals are delicately eaten. Between Chicago and Kansas City and Atchison also run the Celebrated Reclining Chair Cars.

The Famous Albert Lea Route

Is the direct and favorite line between Chicago and Minneapolis and St. Paul, where connections are made in Union Depots for all points in the Territories and British Provinces. Over this route Fast Express Trains are run to the watering places, summer resorts, picturesque localities, and hunting and fishing grounds of Iowa and Minnesota. It is also the most desirable route to the rich wheat fields and pastoral lands of interior Dakota.

Still another DIRECT LINE, via Seneca and Kankakee, has been opened between Cincinnati, Indianapolis and Lafayette, and Council Bluffs, Kansas City, Minneapolis and St. Paul, and intermediate points.

APPLE BLOSSOMS.

Apple blossoms pink and white,
Kindly greet us on our way,
Fragrant air through day and night,
Perfume of the Merry May.

Swarm the happy, busy bees,
Sipping nectar, oh, so sweet,
Flying through the loaded trees,
Apple blossoms they do greet.

Round the pretty apple bloom
Flies the brilliant yellow bird
Stirring up the sweet perfume;
Far and near his voice is heard.

Weave thy garlands, lovely flowers;
Trees are clothed in bright array;
Bees and birds amid thy bowers
Sip and sing the livelong day.

Apple blossoms, flowery gems,
Gently greet thee, Merry May;
Soon they'll flutter from the stems;
Blossoms gone—and month of May.

A Public Benefaction.

How to laundry linen as it is done in Troy, N. Y., has been kept a secret long enough; it can and should be done in every family. The Elastic Starch is the only starch in the United States that is put up by men who have a practical knowledge of the laundry profession. It requires no cooking, keeps the iron from sticking and linen from blistering while ironing, and gives shirts, cuffs and collars that stiffness and beautiful polish they have when new, which, everybody knows keeps them clean twice as long. Beware of imitations. See that the name J. C. HUBINGER & BRO., New Haven, Conn., is on every package.

Major E. P. Brown, who disappeared from Boston last fall after swindling everybody who had any dealings with him, including a savings bank in this state, is said to be practising law in New Orleans.

A Burglar Captured.

This morning about two o'clock, John Wood, the well known plumber who resides on Main street, was awakened by hearing glass break. On getting out of bed he received a blow on the head. He immediately grappled with the burglar, and after a terrible struggle succeeded in holding him until his wife obtained help. On being searched at the station, Mr. Wood's watch and wallet was found on his person. He gave the name of Robert Terry. The broken glass proved to be a bottle of Sulphur Bitters which had almost cured Mrs. Wood of rheumatism. —Exchange.

Now that Jaehne has been convicted, it is feared that some of the other aldermen who are in the same boat with him will jump their $25,000 bail, rather than face the chances of a term in Sing Sing. It is said that Jim Richmond, president of the Broadway road, will be the next to be put on trial.

Mary persons are afflicted with eruptions of the skin, boils or ulcers. Brandreth's Pills, taken freely will, in a short time, cure eruptions, pimples or boils. Ulcers of long standing require treatment for some weeks, but be assured that the worst fever sores or obstinate ulcers will surely disappear if you persevere with these Pills.

The New York World makes the following good point: "Most, the anarchist leader, complains that he has been robbed by the police. He says that he had $180 when arrested, and only a small sum has been accounted for. What right has Most to have money? He holds that property is a crime, and that the capitalist is the enemy of mankind. Why should he groan if somebody appropriates his surplus?"

Relief from sick headache, drowsiness, nausea, dizziness, pain in the side, etc., guaranteed to those using Carter's Little Liver Pills. These complaints are nearly always caused by torpid liver and constipated bowels. Restore these organs to their proper functions and the trouble ceases. Carter's Little Liver Pills will do this every time. One pill is a dose. Forty in a vial. Price 25 cents.

An Excellent Caterer Rewarded Amply.

Mr. Leutz, a restaurant keeper at No. 8 Williams Court for nineteen years past, and caterer for the well-known Sherman House in Court Square, was in no particular need of the money which he received for one dollar spent in one-fifth of ticket No. 25,244 in the April Drawing of The Louisiana State Lottery, but he will make good use of it. He is an old member of the Society of Elks, and a past commander of Post 21, G. A. R.—Boston (Mass.) Commercial and Shipping List, April 23.

BENTON'S HAIR GROWER.

All who are BALD, all who are becoming BALD, all who do not want to be BALD, all who are troubled with DANDRUFF, or ITCHING of the scalp, should use Benton's Hair Grower. EIGHTY PER CENT of those using it have grown hair. It never fails to stop the hair from falling. Through sickness and fevers the hair sometimes falls off in a short time, and although the person may have remained bald for years, if you use Benton's Hair Grower according to directions you are sure of a growth of hair. In hundreds of cases we have produced a good growth of Hair on those who have been bald and glazed for years, we have fully substantiated the following facts:

We grow Hair in 80 cases out of 100, no matter how long bald.

Unlike other preparations, it contains no sugar of lead, or vegetable or mineral poisons.

It is a specific for falling hair, dandruff, and itching of the scalp.

The Hair Grower is a hair food, and its composition is almost exactly like the oil which supplies the hair with its vitality.

DOUBLE AND TRIPLE STRENGTH.

When the skin is very tough and hard, and the follicle is apparently effectually closed, the single strength will sometimes fail to reach the papilla; in such cases the double or triple strength should be used in connection with the single, using them alternately.

Price, Single strength $1.00; Double strength $2.00; Triple strength $3.00. If your druggists have not got it we will send it prepaid on receipt of price. BENTON HAIR GROWER CO., Cleveland, O.

McCLELLAN AND BURNSIDE.

The recent death of General McClellan leaves but few living of those unfortunate commanders who found themselves unequal to the great responsibilities placed upon them during the civil war. Burnside, Halleck, "Fighting Joe" Hooker, and others, had passed away before him, honored by the nation they had served, after having lived down the hostile criticism their official acts had excited. Equal justice will be done to General McClellan, and a true estimate of his abilities as an organizer and a soldier will be recorded. In his political ambition the genial Burnside was far more successful than his old commander, and death found him a senator from Rhode Island. McClellan might have been a cabinet officer but for factional quarrels in New Jersey which made his appointment inexpedient.

Rhode Island's devotion to her handsome senator illustrates a happy characteristic of the smallest State which still distinguishes her. General Burnside was not a native of "Little Rhody"—having come east from Indiana—but he had the right timber in him, and was made governor and afterward senator of his adopted State. The same spirit may be seen in her citizens to-day in their hearty reception of that which will be of benefit to them. A case in point is that of Mr. John A. Bishop, of Central Falls, R. I., who tells this story:

"For eighteen years I suffered with neuralgia and never got any relief until I took Athlophoros. After that had cured me of the disease I became afflicted with sciatic rheumatism, for which I was treated by two doctors. Neither of them did me any good, in fact I grew worse under their treatment. Again I began taking Athlophoros, and, strange as it may seem, relief came almost instantly. The pain abated so that I was able to get around in less than three days, and as I daily grew stronger the rheumatism left me altogether."

Mrs. S. T. Goss, of No. 42 Dudley Street, Providence, can confirm this seemingly wonderful cure out of her own experience. She says:

"For thirty years I suffered with muscular rheumatism, during which time I used every known remedy and all sorts of prescriptions from physicians. At times I would gain a little relief, but only for a short period, after which the disease would attack me with renewed violence. It was while I was suffering one of these very severe attacks that a friend spoke to me of the wonders Athlophoros was doing and advised me to try it. I did get a bottle and in two days after beginning to use it was on my feet. Athlophoros is now kept in my house and is looked upon as indispensable. It is the greatest preparation I ever knew of and will cure rheumatism just as it is claimed it will do."

Mr. J. D. Payne, one of the most prominent citizens of Westville, Ct., where he has pleasant home on Fountain street, is outspoken in his praise of Atlophoros.

"I did not think there was any cure for rheumatism," he says, "but I am pleased to say that there is and that it is Athlophoros. Three doses of it cured my wife of rheumatism."

If you cannot get ATHLOPHOROS of your druggist, we will send it express paid, on receipt of regular price—one dollar per bottle. We prefer that you buy it from your druggist, but if he hasn't it, do not be persuaded to try something else, but order at once from us, as directed. ATHLOPHOROS CO., 112 Wall Street, New York.

A CARNIVAL BALL IN CUBA.

Scenes in the Casino Espanol—A Labyrinth of Artificial Grottoes.

The orchestra has taken their seats on a miniature stage built in the corner which faced both of the large rooms stretching out at right angles to each other, and whose floors of white marble were covered with persons, most of whom were in dominos or fancy costumes and masked, promenading up and down. The few men who were not masked wore ordinary afternoon or business suits, only one dress suit being visible, and few of the ladies, even those not in dominos, wore low-necked dresses.

After an introductory overture, the orchestra at the Casino Espanol on the night in question struck into the first dance of the evening in "Vals Tropical." The Cubans have two kinds of waltzes, that just mentioned and the "Vals Strauss," which last more nearly resembles our own American movement. The "Vals Tropical" consists of one movement, a soft, melodious one of about two hours in length, played over and over again. The time is very slow and the air is languishing and enticing. Hardly had the first notes sounded when the room was filled with dancers, and in a moment it seemed as if a human wave rose and fell with the same voluptuous measured cadence as the strains of the orchestra. The step taken was the waltz, but the movement was so slow that the the dancers really only walked to and fro in it. Without the exchange of a word and with perfectly immovable faces, a couple would see-saw back and forth for fully ten minutes, then suddenly stop, walk around or sit down, and as suddenly go at it again.

A typical Cuban family were my near neighbors. The father, a short and very stout gentleman, who was evidently an officer of the club from the deference that was paid him, was nearest me. Then came two daughters, aged, respectively, about 17 and 20 years, and both very pretty, with the blackest hair and eyes, pearly teeth, and delicate complexion—their faces for a wonder not covered thickly with the white Cascarilla powder which disfigures the majority of the Cuban women; and then the mother, a fine-looking, gray-haired woman of about 45. The daughters were dressed very plainly in high-necked colored lawn dresses. They wore gloves, but no jewelry, and carried handsome fans exquisitely painted by hand. The mother wore plain black silk and velvet, with fine old lace trimmings, and her few diamonds sparkled with an unmistakable luster. Every now and then the son, a young man of about 24, would come up, whisper a few words to his mother, and go away again to join some companions. The party watched the dancing intently, but did not converse much, the daughters casting glances around from under their long eyelashes once in a while that would make the average American want to leave at once unless he could know the fair archers, but as quickly and demurely dropping their eyes again if they found themselves observed too closely. As the lancers neared its conclusion and the "rumti-iddleum" of the grand chain began, beaus began to arrive, at first singly, then by twos and threes. These youths, all well dressed and well mannered, invariably spoke first to the father, then shook hands with the daughters in turn, and then, after bowing to the mothers, sat down and talked with the latter. In a few minutes, consequently, the good lady was surrounded with beaus, all talking and gesticulating, while the fair daughters still sat alone. This continued until the next dance, a "Vals Tropical," began, when suddenly two of the youths left the mother and, evidently by previous arrangement, offered their arms to the daughters, and were soon with the latter treading the slow measures of the to us curious dance.

After enjoying some delicious ices brought in we decided to leave this ball for one at another club some blocks away. By this time it was nearly midnight, and the waning moon only half lit the streets still thronged with maskers all shouting and laughing, but, strange to say, in every few instances intoxicated. As we walked along a tall, ungainly negress, fantastically clad in sacking, strode by us muttering to herself and with a crowd of gamins following and hooting at her. The lady of our party drew back in fright. "Only a crazy woman," said our Cuban companions. "They allow them to roam about the street here." Coming to a block where the sidewalk was under an arcade we took the middle of the street, and to my wondering query as to the reason for this procedure I was told that there had been several persons stabbed of late under these dark archways, and hence the precaution.

So through the narrow streets of the city we pursued our way until a corner turned, revealed a wider street filled with people in front of a low building brilliantly illuminated and through whose windows floated out again on the warm air the strains of a "Vals Tropical." It was the club-house whither we were bound and where a second ball was in progress. A delay of a few moments at the doorway while our invitations were carefully scrutinized ensued, and we then entered the first of a labyrinth of rooms made to resemble grottos, the walls and ceilings being covered with papiermache, corrugated and painted. At irregular intervals there projected from the walls huge serpents of papiermache holding in their mouths variegated lights. The orchestra was concealed, but to its strains the dancers, here all masked, moved slowly round, lights falling on their rich costumes

Purify Your Blood.

Among spring preparations, do not neglect that which is most important of all—your own body. During the winter the blood absorbs many impurities, which, if not expelled, are liable to break out in scrofula or other disease. The best spring medicine is Hood's Sarsaparilla. It expels every impurity from the blood, and gives strength to every function of the body. Sold by all druggists.

There is in Salisbury, Mass., an ancient building called the Rocky-hill meeting house, 101 years old, and which retains the style in which it was built, of high-back pews and gallery, queer pulpit, and sounding-board. A few weeks since a hundred persons from Newburyport visited it out of curiosity.

Box Capacity.

A box 8x8 inches and 8 inches deep contains a peck. A box 24x17 inches and 28 inches deep contains a barrel. A box 14 inches long, 10 inches broad and 12 inches high holds 12 bottles of the G. O. Taylor Jordan or Rye Whiskey, and when you find it safely in your sideboard, you can just rely on having the one absolutely pure liquor that your druggist or grocer can procure and sell you. It is bottled by C. H. Graves & Sons, Boston, and is guaranteed as the very best and purest.

OUR NEW YORK FASHION LETTER.

WHITE COSTUMES—COLORED COTTONS—RIBBONS—TRIMMINGS—JET—BUTTONS.

White costumes, like so many other things of to-day, are mixed fancifully. Collar, cuffs, sash, perhaps loopings and panels of velvet or silk in moss, tan, wine, etc., and edged with lace. White wools are chiefly used for these combinations, but they are also seen on the fine cotton embroidered costumes so fashionable, while lace dresses, or those of lace and embroidery, are at times adorned in the same way. But the power of ribbon trimmings was never more remarkable. It will be a ribbon summer, and the range is wide, from velvet to gauze, with all imaginable unitings in the same piece. Bourette dottings occasionally bespatter, frise loopings likewise, and so on ad libitum; this season's brand however, being the picot edge. Embroidered costumes are in two styles: the flounced of greater or less depth, the deepest reaching from lower edge to waist, with graduating patterns to suit, or the work runs in stripes either lengthwise or crosswise, and thus follows the all pervading fancy for parallel lines.

COLORED COTTONS

Are constantly embroidered in dress patterns and are relieved by sash ribbons of some good contrast, such as pale blue on garnet, moss on tan, pink on brown, etc. Lace is welcome everywhere. It alternates with embroidery on white costumes, but is no less popular on colored cottons or wool; but on the latter the wool laces are more in vogue, because ideas now run less to contrasts than last season. To-day it is more of uniformity. On cottons the favorite buttons are unpretentious pearl colored to match. It is on wools that the huge buttons, so remarkable a feature, find greatest opportunity. Large as small butter plates, and in metal, pearl or wood, the resources of dyeing, carving and painting have been taxed to the utmost. The more expensive form really so many pretty pictures, that are carried around chiefly on skirts and jackets. Sometimes to a limited extent they are set on corsages, the smaller ones in keeping, not having been much of a success, because it is allowable to close the waist by small crochet buttons. Something quite pretty in a large button can be bought for $1.00, but they do run up as high as $25 the single one.

BUTTONS

Are replaced by beadings on many silks and on bridal costumes (which we have special facilities for studying just now) by fine lace. The long drapery of the day is much more suitable to effective bridal costumes than the patchy ideas of some years ago. The lace is usually in flounces and is the chosen finish for the best styles, but the great popularity of beads causes their introduction into what is regarded as the highest sphere of ladies' apparel. Thus some late bridal toilettes have shown the skirt drapery outlined by large white beads as a beading to lace, and the same is outlinings are on the corsage. Satin is much used, but faille silks and likewise China crape come in for a share. As for bridesmaids, they are attired in so many ways that there is no rule, and there seems a seeking after diversity. Colors are selected that blend, and hats if worn are fanciful. Since Easter Monday there has been wedding after wedding. Bridal trousseaux have outrivalled sack-cloth, and matrimonial ventures, though not presided over by Gens. Beauregard and Early, are entered on with a confidence that holders of Louisiana state lottery tickets might imitate. Love, the magician, paints rose color, and many venture willingly under Cupid's lead who fear the guardianship of tried and faithful warriors.

JET.

The rage for jet is beyond description, and the more a costume can be made to tinkle and sparkle and uncomfortably weigh, the more radiant the wearer's visage. Of all things jet is about the most taxing to one's patience. Perpetually tumbling off, heavy, inconvenient, yet an idol. False goods, too, are the colored beadings that follow close on jet. Equally troublesome, weighty, uncomfortable, but nothing more sought after, as witness the stiff beaded grenadines fashionable for short wraps or parts of dresses. Independent ornaments entirely of jet or colored beads are very popular, and the size to which both beads and ornaments are carried is truly remarkable. Of course with smaller beads mixed in, there is room for much diversity of idea. Passementeries are thickly bestrewn with jet or beads; independent passementerie ornaments glitter in like manner, and galoons show small beads or are set with rows of jet pendants. But fine passementeries without jet or beading are much sold, because there are people who cannot endure jet, or those who love it, like a change. There is a run on bonnets made entirely of jet strung on wire and without lining; other beaded and jet bonnets are in great variety, and find ready purchasers.

LUCY CARTER.

He Originated Postage Stamps.

Frederick M. Palmer, the Boston physicial who recently jumped from a Portland steamer and was drowned, together with his four-year-old grandchild, was postmaster at Brattleboro, Vt., during Polk's administration. He was the originator of the first American postage stamp, which was engraved by Thomas Chubbuck of Springfield, for the postmaster's personal use. These stamps were in use long before the government decided to use stamps for prepayment of postage. The Palmer stamps bring a fabulous price, one having been recently sold for $145, while a few years ago one sold for $300 at auction. Dr. Palmer married for his first wife the youngest daughter of the late Judge Asa Keyes of Brattleboro.

A Brief Honeymoon.

In the Portland papers of the 14th inst. appeared the following marriage notice: "In this city, 12th inst., by Rev. C. J. Clark, D. D., Mr. Edward McCann and Miss Sarah Sharp, both of Portland." Their honeymoon was of brief duration. On the afternoon of the 14th they were locked up, the woman on a charge of bigamy, and the man for being accessory to the fact. It appears her other husband was named Harrison, of Nova Scotia, and as she states, he deserted her, and some one had informed her that if he refused to support her for a year she was at liberty to marry again. She came to Portland and became acquainted with McCann, and married him. He is about nineteen years of age, and she thirty; and he says he had the same idea as the woman in regard to her marrying again.

Lord Tennyson, Robert Browning and Sir Theodore Martin are arranging for a great banquet to be given by authors and artists in London, in honor of Oliver Wendell Holmes.

YOUR HAIR

should be your crowning glory. Ayer's Hair Vigor will restore the vitality and color of youth to hair that has become thin and faded; and, where the glands are not decayed or absorbed, will cause a new growth on bald heads.

MAY the youthful color and vigor of the hair be preserved to old age? Read the following, from Mrs. G. Norton, Somerville, Mass.: "I have used Ayer's Hair Vigor for the past 30 years; and, although I am upwards of 60, my hair is as abundant and glossy to-day as when I was 25."

BE assured, that a trial of Ayer's Hair Vigor will convince you of its powers. Mrs. M. E. Goff, Leadville, Col., writes: "Two years ago, my hair having almost entirely fallen out, I commenced the use of Ayer's Hair Vigor. To-day my hair is 23 inches long, fine, strong, and healthy."

RENEWED and strengthened by the use of Ayer's Hair Vigor, the hair regains its youthful color and vitality. Rev. H. P. Williamson, Davidson College, Mecklenburg Co., N. C., writes: "I have used Ayer's Hair Vigor for the last ten years. It is an excellent preservative."

BY the use of Ayer's Hair Vigor, Geo. A. Dadman, Waterloo, Mo., had his hair restored to its original healthy condition. He was nearly bald, and very gray. He writes: "Only four bottles of the Vigor were required to restore my hair to its youthful color and quantity."

USING Ayer's Hair Vigor cures diseases of the scalp. F. H. Foster, Princeton, Ind., writes: "I had been troubled for years with a disease of the scalp; my head was covered with dandruff, and the hair dry and harsh. Ayer's Hair Vigor gave me immediate relief, cleansed the scalp, and rendered the hair soft and pliable."

100 Doses

One Dollar. Hood's Sarsaparilla is the only medicine of which this can be truly said; and it is an unanswerable argument as to the strength and positive economy of this great medicine. Hood's Sarsaparilla is made of roots, herbs, barks, etc., long and favorably known for their power in purifying the blood; and in combination, proportion, and process, Hood's Sarsaparilla is peculiar to itself.

"For economy and comfort we use Hood's Sarsaparilla." MRS. C. BREWSTER, Buffalo.

"Hood's Sarsaparilla takes less time and quantity to show its effect than any other preparation I ever heard of. I would not be without it in the house." MRS. C. A. M. HUBBARD, North Chili, N. Y. 100 Doses

One Dollar

Hood's Sarsaparilla cures scrofula, salt rheum, all humors, boils, pimples, general debility, dyspepsia, biliousness, sick headache, catarrh, rheumatism, kidney and liver complaints, and all affections caused by impure blood or low condition of the system. Try it.

"I was severely afflicted with scrofula, and for over a year had two running sores on my neck. I took five bottles of Hood's Sarsaparilla, and consider myself entirely cured." C. E. LOVEJOY, Lowell, Mass.

"Hood's Sarsaparilla did me an immense amount of good. My whole system has been built up and strengthened, my digestion improved, and my head relieved of the bad feeling. I consider it the best medicine I have ever used, and should not know how to do without it." MARY L. PERLE, Salem, Mass.

Hood's Sarsaparilla

Sold by all druggists. $1; six for $5. Made only by C. I. HOOD & CO., Lowell, Mass.

THE WEATHER.

For New England to-day:—

Fair weather, slightly warmer, variable winds, stationary barometer.

The Thermometer at the CHRONICLE Office, at 4:00 o'clock this morning, indicated 47 degrees above zero.

Clear.

"OH! HIRE A HALL."

The discordant howlings of the persons who have for a number of evenings been making the early part of the night hideous in the vicinity of the Parade, have reached the point of being a positive nuisance. We do not object to their raking in the shekels of the feeble-minded, in exchange for their infallible cure-all; but we do object to their being allowed by the city to monopolize and obstruct Market square for that purpose, to the annoyance of scores of resident citizens, night after night. Let them hire a hall; they make money enough.

ACCIDENT,

By the giving way of some of the stone work of the north millbridge, and the consequent displacement of a considerable quantity of earth, on Monday night, a bad hole was made where the bridge joins the ground at the northerly end, on the side of the street next the pond. About two o'clock Tuesday morning a two-horse night-cart driven by George Beesley passed along all right; but half an hour later, when a similar team owned by John Woods and Wesley S. Tucker arrived there, the horses shied and hesitated. Supposing the animals were frightened at the obstructions on the bridge the driver struck them with the whip, when they jumped forward, both going into the hole, followed by the forward end of the cart, which jammed one of the animals in a bad position against the side of the hole. Several of the neighbors came to the aid of the teamster, and after a time the horses were extricated, one of them being so badly injured that he had to be killed later in the day; it was a valuable animal, and belonged to Charles P. Haley. The other horse was unhurt. The wagon, which was not much damaged, was lifted out with the derrick in the forenoon, and men set to work to make the road safe for travel. The city will have the bill of damages to pay.

Justice Gray of the United States Supreme court, and Circuit Judge Colt, went to Portland in the Pullman train, Tuesday evening, to attend the Circuit court now in session in that city. These judges are expected to be in Portsmouth on Friday, and hear arguments and motions in cases before the Circuit court on that day.

Kearsarge fire engine company on Monday evening accepted the invitation to parade on Memorial day. Col. Sise and Moses H. Goodrich companies voted to decline the invitation.

A passenger train on the Northern Pacific railroad was derailed near Fort Ellis, Montana, May 17th, the Pullman sleeper being dragged 600 feet on its side. A brakeman was killed; the wife of Rev. George C. Stull was injured injured internally and about the head and face, and Mr. Harris, cousin of President Harris of the road, had both legs badly crushed while trying to climb out of a window.

Charles R. Bailey was ordained to the ministry and installed as pastor of the Baptist church in Hampton Falls, Monday afternoon.

Mr. John J. Grogan, who has been a long time engaged with C. E. Boynton as a driver, has been hauled up several weeks with the rheumatism, but is improving so as to hope of being able to speedily resume his business.

The Times concludes its report of the slight fire at the Creek on Monday last as follows: "The fire department at the Eldredge establishment is particularly efficient, and on other occasions has rendered the calling out of the city department unnecessary in case of a fire in its vicinity. The members of the department, all employed about the brewery, are well drilled, and with abundant apparatus about the building are able to successfully cope with a fire within the reach of its line of hose. The Eldredges may well be proud of the availability of their fire apparatus, and the prompt efficiency of the employes in case of fire." Much credit is due to Mr. John Newick, the head brewer, who is a thoroughly practical man, and keeps everything about the place, including the hydraulic apparatus, in first-class order.

The personal property of the late B. W. Hoyt of Epping was sold by auction on Saturday, bringing about $1500.

The store No. 1 Congress block, long occupied as a book and stationary store but for some time past vacant, has been reopened in the same line by Mr. Frank W. Moses, with the addition of pianos, musical goods and art materials of all kinds. The stock of new and fine goods makes a handsome show.

The culvert at the Creek that takes the overflow water from the Eldredge pond is being repaired and enlarged in capacity; the stone pier in the centre is to be taken out so that there will be only one span.

Two of the razors stolen from Stringer's barber shop last week by Joseph Lindsay, alias Stephen Lindsay, were recovered Saturday forenoon in A. F. Leavitt's store, Dover, where the thief sold them for a small sum. Saturday afternoon a Dover officer, learning that Lindsay sold two more of the stolen razors at Foss' store in that city, went to the place and recovered them, and forwarded them to the sheriff in this city. Lindsay says he was born in Greenland, but has lived in Lowell, Mass., for twenty years past. He was formerly brakeman on a railroad, but has been tramping it for years.

A gentleman living on the edge of the city hands us the following list of twenty varieties of birds noticed by him in the grounds near his house this spring: "Song sparrows, house sparrows, black-throated sparrows, blue-birds, black-birds, crow black-birds, crows, robins of three kinds, —old robins, young robins of this year's crop, alive, and young robins of this year's crop, stoned to death by boys—orioles, kingbirds, jays, red-headed woodpeckers, gold finches, yellow hammers, swallows, martins, hens, and tom-cats."

Ward & Sons' distillery on Dennett street, Christian Shore, is closed for the present as far as manufacture is concerned, and we understand will not resume operations until some time in August.

The court of claims decides that the United States are responsible for the French spoliation claims.

Charles A. Dore, landlord of the Kimball house at Dover, attempted to pass under the Dover point bridge last Saturday afternoon with a boat, being accompanied by his two sons and a boy named Ackroyd. The boat was carried by the rapid current against a pile, and stove, the occupants saving themselves by clinging to the bridge until help arrived. The boat quickly filled and disappeared.

Charles W. Baker brought in to George W. Randall & Son one day last week 500 lbs. of cod. Charles H. Wallace and John Harvey brought in 1500 lbs. of fish last week.

The fishing schooner Maud M. Story arrived at Gloucester on the 15th inst. from a halibut trip to the banks, and reported that four of her crew, named William Boyes, Charles Thompson, Hugh Campbell and Daniel McEachern got astray when tending trawls on May 9th, and were not afterward heard of by the schooner. A telegram from Port Hawkesbury, Cape Breton, was received in Gloucester on the 15th, announcing the landing at that place of Campbell and McEachern, who were picked up in an exhausted condition by a vessel after they had been three days adrift in their dory.

Schooner Helena Young of Kennebunk, Capt. Fred White, while anchored on Jeffrey's recently dragged her anchor, and has not been seen or heard of since. The crew were all out in dories fishing at the time, and were astonished at losing their vessel in this manner.

Schooner A. T. Gifford, at Gloucester on the 16th inst. from the banks, reported that Daniel McEachern and P. McPhee, two of her crew, while attending trawls went astray, and had not been heard from. As a number of vessels were in the vicinity it was thought they might have been picked up. McEachern belonged in Cape Breton, and McPhee in Prince Edward island.

The Manchester Union continually throws out flings against the fishing interests of the United States, particularly against those of New England. It should bear in mind that the settlers of York and Portsmouth came here "to fish and trade" as their avowed purposes. The fisheries of the United States extend along the shores of the great lakes, as well as along the whole Atlantic coast, the gulf of Mexico, and the Pacific ocean from California to Behring's strait. In the language of Daniel Webster, the fishermen should be protected "hook and line, bob and sinker."

We are informed that an attempt was made to burglarize two houses in Kittery, near Portsmouth bridge, on Friday night of last week. Suspicion points to a marine, and one or more of the towns-people.

The president on Monday sent to the senate the nomination of Joel Wilson to be collector of customs for the port and district of York, Me.

The following are among the recent transfers of real estate in York county, as left for record in the office of the register of deeds: Kittery — Charles L. Philbrick to Harrison J. Philbrick, land and buildings for $1,060. Alfred—Erastus Moulton of Boston to Ezra Clark of Kittery, land and buildings in Alfred for $950. South Berwick—Caroline H. B. Sexton et als., of Springfield, Mass., to Ira W. Russell of South Berwick, land and buildings in South Berwick for $700. York—Emma N. Hanson to Benjamin Goodwin, land for $1; Alden Gilchrist to Albert L. Moulton, 5 1-2 acres of land for $260; Albert L. Moulton to Charles E. Grover, real estate for $210; Barak Maxwell of Wells to Calvin Winn of York, the "Dixon pasture" in Wells for $500; George W. Hill et als. of Dover, N. H., to Charles E. Varney of Boston, land and buildings in York for $400; Portsmouth & York Beach Steamboat Co. to Carlos B. Moseley et al. of Concord, N. H., real estate in York for $550; Chauncy W. Clement of Manchester, N. H., to Carlos B. Moseley et al., real estate in York for $250. Wells—Abbie J. Getchell to George G. Hatch, woodland for $30; Thomas C. Hatch to Ambrose C. Hatch, land and buildings for $1,000.

HAMPTON JOTTINGS.

HAMPTON, May 18th.

The Mason brothers are doing a thriving business. They are fine salesmen, and their gentlemanly manners merit them a large patronage from this and adjoining towns.

Several families who spend the winter abroad have returned to their homes here for the summer.

The Baptist society have raised funds sufficient to renovate their church, and finish the interior in the latest style.

Rev. W. W. Fay has rented the James cottage, near the church, and will commence housekeeping, preferring a pleasant home to boarding. A. D.

Have you examined that Playing Card at Preston's drug store, selling at sixty-five cents per dozen?

The senate finance committee have reported a bill to allow Chester A. Arthur a credit of $8,436.88 in the settlement of his accounts as collector of the port of New York, for shortages in the department which no one has ever been able to explain.

One Kevins put several bullets into B. B. Bird at Hillsboro, Mo., at the entrance to the court house, where Bird had been under trial for insulting Kevins' wife.

To the Cuticura Remedies I owe My Health, My Happiness, and My Life.

A day never passes that I do not think and speak kindly of the CUTICURA REMEDIES. Seven years ago, all of a dozen lumps formed on my neck, ranging in size from a cherry stone to an orange. The large ones were frightful to look at, and painful to bear; people turned aside when they saw me, in disgust, and I was ashamed to be on the street or in society. Physicians and their treatment, and all medicines failed to do any good. In a moment of despair I tried the CUTICURA REMEDIES—CUTICURA, the great Skin Cure, and CUTICURA SOAP, an exquisite Skin Beautifier, externally, and CUTICURA RESOLVENT, the new Blood Purifier, internally; the small lumps (as I call them) gradually disappeared, and the large ones broke, in about two weeks, discharging large quantities of matter, leaving two slight scars in my neck to-day to tell the story of my suffering. My weight then was one hundred and fifteen sickly pounds; my weight now is one hundred and sixty-one solid, healthy pounds, and my height is only five feet five inches. In my travels I praised the CUTICURA REMEDIES, North, South, East, and West. TO CUTICURA REMEDIES I OWE MY HEALTH, MY HAPPINESS, AND MY LIFE. A prominent New York druggist asked me the other day, "Do you still use the CUTICURA REMEDIES; you look to be in perfect health?" My reply was, "I do, and shall always. I have never known what sickness is since I commenced using the CUTICURA REMEDIES." Sometimes I am laughed at by praising them to people not acquainted with their merits, but sooner or later they will come to their senses and believe the same as those that use them, as dozens here whom I have told. May the time come when there shall be a large CUTICURA Supply House in every city in the world, for the benefit of humanity, where the CUTICURA REMEDIES shall be sold ONLY, so that there will be rarely a need of ever entering a drug store.

M. HUSBANDS,

Sneezing Catarrh.

The distressing sneeze, sneeze, sneeze, the acrid, watery discharges from the eyes and nose, the painful inflammation extending to the throat, the swelling of the mucous lining, causing choking sensations, cough, ringing noises in the head and splitting headaches,—how familiar these symptoms are to thousands who suffer periodically from head colds or hayfever, and who live in ignorance of the fact that a single application of SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE FOR CATARRH will afford instantaneous relief.

But this [illegible] cases of simple Catarrh gives but a faint idea of what this remedy will do in the chronic forms, where the breathing is obstructed by choking, putrid mucous accumulations, the hearing affected, the smell and taste gone, throat ulcerated and hacking cough gradually fastening itself upon the debilitated system. Then it is that the marvellous curative powers of SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE manifests itself in instantaneous and grateful relief. Cure begins from the first application. It is rapid, radical, permanent, economical, safe.

and bright colored dominoes with wierd effect. Threading our way through these rooms we descended some steps through what appeared a large cavern and found ourselves in a large ball-room again filled with dancers. Looking back, we saw that our entrance had been through the mouth of an immense demon's head, whence streams of maskers continually issued, or through which they continually disappeared.—Cor. New York Times.

Color-blindness is said to have been first reported in 1777.

The Peculiar Properties of Ozone.

It is a colorless gas, having a rather pungent odor and possesses the peculiarities of oxygen, but in a more marked degree. So powerful is it, indeed, that it will perform many of the feats of fire without the phenomenon of flame. As a bleaching agent it is very effective. It is especially made use of in this connection by dealers in pictures as a means of erasing the yellow "time stains" that are found on old engravings and prints. This is accomplished by bending the picture around in the form of a cylinder so that the two ends meet with the face inside, and suspending a piece of white phosphorus within it. The phosphorus oxidizes slowly, and as this is one of the chemical reactions that is attended with the production of ozone, sufficient is formed to completely renovate the most time-defaced picture. Since, however, a very little friction causes the phosphorus to ignite, great care must be taken in performing this operation.—Detroit Free Press.

Dead Birds Not in Good Taste.

We submit that a dead bird is not a good decoration for a hat. It is not in good taste, to say the least, and, save that the present fashion blinds the eyes of many, no one would think for an instant that it was in any way seemly to put a stuffed songster on a bonnet. It ought to make any decently sensitive person ashamed of his race to consider this illustration of how far the vanity of fashion can make respectable people forget their own primitive instincts of humanity.—New Haven News.

A Sea Voyage of Forty Days.

A Maine lady being advised to take an ocean voyage for her health, hired staterooms for herself and maid on one of the steamers which ply between Portland and Boston, took along all the necessary conveniences and many luxuries, and made forty trips without quitting the vessel. She was much benefited by the voyage.—New York Sun.

WHO IS UNACQUAINTED WITH THE GEOGRAPHY OF THIS COUNTRY WILL SEE BY EXAMINING THIS MAP THAT THE

CHICAGO, ROCK ISLAND & PACIFIC RAILWAY

By reason of its central position and close relation to all principal lines East and West, of initial and terminal points, constitutes the most important mid-continental link in that system of through transportation which invites and facilitates travel and traffic between cities of the Atlantic and Pacific Coasts. It is also the favorite and best route to and from points East, Northeast and Southeast, and corresponding points West, Northwest and Southwest.

The Great Rock Island Route

Guarantees its patrons that some of personal security afforded by a solid, thoroughly ballasted road-bed, smooth tracks of continuous steel rail, substantially built culverts and bridges, rolling stock owner perfection so human skill can make it, the safety appliances of patent buffers, platforms and couplers, and the matchless discipline which governs the practical operation of all its trains. Other specialties of this route are Transfers at all connecting points in Union Depots, and the unsurpassed comforts and luxuries of its Passenger Equipment.

The Fast Express Trains between Chicago and Peoria, Council Bluffs, Kansas City, Leavenworth and Atchison are composed of well ventilated, finely upholstered Day Coaches, Magnificent Pullman Palace Sleepers of the latest design, and sumptuous Dining Cars, in which elaborately cooked meals are leisurely served. Between Chicago and Kansas City and Atchison are also run the Celebrated Reclining Chair Cars.

The Famous Albert Lea Route

Is the direct and favorite line between Chicago and Minneapolis and St. Paul, where connections are made in Union Depots for all points in the Territories and British Provinces. Over this route Rock Island Excursions run to the wheat fields, pleasure resorts, picturesque localities, and hunting and fishing grounds of Iowa and Minnesota. It is also the most desirable route to the rich wheat fields and pastoral lands of Interior Dakota.

Still another DIRECT LINE, via Seneca and Kankakee, has been opened between Cincinnati, Indianapolis and Lake City and Council Bluffs, Kansas City, Minneapolis and St. Paul and intermediate points.

How to laundry linen as it is done in Troy, N. Y., has been kept a secret long enough; it can and should be done in every family. The Elastic Starch is the only starch in the United States that is put up by men who have a practical knowledge of the laundry profession. It requires no cooking, keeps the iron from sticking and linen from blistering while ironing, and gives shirts, cuffs and collars that stiffness and beautiful polish they have when new, which, everybody knows keeps them clean twice as long. Beware of imitations. See that the name J. C. HUBINGER & BRO., New Haven, Conn., is on every package.

A Burglar Captured.

This morning about two o'clock, John Wood, the well known plumber who resides on Main street, was awakened by hearing glass break. On getting out of bed he received a blow on the head. He immediately grappled with the burglar, and after a terrible struggle succeeded in holding him until his wife obtained help. On being searched at the station, Mr. Wood's watch and wallet was found on his person. He gave the name of Robert Terry. The broken glass proved to be a bottle of Sulphur Bitters which had almost cured Mrs. Wood of rheumatism. —Exchange.

Frank P. Gray, a prominent lawyer, was shot and instantly killed by R. L. Jones, the marshal of West End, a suburb of Atlanta, Ga., in a dispute about some cows, the property of Gray, which Jones held in pound.

Many persons are afflicted with eruptions of the skin, boils or ulcers. Brandreth's Pills, taken freely will, in a short time, cure eruptions, pimples or boils. Ulcers of long standing require treatment for some weeks, but be assured that the worst fever sores or obstinate ulcers will surely disappear if you persevere with these Pills.

BENTON'S HAIR GROWER.

All SHALL BE BALD, all who are becoming BALD, all who do not want to be BALD, all who are troubled with DANDRUFF, or ITCHING of the scalp; should use Benton's Hair Grower. EIGHTY PER CENT of those using it have grown hair. It never fails to stop the hair from falling. Through sickness and fevers the hair sometimes falls off in a short time, and although the person may have remained bald for years, if you use Benton's Hair Grower according to directions you are sure of a growth of hair. In hundreds of cases we have produced a good growth of Hair on those who have been bald and glazed for years, we have fully substantiated the following facts:

We grow Hair in 50 cases out of 100, no matter how long bald.

Unlike other preparations, it contains no sugar of lead, or vegetable or mineral poisons.

It is a specific for falling hair, dandruff, and itching of the scalp.

The Hair Grower is a hair food, and its composition is almost exactly like the oil which supplies the hair with its vitality.

DOUBLE AND TRIPLE STRENGTH.

When the skin is very tough and hard, and the follicle is apparently effectually closed, the single strength will sometimes fail to reach the papilla; in such cases the double or triple strength should be used in connection with the single, using them alternately.

AS INVALUABLE AS FLOUR.

Ansonia and West Ansonia are two thrifty towns in Connecticut that have become famous for their brass works. These are not their only claims to distinction, however. Apart from many pleasant features common to progressive New England communities, they possess a number of citizens of advanced views who are at present engaged in a work of peculiar interest. One of these is Mr. Reuben Locke, whose home is on Hill Street, West Ansonia, and who is highly esteemed by his fellow citizens. Why he is active in his present work he thus explains:

"Five spoonfuls of Athlophoros cured me of a very stubborn attack of inflammatory rheumatism. I cannot express my feelings of joy at having at last found a medicine that did what the doctors failed to do for me. I esteem Athlophoros as I would my dearest friend, and recommend it because I know that it will do all that is claimed for it."

Mr. J. V. Wightman, of Ansonia, is no less enthusiastic and positive in his belief in the efficacy of this great remedy. He says:

"I believe, in fact I know, that there is nothing like Athlophoros. It cured me permanently of a very severe case of muscular rheumatism. I have recommended it on the strength of my own case to a number of people suffering with rheumatism and neuralgia, and they have one and all been cured by it, and the good work still goes on. On every side I hear the highest praise of Athlophoros."

From Providence, R. I., the same good news is reported. The happy messenger of glad tidings in the present instance is Mr. Isaac Crocker, who is well known to many people in Providence as the paper carrier who brings them their daily papers. Mr. Crocker rejoices over the cure of his son which he describes as follows:

"In the winter of 1882 and 1883 our son, who was then fourteen years old, was very sick with inflammatory rheumatism. He was confined to his bed and suffered greatly. He was very sick until the spring, and his trouble continued up to February of the present year (1885), when he saw Athlophoros advertised. At that time he was unable to move his feet. After taking two doses he could move them without pain, and by the time he had taken half a bottle he was cured. We have recommended Athlophoros to a neighbor who is 75 years old and it has helped him more than anything he ever tried. We would as soon think of being without flour as without Atlophoros."

Mrs. Millie M. Davis, of No. 193 Whalley Avenue, New Haven, says:

"For three months I suffered dreadfully with muscular rheumatism. In that time I was treated by four different physicians, none of whom relieved me of the pain and distress. They said I had waited too long, and their medicine had no effect. I did not experience the much-sought relief till I took Athlophoros, the very first dose of which relieved me so much that I could, for the first time in a great while, sit down to eat my meals. I steadily improved and in a short time was completely cured of rheumatism. I gladly add my testimony to that of the many others who have been cured by Athlophoros."

If you cannot get ATHLOPHOROS of your druggist, we will send it express paid, on receipt of regular price—one dollar per bottle. We prefer that you buy it of your druggist, but if he hasn't it, do not be persuaded to try something else, but order at once from us as directed. ATHLOPHOROS CO., 112 Wall Street, New York.

CITIZEN GEORGE FRANCIS TRAIN.

Something About the Queer Old Man Who Talks Only to Children.

Up among the spring greenery of Madison Square park, where the flowers and the birds and the children grow best, a white-haired man has made his home in the open air. The children all know him and come to him for stories of fairyland and for candy, and all the birds, from the agressive little fighter, the brown sparrow, down to the timid bluejay, come fearlessly up to his seat to peck up the crumbs that they find scattered about for them. I had almost said even the flowers know him for being with them so much and for the interest he takes in them. But here his circle of friends stops. Beyond the children and birds and flowers he knows no one to speak to, though all the town knows the still handsome enthusiast of the park.—Citizen George Francis Train.

Eleven years ago, after traveling all over the world and crossing the ocean forty times, he came into Madison Square one bright spring morning and said he would make it his home. On every side about the little block of green freshness the full tide of city life swirled and roared. The tumult of Broadway came to him, softened to a murmur through the trees, and the bustle of Twenty-third street and Fifth avenue beat against the wall of verdure and lost itself in the tinkle of the fountain without disturbing the bronzed philosopher.

At first he allowed himself to talk to men for two minutes at a time, but soon he gave this up, and closed his lips to all who had grown old enough to think of self. "Children and fools speak the truth," he said, and so his communications would thereafter be with only those who were instinctively innocent. Speak to him as you pass and ask an interesting question, and if this citizen of the world likes your address out comes a little pad of paper and a lead pencil, blue at one end and red at the other. With this he answers pertinent inquiries, writing in a kind of illuminated text, somewhat after the fashion of the old Bibles people read when Luther was a boy. The chances are about even that the reply will be in "psycho" verse, and that one out of every three words will be understood. But the writing will touch at the root of the matter, and will show a keen knowledge of human nature.

So the daily life of this man runs away—talking to children, feeding birds, reading newspapers and telegraphing two columns a day of wonderful "psycho" news to The Tacoma (Puget Sound) Ledger. No man in America keeps more thoroughly abreast of the news of the day or is a closer reader of the country's newspapers. The casual stroller through the park and the average New Yorker knows little more of the genius of this man than the birds and children about him do.—New York World.

A Persian of the Old School.

The social life of Persia has not changed perceptibly. "The Persian of the genuine type and old school hardly thinks himself in a condition to be seen until his hair and beard have been dyed and his finger nails stained, if not his fingers also. He rises at the early dawn, and repeats the usual prayer; and having drunk a cup of tea, if he be rich enough to afford it, goes to the field or to his shop. At 10 o'clock he sits down in his place of business to eat a breakfast of bread and sour milk which has been brought upon a tray and set before him. The hours of midday, in summer, are passed in sleep. Labor, when resumed, is continued until sunset. The principal meal of the day—and the best he can afford—of meat, rice and savory dishes, is partaken of in company with the members of his family, and after nightfall, and in the open court of the house, or upon the roof. If inclined to drink wine and arak, the most approved custom is to indulge at this hour. He satiates his thirst, if that be possible, by drunkenness, having first taken the precaution of locking the doors and going to bed."—Fourteen Years in Persia.

Cider Cure for Gout and Rheumatism.

The blue-grass craze and the boiling water remedy for dyspepsia are now succeeded by the cider cure for gout and and rheumatism, which, strange to say, is receiving the sanction of some of the best physicians in Europe. Cider must in such cases be drank sweet, and a celebrated chemist gives the following formula to prepare this cheap acid agreeable beverage: "Cider should be made of good sound apples and then left to ferment in the barrel. When the fermentation has almost ceased, it should be racked off into a smaller barrel by a siphon (a rubber tube) from the bung of the first barrel into that of the second. In this way your second barrel will contain cider almost clear. Let it settle for two or three days, bottle in champagne bottles, cork, wire or fasten the cork with strings, and lay the bottles on their side. If the cider is bottled too soon, or before fermentation has almost ceased, it will burst the bottles. If this is likely to happen, stand them up again for almost a month; then lay them down again. In this way you will keep your cider sweet for more than a year. It will have plenty of 'fizz' in it, and makes an excellent drink, particularly in summer."

The new cure has already many adherents, and a beautiful resort is about to be opened in Devonshire, one of the loveliest counties in England, where the treatment can be carried on under the most advantageous circumstances, as is the case with the celebrated grape-cure establishments on the Rhine and

Make Haste to Defend Yourself

If you live in a locality where malaria is prevalent, with a preventive that experience indicates as the most reliable of medical safe-guards—Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. Entirely free from the objections—and they are valid ones—which attach to the mineral alkaloid quinine, it is far more effective, and its effects are not evanescent, but lasting, unlike those of the drug. There are portions of our land—and none more beautiful and more fertile—which at no season of the year are entirely exempt from the malarial scourge. In such regions Hostetter's Stomach Bitters has undergone a continuous test for the past thirty years, with results which have established its reputation beyond all cavil as a special defense against every form of malarial disease. For biliousness, also, it is an acknowledged specific, and it is a potent remedy for constipation, dyspepsia, rheumatism and an impoverished condition of the blood.

The Root of all Evil.

To thoroughly cure scrofula it is necessary to strike directly at the root of the evil. This is exactly what Hood's Sarsaparilla does, by acting upon the blood, thoroughly cleansing it of all impurities, and leaving not even a taint of scrofula in the vital fluid. Thousands who have been cured of scrofula by Hood's Sarsaparilla, testify to its wonderful blood-purifying qualities. Sold by all druggists.

A Successful Business Man.

S. R. Niles of Boston is to visit Europe next month on a combined tour of business and recreation. Mr. Niles is a most successful man in a branch of business which has grown up in this country, and which is beginning to be appreciated in France and other foreign lands—the placing of advertisements by a well informed expert, in journals which will bring to the merchant and others the surest and speediest returns for the outlay made. His thorough and comprehensive knowledge of the character and extent of the clientage of every paper in the land, his perfect familiarity with the mode in which the advertiser and the public can be brought together, as well as his savoir faire in his specialty, have made him famous not only with the press of the country but among business men of both themispheres. The capacity to construct a good advertisement and the knowledge of its proper insertion are traits possessed by few men in business. Mr. Niles does the entire advertising of many large business houses, and from his experience and knowledge is able, like a former member of Congress with his shares of stock, to place his announcements where they will do the most good.

Country Roadsides.

If every person would remove the litter on the road-side adjoining the land they own, how much it would add to the appearance of the place. A teacher impressed her pupils with this idea: That if the yard and steps were unclean, people would think the interior of the schoolhouse the same. This may be aplied to dwellings, and as "order is heaven's first law," let us each determine that nothing unpleasant shall be seen on or near the grounds we occupy. COM.

A Dover despatch reads: The democrats have not yet agreed on their candidate for governor. Among the names mentioned are Hon. John F. Clouteman of Farmington, Colonel Thomas Cogswell of Gilmanton, and Charles E. Tilton. For Congress, in all probability, Rev. Luther L. McKenney of Manchester will be nominated without opposition. He made a fine run against Haynes the last time, and is very popular with the Knights of Labor throughout the state." But there are others in the democratic party who will be all right with the "Knights," by making themselves solid with the leaders. It is intimated that the democratic candidate for Congress may reside in Portsmouth, if certain opposing elements can be induced to permit his nomination.

Work has begun upon the widening of the road leading from South road toward Sagamore bridge,—a much needed improvement. The work is being done under the direction of Ex-Street Commissioner Holmes, a most competent person for the oversight of such kind of labor.

Miss Helene Adell and her excellent dramatic company open at Music hall on Monday evening, 24th inst., for a week's engagement.

The building on Penhallow street formerly belonging to the Edmund M. Brown estate, and purchased some time ago by Mr. George Scott, is now nearly ready for occupancy, and tenants are in readiness to go into the store and the tenement over it as soon as they are completed.

It was reported on the 19th inst. that Mr. Daniel B. Crowley, formerly captain of the Granite State base ball club of this city, but for several years past a resident of Boston, died that day in Jersey City, N. J., of consumption, being at the time on his way south for his health.

The sewer trench on Deer street has been bridged at the junction of Vaughan street, a great convenience to the public.

Ex-Senator Wadleigh has been retained to present to the president the case of the New Hampshire democratic patronage promisers, against Thomas P. Cheney, pension agent at Concord. The original democrats having failed to move his excellency, the effort was made from a mugwump standpoint on Tuesday.

Vibrations from a Steam Hammer.

MM. Fouque and Michael Levy have made experiments recently with the steam hammer at the Creusot works to determine the velocity of propagation of vibrations through the ground. The blow of the 100-ton hammer is not felt by the senses beyond 1,200 meters, but it is perceptible by proper aparatus, such as the nadiral apparatus of astronomers. In the Permian rocks of Creusot the speed of the wave is about 1,200 meters per second parallel to the strata, and 1,050 meters per second perpendicular to them. In the sands of Meudon, on the other hand, the speed of a shock was found to be about 320 to 360 meters per second; but the wave was longer in this case, that is to say, it lasted longer.—Cleveland Leader.

M. Pasteur and the Wolf Rabies.

A Paris correspondent of The New York Tribune, speaking of the wolf-bitten Russian who have died there, says: "M. Pasteur was at a sitting of the council of health reading a paper on his inoculations when the news of Goleweski's death was brought him. He was so greatly concerned that some of his colleagues feared that he might have another paralytic attack. He at once admitted that he had not yet learned how to 'time' wolf rabies. But he did not like the fact that the red-hot irons had not been used in cauterizing the glandular regions into which the wolf's fangs had penetrated."—Exchange.

Unprofitable Labor at Last Finished.

A roll of papyrus was exhumed from Herculaneum in the middle of the eighteenth century. The process of rolling was begun at Naples and continued until a few years ago, when the untouched rolls were completed in England. They have now been edited by an Oxford scholar. They are, for the most part, Greek dissertations on the epicurean philosophy, selected or written by Philodemus, the friend of Cicero and Horace.

Where Japanese Lecquer Comes From.

Japanese lacquear ware, known the world over as the most superb for quality, is made from lacquer furnished by the sap of the Rhus vernicifera, a tree cultivated especially for this product. It is a dirty gray viscous liquid, which is refined by straining and decantation. It is absolutely necessary for the lacquered articles to be dried in a damp atmosphere to insure the requisite hardness.—Chicago Herald.

Remains of the Distinguished Dead.

The municipal council of Vienna has compiled a list of the distinguished dead whose names it is proposed to transfer from different suburban cemeteries to the central Walhalla. The names include Beethoven, Gluck, Shubert, and Joseph Strauss.—Inter Ocean.

There is more undeveloped land in the state of Maine than in any western state.

YOUR HAIR

should be your crowning glory. Ayer's Hair Vigor will restore the vitality and color of youth to hair that has become thin and faded; and, where the glands are not decayed or absorbed, will cause a new growth on bald heads.

MAY the youthful color and vigor of the hair be preserved to old age? Read the following, from Mrs. G. Norton, Somerville, Mass.: "I have used Ayer's Hair Vigor for the past 30 years; and, although I am upwards of 60, my hair is as abundant and glossy to-day as when I was 25."

BE assured, that a trial of Ayer's Hair Vigor will convince you of its powers. Mrs. M. E. Goff, Leadville, Col., writes: "Two years ago, my hair having almost entirely fallen out, I commenced the use of Ayer's Hair Vigor. To-day my hair is 29 inches long, fine, strong, and healthy."

RENEWED and strengthened by the use of Ayer's Hair Vigor, the hair regains its youthful color and vitality. Rev. H. F. Williamson, Davidson College, Mecklenburg Co., N. C., writes: "I have used Ayer's Hair Vigor for the last ten years. It is an excellent preservative."

BY the use of Ayer's Hair Vigor, Geo. A. Dadman, Waterloo, Mo., had his hair restored to its original healthy condition. He was nearly bald, and very gray. He writes: "Only four bottles of the Vigor were required to restore my hair to its youthful color and quantity."

USING Ayer's Hair Vigor cures diseases of the scalp. F. H. Foster, Princeton, Ind., writes: "I had been troubled for years with a disease of the scalp; my head was covered with dandruff, and the hair dry and harsh. Ayer's Hair Vigor gave me immediate relief, cleansed the scalp, and rendered the hair soft and pliable."

100 Doses

One Dollar. Hood's Sarsaparilla is the only medicine of which this can be truly said; and it is an unanswerable argument as to the strength and positive economy of this great medicine. Hood's Sarsaparilla is made of roots, herbs, barks, etc., long and favorably known for their power in purifying the blood; and in combination, proportion, and process, Hood's Sarsaparilla is peculiar to itself.

"For economy and comfort we use Hood's Sarsaparilla." MRS. C. BREWSTER, Buffalo.

"Hood's Sarsaparilla takes less time and quantity to show its effect than any other preparation I ever heard of. I would not be without it in the house." MRS. C. A. M. HUBBARD, North Chili, N. Y. 100 Doses

One Dollar

Hood's Sarsaparilla cures scrofula, salt rheum, all humors, boils, pimples, general debility, dyspepsia, biliousness, sick headache, catarrh, rheumatism, kidney and liver complaints, and all affections caused by impure blood or low condition of the system. Try it.

"I was severely afflicted with scrofula, and for over a year had two running sores on my neck. I took five bottles of Hood's Sarsaparilla, and consider myself entirely cured." C. E. LOVEJOY, Lowell, Mass.

"Hood's Sarsaparilla did me an immense amount of good. My whole system has been built up and strengthened, my digestion improved, and my head relieved of the bad feeling. I consider it the best medicine I have ever used, and should not know how to do without it." MARY L. PEBLE, Salem, Mass.

NO "RAILROAD DAY."

We were informed late last evening that there is to be no meeting of Eastern railroad stockholders in Boston to-day, it having been postponed to June 1st, on account of certain measures now pending before the Massachusetts legislature.

SOLDIERS' MONUMENT--FINANCE COMMITTEE.

At the meeting of the committee held on the evening of the 18th inst. a system of solicitation was organized, each member of the finance committee being assigned a paoportionate amount of the work. As soon as appropriate blanks can be printed a thorough canvass of the business and professional element will be made; also adequate measures will be taken to accommodate the very large number of those who desire to contribute smaller amounts. The next meeting of the committee will be held at the call of the chairman.

At an early date the Woman's Relief Corps of this city will give an entertainment and strawberry festival, the proceeds to be devoted to the Soldiers' and Sailors' Monument fund. An original and unique programme is now being matured, and great results may be anticipated.

The chairman of the finance committee has received information from the Bridgeport (Conn.) Monumental Co. that they will agree without extra expense to place on the monument a suitable bas relief emblem representing the sailors' branch of the service, so that with a column capped with a soldier, and the sides giving a handsome memento to the sailor and a medallion of our war governor, we can safely predict a monument that will be a credit to the city.

POLICE COURT--BATCHELDER J.

WEDNESDAY, May 19th.

Patrick Sheehan, for drunkenness, was ordered to the county farm for thirty days, and to pay $6.90 costs. He only came down from Brentwood on the 17th, having on that day finished serving out a sentence for the usual offence.

MUSIC HALL.

To-morrow evening, in Music hall, the four-act comedy-drama "Fogg's Ferry" will be presented, with Miss Lizzie Evans, "the comedy sunbeam," as Chip the ferry girl, a character in which she won unbounded applause when she appeared here before. There is some good singing and dancing in the piece, and a good deal of fun. Special scenery and stage effects are carried by the company. Tickets for the entertainment can be procured at Goodrich's bookstore.

THE COTTAGE HOSPITAL.

The directors of the hospital very gratefully acknowledge the kindness of Mr. Langdon M. Perkins in generously offering to supply the hospital with ice through the entire season.

MARITIME NOTES.

The fishery seizures seem to disclose a lack of sense in the Dominion rulers, whose poor people live by selling bait and whose fishermen come to New England to be employed in our fishing vessels at a better lay than they can get at home. Here is a biting off the nose to spite the face. On our side is an imbecile administration that cares nothing for "sailors' rights," however pronounced it may be for free trade——a secretary of state who is simply a toady to the British minister, a navy not available, and a seacourt defenceless by the order of Sam Randall. The only happy outlook is seen in the prospective domestic relations of the president, which at present distract the attention of the Washington authorities from the complications with the foreign relations.

The schooners Ivy Belle, Zimri S. Wallingford, Florence Nowell, Lizzie V. Hall, Fannie Hodgkins, Orion and Paragon, all from coal ports for Dover, arrived on the 19th inst. The Annie Gus, from New York with coal to O. F. Philbrick & Co., and the Henry S. Culver and Elvira, also arrived the same day.

Daniel McEachen and Pius McPhee, the fishermen who strayed from the Gloucester schooner A. T. Gifford while attending to trawls on the Grand banks, reached St. John, N. B., by train on the 18th inst., having been picked up by the Norwegian barque Goethe, which landed them at Gaspe.

Six more Canadian vessels are reported to be fitting out to capture the reckless Yankee fishing schooner which may dare attempt to purchase bait of the hungry clam-diggers of Nova Scotia.

The Gloucester city council has passed resolutions demanding retaliatory legislation on account of the recent seizures of fishing vessels by the Canadian authorities.

A company has been formed to manufacture a novel surf boat recently patented by Richard H. Tucker of Wiscasset, Me. The boat is of circular form, the bottom and deck being convex, the interior forming a reservoir for holding compressed air, which is used in the propulsion of the vessel. On the bottom are eleven parallel keels. Pipes provided with valves lead aft between these keels, and the craft is propelled by the action of ejected air through these tubes. The boat is also steered by the action of the air, the pipes being closed on one side or the other, as occasion requires. The boat is designed only for short cruises alongshore. She is of great strength and buoyancy, and it is thought will prove to be a complete success for the purpose for which she was designed.

EASTERN AND BOSTON & MAINE RAILROADS.

The committee on railroads of the Massachusetts legislature on the 18th inst. considered the several petitions of Jarvis D. Braman and others that the Eastern railroad may retire its certificates of indebtedness, and for security of the trustees; of T. C. Weeks and others for an act to empower the stockholders of the Eastern railroad to elect all the directors of the company, and for the consolidation of the Eastern and Boston & Maine railroads. A bill was presented providing for the issue of bonds to pay off $10,000,000 of the certificates of indebtedness of the Eastern road, on such terms as shall be found expedient, but the bonds shall not draw over six per cent interest. These bonds, by vote of the stockholders present and voting, may be made convertible at the option of the holder into capital stock on such terms as may be prescribed. The act is to take effect when accepted by a majority of the stockholders present and voting. Mr. Dilloway presented a bill authorizing the union of the Boston & Maine and Eastern, on agreement of a majority of stockholders of each road, under the name of the Boston & Maine, with the rights and liabilities of both roads, and with capital stock not to exceed the capital stock of both corporations.

Another printer has entered upon the matrimonial estate, Mr. George D. Crosby, of the Chronicle force, having taken to himself a wife. As becomes a member of the craft, he duly remembered the editors when the cake was being cut.

Messrs. Connor & Trefethen on Tuesday of this week laid about twenty linear feet of the four-foot sewer, and at noon on Wednesday knocked off work on the trench, having relet their contract back again to Mr. Shanahan, with the exception of the brick-work, which they will continue to do as the trench is made ready.

Mr. James Janvrin was the successful bidder for building the new parsonage at Newington.

E. P. Kimball, Esq., returned on Wednesday evening of this week from an extended trip at the West. Alfred F. Howard, Esq., secretary of the Granite State Fire Ins. Co., has gone west on business.

The Salvation Army warriors to the number of fourteen went from this city to Newcastle on Tuesday evening of this week, and held a meeting in the town hall, which was packed, many persons going away, being unable to obtain seats. Great interest appears to be taken in these meetings by the people of Newcastle, and another was announced for the evening of the 25th inst.

Mr. Eugene Flynn, a young man about twenty-two years old, was quite seriously injured on Monday of this week, while at work on the Flynn place, Greenland road, near Great swamp. He was driving a loaded team, and when he jumped off to unload it the horse ran away, and Mr. Flynn was knocked down and run over, a wheel of the cart passing diagonally across one thigh and hip. It is hoped no permanent harm will result, though the young man was badly hurt, and might easily have been killed.

The gentleman recently elected superintendent of schools by the Portsmouth board of instruction declines to accept the position.

To the Cuticura Remedies I owe My Health, My Happiness, and My Life.

A day never passes that I do not think and speak kindly of the CUTICURA REMEDIES. Seven years ago, all of a dozen lumps formed on my neck, ranging in size from a cherry to a stone to an orange. The large ones were frightful to look at, and painful to bear; people turned aside when they saw me, in disgust, and I was ashamed to be on the street or in society. Physicians and their treatment, and all medicines failed to do any good. In a moment of despair I tried the CUTICURA REMEDIES—CUTICURA, the great Skin Cure, and CUTICURA SOAP, an exquisite Skin Beautifier, externally, and CUTICURA RESOLVENT, the new Blood Purifier, internally; the small lumps (as I call them) gradually disappeared, and the large ones broke, in about two weeks, discharging large quantities of matter, leaving two slight scars in my neck to-day to tell the story of my suffering. My weight then was one hundred and fifteen sickly pounds; my weight now is one hundred and sixty-one solid, healthy pounds, and my height is only five feet five inches. In my travels I praised the CUTICURA REMEDIES, North, South, East, and West. TO CUTICURA REMEDIES I OWE MY HEALTH, MY HAPPINESS, AND MY LIFE. A prominent New York druggist asked me the other day, "Do you still use the CUTICURA REMEDIES; you look to be in perfect health?" My reply was, "I do, and shall always. I have never known what sickness is since I commenced using the CUTICURA REMEDIES." Question. In my travels I put to the test of proving them to people not acquainted with their merits, but sooner or later they will come to their senses and believe the same as those that use them, as dozens have whom I have told. May the time come when there shall be a large CUTICURA Supply House in every city in the world, for the benefit of humanity, where the CUTICURA REMEDIES shall be sold ONLY, so that there will be rarely a need of ever entering a drug store.

Sneezing Catarrh.

The distressing sneeze, sneeze, sneeze, the acrid, watery discharges from the eyes and nose, the painful inflammation extending to the throat, the swelling of the mucous lining, causing choking sensations, cough, ringing noises in the head and splitting headaches,—how familiar these symptoms are to thousands who suffer periodically from head colds or influenza, and who live in ignorance of the fact that a single application of SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE FOR CATARRH will afford instantaneous relief.

But this treatment in cases of simple Catarrh gives but a faint idea of what this remedy will do in the chronic forms, where the breathing is obstructed by choking, putrid matter, accumulations, the hearing affected, smell and taste gone, throat ulcerated and hacking cough gradually fastening itself upon the debilitated system. Then it is that the marvellous curative powers of SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE manifests itself in instantaneous and grateful relief. Cure begins from the first application. It is rapid, radical, permanent, economical, safe.

Moselle. A correspondent in the London Times claims that he has been cured of rheumatism of long standing by the use cider, and it would be well to try the experiment in the midst of some of our orchards, situated in picturesque sites, where the invalids can pursue their routine of treatment to the best advantage. —San Francisco Chronicle.

Gardens of the Luxembourg.

The magnificence of the historic palaces of France has been wonderfully diminished of late years, and their extensive parks and gardens, now no longer for the exclusive enjoyment of those of royal station or aristocratic birth, have been greatly curtailed. In the gardens of the Luxembourg there are now comparatively few relics of its former grandeur, but among these is the grotto of Marie de Medici, built some 250 years ago. It is a broad basin, where the ladies of the court were wont to go and bathe, and though everywhere surrounded by trees forms itself a sunny space that seems hewn out of the forest, the surrounding trees having formerly been kept trimmed and clipped above. The fountain and the highly ornamented miniature temple or arcade, the costly sculptures and the collections of rare flowers, make up a picture to delight the senses, and almost imperceptibly lead the imagination to conjure up the appearance of the brilliant throngs for whose enjoyment such lavish expenditure was made during the whole reign of Louis XIV.—Scientific American.

China's Troublesome Hoangho River.

The Hoangho river in China is more troublesome than our erratic Mississippi. Nine instances are on record of its making a complete change of course. It has moved its mouth from south to north over 4 degrees of latitude, leaving many sandy wastes and shallow lakes where populous plains had existed. Engineers have been much interested in the question whether these disastrous overflows and changes of the river bed can be checked. They have been convinced for some years of the feasibility of keeping the river's erratic tendencies within limits, and in the course of human progress "China's sorrow" may some day be robbed of its terrors.—Foreign Letter.

How the Blind Recognize Words.

Some of the blind can read five or six hours without feeling fatigued. They use both hands in reading, the right forefinger being used chiefly to separate the words and syllables, while the left forefinger recognizes the word by itself.—Chicago Times.

Retire Soon After Sunset.

To obtain perfect rest go to bed as soon after sunset as possible, for it is laid down as a universal law that the hours of darkness are the only ones during which healthy sleep is possible.

An Old Notion Concerning Thunder.

The notion formerly was that thunder had the effect of raising ells from their mud, and so rendered them more easy to be taken in stormy weather.—Exchange.

WHO IS UNACQUAINTED WITH THE GEOGRAPHY OF THIS COUNTRY WILL SEE BY EXAMINING THIS MAP THAT THE

CHICAGO, ROCK ISLAND & PACIFIC RAILWAY

By reason of its central position and close relation to all principal lines East and West, at initial and terminal points, constitutes the most important mid-continental link in that system of through transportation which invites and facilitates travel and traffic between cities of the Atlantic and Pacific Coasts. It is also the favorite and best route to and from points East, Northeast and Southeast, and corresponding points West, Northwest and Southwest.

The Great Rock Island Route

Guarantees its patrons that sense of personal security afforded by a well ballasted, thoroughly ballasted road-bed, smooth tracks of continuous steel rail, substantial bridges, culverts and trestles, rolling stock as near perfection as human skill can make it, the safety appliances of patent buffers, platforms and air-brakes, and that exacting discipline which governs the practical operation of all its trains. Other peculiarities of this route are Transfers at all connecting points in Union Depots, and the unsurpassed comforts and luxuries of its Passenger Equipment.

The Fast Express Trains between Chicago and Peoria, Council Bluffs, Kansas City, Leavenworth and Atchison are composed of well ventilated, finely upholstered Day Coaches, Magnificent Pullman Palace Sleepers of the latest design, and sumptuous Dining Cars, in which are elaborately cooked meals are a la carte. Between Chicago and Kansas City and Atchison are also run the celebrated Reclining Chair Cars.

The Famous Albert Lea Route

Is the direct and favorite line between Chicago and Minneapolis and St. Paul, where connections are made in Union Depots for all points in the Territories and British Provinces. Over this route Fast Express Trains are run to the watering places, summer resorts, picturesque localities, lies and hunting and fishing grounds of Iowa and Minnesota. It is also the most direct route to the rich wheat fields and pastoral lands of interior Dakota.

Still another DIRECT LINE, via Seneca and Kankakee, has been opened between Cincinnati, Indianapolis and Lafayette, and Council Bluffs, Kansas City, Minneapolis and St. Paul and intermediate points.

A Public Benefaction.

How to laundry linen as it is done in Troy, N. Y., has been kept a secret long enough; it can and should be done in every family. The Elastic Starch is the only starch in the United States that is put up by men who have a practical knowledge of the laundry profession. It requires no cooking, keeps the iron from sticking and linen from blistering while ironing, and gives shirts, cuffs and collars that stiffness and beautiful polish they have when new, which, everybody knows keeps them clean twice as long. Beware of imitations. See that the name J. C. HUNNOR & BRO., New Haven, Conn., is on every package.

A Burglar Captured.

This morning about two o'clock, John Wood, the well known plumber who resides on Main street, was awakened by hearing glass break. On getting out of bed he received a blow on the head. He immediately grappled with the burglar, and after a terrible struggle succeeded in holding him until his wife obtained help. On being searched at the station, Mr. Wood's watch and wallet was found on his person. He gave the name of Robert Terry. The broken glass proved to be a bottle of Sulphur Bitters which had almost cured Mrs. Wood of rheumatism. —Exchange.

A LETTER-CARRIER'S STORY.

"A letter-carrier has his ups and downs as every one else has, I suppose," said one of these messengers of Uncle Sam the other day, in speaking of his experiences, "but take it all in all I would rather be a carrier at $1,000 a year than a clerk at $1,200. In the first place our position is assured as long as we are honest and attentive to our duties, and then we have our little perquisites that net us more than people generally think. I used to have a route along Beacon street near the Public Gardens, and it was a very cold Christmas indeed when the rich nobs didn't remember me to the extent of $300 or $400. For letters that brought good news I have often been given crisp $5 notes from the pleased recipients. And then the little romances, and sometimes deep disappointments and heart-burning that we know of! I shall never forget the pale, anxious face with which an old millionaire used to greet me every morning for a long time, as he opened the door himself in answer to my whistle, and nervously reach for his letters. His hands would tremble as he tore open the envelopes, and then would come a long sigh of relief when he found there was no bad news. At last there came a letter that blanched his face whiter than the paper on which it was written, and he fell down senseless all in a heap at my feet. I helped to carry him up to his room, but never saw him again. Pretty soon a new family moved into the house. It was some financial trouble, I suppose, and the letter had brought ruin to the old gentleman, who had a big family to support."

Letter-Carrier W. B. Goodale, of Hartford, Conn., tells a not less interesting story, though happily its ending is not so tragic. Mr. Goodale is well known in Hartford, and his many friends to whom he had often as a carrier brought tidings of sorrow and of joy, were much pleased to receive his present message:

"For three months," he says, "I was confined to my house with inflammatory rheumatism. So severe, indeed, was my affliction that the doctors took such heroic measures as to prescribe forty grains of morphine a day, beside steaming me five hours and dosing me with all sorts of medicine. I had three doctors, but their combined skill failed to give me any relief. Finally I became discouraged and determined to let the disease do its work. I had a pair of crutches made and was nervously awaiting the worst, when a friend came to see me and advised me to try Athlophoros. After much persuasion I consented. I took the first dose at six o'clock in the evening and two more during the night. The next morning, for the first time in three months, I was able to go to work, greatly to the astonishment of my friends, who all thought I would never get around again. As Athlophoros cured me I believe it will cure anybody suffering with rheumatism. It has many friends in Hartford since the people have seen that it will do all that is claimed for it."

If you cannot get ATHLOPHOROS of your druggist, we will send it express paid, on receipt of regular price—one dollar per bottle. We prefer that you buy it from your druggist, but if he hasn't it, do not be persuaded to try something else, but order at once from us, as directed. ATHLOPHOROS CO., 112 Wall Street, New York.

THE COST OF TREE-PLANTING.

A Few Figures on the Subject—Scare About a Timber Famine.

In estimating the value of property, its actual cost is commonly considered a fair measure, and yet how shall we estimate an acre of virgin forest growth on this basis? Trees from 100 to 200 years old can not be duplicated at the asking. Nothing on earth to-day is selling so cheaply, as compared with the cost of reproduction as forest trees. Volumes have been written urging the business of tree-planting, even based upon its pecuniary advantages. Yet, however beneficial such an industry may prove to its projector, or to the locality in which the planting is pursued, its possible profit is totally eclipsed by the present value and future prospect of acres of original forest.

Suppose, for instance, an acre of land be purchased for $5 and planted with forest trees, at a first cost of say $30. Now, allowing nothing for subsequent care and cultivation, taxes or other expenses, let us see what the principal and interest would show at the end of 100 years, the average age of valuable forest trees. Thirty-five dollars invested at 6 per cent., would, even at simple interest, double every sixteen years; say $70 in sixteen years, $140 in thirty-two years, $280 in forty-eight years, $560 in sixty-four years, in eighty years $1,120; in ninety-six years $2,240, representing the cost and interest of the artificial planting of an acre of forest trees and their growth to maturity. Will the natural impatience of our American people permit them to raise such "century plants" on a money-making basis?

It may be many years before forest-tree planting will be attempted in New England on an extensive scale, except through the stimulus of state or government bounty, or as a matter of sentiment and regard for the public good. All good citizens should encourage the planting of trees, on a limited scale, at least, by every land owner whose surroundings and conditions will warrant. The scare about a timber famine in New England and Canada is simply nonsense at the present day. If the timber is far exhausted as some of the orators at forestry gatherings would have us believe, if the cost of reproducing timber is attendant upon such an expenditure of money, time and interest as the above figures indicate, why then is there not ready sale of timber tracts now seeking purchasers, in the province of Quebec, for instance?

We can enumerate half a dozen properties in lower Canada now being offered at beggarly sums of money as compared with their intrinsic value.—Boston Budget.

Topers of the Seventeenth Century.

Most of the Saxon drinking-cups were made without foot or stand, so that they must be emptied before they could be set down again on the table. But these seventeenth century topers required that a man, after drinking, should turn up his cup and make a pearl with what was left on his nail, "which if shed, and can not make it stand on by reason there is too much, must drink again for his penance." This was drinking "supernagulum," or as Fletcher phrases it, "ad unguem." Another proof of having tossed off his cup like a man was for the drinker to turn it bottom upward, and, in ostentation of his dexterity, give it a fillip to make it cry "ting." After all these tipplings a man was held to be sober who could "put his finger into the flame of the candle without playing hit I, miss I." —The Argonaut.

Laborers and Employes in England.

In connection with the labor squabbles which appear to be the rage just now in almost every trade, it is singular that no one has suggested a trial of the English system, which requires notice on both sides of the termination of an engagement. The period of the notice varies from seven days to a month. Under no circumstances can a man leave his employ without giving notice, except by mutual consent, with regard to which there is seldom any difficulty in cases of emergency. If he leaves without notice he is liable to be proceeded against summarily in the local police court, and the damages sustained by his late employer are assessed by the stipendiary magistrate, the amount, with costs, being recoverable by distress, with imprisonment in default.

On the other hand, a "boss" can not discharge a hand without notice except for gross misconduct, immorality, or the like, and it has even been held that gross insolence does not provide adequate grounds for summary dismissal. To evade this law the boss must pay the discharged man for the period of notice. Contractors engaged on heavy jobs usually protect themselves by special agreements with their men, but without these the "custom of the trade" is taken as sufficient evidence of implied contract. It will be readily seen what an enormous advantage this gives in case of a strike. It is true that in actual practice employers seldom care to enforce the law against absentees, but as to quit work without notice is illegal.—English Investor in Globe-Democrat.

Bridal Dowry Among the Roumanians.

The Pall Mall Gazette tells of a remarkable custom existing among the Roumanians living in the westerly Carpathians. Every year, at the feast of the Apostles Peter and Paul, a market is held on the crest of the Gaina, from 5,000 to 6,000 feet above the level of the sea, and here the marriageable girls of the district assemble with their parents in order to be viewed and claimed. Mothers, aunts,

Make Haste to Defend Yourself

If you live in a locality where malaria is prevalent, with a preventive that experience indicates as the most reliable of medical safe-guards—Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. Entirely free from the objections—and they are valid ones—which attach to the mineral alkaloid quinine, it is far more effective, and its effects are not evanescent, but lasting, unlike those of the drug. There are portions of our land—and none more beautiful and more fertile—which at no season of the year are entirely exempt from the malarial scourge. In such regions Hostetter's Stomach Bitters has undergone a continuous test for the past thirty years, with results which have established its reputation beyond all cavil as a special defense against every form of malarial disease. For biliousness, also, it is an acknowledged specific, and it is a potent remedy for constipation, dyspepsia, rheumatism and an impoverished condition of the blood.

Commodore William K. Mayo failed to pass his examination for promotion to be rear-admiral, and the president has granted his request to be placed on the retired list of the navy with the rank of commodore under the forty-year service provision. There are now two vacancies in the grade of rear-admiral, for which Commodore James F. Jouett—acting rear admiral—and John H. Russell are eligible in the order named.

Whether on land or at sea, on the prairie or in the crowded city, Ayer's Pills are the best cathartic, being convenient, efficacious and safe. For torpid liver, indigestion and sick headache, they never fail.

Very Efficacious.

Police Inspector Benfield of Chicago has received from the manufacturers in Connecticut what is called a "riot gun," for use by the city police. It is a centre-fire weapon, with a spring needle, and shoots six times without reloading. Its six shells each hold nine buckshots, a little larger than a 22-calibre ball. It operates rapidly, and is said to be very efficacious in scattering a crowd,—as we should think it might be, when once settled down to business.

Labor Matters.

Almost the last of the general strikes holding out is the carpenters' strike in Boston, who have changed their demand from eight hours a day to nine, and that is about all that is left of the eight-hour movement in New England.

The carpenters' trade unions in convention have decided that it is unwise for trades' unions to amalgamate with the Knights of Labor.

On May 10th the employes at Lawrence Bros' saw mill in South Gardiner, Me., struck for ten hours, and the mill shut down. The men have returned to work on the old schedule of eleven hours.

The furniture workers of Chicago on the 19th claimed that thirty-six of the forty-six large upholstering establishments in the city had acceded to the demand for eight hours labor and twenty per cent increase of wages. The union decided to "order out" all the men in the employ of the Brunswick Blake Co. in New York, to force the company to yield as regards their Chicago factory.

The furniture manufacturers of St. Louis, who on the the 1st of May commenced running their factories on an eight-hour basis, on the 18th held a meeting, and unanimously resolved to return to ten hours, finding it impossible to compete with the manufacturers of other cities at eight hours. In case of trouble, the factories will be closed.

The striking employes of the Southern Barbed Wire Co. at St. Louis on the 19th abandoned their eight-hour demand, and voted to return to work at ten hours. The president of the company refused to take them back unless they would agree to make up time lost, which they agreed to do.

The president of the Lumbermen's union of Chicago acknowledges the absolute failure of the lumbermen's strike.

Nine-tenths of the metal working establishments in Chicago were on the 20th reported to be running, more than half having the full complement of hands. The concessions demanded by the strikers were not made, and the strike has resulted mainly in a change of workmen.

The prominent pork packers at Chicago, in interviews on the 18th, announced that they would have to do one of two things—return to ten hours a day, or give up business. At St. Louis, Kansas City, Boston and other places the packers worked ten hours a day, and the operators in Chicago simply lose money in endeavoring to carry on business at eight hours. A strike is threatened by the men in case of a return to ten hours; should it occur 30,000 persons will be affected by it.

Forty non-union bricklayers from Pittsburg, Pa., arrived in Washington prior to the 20th; all means were employed by the strikers to force them to join the union, but without avail.

In Troy, N. Y., all the collar and cuff factories and laundries have shut down, locking out the dissatisfied employes, who number about 8,000 and are mostly women and girls.

The Chicago Tribune has the following to say concerning the bulldozing of "non-union" workingmen by trades unions, or members of such unions: "By the way, how about the non-union man? He is a citizen; he has rights. He has a wife and children, as other men have. He and his family, like others, get hungry and thirsty, and need clothing. He is industrious and law-abiding. He needs work, and, when he finds it, is sometimes assaulted. This is alleged to be a free country. How is it that this man, who wants to work, who wishes to earn wages that he may support his wife and children, is not allowed to do so? If he does not belong to some 'assembly' or 'order,' that is his business. Who has a right to interfere with him? If this honest man, who seeks to earn an honest livinood, is not protected, what is American citizenship worth? What are our laws for, if they are not to be enforced."

The Boston Post under its new editor is making its mark. The Post begins to assume the appearance of a metropolitan paper. There is room for an improved condition in journalistic productions in a city of the pretensions of Boston. If the literary centre of this country is hereafter to be New York, there is no reason why Boston should not have a newspaper which will prove as creditable to the city as are some of the leading dailies in New York. To achieve this result requires a practical trained hand at the profession. Mr. Bacon as an editor and correspondent has correct views as to what a newspaper should be, and if permitted to direct the course of the Post without interference on the part of those who know all about running a newspaper solely from intuition, this old Boston favorite journal will as of yore occupy a leading position among the prominent and successful newspaper publications of the country.

The president, or some one who advises him, was shrewd in vetoing the bill to make Springfield, Mass., an inland town, a "port of entry." The precedent would have been followed by every considerable inland city or town in the country, and the grand rush for places in the new custom houses, where nothing was to be done save drawing the salary, would have destroyed all the peace and happiness of the honeymoon. The president has had enough of the office-seeking business, and wants a rest.

Frank Thompson of Sanbornton was fined $50 and costs for breaking into Stephen Gerrish's stable in Franklin, and stealing a horse and carriage.

YOUR HAIR

should be your crowning glory. Ayer's Hair Vigor will restore the vitality and color of youth to hair that has become thin and faded; and, where the glands are not decayed or absorbed, will cause a new growth on bald heads.

MAY the youthful color and vigor of the hair be preserved to old age? Read the following, from Mrs. G. Norton, Somerville, Mass.: "I have used Ayer's Hair Vigor for the past 30 years; and, although I am upwards of 60, my hair is as abundant and glossy to-day as when I was 25."

BE assured, that a trial of Ayer's Hair Vigor will convince you of its powers. Mrs. M. E. Goff, Leadville, Col., writes: "Two years ago, my hair having almost entirely fallen out, I commenced the use of Ayer's Hair Vigor. To-day my hair is 29 inches long, fine, strong, and healthy."

RENEWED and strengthened by the use of Ayer's Hair Vigor, the hair regains its youthful color and vitality. Rev. H. P. Williamson, Davidson College, Mecklenburg Co., N. C., writes: "I have used Ayer's Hair Vigor for the last ten years. It is an excellent preservative."

BY the use of Ayer's Hair Vigor, Geo. A. Dadman, Waterloo, Mo., had his hair restored to its original healthy condition. He was nearly bald, and very gray. He writes: "Only four bottles of the Vigor were required to restore my hair to its youthful color and quantity."

USING Ayer's Hair Vigor cures diseases of the scalp. F. H. Foster, Princeton, Ind., writes: "I had been troubled for years with a disease of the scalp; my head was covered with dandruff, and the hair dry and harsh. Ayer's Hair Vigor gave me immediate relief, cleansed the scalp, and rendered the hair soft and pliable."

MUNICIPAL AFFAIRS.

In Board of Mayor and Aldermen, Thursday evening, May 20th, Mayor Eldredge in the chair:

Present the full board.

Records of the last meeting were read and approved.

Request for sewer from No. 105 Water street to the river was referred to committee on streets, with power.

Arthur W. Walker was granted leave to encumber Middle street for building purposes.

Petition of J. Albert Walker and others for regrading of Market street with crushed stone, was granted.

On petition of Justin V. Hanscom and others for widening and straightening Sagamore road, a hearing was ordered for Monday evening, June 7th.

Voted to accept Pine street, and to lay out a park there in accordance with former plan, to be called Woodbury park, it being stated that Chas. Levi Woodbury would bear the expense, and place in the park a bust of his father, the late Levi Woodbury. The mayor was empowered to execute the proper papers.

Ordinance transferring unexpended appropriations was passed, and sent to the common council, which concurred.

Invitation to take part in the Memorial day exercises was accepted.

Claim of James W. Folsom, $50, for being run over by a fire engine in 1883, was laid on the table.

The annual appropriation bill was introduced, passed under suspension of the rules, and sent down for concurrence.

Committee was authorized to purchase a gravel pit, at a price not exceeding $1200.

Claims were received from Charles F. Haley, $125, for horse killed at north millbridge, and from Wesley S. Tucker and John Wood, $102, for damage to team, etc. The mayor was empowered to settle the claims.

Mayor was authorized to settle with the Rockingham bank a claim for back taxes on land.

Bills amounting to $1508.68 were ordered paid.

A sewer was granted from School street to Deer street, on High street.

Officer Turner was re-appointed special police without pay at the Portsmouth Machine shop.

Adjourned for two weeks.

SUCCESSFUL TRICKERY.

One of the express companies brought down from Boston on Wednesday evening of this week several packages addressed to different druggists of this city, "C. O. D." It is a common practice, when bills for express packages call for the payment of trifling sums and are made out by responsible persons or firms, for the express companies to pay the bills on receiving the packages, thereby saving trouble; and as the bills for these packages of "drugs" were made out on the billheads of a drug firm on Washington street, Boston, and appeared all right, the usual course was pursued, about $5 being disbursed. When the packages were opened by the several consignees, one was found to contain sawdust of excellent quality and condition of dryness, and the others empty boxes very artistically arranged. Some petty swindler probably stole the billheads of the Boston firm, and was thus enabled to work the trick on the express company.

The above was put in type on Thursday, the sequel being told us in the evening of that day as follows: On the arrival of the expressman in Boston, Thursday morning, he discovered that the swindler had been "working his racket" quite freely, and measures were taken which resulted in his being locked up in a short time. He proved to be one George Woods, who was at one time employed as porter in the Rockingham house in this city, but is said for a good while past to have been living on his wits in Boston. He is in a bad scrape now.

MUSIC HALL.

This evening, at music hall, Miss Lizzie Evans will electrify the audience by her performance of "Chip" the ferry girl, in "Fogg's Ferry," which comedy will be presented with special scenery and all the mechanical effects shown here before. Tickets at Goodrich's.

A CALL OF CONDOLENCE.

Harry Bingham recently visited Dover and spent a lugubrious hour in lamenting with Joshua L. Foster the disappointment of the "sturdy democrats" over the political failure of Mr. Cleveland's administration. The "Judge" and Joshua both deprecated the fact that the patronage had passed from—or rather never had been controlled by—the time-honored members of the party who in olden times would have indicated appointees to office, but had been usurped by an element which sought to run the party for its own purposes. As Joshua glanced down the Piscataqua his language concerning a prominent democrat of Portsmouth was far more forcible than polite, while his allusions to some of the appointments would have startled a man who was less accustomed to cuss words than is old Harry. The latter chewed the cud of bitter disappointment commingled with a rare brand of tobacco which he ha secured on his recent return from Florida, while he calculated the difference in the chances between Sinclair being chosen to the United States senate from Florida and his own in securing the nomination against a more potent element should the democracy by any possibility control the legislature of New Hampshire.

MISS HELENE ADELL.

Admirers of the above-named lady—and they are numerous in this city—will hail with pleasure the dramatic feast offered them next week. Miss Adell is an accomplished and talented actress, and the very favorable impression made by her on a former visit will be evidenced by her reception this time. The engagement begins Monday evening, Miss Adell and her excellent company presenting Augustin Daly's bright comedy "Frou-Frou."

Mr. Branch O'Brien is in the city, representing Miss Adell, and announces that an almost entirely new repertoire will be offered.

A change of bill each evening, and a correct portrayal of standard plays by a thoroughly competent company, such as Miss Adell heads, is bound to receive merited patronage.

The popular-price system will prevail, and the best reserved seats, at thirty cents each, will be on sale at Goodrich's bookstore this morning.

The clerk of the United States circuit court on Thursday evening received from Portland a despatch stating that Judges Gray and Colt would be detained there until Saturday morning, the 22d.

At the meeting of the Grand Lodge of Masons of New Hampshire, held in Concord on the 19th inst., Bro. John Pender of this city was elected grand junior warden for the ensuing year.

The Bound-to-Win and Fearnaught base ball clubs played a game at Noble's island on Wednesday afternoon of this week, the former winning by a score of twelve to eight.

A man rigged out in Japanese dress of the "Mikado" pattern was distributing hand-bills about town on Thursday. He walked into our composing room, solemnly laid a hand-bill on each case, and walked out without saying a word. The office demon was so startled by the apparition that for over twenty minutes he could not think of any new mischief to get into.

Rev. Alfred Gooding and Dr. George Haven have arrived home from a two weeks trip to New York, Niagara and other places.

The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Jennings Machine Co. was held in this city on the 18th inst., when the following-named gentlemen were chosen directors: William A. Randall, John A. Brown, S. S. Sprague, A. C. Howard, T. S. Nowell, Charles F. Fairbanks and H. N. Bigelow. The company voted to return a part of the capital to the stockholders, and authorized the directors to close up its affairs and dispose of the assets of the corporation.

MARITIME NOTES.

The schooners Castilian, Elvira and Paragon, which arrived on the 19th inst., and the Charles L. Davis, which arrived on the 20th, all brought coal to J. Albert Walker.

The Portland Fish Exchange was crowded with citizens on the afternoon of the 19th inst., the meeting being called to express the opinion of the people in regard to the fishery dispute. Strong resolutions were adopted demanding of our government prompt and decided action in the matter.

Four vessels are on the way to this port from Nova Scotia with coal to the Boston & Maine railroad.

The American fishermen on the seized Gloucester fishing schooner David J. Adams were all natives of the British provinces.

A despatch of May 19th from Portland, Me., says: "Schooner Arctic, of Lockport, Nova Scotia, arrived here to-day, and gave an order for 980 barrels of bait. Considerable excitement prevails among the fishermen, and there is talk of seizing her and running her out of the harbor. The Gem of Ocean, with a permit to 'touch and trade,' is reported to be putting arms on board and shipping men to protect herself from seizure. A vessel from the provinces is bound here with seventy-five barrels of mackerel for bait. These fish come free of duty and are sold to our fishermen, who must pay freight charges, as they cannot go to the provinces to buy."

Chas. Levi Woodbury, whose democracy is of the kind that was current in the days of Andrew Jackson, talks as follows about Secretary Bayard's toadying to the British minister: "The administration is not acting satisfactorily in this fishing question. We need backbone, and a firm resolution to live up to pledges. The secretary of state behaves in an unaccountable manner. Of course the republicans will profit by this exhibition of democratic weakness or incompetency. In the old days of democracy, when the Austrians attempted to bully over the Koszta case, Commodore Ingram was effectually backed up by a democratic president and secretary of state. No foreign ministers ran our departments in those days."

Have you examined that Playing Card at Preston's drug store, selling at sixty-five cents per dozen?

A Notable Exception.

The Providence (R. I.) Telegram of May 14th pays the following high compliment to a business man who merits it:

It gives the Telegram pleasure to voluntarily call attention to the uniform courtesy and square dealing of one of the best advertising agents of New York, Mr. E. N. Erickson. Advertisers placing business with him invariably find their contracts carried out to the fullest particulars. Aside from this, what particularly commends his business to news-papers is his prompt remittances. In these days of long time, which advertising agents, as a rule, claim is necessary "to check up," thereby gaining thirty, sixty and sometimes ninety days' time, it is refreshing to the publisher to receive his bill with accompanying check by return mail. Such promptness as this gains for advertisers who do business through Mr. Erickson, favors from a newspaper which are extended only in rare instances.

To the Cuticura Remedies I owe My Health, My Happiness, and My Life.

A day never passes that I do not think and speak kindly of the CUTICURA REMEDIES. Seven years ago, all of a dozen lumps formed on my neck, ranging in size from a cherry stone to an orange. The large ones were frightful to look at, and painful to bear; people turned aside when they saw me, in disgust, and I was ashamed to be on the street or in society. Physicians and their treatment, and all medicines failed to do any good. In a moment of despair I tried the CUTICURA REMEDIES—CUTICURA, the great Skin Cure, and CUTICURA SOAP, an exquisite Skin Beautifier, externally, and CUTICURA RESOLVENT, the new Blood Purifier, internally; the small lumps (as I call them) gradually disappeared, and the large ones broke, in about two weeks, discharging large quantities of matter, leaving two slight scars in my neck to-day to tell the story of my suffering. My weight then was one hundred and fifteen sickly pounds; my weight now is one hundred and sixty-one solid, healthy pounds, and my height is only five feet five inches. In my travels I praised the CUTICURA REMEDIES, North, South, East, and West. TO CUTICURA REMEDIES I OWE MY HEALTH, MY HAPPINESS, AND MY LIFE. A prominent New York druggist asked me the other day, "Do you still use the CUTICURA REMEDIES; you look to be in perfect health?" My reply was, "I do, and shall always. I have never known what sickness is since I commenced using the CUTICURA REMEDIES." Sometimes I am laughed at by praising them to people not acquainted with their merits, but sooner or later they will come to their senses and believe the same as those that use them, as dozens have, whom I have told. May the time come when there shall be a large CUTICURA Supply House in every city in the world, for the benefit of humanity, where the CUTICURA REMEDIES shall be sold ONLY, so that there will be rarely a need of ever entering a drug store.

Sneezing Catarrh.

The distressing sneeze, sneeze, sneeze, the acrid, watery discharges from the eyes and nose, the painful inflammation extending to the throat, the swelling of the mucous lining, causing choking sensations, cough, ringing noises in the head and splitting headaches,—how familiar these symptoms are to thousands who suffer periodically from head colds or influenza, and who live in ignorance of the fact that a single application of SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE FOR CATARRH will afford instantaneous relief.

But this treatment in cases of simple Catarrh gives but a faint idea of what this remedy will do in the chronic forms, where the breathing is obstructed by choking, putrid mucous accumulations, the hearing affected, smell and taste gone, throat ulcerated and hacking cough gradually fastening itself upon the debilitated system. Then it is that the marvellous curative powers of SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE manifests itself in instantaneous and grateful relief. Cure begins from the first application. It is rapid, radical, permanent, economical, safe.

grandmothers, and various female friends contribute to the dowry, and this completed it is carried to the market. Cattle, bees, and other household requisites are added to the dowry. On the Gaina every family occupies a distinct tent, in which the dowry is exhibited, and in which the bride-viewers are expected. The bachelors, too, are accompanied by parents or relatives. The young men bring the best they possess, and each must particularly come with a girdle of gold or silver. After the brides are chosen the public betrothal takes place. The mark of betrothal is not a ring, but a beautifully embroidered handkerchief. —London Correspondence.

The Heridity of Genius.

The history of the four Rossettis seems to be proof positive of the heredity of genius. Descended from a father and grandfather, both highly talented men in their different lines, each of them possessed strongly-marked talents and characteristics. Mary Francesca, the eldest, was the author of a remarkable work, "The Shadow of Dante," which achieved an immediate success, and did much to bring home to the hearts and mind of its readers the genius of the great Florentine—the man as well as the poet. The name of the second child, Dante Gabriel, is written in golden letters upon the pages of English literature and art. In his poems one finds a union of rare strength and beauty. The third of the Rossetti, William Michael, is distinguished as an editor, critic and essayist; while the youngest of the family, Christina, is unrivaled as a singer of sweet songs. "Goblin Market," and "A Pageant," show a fairy-like daintiness of touch and imagination.—New Orleans Times-Democrat.

How Folks Become Queer and Cranky.

I have noted in all my travels that when a family or little group of whites get out of and away from the current life and society of their kind, they soon become queer and cranky, whether missionaries, officials, or merchants. A missionary station amid black or brown people is a place where you will find men and women of morbid consciences, queer fancies, flighty impulses, and social feelings that ebb and flow in an unaccountable manner. At a military post among the Indians you are sure to find some very odd people. And these white families on the islands, too widely separated for church, schools or society, without parties, daily papers, or entertainments, unaffected by the great currents of public thought, can not develop healthfully. It is impossible.—"Parke" in Chicago Times.

Chestnuts Grafted on Black Oak.

A novelty in horticulture in California is the successful grafting of Italian chestnuts on the ordinary black oak. It has been practiced with the best results in a number of instances in the Napa valley.—Chicago Herald.

DANIEL LITTLEFIELD,
13 Green Street, Portsmouth, N. H.

In Lincoln county, W. Va., Mrs. Margaret Donnan, a widow, while crazy from religious excitement murdered her three daughters and then killed herself.

Mrs. Charles Smith of Jimes, Ohio, writes: I have used every remedy for sick headache I could hear of for the past fifteen years, but Carter's Little Liver Pills did me more good than all the rest.

The trial of H. M. Brooks, alias "W. H. Lennox-Maxwell, M. D.," for the murder of C. Arthur Preller, commenced in St. Louis on the 19th inst. Brooks confesses killing Preller, but says it was accidental, and he hid the body in the trunk because he was almost crazed with fear and rum.

Catarrh and Hay Fever—For twenty years I was a sufferer from catarrh of the head and throat in a very aggravated form, and during the summer with hay fever. I procured a bottle of Ely's Cream Balm and after a few applications received decided benefit—was cured by one bottle. Have had no return of the complaint.—Charlotte Parker, Waverly, N. Y. Price 50 cents per bottle.

Mrs. Mary Collins, of Hoboken, N. J., was murdered in bed, apparently with a hammer, and her husband is under arrest.

Every year increases the popularity of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. Recommended for all pulmonary troubles.

A child of Joseph Howard, of Lynn, Mass., was given croton oil by mistake for castor oil, and died in a few hours.

Absolutely sure to cure aches, pains and weak parts. Hop Plasters, clean and non-failing. 25 cents.

Trueman Harmon, formerly a prominent politician, died a few days ago in Deering, Me.

Don't be fooled with something else. The Hop Plaster is the best porous plaster known.

The belief is expressed by the Chicago surgeons that the bomb thrown by the anarchists was filled with explosive bullets.

Something new. Beach Soap Company's Elegant Banner Picture, 20x30 inches.

James Brewster, a cattle driver, is wanted for a brutal assault on a girl thirteen years old in Brookville, Pa. The child is fatally injured.

The President

Of the bank of Waverly, Iowa, says: Sulphur Bitters saved my life. For ten years I suffered from catarrh and liver complaint; I lost forty-five pounds and was growing worse rapidly. I had lost all faith in medicine, but hearing your Bitters so well recommended, I gave them a trial. Six bottles cured me.—Smith P. Hunt, Waverly, Iowa.

Archbishop Gibbon of Baltimore has received the official announcement of his elevation to the cardinalate.

More cases of sick headache, biliousness, constipation, etc., can be cured in less time, with less medicine, and for less money, by using Carter's Little Liver Pills, than by any other means.

A terrible drouth is prevailing in a portion of Texas, and thousands of cattle and sheep have died.

Do not suffer from sick headache a moment longer. It is not necessary. Carter's Little Liver Pills will cure you. Dose, one little pill. All druggists sell them.

Dr. Alice Guilford of Lynn has been found guilty of illegal practice.

Scrofula diseases manifest themselves in the spring. Hood's Sarsaparilla cleanses the blood, and removes every taint of scrofula.

At Manchester, on the 18th inst., a man ploughing discovered the dead body of an infant in a box, evidently long there; and on the 19th another infant, believed to have been murdered but a few hours before, was found in a heap of manure.

A MAP

WHO IS UNACQUAINTED WITH THE GEOGRAPHY OF THIS COUNTRY WILL SEE BY EXAMINING THIS MAP THAT THE

CHICAGO, ROCK ISLAND & PACIFIC RAILWAY

By reason of its central position and close relation to all principal lines East and West, at initial and terminal points, constitutes the most important mid-continental link in that system of through transportation which invites and facilitates travel and traffic between cities of the Atlantic and Pacific Coasts. It is also the favorite and best route to and from points East, Northeast and Southeast, and corresponding points West, Northwest and Southwest.

The Great Rock Island Route

Guarantees its patrons that sense of personal security afforded by solid, thoroughly ballasted roadbed smooth tracks of continuous steel rail, substantially built culverts and bridges, rolling stock as near perfection as human skill can make it, the safety appliances of patent buffers, platforms and air-brakes, and that exacting discipline which governs the practical operation of all its trains. Other characteristics of this route are: Transfers at all connecting points in Union Depots, and the unsurpassed comforts and luxuries of its Passenger Equipment.

The Best Express Trains between Chicago and Peoria, Council Bluffs, Kansas City, Leavenworth and Atchison are composed of well ventilated, finely upholstered Day Coaches, Magnificent Pullman Palace Sleepers of the latest design, and elegant Dining Cars, in which elaborately cooked meals are temperately served. Between Chicago and Kansas City and Atchison are also run the Celebrated Reclining Chair Cars.

The Famous Albert Lea Route

Is the most direct and favorite line between Chicago and Minneapolis and St. Paul, where connections are made in Union Depots for all points in the Territories and British Provinces. It is the popular Lake Shore route, passing the most picturesque lakes, watering places, summer resorts, picturesque localities for Boating, Bathing and fishing grounds of Iowa and Minnesota. It is also the most desirable route for the rich wheat fields and pastoral lands of interior Dakota.

Still another DIRECT PASSENGER LINE, via Seneca and Kankakee, has been opened between Cincinnati, Indianapolis and Lafayette, and Council Bluffs, Kansas City, Minneapolis and St. Paul and intermediate points.

A Public Benefaction.

How to laundry linen as it is done in Troy, N. Y., has been kept a secret long enough; it can and should be done in every family. The Elastic Starch is the only starch in the United States that is put up by men who have a practical knowledge of the laundry profession. It requires no cooking, keeps the iron from sticking and linen from blistering while ironing, and gives shirts, cuffs and collars that stiffness and beautiful polish they have when new, which, everybody knows keeps them clean twice as long. Beware of imitations. See that the name J. C. HUBINGER & BRO., New Haven, Conn., is on every package.

A Tombstone, Ari., special says: Captain Keyes and Lieutenant Ward have been arrested by General Miles for dilatoriness in proceeding to the assistance of Captain Lebo, during the latter's engagement with the hostile Indians. They have been taken to Fort Grant and their command turned over to Captain Lebo.

A Burglar Captured.

This morning about two o'clock, John Wood, the well known plumber who resides on Main street, was awakened by hearing glass break. On getting out of bed he received a blow on the head. He immediately grappled with the burglar, and after a terrible struggle succeeded in holding him until his wife obtained help. On being searched at the station, Mr. Wood's watch and wallet was found on his person. He gave the name of Robert Terry. The broken glass proved to be a bottle of Sulphur Bitters which had almost cured Mrs. Wood of rheumatism. —Exchange.

Pearline. With this article, it is claimed, the family washing can be done with ease, with economy and despatch, and as it is thoroughly disinfectant, it will be seen that whenever used the result is pure and healthful. As there are imitations of this in the market, be sure and get the genuine, manufactured only by James Pyle, New York.

A Beautiful Present.

The Virgin Salt Co., of New Haven, Conn., are making a grand offer. A pair of Doves as natural as life, new design, printed in ten beautiful colors on a fine lithograph card 9x10 inches, given away with Virgin Salt (four certificates) in order to introduce it. For household purpose this salt has no equal. It is the cleanest, purest and whitest salt ever seen or used. Large package costs only ten cents. Ask your grocer for it.

Eugene Taylor, a farmer of Greenfield, Mass., aged thirty-five years, on the night of the 19th inst. poisoned his boy, aged two and a half years, by giving him candy sprinkled with strychnine, then took an overdose of the poison himself, and cut his throat, but not fatally. He has been jailed.

Scott's Emulsion of Pure Cod Liver Oil, with Hypophosphites.

Possesses the remedial power of these two valuable specifics in their fullest degree. Is prepared in a palatable form, easily tolerated by the stomach, and for delicate, sickly children, emaciation, consumption and all improvished conditions of the blood is unequalled by any other remedy.

BETTER THAN PROMISES

Is positive proof.

What has been done in many cases can still be done in others. Sufferers from rheumatism and neuralgia can find relief if they wish. In proof of this statement the following letters are submitted:—

East Somerville, Mass., Jan. 26, 1886.

I have been asked to give my testimony as to what good there is in Athlophoros as a cure for rheumatism, and I simply say to those who are suffering from it try it, and if it does not give relief or a permanent cure it will be a most extraordinary case. In my own case it is a well-known fact among many of my acquaintances it knocked the rheumatism out of me.

GEO. C. BOZRUM, U. S. N.
44 Franklin street.

East Douglass, Mass., Jan. 25, 1886.

One-third of a bottle of Athlophoros cured me of inflammatory rheumatism. Being a cattle dealer my business compels me to be around in all kinds of weather and by constant exposure I contracted a severe and painful attack of inflammatory rheumatism in the hips and arms, which defied the supposed healing virtues of most every known remedy. Hearing that Athlophoros was doing wonders I tried it with the above gratifying results. Although the rheumatism has not troubled me for nearly a year, I always keep Athlophoros where I can lay my hands on it, and now instead of the disease defying the medicine matters are reversed. I feel perfectly safe for I know Athlophoros will cure rheumatism. E. P. HEATH.

Boston, Mass., Jan. 8, 1886.

Yes, sir; Athlophoros will cure rheumatism and so far as my experience goes it is the only medicine that will make a complete cure, for I have tried most every thing with no effect. Certainly there was no good effect from my long use of the many so-called rheumatic cures, for all proved worthless; but when I saw with my own eyes what Athlophoros had done for a friend of mine—cured him of rheumatism—I tried it, and two doses of it relieved me so much as to permit me to put my feet on the ground, and in twenty-four hours I was standing on my feet, after which I steadily improved and soon was entirely rid of the rheumatism. So I truthfully say to anybody suffering with rheumatism take Athlophoros and you will be cured.

GUSTAF NELSSON, 216 Harrison Av.

Boston, Mass., Jan. 8, 1886.

I was suffering terribly with inflammatory rheumatism and thought I would just try Athlophoros. I did so, receiving immediate relief after taking three or four doses without any deleterious effects from it. I can honestly recommend it to any one suffering from muscular or inflammatory rheumatism. E. S. RICHARDS.
50 Washington street.

Boston, Mass., Jan. 19, 1886.

I desire to express my feeling of gratitude for the benefit I received from the use of Athlophoros, a medicine of genuine worth; being afflicted with that common but painful disease, inflammatory rheumatism, and being laid up because my feet were so swollen I could not stand up, I commenced using Athlophoros. Before half of the first bottle was used I was able to walk to my store. I continued to use it until in a short while my rheumatism disappeared entirely, the cure complete. I recommend Athlophoros because I know it to be an article of merit.

93 Prince St. FRANK SCHILLER.

If you cannot get ATHLOPHOROS of your druggist, we will send it express paid, on receipt of regular price—one dollar per bottle. We prefer that you buy it from your druggist, but if he hasn't it, do not be persuaded to try something else, but order at once from us, as directed. ATHLOPHOROS Co., 112 Wall Street, New York.

ON THE WHITE-HOUSE GROUNDS.

An Old Custom at the National Capital—An Annual Lesson.

There are just two days in the year when one may see true Democracy at the White House. One is on New Year's Day, when the people of all classes, colors and conditions shake hands with the president, and for an hour or two take possession of the state parlors with an air of ownership that makes them the proprietors, for the time, of the executive mansion. The other day is Easter Monday, when the children own the White House grounds for the entire day. It is a very old custom at the national capital, and a very pretty picture. But its social phases have given the picture character and interest beyond the mere fun of rolling colored eggs. "Befo' the wah" the children were all white, and pretty nearly all of the same class. The change has been somewhat graded.

Now the supreme equality on Easter Monday takes in the blackest, the direst, the raggedest urchin of the back street or alley. Egg rolling is a curious leveller, or, perhaps, powerful elevator is the better expression. It lifts this same urchin up to the condition of self-respect, and he feels himself to be "just as good as anybody else." Indeed, he forgets that he is a black, dirty, or ragged, and that his front yard for the other 364 days is the alley. So they troop in by the hundreds to the White House grounds, all classes, conditions, and colors. They are of all ages, from babies in carts, pushed by nurses, on up through the years like steps, with big boys and girls at the top.

They have no use for the policeman who warns them to "keep off the grass" every other day in the year, and they regard that guardian of the law with lofty indifference. The grass belongs to them on Easter Monday. They revel in the right to run and jump, kick up their heels, pelt and pound it, and sow it with egg shells before his face and eyes. He dare not remonstrate, and they enjoy his helplessness. The next day is a great cleaning up day by the gardeners, who go about patiently, and, of course, uncomplainingly, to rake and sweep up the debris of eggs, paper, and wrecked luncheons.

Custom has made it the fashion for parents, friends and visitors to go as lookers-on, and the president, whoever he may be, spends much of the time on Easter Monday looking out of the window, and smiles over the games of "ring round rosy" and "snap the whip." Easter Monday at the white house grounds is an education. The children of the rich learn what is not to be found in their books. It is an annual lesson of possibility to the ragamuffin, who there sees how small the world is, after all, and that even he may have his share if he chooses to become worthy of it.—Washington Cor. New York Sun.

Studies of the Human Ear.

The best place to study the ear is in a street car. There is the chance to observe in almost one sweep of the eye ungainly ears, musical and unmusical ears, and graceful curves and symmetrical proportions in ears. As a rule, musicians, having intelligent minds and refined natures, will have the most perfectly formed ears. Hence the ear has a three-fold meaning: It is a useful organ, an object of beauty, and a sign of character. Men and women of very strong and active passions are apt to have ears in full blossom the year round—something like an old toper's nose. In judging character from the color of the ear, however, due allowance must be made for the natural complexion of the person. If the hair is red or auburn and the face florid, why the ear will naturally be of the same color. A little observation and critical discrimination will enable any one to distinguish between ears of healthy color and those made red by the indulgence and excitements of the appetites and passions. Allowance must also be made for very sensitive and blushing people, because some blush in their ears, as well as in their faces, and if you were to judge of them by the color of their ears at that moment, you would do them an injustice. It is the general color you must be guided by, and it must always be remembered that the ears of some persons have too much color and others too little. Very large ears may indicate a large-hearted, generous nature or proclaim a human donkey.

Small ears, as a rule, belong to people of feeble minds (not idiotic), foolish or small and mean in nature, as well as in mental powers. But in judging from the ear, the face and head should be taken into consideration with it, and especially should the shape, thickness and color of the ear be considered in connection with its size. One thing is certain, and that is, the well rounded ear is associated with a love for music, and the more finely formed the ear, the more refined the nature of the person, and consequently, the more artistical its musical taste, sense and perception.—Baltimore American.

Curious Way to Aid the Memory.

Judge Ranney, of Massachusetts, who has been conducting the Panel-ectric investigation, has jumped into national prominence. He is known in Boston as one of the most noted lawyers in New England. A friend of his tells me that he can make $100,000 a year at his practice, and that he is inspired with the genius of the law. He has a wonderful faculty of carrying all the points of a case in his head. You may mix up a mass of testimony into a hodge podge made up of irrelevancies, and pour it into Ranney's brain. As soon as it

Make Haste to Defend Yourself

If you live in a locality where malaria is prevalent, with a preventive that experience indicates as the most reliable of medical safe-guards—Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. Entirely free from the objections—and they are valid ones—which attach to the mineral alkaloid quinine, it is far more effective, and its effects are not evanescent, but lasting, unlike those of the drug. There are portions of our land—and none more beautiful and more fertile—which at no season of the year are entirely exempt from the malarial scourge. In such regions Hostetter's Stomach Bitters has undergone a continuous test for the past thirty years, with results which have established its reputation beyond all cavil as a special defense against every form of malarial disease. For biliousness, also, it is an acknowledged specific, and it is a potent remedy for constipation, dyspepsia, rheumatism and an impoverished condition of the blood.

Elbridge G. Scribner, a farmer of Deerfield was taken before Justice Haseltom of Suncook by Col. Marvin, president of the N. H. S. P. C. A., for tearing a horse's tongue out by the roots, and then shockingly beating the poor creature with a stake. The ruffian was held in $400 for the supreme court.

Whether on land or at sea, on the prairie or in the crowded city, Ayer's Pills are the best cathartic, being convenient, efficacious and safe. For torpid liver, indigestion and sick headache, they never fail.

At an informal meeting of prominent citizens of Dover, May 20th, resolutions strongly urging our government to take energetic action in the fishery matter were adopted.

There is no danger to human life more to be dreaded than that which arises from vitiated blood. Dyspepsia, rheumatism, headache, and general debility, all result from it, and are cured by the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla. Take it this month. Six bottles, $5.

Norcross Bros. of Boston, builders and contractors, have withdrawn from an agreement made by their agent with the striking carpenters for a nine hours' day, and the firm will stand by the Master Builders' association for ten hours.

Colonel John B. Folsom, grandfather of Miss Frances C. Folsom, whom it is said President Cleveland is to marry, died May 19th at Folsomdale, Erie county, New York. He has been an invalid for several years. The friends of the president say the death will probably delay the ceremony some days, and that it will without doubt prevent any public ceremony. A gentleman from Wyoming county says Miss Folsom will fall heir to nearly $1,000,000 by the grandfather's death. The estate in Nebraska in which he held half an interest is valued at $750,000.

is very prevalent at this season, the symptoms being bitter taste, offensive breath, coated tongue, sick headache, drowsiness, dizziness, loss of appetite. If this condition is allowed to continue, serious consequences may result. By promptly taking Hood's Sarsaparilla, a fever may be avoided or premature death prevented. It is a positive cure for biliousness. Sold by all druggists.

An appraisal of the estate of the late Henry P. Kidder of Boston, as presented to the probate court, shows a total of $2,180,624, of which $1,931,224 is in personal, and $249,400 in real estate.

Box Capacity.

A box 8x8 inches and 8 inches deep contains a peck. A box 24x17 inches and 28 inches deep contains a barrel. A box 14 inches long, 10 inches broad and 12 inches high contains 12 bottles of the G. O. Taylor Bourbon or Rye Whiskey, and when you buy it safely in your sideboard, you can just rely on having the one absolutely pure liquor that your druggist or grocer can procure and sell you. It is owned by C. H. Graves & Sons, Boston, and is guaranteed as the very best and purest.

For sale by the bottle or case by John Laighton.

A Job.

It is stated that the secretary of the navy proposes to contract for all the coal required for the use of the navy with one contractor, and not invite separate bids for the delivering of amounts required at different stations. Of course this will reduce competition to a ring of a few leading companies, who can freeze out,—if this is a proper term regarding this commodity,—all lesser bidders, and divide the plunder with the originators of the scheme. But as we have before remarked, this is a reform government. Our brethren of the democratic press would have felt a poverty of language in expressing their indignation if such a job had been devised under a republican administration.

A Happy Expedient.

One after another of the expedients of the late administration, after careful consideration by the present powers, becomes embraced as an established custom. It has been said that at times, during the dinners at the White House, a somewhat solemn silence has ensued when cheerful hilarity would have better been enjoyed. Recently, a dinner factotum suggested to one of the guests that in President Arthur's time a good deal of amusement had been derived at the White House dinners, over the "decisions" of the First Comptroller of the Treasury. Every one knows that it is part of the lex non scripta that the office of first comptroller should be filled by a crank, and the present administration has made no effort to disregard this time-honored custom, save to discuss in cabinet meeting how the present incumbent could be unloaded and where he could be placed. The idea of amusing the guests at a dinner party with excerpts from an official dogma is by no means original. But government in its administration is quite ready to accept a precedent. A lot of the newly-fledged decision of this officer were sent for, and the enjoyment derived from these Dogberrian recitals is said to have been unsurpassed by any previous attempt at cheerfulness within the banquet hall, where have at times sat some of the best raconteurs of this jolly people.

The Carpenters' Strike in Boston Ended.

The Boston Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners assembled on Thursday evening, the 20th inst., to the number of 2500 or 3000 in Columbia skating rink, to hold a mass meeting. In the absence of President Shields, George R. Rathmell presided. He stated in opening the meeting that the result of the strike had not shaken the confidence of the carpenters in their union. He then stated briefly that it was his duty to tell the meeting that they would discontinue the struggle, and acknowledge their defeat. "If any of the employers are here," said he, "I hope their sleep will be lighter to-night for this victory. I hope the blush of shame will mantle their cheeks when they think that they have been able to tread on the sons of toil. But you have won a barren victory over us—one you will pay dearly for. You have lost the confidence of the men, and you will not reap the reward you anticipate." Referring to Norcross Bros., he said: "The master builders boycotted them; but they kick if we organize and boycott those who do not act with us." He closed by saying: "The men who go to work must not forget their unfortunate brothers who will not get employment." Mr. Rathmell was followed by Messrs. Carlton, McNeill and Cherrington, all of whom lauded the men for their firmness, and the good order they had maintained during the strike. The speakers exhorted the workmen to stand by their organization, and not to surrender their right to combine and defend their rights against capitalists and oppressors. They were advised to go back to their work on Monday morning, the 24th, resolved to stand by their union, and that by so doing they would finally attain the ends for which they have striven.

Concerning the other building trades it was stated on the 21st that "The painters have not yet given in, but about 900 out of 1200 of them have gone to work either for themselves or have left the city. The bricklayers occupy the same position that they have ever since the strike began."

"Making Haste."

A Washington despatch of May 20th says: "The state department is making haste to obtain full information in regard to the seizure of the fishing schooners. As soon as detailed information is received from our consuls it will be heard before Congress. The matter will also be at once referred to the British government. Congressman Boutelle called at the state department this morning with a private telegram received by him, reporting the refusal by the customs authorities at Digby to allow the American schooner Jennie & Julia to buy herring for any purpose whatever. Mr. Boutelle was told that the department would make immediate inquiry. The session of the cabinet today, which was somewhat longer than usual, was mainly devoted to the consideration of the Canadian fishery troubles. Action was postponed, it is understood, in order to await the receipt of more definite and detailed information from Consul-General Phelan at Halifax in regard to the seizure of the American vessels Adams and Doughty."

A despatch from St. Peters, Cape Breton, May 20th, reported the Provincetown schooner Louise A. Grant, Hatch master, to be in there "shipping a crew in violation of the treaty. She will probably be seized."

The first boat to be transported from the beach to smooth water outside the line of surf by means of the new marine cradle invented for that purpose, was successfully launched on the 19th inst. at Old Orchard, Messrs. C. H. Fiske of the Hotel Fiske, Frank Staples of the Sea-Shore house, and a boatman named Bunker, going out in her. More than an average surf was running at the time. Another trial will be made next week.

The Eastern railroad station at Salmon Falls was burglarized on the night of the 19th inst., but as the lightest package to be found there was a barrel of ale, the burglar carried nothing off. A tramp was arrested on suspicion, but he gave conclusive proof that he boarded a freight train at Boston on the evening of the 19th, and remained on it until six o'clock next morning, when he was discovered and kicked off at Conway junction, and then walked to Salmon Falls, where he was arrested on his arrival; so he was discharged.

THE BEST

boon ever bestowed upon man is perfect health, and the true way to insure health is to purify your blood with Ayer's Sarsaparilla. Mrs. Eliza A. Clough, 34 Arlington st., Lowell, Mass., writes: "Every winter and spring my family, including myself, use several bottles of Ayer's Sarsaparilla. Experience has convinced me that, as a powerful purifier, it is very much superior to any other preparation of Sarsaparilla. All persons of scrofulous or consumptive tendencies, and especially delicate children, are sure to be greatly benefited by its use." J. W. Starr, Laconia, Iowa, writes: "For years I was troubled with Scrofulous complaints. I tried several different preparations, which did me little, if any, good. Two bottles of Ayer's Sarsaparilla effected a complete cure. It is my opinion that this medicine is the best blood of the day." C. E. Upton, Nashua, N. H., writes: "For a number of years I was troubled with a humor in my eyes, and unable to obtain relief until I commenced using Ayer's Sarsaparilla. I have taken several bottles, am greatly benefited, and believe it to be the best of blood purifiers." R. Harris, Creel City, Ramsey Co., Dakota, writes: "I have been an intense sufferer, with Dyspepsia, for the past three years. Six months ago I began to use

AYER'S Sarsaparilla

It has effected an entire cure, and I am now as well as ever."

A Great Victory

A Terrible Case of Scrofula Cured by

Hood's Sarsaparilla

"In the winter of 1879 I was attacked with Scrofula in one of the most aggravating forms. At one time I had no less than thirteen large abscesses over and around my neck and throat, continually exuding an offensive mass of bloody matter disgusting to behold, and almost intolerable to endure. It is impossible to fully describe my sufferings, as the case was complicated with Chronic Catarrh. After three years of misery, having been treated by three physicians, I was worse than ever. Finally, on the recommendation of W. J. Huntley, druggist, of Lockport, I was induced to try Hood's Sarsaparilla. And now, after having taken twelve bottles, within the last twelve months, the scrofulous eruptions have entirely ceased, and the abscesses have all disappeared, except the unsightly scars, which are daily becoming smaller by degrees, and beautifully less." I do not know what it may have done for others, but I do know that in my case, Hood's Sarsaparilla has proved an effective specific indeed. As an evidence of my gratitude I send these facts unsolicited, and I am ready to verify the authenticity of this cure, by personal correspondence with any one who doubts it." CHARLES A. ROBERTS, East Wilson, N. Y.

This statement is confirmed by W. J. Huntley, druggist, of Lockport, N. Y., who calls the cure a great victory for Hood's Sarsaparilla. Send for book giving statements of many cures.

A FORMER MASONIC CELEBRATION.

The last public celebration of St. John's day by the Freemasons of this city was in 1855, thirty-one years ago. In view of the celebration to be held here next St. John's day, a few of the particulars of the former celebration, taken from the Morning Chronicle of Tuesday, June 26th, 1855, may be of interest to our readers of the fraternity.

As the 24th that year fell upon Sunday, the celebration was held on Saturday, the 23d. The first body of Masons to arrive was a delegation of about two hundred from Portland, accompanied by the Portland brass band; and before eleven o'clock more than 700 Masons were in line, comprised in the following Masonic bodies:

Encampments of Knights Templar—De Molay, of Boston; Trinity, of Manchester, and De Witt Clinton, of this city.

Royal Arch Chapters—Washington, of Salem; King Cyrus, of Newburyport; York, of Saco; and Washington, of this city.

Lodges of Free and Accepted Masons—Liberty, of Beverly; Grecian, of Lawrence; Warren, of Amesbury; Jordan, of Danvers; Essex, of Salem; King Solomon, of Charlestown; St. John's, of Newburyport; York, of Kennebunk; Saco, of Saco; Portland, of Portland; Libanus, of Great Falls; Rising Sun, of Nashua; Strafford, of Dover; Blazing Star of Concord; St. John's, and St. Andrew's, of this city; and the Most Worshipful Grand Lodge of New Hampshire,—all under the marshalship of Bro. Henry F. Wendell, with Bros. Alex. H. Rowe and Emery A. Dresser as aids.

Four full bands of music were in the procession, from Portland, Dover, Salem and Lawrence; escort duty was performed by De Molay Encampment of Boston, their officers being mounted.

The procession started at twelve o'clock and marched to the Universalist church, where after the opening services an address was delivered by R. W. Bro. John H. Sheppard of Boston. The music was under the direction of Mr. James H. Head, assisted by Prof. J. W. Clark.

After the services at the church the procession reformed and marched to Jefferson hall, where the dinner was served, the Most Worshipful Grand Master of New Hampshire, Hon. Ichabod G. Jordan of Great Falls, presiding, assisted by Bro. Timothy G. Senter as toast master. Jefferson hall was beautifully decorated with flags from the United States frigate Constitution. Tables were laid in Congress hall and the Rockingham house, for those who could not be accomodated at Jefferson hall. This was the largest and most brilliant celebration that had ever been held by the fraternity in New Hampshire up to that time.

The committee of arrangements were Bros. Alexander H. Rowe, William H. Sise, William P. Walker, Nathaniel K. Raynes, William Conn, Moses R. Hall and Andrew J. Hill; and it is worthy of note that they are all now living, as are also the chief marshal of the day and his two aids.

A DISAPPOINTMENT.

When the adjourned meeting of the Eastern railroad stockholders was held in Boston on the 1st inst., none of the city papers had reporters present, as it was known that no business would be transacted other than another adjournment, which was taken to June 1st, but was reported in one Boston paper as being to May 20th. No other paper reported it at all, so the erroneous statement was copied far and wide, and led several hundred lady stockholders to proceed to the station in this city on Thursday morning last to go to Boston, the information then supplied by the railroad men sending most of them home again, though some went on and paid fares.

Those who were "sold" in this city will of course be pleased to learn that they were not alone. The Dover Democrat says that "a good many stockholders, or those holding stock certificates, and hailing from Great Falls, Berwick, North Berwick, South Berwick and Rollinsford came as far as Dover by the early morning train, and were informed here of the adjournment and that certificates were no good. Many went through, paying their fare, while several got off and went back to their respective homes by the next train for the east. They were sadly disappointed."

CIRCUIT COURT OF THE UNITED STATES--CLARK J.

FRIDAY, May 21st.

In case Morey vs. Sohier appellant, in order for hearing to-day before Justices Gray and Colt, the counsel filed a stipulation that case be heard in brief. Ray for Morey; Copeland & Edgerly for Sohier.

A despatch from Portland states that the judges will be in court on Saturday at eleven o'clock A. M.

THE NIPSIC.

The U. S. S. Nipsic, which sailed from Montevideo, Uruguay, March 7th, for Hampton roads, has not yet arrived, nor has anything been heard from her since she started. She was seventy-five days out on the 21st inst., her non-arrival causing considerable anxiety to persons who have friends or relatives on board her.

The vessel is several weeks overdue, but not so much as some papers have stated; she is not a particularly fast sailer, and probably when she started her bottom was not in the best condition for speed, so that fifty days would not have been a bad passage for her to make.

She is one of the small third-rates, 615 tons, 1375 tons displacement, of the same size as the Enterprise, Alliance, Adams and Essex, carries six guns, and is officered as follows: Commander William Star Dana, of New York, commanding; lieutenant-commander, George C. Reiter of Pennsylvania; lieutenant, Conway H. Arnold of New Jersey; lieutenant, Charles H. Clark of Iowa; lieutenant, junior grade, Edward J. Dorn of Missouri; ensign, Horace W. Harrison of the District of Columbia; ensign, W. G. Richardson of Massachusetts; surgeon, Howard Smith of California; paymaster, Henry T. Wright of Wisconsin; chief engineer, Robert B. Hine of the District of Columbia; assistant engineer, Edward H. Scribner of Massachusetts.

Paymaster Wright is well and favorably known here, having been for several years on duty at this navy yard. There is only one Portsmouth man in the ship, so far as we are aware,—Mr. G. Horace Dame, who is a machinist.

While the ship is making a very long passage, and has probably met with some mishap, there is no special reason to suppose she has been lost. The South American steamers have reported light and unfavorable winds as prevailing for a long time, but no great storms have occurred, so far as is known, where she would have been likely to meet them. Very likely her engine has broken down, and she is creeping home under sail alone.

MUNICIPAL AFFAIRS.

At the meeting of the Common Council on Thursday evening, the bill sent down from the board of aldermen for tranfer of appropriations was concurred in under suspension of the rules. The joint resolution, authorizing the sale of the almshouse and city farm, and of a part of the city's stock in the Portsmouth & Dover railroad, received from the board of aldermen, were referred to the committee on bills on their second reading. The annual appropriation bill was referred to the same committee. A motion to adjourn was talked about—a motion to adjourn, by the way, being "always in order, and not debatable," while it is customary for appropriation bills to originate in the "lower house." The council adjourned to its regular meeting.

RUNAWAY.

Friday afternoon about two o'clock, Mayor Eldredge's driving horse, attached to a buggy, became frightened while standing on Congress street near the North church, and ran away. He made his way through Pleasant, Court and Middle streets to Congress street, where he collided with one of the heavy teams belonging to the Eldredge Brewing company, and cleared himself from the buggy, leaving all but the shafts on the spot, and continued his run down the street to the Parade, where he stopped, not far from his starting point.

The collection made in Dover for the Irish parliamentary fund amounted to $1,435. Among the large subscriptions were $50 by Hon. Frank Jones and $25 by Hon. Marcellus Eldredge.

Mr. Charles H. Hayes reports that on Thursday last nineteen well-appearing men applied at the Hayes farm at different times for employment, only one of the nineteen having ever had any experience at farming. They nearly all had trades, and were thrown out of work by the strikes.

William J. Copeland arrived in this city from Florida direct on Friday morning. Mr. Copeland has the appearance of a landed proprietor of the orange grove region. He left for Great Falls in the afternoon.

Mr. C. B. Littlefield of Manchester advertises pointer pups of "Sensation" strain for sale.

The Massachusetts legislature declines to give the Boston & Lowell railroad a charter for a competing line from Boston to Salem.

From 115 lbs. to 161 lbs.

To the Cuticura Remedies I owe My Health, My Happiness, and My Life.

A day never passes that I do not think and speak kindly of the CUTICURA REMEDIES. Seven years ago, all of a dozen lumps formed on my neck, ranging in size from a cherry stone to an orange. The large ones were frightful to look at, and painful to bear; people turned aside when they saw me, in disgust, and I was ashamed to be on the street or in society. Physicians and their treatment, and all medicines failed to do any good. In a moment of despair I tried the CUTICURA REMEDIES—CUTICURA, the great Skin Cure, and CUTICURA SOAP, an exquisite Skin Beautifier, externally, and CUTICURA RESOLVENT, the new Blood Purifier, internally; the small lumps (as I call them) gradually disappeared, and the large ones broke, in about two weeks, discharging large quantities of matter, leaving two slight scars in my neck to-day to tell the story of my suffering. My weight then was one hundred and fifteen sickly pounds; my weight now is one hundred and sixty-one solid, healthy pounds, and my height is only five feet five inches. In my grave I praised the CUTICURA REMEDIES, North, South, East, and West. To CUTICURA REMEDIES I OWE MY HEALTH, MY HAPPINESS, AND MY LIFE. A prominent New York druggist asked me the other day, "Do you still use the CUTICURA REMEDIES; you look to be in perfect health?" My reply was, "I do, and shall always. I have never known where diseases lie since I commenced using the CUTICURA REMEDIES." Sometimes I am laughed at by praising them to people not acquainted with their merits, but sooner or later they will come to their senses and believe the same as those that use them, as dozens have written I have told. May the time come when there shall be a large CUTICURA Supply House in every city in the world, for the benefit of humanity, where the CUTICURA REMEDIES shall be sold ONLY, so that there will be rarely a need of ever entering a drug store.

Sneezing Catarrh.

The distressing sneeze, sneeze, sneeze, the acrid, watery discharges from the eyes and nose, the painful inflammation extending to the throat, the swelling of the mucous lining, causing choking sensations, cough, ringing noises in the head and splitting headaches,—how familiar these symptoms are to thousands who suffer periodically from head colds or influenza, and who live in ignorance of the fact that a single application of SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE FOR CATARRH will afford instantaneous relief.

But this treatment in cases of simple Catarrh gives but a faint idea of what this remedy will do in the chronic forms, where the breathing is obstructed by choking, putrid mucous accumulations, the hearing affected, small hard balls gone, throat ulcerated and hacking cough gradually fastening itself upon the debilitated system. Then it is that the marvellous curative powers of SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE manifests itself in instantaneous and grateful relief. Cure begins from the first application. It is rapid, radical, permanent, economical, safe.

gets there it becomes filtered. The refuse and irrelevant things vanish, and order comes out of the chaos. Each fact seems to drop into its proper class, and out of nothing comes an analytic whole. Judge Ranney has a curious way of aiding his memory. When he is looking up a case and reading the papers in it he notices nothing going on around him, and when he comes to a point which he wants to remember, he writes it down on a piece of paper. He does not keep the paper or pay any attention to it. The writing of it down fixes it as indelibly in his mind as though he had stenciled it upon his brain. After he has been reading through the different parts of the house you may find his footprints in the notes of memoranda on the members' desks at which he has been sitting. He makes notes any place and always leaves them just where he makes them.—"Carp" in Cleveland Leader.

Poisonous Dust in the Throat.

Recent experiments have determined the existence of veins in connection with the bronchial glands. It is, therefore, easy to conjecture how foreign particles may be carried into the general circulation and set up disease in remote organs. Another reason is thus furnished, if any other were necessary, for insisting on the thorough cleansing and watering of the streets. The dust of city streets abounds in animal life, and the molecular activity of these organisms varies according to the height at which the dust is collected. Unfortunately, five feet is the height at which they are most active, about on a level with an ordinary foot-passenger's mouth. Thus these moving organisms are always in waiting to be devoured before our very faces. In this manner many diseases doubtless propagate themselves, and the history of plagues and pestilences in cities seems divested of some of its mysteries.—Chicago News.

The Rising and Sinking of Balloons.

How slight an influence will move spherical balloons floating in space is known by the fact that the addition or subtraction of but a few pounds will cause a considerable rising or sinking. M. Lefevre, the president of the British Balloon Society, has stated that from his personal experience he knew the release of but one pigeon to have caused a small balloon to rise 100 feet, and Mr. Simmons, in the interesting account of his attempt to cross the channel in March, 1882, says that when over Shakespeare's cliff, at an altitude of 500 feet he rose to 1,900 by merely throwing overboard ten pounds of ballast. Hence it is reasonable to believe that with a conoidically ended, long, cylindrical navigable, great speed could be obtained without using much horse-power.—Blackwood's Magazine.

The Oscillations of Tall Chimneys.

Exact measurements of the oscillations of chimneys have been made. One near Marseilles, France—115 feet high and four feet in external diameter at the top—reached a maximum oscillation of twenty inches during a high wind.—Boston Budget.

A New Tonic for Women.

One of the largest concerns of this country, which has made its prosperity and fame upon a common sense view of the sanitary needs of the people, is the Duffy Malt Whiskey Co., Baltimore, Md., the discoverers of the Duffy pure malt whiskey, the only absolutely pure whiskey manufactured, the medicinal virtues of which have proved it to be in a very brief period, not only the most popular, but an unfailing specific for the worst diseases which afflict mankind. So great has been their success in this line, they have consented, upon a general demand from persons acquainted with and using the whiskey, to make further application of the medicinal virtues and purity of their great discovery in the treatment of diseases of a peculiar and delicate nature common to women, and upon the prescription of a learned physician have prepared an article for this purpose. This new remedy, known as Duffy's Tower Mint Cure, is an invaluable tonic, the principal ingredients of which are Duffy's pure malt whiskey and mint, combining the best recognized curative agencies for the relief of pain and distress in the performance of the menstrual functions, and as an aid to nursing mothers in the discharge of maternal duties without fatigue. In like manner it ensures safety in the change of life and alleviates and cures flintiness, melancholy, morning sickness and the troubles of pregnancy, while it assimilates with the blood and strengthens every organ. The purity of the ingredients and their health-giving qualities, compounded in accordance with the best medical law, renders this preparation strictly reliable, and it is only upon such a basis of confidence that it is issued by the above firm. It has already been extensively introduced through the medium of the company's publications, and there is quite a demand for it.

All inquiries concerning the use of this new remedy, in its application to the relief of the complaints referred to, will be answered by the Medical Department connected with this concern, upon receipt of a statement of case, accompanied by a two-cent postage stamp.

Proposals for Bonds.

SEALED proposals will be received at the office of the Treasurer of the Portsmouth Machine Company, in Portsmouth, N. H., until two o'clock, P. M. of June 14th, 1886, for the whole or any part of an issue of $75,000 of the bonds of said Machine company.

These bonds are a series of one hundred and fifty bonds of $500 each, secured by a duly executed deed of trust to Edward P. Kimball, Marcellus Eldredge and Charles H. Mendum, as trustees for the holders of said bonds. These bonds bear interest at the rate of five per cent per annum, payable semi-annually on the first days of April and October on presentation of coupon at the First National Bank of Portsmouth, N. H., the principal payable in ten years, and due in twenty years after date, and the bonds are dated April 1st, 1886. The right to reject any and all bids is reserved.

BENTON'S HAIR GROWER.

All who are BALD, all who are becoming BALD, all who do not want to be BALD, all who are troubled with DANDRUFF, or ITCHING of the scalp; should use Benton's Hair Grower. EIGHTY PER CENT of those using it have grown hair. It never fails to stop the hair from falling. Through sickness and fevers the hair sometimes falls in a short time, and although the person may have remained bald for years, if you use Benton's Hair Grower according to directions you are sure of a growth of hair. In hundreds of cases we have produced a good growth of Hair on those who have been bald and glazed for years, we have fully substantiated the following facts:

We grow Hair in 80 cases out of 100, no matter how long bald.

Unlike other preparations, it contains no sugar of lead, or vegetable or mineral poisons.

It is a specific for falling hair, dandruff, and itching of the scalp.

The Hair Grower is a hair food, and its composition is almost exactly like the oil which supplies the hair with its vitality.

DOUBLE AND TRIPLE STRENGTH.

A Public Benefaction.

How to laundry linen as it is done in Troy, N. Y., has been kept a secret long enough; it can and should be done in every family. The Elastic Starch is the only starch in the United States that is put up by men who have a practical knowledge of the laundry profession. It requires no cooking, keeps the iron from sticking and linen from blistering while ironing, and gives shirts, cuffs and collars that stiffness and beautiful polish they have when new, which, everybody knows keeps them clean twice as long. Beware of imitations. See that the name J. C. HUBINGER & BRO., New Haven, Conn., is on every package.

Why go about with backache, sore muscles, aching sides or weak parts. A Hop Plaster cures.

The striking painters of Boston on Friday followed the carpenters in voting to return to work on the old system of hours and wages. The plumbers still held out. The operative tailors decided to go back to the shops on Monday morning, the 24th.

Hop Plasters are made from pure and reliable medicinal agents. Cure aches, pains, weak parts.

The house has passed the bill to protect mackerel during the spawning season for a period of five years from the first of March, 1887. Carter's Little Liver Pills have no equal as a prompt and positive cure for sick headache, biliousness, constipation, pain in the side, and all liver troubles. Try them.

The remains of Capt. James Twombly of Durham, who died in that town shortly before midnight on the night of the 13th inst., at the age of eighty-six years, were taken to Kennebunk, Me., for interment, as was also the body of his wife, Mrs. Sally R. Twombly, who died about three minutes after her husband, at the age of seventy-six.

Carter's Little Liver Pills must not be confounded with common Cathartic or Purgative Pills as they are entirely unlike them in every respect. One trial will prove their superiority.

Cummings' shoe factory at South Berwick, employing 350 hands, has shut down, because the Lasters' union submitted a new list of prices which the proprietors refused to agree to, on which the lasters struck. A considerable number of the employes left last week for Massachusetts to look for work.

A Burglar Captured.

This morning about two o'clock, John Wood, the well known plumber who resides on Main street, was awakened by hearing glass break. On getting out of bed he received a blow on the head. He immediately grappled with the burglar, and after a terrible struggle succeeded in holding him until his wife obtained help. On being searched at the station, Mr. Wood's watch and wallet was found on his person. He gave the name of Robert Terry. The broken glass proved to be a bottle of Sulphur Bitters which had almost cured Mrs. Wood of rheumatism. —Exchange.

J. R. Taylor of Kennebunk Depot undertook to burn some waste material, and the fire went beyond his control and burned over about twenty-five acres of land, and also destroyed ten cords of dry wood.

Scott's Emulsion of Pure Cod Liver Oil, with Hypophosphites.

Amos Paul, Esq., and family, of South Newmarket, have arrived home from a trip to California.

THE HOPE OF NEW ENGLAND.

The last census is not altogether pleasant reading in many portions for the sons of New England, but it conveys lessons which they cannot afford to ignore. If it tells that Maine and Vermont stood stationary as regards populations between 1870 and 1880, it also records the rapid growth and prosperity of many cities and towns which are beginning to tread upon the heels of older communities. It seems to say that to manufactures, not to agriculture, must New England apply herself, and that to the skill of her artisans must she look for her old-time supremacy. This changed condition of affairs is recognized in many enterprising cities, a good example of which may be found in Waterbury, the bustling Connecticut city upon the Naugatuck that is so rapidly coming to the front as a manufacturing center. Waterbury has wide-awake citizens who take every opportunity to push it and to welcome new ideas. The advantage of such a progressive spirit is well shown in the case of G. W. Angell, who lives at No. 204 South Main street, Waterbury, and who gives this personal experience:

"For twenty years I have suffered tortures from chronic rheumatism. The doctors said I was incurable, but thanks to Athlophoros, I have now taken a new lease on life. I had tried numerous remedies with the hope of at least allaying my suffering, but all failed until a friend advised me to try Athlophoros. I did so, and as the result am now looking and feeling as though I had never known what rheumatism was."

Mrs. E. Vickers, of No. 46 Pleasant street, says:

"It is owing to Athlophoros that I am now alive. I suffered with inflammatory rheumatism for years, most of the time being perfectly helpless. One bottle of Athlophoros cured me. I can sincerely say that there is nothing like it for the speedy relief and permanent cure of rheumatism and can recommend it to all suffering from that disease."

The testimony is reinforced by that of Mrs. Jane Downey, of No. 24 Pleasant street, a near neighbor of Mrs. Vicker's, in this story of her case:

"Two bottles of Athlophoros cured me of inflammatory rheumatism. My family physician advised me to take the remedy, saying that he had done all he could for me, but could give me no relief. Athlophoros drove the rheumatism away, and I am happy to say that it has never come back. My daughter, who suffered terribly from rheumatism, was also cured by taking half a bottle of the medicine."

If you cannot get ATHLOPHOROS of your druggist, we will send it express paid, on receipt of regular price—one dollar per bottle. We prefer that you buy it from your druggist, but if he hasn't it, do not be persuaded to try something else, but order at once from us as directed. ATHLOPHOROS CO., 112 Wall Street, New York.

HANDLE YOUR MONEY CAREFULLY.

One of the Channels Through Which Disease May be Disseminated.

In the numerous speculations as to the variety of ways and channels through which the germs of contagious disease may be disseminated, there is one to which but little or no importance has thus far been attached, but which, nevertheless, probably plays an important role. We refer to that universal circulating medium—money. It passes impartially from the hand of the millionaire into that of the beggar, constantly circulating through every class and condition of society. The person of fastidious tastes, who will turn from his path rather than risk coming into actual contact with others of uncleanly dress or person will receive, handle and carry in his pocket without the slightest symptoms of disgust, or perhaps without giving it a thought, money that has thousands of times passed through hands or reposed in pockets whose contact he would deem to be pollution.

In respect to the dangers that may arise from this cause, paper money is undoubtedly more to be feared than coin, and the indescribably filthy appearance of much of that which is seen in circulation is familiar to all who read this. That the handling of such nasty stuff is often fraught with serious danger, no sensible person can doubt. It would be well if the system said to be in vogue in certain countries of Europe, of destroying every note that comes into the banks and issuing new ones in their stead were practiced with us, though even this would only to some extent lessen and not do away with the danger.

But though paper currency is the most to be feared on the score of communicating disease, coin is by no means free from danger of the same kind. It has been shown that the blackish coating, which may be seen in the recesses and in the milled edges of coins that have been in circulation for a short time, consists of organic filth which when introduced into distilled water and examined under the microscope was found to be swarming with bacteria and fungi.

We are not sanguine enough to expect that our readers shall decline to touch or handle the stuff, for the reasons here pointed out, but we can not refrain from uttering our protest against the unutterable nastiness, of which many persons are guilty who would feel themselves deeply insulted at any insinuation of a lack of refinement or good breeding, of placing paper currency or coin in the mouth for temporary convenience, while making change or the like. The most disgusting habit is, singularly enough, confined almost exclusively to womankind, and is an act of thoughtlessness which, if any who read this ever practiced, we feel sure they will never do again.—Manufacturer and Builder.

Happiness of an American Farmer.

European writers are constantly mystified by the climatic anomalies of the North American continent. M. Hippolyte Taine, the French Macaulay, once contrasted the misery of a Paris slum alley drudge with the happiness of an American farmer grazing his herds in the palm-groves shading the banks of the Ohio. Now a German enthusiast extols Milwaukee as that "beauteous lake city in the latitude of Venice," suggesting orange gardens and Venetian nights. It must puzzle such eulogists to account for the thousands of Scandinavians who seem to feel at home on the prairies of that blest summerland.—Dr. Felix L. Oswald.

When the Boy Fell Down-Stairs.

Horace was standing in the upper hall one day doing something which his mother disapproved of and ordered stopped. He continued at it after one or two prohibitions, and finally she started toward him. He darted toward the stairway and down the stairs with such haste that he went two, three and four steps at a time, and landed in a heap on the floor. Gathering himself up, he managed to climb upon a chair, and sat there puffing and panting until his frightened mother reached him, when he was just able to gasp out, "Mother, you oughtn't—to—to—hurry me so!"—Harper's Bazar.

An Incident in Pioneer Life.

An incident in New York pioneer life may show what times were in 1800. "My mother said to her nearest neighbor, a Mrs. Roe, living a mile and a half distant: 'I have got a fleece now, for I have carded the colt and picked the wool out of an old bed quilt and am making stockings.' Mrs. Roe replied: 'So have I got a fleece, for I shaved our dog, and with wool from a bed blanket will soon have a pair of stockings, too.'" A short time after that the whole neighborhood footed it four miles to see two sheep, so great was the sight.—Chicago Herald.

Changing Poor Pine to Walnut.

A striking similarity to black walnut, it is said, can be manufactured from poor pine by the following method: One part of walnut peel extract is mixed with six parts of water, and the wood is coated with the solution. When the material is about half dry, a solution of bichromate of potash with water is rubbed on it, and the walnut is ready. In this way excellent walnut can be made from poor pine, and it is said to defy detection except upon very close examination.—Exchange

Make Haste to Defend Yourself

If you live in a locality where malaria is prevalent, with a preventive that experience indicates as the most reliable of medical safe-guards—Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. Entirely free from the objections—and they are valid ones—which attach to the mineral alkaloid quinine, it is far more effective, and its effects are not evanescent, but lasting, unlike those of the drug. There are portions of our land—and none more beautiful and more fertile—which at no season of the year are entirely exempt from the malarial scourge. In such regions Hostetter's Stomach Bitters has undergone a continuous test for the past thirty years, with results which have established its reputation beyond all cavil as a special defense against every form of malarial disease. For biliousness, also, it is an acknowledged specific, and it is a potent remedy for constipation, dyspepsia, rheumatism and an impoverished condition of the blood.

Claudius B. Patten, cashier of the State national bank of Boston, placed himself in front of an express train on the Old Colony railroad at Savin Hill, Boston, near his residence, Saturday morning, and was cut to pieces. His mind was no doubt deranged from insomnia, with which he had suffered for some time. He was fifty-eight years old, and a native of Kingston, in this county, and was to have started on a carriage trip to that town on the day of his death.

A Beautiful Present.

The Virgin Salt Co., of New Haven, Conn., are making a grand offer. A pair of Doves as natural as life, new design, printed in ten beautiful colors on a fine lithograph card 9x10 inches, given away with Virgin Salt (four certificates) in order to introduce it. For household purpose this salt has no equal. It is the cleanest, purest and whitest salt ever seen or used. Large package costs only ten cents. Ask your grocer for it.

The body of a man with the head and arms gone, was found floating in the harbor of New London, Conn., off Noank lighthouse, May 20th. It was identified by the clothing to be that of Captain Thomas Carroll, first assistant keeper of Race Rock lighthouse, who was drowned while attempting to reach his station from Noank on the 13th of last January.

Numerous testimonials prove beyond a doubt that Allcock's Porous Plasters cure paralysis, nervous debility, and loss of memory when applied to the spine. They remove kidney difficulties when worn on the small of the back; applied to the pit of the stomach, dyspepsia and indigestion disappear. Colds, coughs and asthma no longer trouble the suffering patient when he uses them on the chest. If you have a headache, or want to sleep, put an Allcock's Porous Plaster on the nape of the neck—the work is not only done, but well done. This remedy not only cures ague cake, liver complaint, and malaria, but is a protection against fevers, small pox, or sewer gas.

The barque Batavia and schooner Alice Burnham, from the West Indies for Philadelphia, are missing. Each vessel carried eight men all told, and the captain of the Batavia also had his wife and sister-in-law on board.

The good effects of Ayer's Sarsaparilla on a debilitated person are felt at once, and a cure follows its use.

Malarial poisons contain the germs of dangerous diseases. If these poisons accumulate in the system, typhoid, bilious, intermittent or chill fever is sure to follow. Ayer's Ague Cure is a warranted specific for malaria.

Hon. E. H. Rollins is arranging for a mass meeting at Dover to act upon the matter of the seizure of American fishing vessels by the Canadian authorities. He has telegraphed to Senator Frye of Maine, asking him to come to Dover soon to address the citizens on the fishery question.

Daniel Hemenway, express messenger between Farmington and Dover for Reserve & Co.'s express, disappeared Jan. 2d, 1885. An investigation of the accounts showed a shortage of $1,200. Nothing was heard of him until week before last when he was seen by a Dover man in Boston. City Marshal Fogerty, of Dover, learning this went to Boston to make a search, and arrested Hemenway in Watertown last Friday and brought him to Farmington. Hemenway admits his guilt, and says he bet the amount of his "shortage" on Blaine's election, thinking he was dead sure to win; this story, however, is not believed. He never drank, had a good reputation up to this, and since decamping has resided in Canada, also in the southwest. He was held in $1,000 for trial, and lodged in jail in default of bail.

Three Reasons

Why every one needs, and should take Hood's Sarsaparilla in the spring:—

1st: Because the system is now it its greatest need. Hood's Sarsaparilla gives strength.

2d: Because the blood is sluggish and impure. Hood's Sarsaparilla purifies.

3d: Because, from the above facts, Hood's Sarsaparilla will do a greater amount of good now than at any other time. Take it now.

Is There An "Administration?"

From the apparent satisfaction with which men who have been supposed to be likely to heartily support the Cleveland administration, pitch in and castigate the authorities at Washington for going so slow concerning the fishing interests, we are led to suppose that previous dissatisfaction with the way Mr. Cleveland administers affairs has caused many of his political friends to be ready to condemn him. Just exactly why the administration should be expected to accomplish anything when the party in power shows so little inclination to achieve any result worth mentioning, seems a difficult problem to solve. But it is worthy of note, that the democrats in public meetings and in private "interviews" are by no means reserved in admitting the imbecility and insignificance of the administration in this affair. The government seems to be as passive as if the protection of our fishermen was a duty that could afford to be disregarded.

The Yankee Fishing Skippers.

A despatch of the 21st inst. from Canso, Nova Scotia, says that "scarcely a day passes without seeing one or more American fishing vessels boldly enter Canso harbor and anchor off the custom house. It is believed that while they come here ostensibly for water, their real object is to gain information about bait and ice. They generally make Fox island after leaving Canso, and there purchase all the bait and ice they require. Several vessels have within the last week iced and baited in Chebucto bay, but owing to the extreme precaution taken by the skippers to keep their intentions and the names of their vessels secret, it is very difficult to obtain full particulars. It is not unusual to see American fishing schooners, once the acme of neatness, with sails dangling over their sterns. Whether this is the result of negligence, or whether it is done to cover up the names of vessels, is a matter of doubt. A Gloucester skipper, a native of this country, who was interviewed to-day, treats the cruiser business as a huge joke. 'We can,' he said, 'get all the ice and bait we want right under Captain Scott's nose. Dozens of vessels have done so, and only the Adams has been caught, and she needn't have been had the folks in charge been wide awake. The Lansdowne is absolutely useless, and the schooners are as yet mere phantom ships. We haven't seen them yet, and if we should, there's not a ship sailing from Gloucester that couldn't run away from any of them.' Continuing, he said there was no impediment to Americans procuring all the ice and bait they required in the vicinity of Canso, and pointed in the direction of Fox Island. In reference to Canadian ice and bait, he said: 'We will not be able to make our trips unless we get it, and get it we must at all hazards.' He argued strongly from a Gloucester standpoint, and upon his want of patriotism being pointed out he said: 'If it were not for Gloucester we Nova Scotians would starve. We have been driven out of our own country because of the confederation and subsequent bad government, and in Gloucester we have done well.'"

JEREZ, SPAIN.—The representative of the Liebig Company of New York has closed with the celebrated growers, Messrs. Gonzalez, Byass & Co., for their entire growing of Imperial Crown Sherry. This brand has been the recognized king of wines for centuries, for those out of health. The Liebig company will use it in the preparation of their world renowned Coca Beef Tonics and Coca Wine.

Schooner Agnes E. Downs, Levi Downs master, landed in New York on Thursday of last week eighty barrels of mackerel, which were sold at $2.50 per hundred, by count.

Schooner Albert Woodbury, Capt. Ephraim H. Downs, will sail this week on a seining trip for mackerel.

The schooner Bonita arrived here on Saturday from Provincetown, having on board Capt. Clifford Woodbury; James Burke, mate; Daniel R. Tucker, steward; and John Smart and George Dennin. She had sold in Boston 11,000 lbs. of fish, at prices varying from $1 to $2.50 per hundred pounds.

The schooner D. K. Ham, Garland master, was at Commercial wharf on Sunday, waiting to go on the marine railway at Kittery as soon as the steamer Appledore comes off, to be recaulked.

Herring are schooling very plentifully off this harbor, between Whale's-back and the Isles of Shoals. The fishermen are after them for bait, and some are being captured in the weirs.

The most of the pleasure boats on the river were out on Sunday.

Captain Joseph Jameson last week brought in a halibut weighing nearly 400 pounds.

Capt. Jesse Lewis, owner of the schooner David J. Adams, seized by the Canadian authorities on a charge of having purchased bait at Digby, Nova Scotia, was born in Kittery, Me., and passed his early manhood there, but has resided in Gloucester for forty years.

Rheumatism

It is an established fact that Hood's Sarsaparilla has proven an invaluable remedy in many severe cases of rheumatism, effecting remarkable cures by its powerful action in correcting the acidity of the blood, which is the cause of the disease, and purifying and enriching the vital fluid.

It is certainly fair to assume that what Hood's Sarsaparilla has done for others it will do for you. Therefore, if you suffer the pains and aches of rheumatism, give this potent remedy a fair trial.

A Positive Cure.

"I was troubled very much with rheumatism in my hips, ankles, and wrists. I could hardly walk, and was confined to my bed a good deal of the time. Being recommended to try Hood's Sarsaparilla, I took four bottles and am perfectly well. I cheerfully recommend Hood's Sarsaparilla as one of the best blood purifiers in the world." W. F. Wood, Bloomington, Ill.

For Twenty Years

I have been afflicted with rheumatism. Before 1882 I found no relief, but grew worse. I then began taking Hood's Sarsaparilla, and it did me more good than all the other medicine I ever had." H. T. Balcom, Shirley, Mass.

"I suffered from what the doctors called muscular rheumatism. I took Hood's Sarsaparilla and am entirely cured." J. V. A. Proctor, letter carrier, Chicago, Ill.

CIRCUIT COURT OF THE UNITED STATES.

MAY 22d; Gray and Colt, JJ.

The judges came in at eleven o'clock in the forenoon.

Geo. H. Morey et al. vs. William Sohier appt. Question on remanding the action to the state court. The court intimated that the hearing in the case should await the further action of the state court, before which questions involved are pending, Copeland & Edgerly for Sohier; Ray for Morey.

Welcome Jencks vs. the Langdon Mills and others. Bill in equity on patent No. 168,644, granted the complainant for improvement in spindle bolsters. Opinion by Colt J. The suit being between citizens of the same state, and there appearing to be a subsisting license between the parties, the court has no jurisdiction and the bill must be dismissed in accordance with the decision in Hartwell vs. Tilghman, 99 U. S. 547. H. S. Clark; Wood for compt.; Livermore & Fish for deft.

In Whittemore vs. Amoskeag national bank, in which an appeal was last week taken to the Supreme court of the United States, the briefs were filed in open court.

The court having disposed of this business took a recess, and the judges left on the afternoon express train.

SUICIDE.

George Esterbrook, a man about sixty-five years of age, who has for some time been living with Alfred S. Trafton on North road, was found hanging in a shed on the premises on the evening of the 21st inst., dead. He was feeble, sick, poor and despondent, and had probably meditated the act a good while, as he procured the rope with which it was committed two months ago.

A BOOM IN EASTERN.

There was a decided boom in Eastern railroad stock in Boston on Friday, when at the Stock Exchange, before calls, 400 shares sold at 91, and fifty at 90 1-2; at the first call, twenty-five shares at 91, and fifty at 90 1-2; between calls, fifty shares at 91, and fifty at 90 3-4; at the second call, fifty shares at 91 3-8, fifty at 91 3-4, and 125 at 92; and after calls, fifty shares at 93 5-8,—a higher price than the stock had sold at for the twelve years previous. Portsmouth, Great Falls & Conway stock sold up to 74,—quite a jump from 65, the asking price at the close of the previous day's business.

On Saturday there was another rise in Eastern, ten shares selling at 94, two hundred at 94 3-8, and 220 at 94 1-2. Maine Central sold up to 129 and 129 1-4, from 126.

BASE BALL.

A game of base ball was played at Kittery on Thursday of last week between a nine from the Portsmouth Machine shop and a Kittery nine, the latter winning by a score of eleven to eight.

The Red Stocking club went to Newmarket on Saturday afternoon to play a game with the Newmarket club.

THE NIPSIC.

The United States steamer Nipsic arrived at New York on Saturday, May 22d, passing in by Sandy Hook at 6:30 o'clock A. M. A despatch of Saturday afternoon from New York says: "The report of the executive officer does not in any manner refer to the cause of the long passage of the Nipsic. It merely gives the number of days passage and list of officers. It is a rule of government vessels in going to and from stations to use steam only as an auxiliary in heavy weather, relying entirely upon their sails. No doubt the Nipsic did this, but then she should not have taken seventy-six days to make the passage."

Miss Helene Adell.

Speaking of Miss Adell and her new play "Juanita," the Haverhill Bulletin says:

"The Helene Adell company presented last evening, before a good audience the new and very pleasing drama Juanita. Miss Adell in the role of the heroine was particularly good and the part which was widely different from any of the previous characters taken by her impressed us greatly as to her versatility and genius. Miss Sara Lascelles in the dual roles of Geraldine Floyd and Manuela, Mr. Lestina as the hero, and Mr. Percy Brooke as the stuttering boy Victor Young rendered her valiant support, and the whole performance but impressed the fact upon the spectators that never before had so generally fine a company ever appeared in this city.

Miss Adell's engagement—the second one this season—begins in Music hall this evening. "Frou-Frou" is the opening bill, followed by "Juanita." Reserved seats now on sale at Goodrich's.

The company performed "Frou-Frou" in Burlington, Vt., last Thursday, and the Free Press of Friday said Miss Adell took the leading part "with all the grace and ease which have marked her previous efforts, and was admirably supported by Miss Lascelles and Mr. Eagle. Mr. Percy Brooke also made a decided hit, and little Mabel Walsh as 'Georgie' was a very pleasing feature. The costumes, as usual, were elegant and tasteful."

White hats predominated on the streets, Sunday.

Quite a large congregation assembled at the Universalist church Sunday afternoon at four o'clock to listen to Rev. H. T. Fiske, of South Newmarket, who was engaged to supply the pulpit, but after waiting some time and he not arriving, a portion of scripture was read by the superintendent of the Sunday school, and after singing by the choir, the congregation was dismissed. As they were leaving the church Rev. Mr. Fiske arrived, he having been detained to attend a funeral at South Newmarket. It seems he had telephoned to this city on Saturday afternoon that he would be detained until half-past four, but by some unaccountable reason the message had not been delivered.

Several somewhat serious accidents occurred here last week. On Wednesday Mr. Charles Drake was struck on the back of the neck and hip by a brick which fell upon him in lowering, while at work upon the sewer; and a man was struck by a sledge, while drilling for blasting. Mr. Dennis Holland was hurt on Thursday at Philbrick's stone yard by a large piece of granite falling upon the instep of one of his feet, from which he suffered much pain, but is now slowly recovering. Mrs. John Quinn, living on Gates street, fell from a chair on Saturday, and dislocated one shoulder.

Some mischievous hoodlum or drunken bummer on Saturday night knocked down a lighted barricade placed to protect the public from collision with the obstructions on the north millbridge.

The lilacs and the horse-chestnut trees are in bloom.

The Times on Saturday announced that "the vestibule of the post-office will be open most of the day on Sundays during the summer, commencing to-morrow."

The repairs on the abutment of the north millbridge, where it gave way last week, were completed on Saturday; the work has been well done, and looks as though it would outlast this generation.

C. M. Gignoux, treasurer of the Soldiers' and Sailors' monument fund, received a subscription of $1000 from Hon. Frank Jones on Saturday. Another gentleman, whose name is not given, subscribed $100.

The Army and Navy Journal reports that "Professor Elliot Coues' serious mental trouble is said to have been caused by excessive use of tobacco."

The Army and Navy Register says: "It has been found that it will not be necessary to manufacture a new shaft for the Vandalia. The old shaft of the Plymouth, which is lying at the Portsmouth, N. H., navy yard, is quite suitable for the purpose, and will be taken to New York and placed in the vessel."

The friends of Mr. Theodore Harris will be glad to know that the despatch of last week representing that his legs were crushed badly through the railroad accident at Fort Ellis, Montana, was an exaggeration. A despatch received by one of his friends here states that no bones were broken, and the injury he received was comparatively slight.

Mrs. Edward H. Weeks, living on High street, had her pocket-book stolen while in a crowd on the Parade the other night. In the pocket-book was a laundry check, and on going for her washing on Saturday she was not a little surprised to learn that the thief had got ahead of her, and had that also.

The Great Falls Woollen Co. is in financial difficulty. It owes above its capital $168,443, and has in the plant, goods, cash and bills receivable $174,341 with which to pay. The notes, a portion of which are overdue, are held largely by banks in Great Falls, Dover, Rochester, North Berwick and Portsmouth. It will take some time to turn the assets into money.

The Nonpariel club have bought a whaleboat, and will do some pulling on the river this summer.

The crew of the lighthouse steamer Iris were repainting the buoys in the harbor on Saturday.

The schooner Oliver Elizabeth, from Hoboken with coal to Frement Varrell, and the Captain John, with coal to J. P. Simpson, arrived at York, Me., on the 19th inst.

Harper's Magazine for June has been received by Noses Bros. and M. Goodrich, and is ready for delivery to subscribers or for sale by the single number. This issue is of special interest.

Have you examined that Playing Card at Preston's drug store, selling at sixty-five cents per dozen?

Senator Wadleigh had a talk with the president concerning the removal of Tom. Cheney as pension agent, last week. The president listened, but his thoughts were not expressed. As Wadleigh came down from the White House he mopped the perspiration from his brow and remarked to Al Sulloway, "It makes a great difference in asking for an office whether you request it as an 'Ex,' or have a vote to give when an appointment comes before the senate for confirmation." The president seems to have learned this lesson in politic ethics.

From 115 lbs. to 161 lbs.

To the Cuticura Remedies I owe My Health, My Happiness, and My Life.

A day never passes that I do not think and speak kindly of the CUTICURA REMEDIES. Seven years ago, all of a dozen lumps formed on my neck, ranging in size from a cherry stone to an orange. The large ones were frightful to look at, and painful to bear; people turned aside when they saw me, in disgust, and I was ashamed to be on the street or in society. Physicians and their treatment, and all medicines failed to do any good. In a moment of despair I tried the CUTICURA REMEDIES—CUTICURA, the great Skin Cure, and CUTICURA SOAP, an exquisite Skin Beautifier, externally, and CUTICURA RESOLVENT, the new Blood Purifier, internally; the small lumps (as I call them) gradually disappeared, and the large ones broke, in about two weeks, discharging a large quantities of matter, leaving two slight scars in my neck to-day to tell the story of my suffering. My weight then was one hundred and fifteen sickly pounds; my weight now is one hundred and sixty-one solid, healthy pounds, and in height is only five feet five inches. In my travel I praised the CUTICURA REMEDIES, North, South, East, and West. TO CUTICURA REMEDIES I OWE MY HEALTH, MY HAPPINESS, AND MY LIFE. A prominent New York druggist asked me the other day, "Do you still use the CUTICURA REMEDIES; you look to be in perfect health?" My reply was "I do, and shall always. I have never known what sickness is since I commenced using the CUTICURA REMEDIES." Sometimes I am laughed at by praising them to people not acquainted with their merits, but sooner or later they will come to their senses and believe the same as those that use them, as dozens have whom I have told. May the time come when there shall be a large CUTICURA Supply House in every city in the world, for the benefit of humanity, where the CUTICURA REMEDIES shall be sold ONLY, so that there will be rarely a need of ever entering a drug store.

M. HUSBANDS,
210 Fulton St., New York, N. Y.

CUTICURA REMEDIES are a positive cure for every form of Skin and Blood Diseases, from Pimples to Scrofula. Sold everywhere. Price: CUTICURA, 50 cents; SOAP, 25 cents; RESOLVENT, $1.00. Prepared by the POTTER DRUG AND CHEMICAL CO., Boston, Mass. Send for "How to Cure Skin Diseases."

Sneezing Catarrh.

This distressing sneeze, sneeze, sneeze, the acrid, watery discharges from the eyes and nose, the painful inflammation extending to the throat, the swelling of the mucous lining, causing choking sensations, cough, ringing noises in the head and splitting headaches,—how familiar these symptoms are to thousands who suffer periodically from head colds or influenza, and who live in ignorance of the fact that a single application of SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE FOR CATARRH will afford instantaneous relief.

But this treatment in cases of simple Catarrh gives but a faint idea of what this remedy will do in the chronic forms, where the breathing is obstructed by choking, putrid mucous accumulations, the hearing affected, smell and taste gone, throat ulcerated and hacking cough gradually fastening itself upon the debilitated system. Then it is that the marvellous curative powers of SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE manifests itself in instantaneous and gratifying relief. Cure begins from the first application. It is rapid, radical, permanent, economical, safe.

Metallic Matter Absorbed by Plants.

Late investigations indicate that the chlorophyll, or green coloring substance of the leaves, is most liable to pick up metallic matter absorbed by the roots of plants. When the vines have been manured with sulphate of copper, most of the metal is deposited in the leaves, merely a doubtful trace appearing in the juice of the grapes. Tea leaves contain much iron, doubtless due to the ochreous soil on which they best grow.—Boston Budget

I had the neuralgia for three months in my face and suffered so much that I was afraid it would drive me crazy. After taking part of a bottle of Athlophoros the pain all left me as by magic. Mamie Dietrich, 16 Hudson St., New Haven, Ct.

The Swiss authorities have made numerous arrests of Mormon missionaries throughout Helvetia.

The President

Of the bank of Waverly, Iowa, says: Sulphur Bitters saved my life. For ten years I suffered from catarrh and liver complaint; I lost forty-five pounds and was growing worse rapidly. I had lost all faith in medicine, but hearing your Bitters so well recommended, I gave them a trial. Six bottles cured me.—Smith P. Hunt, Waverly, Iowa.

Advice to Mothers.

Are you disturbed at night and broken of your rest by a sick child suffering and crying with pain of cutting teeth? If so, go at once and get a bottle of Mrs Winslow's Soothing Syrup for Children Teething. Its value is incalculable. It will relieve the poor little sufferer immediately. Depend upon it, mothers, there is no mistake about it. It cures dysentery and diarrhœa, regulates the stomach and bowels, cures wind colic, softens the gums, reduces inflammation, and gives tone and energy to the whole system. Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup for Children Teething is pleasant to the taste, and is the prescription of one of the oldest and best female nurses and physicians in the United States, and is for sale by all druggists throughout the world. Price 25 cents a bottle. eodtJan

Sick Headache.

GENTS:—I have been subject to Sick Headache for years, and have tried, in vain, many advertised remedies and several physicians, but all to no purpose. At last I tried your B. B. Bitters—without much faith, I admit—but to-day I can truly say, that after taking the third bottle I have not suffered from it. I recommend it to all my friends; several have been cured by it. My little grandson was permanently cured of Biliousness and Sick Headache, which were so severe as to cause convulsions. They have all ceased since he commenced the use of B. B. B.

REV. B. C. BODLE,

Dyspepsia.

GENTS:—I feel it my duty to say respecting Burdock Blood Bitters that it is the best medicine I ever took. I suffered two or three years from stomach troubles and dyspepsia as well as from liver and kidney complaint. I was not able to attend to my business. My wife was afflicted in much the same way. We read of your Bitters in the papers and made up our minds that we would try them. The result is my wife and I began to improve at once and I am now able to do more hard work than before in ten years. It relieved my kidney troubles as well. We both wish you, the makers of it Godspeed. JOSEPH LANDON,
Chelsea, Vt.

Headache and Biliousness.

GENTS:—I have been troubled for many years with serious Bilious disorders, so serious, indeed, that I seldom was free from the Headache. At night I was restless and nervous and seldom obtained refreshing sleep. A short time since I commenced the use of B. B. Bitters, and found immediate relief, my Headache disappearing and no more sleepless nights.

The Webster Statue.

The work of placing the pedestal for the Webster statue in Concord is nearly completed. The pedestal is of Concord granite. The base is a single stone, granite nine feet square, weighing eleven tons. The plinth is 61-2 feet square, four feet high, and weighs thirteen tons; it has bevelled edges and a series of finely cut mouldings. The die is 41-4 feet square and 5 1-4 feet high, and tapering toward the top. It will stand directly in front, and some fifty feet from the State House portico. The arrangements for the dedication, which will take place June 17th, are substantially perfected.

Michael J. Kane, James S. Moore, James E. Sisson and Mark Sullivan, liquor dealers of New Bedford, Mass., were arrested Saturday for illegal liquor selling, on complaint of Jules Giquel.

Dr. Dio Lewis left directions in his will that his body be cremated, and the ashes used to fertilize a flower bed.

Bradstreet reports that the total loss on building contracts in ten cities on account of the strikes, has been $20,400,000, the New England cities suffering $275,000 in wages and $6,000,000 in new business stopped. Only 48,000 of the 250,000 men who have at one time or another been on a strike since April 24th were out on May 20th.

The large two-story residence on the Joseph W. Moore farm in Bristol, which was burned last week, was nearly new, having been built at a cost of about $3,000. The insurance was $2,000. Most of the contents of the house were saved. Eda Gordon of New Hampton was so severely injured by falling bricks that it is feared he will lose the use of one arm.

A Public Benefaction.

How to laundry linen as it is done in Troy, N. Y., has been kept a secret long enough; it can and should be done in every family. The Elastic Starch is the only starch in the United States that is put up by men who have a practical knowledge of the laundry profession. It requires no cooking, keeps the iron from sticking and linen from blistering while ironing, and gives shirts, cuffs and collars that stiffness and beautiful polish they have when new, which, everybody knows keeps them clean twice as long. Beware of imitations. See that the name J. C. HUBINGER & BRO., New Haven, Conn., is on every package.

Carter's Little Liver Pills must not be confounded with common Cathartic or Purgative Pills as they are entirely unlike them in every respect. One trial will prove their superiority.

There was a large gathering of railway officials at Farmington, Me., on Thursday of last week. It is reported that steps were taken toward changing the Sandy River railroad to the standard guage.

A Burglar Captured.

This morning about two o'clock, John Wood, the well known plumber who resides on Main street, was awakened by bearing glass break. On getting out of bed he received a blow on the head. He immediately grappled with the burglar, and after a terrible struggle succeeded in holding him until his wife obtained help. On being searched at the station, Mr. Wood's watch and wallet was found on his person. He gave the name of Robert Terry. The broken glass proved to be a bottle of Sulphur Bitters which had almost cured Mrs. Wood of rheumatism. —Exchange.

THE WRONG WAY TO GO UP STAIRS.

Going up stairs on one's hands and knees is a method of ascent not uncommonly seen among infants who are just learning the mysteries and perplexities of ambulation, but fortunately it is seldom that those of mature years have to resort to such means of progress. Mrs. J. C. Chapman, a well known resident of Mansfield, Mass., says that she once tried it and failed, and that others may be deterred from a similar experience it is perhaps worth while to give her experience. Mrs. Chapman now walks as upright as any one, and gives this account of her attempt:

"I was perfectly helpless with an attack of acute rheumatism, and was all doubled up. I could not sit upright even long enough to eat a meal. I tried once to get up stairs on my hands and knees, but failed. After taking everything recommended by my friends, and not getting the least benefit from anything, I despaired of ever getting around again. I had lost all hope of being cured when, like a gleam of light, Athlophoros was recommended to me by a friend who had used it with entire success. I took it and have never been troubled with rheumatism since, now three years. I can cheerfully recommend Athlophoros to any body suffering with rheumatism, for I know from experience that it will make a complete and permanent cure."

From J. A. Crane & Co., prominent druggists of Orange, Mass., comes this statement of a case that came under their observation:

"Mr. Shubel Briggs, of this place, has bought Athlophoros of us. He stated to us to-day that his wife before taking it could not move herself in bed, as she was suffering from a severe attack of rheumatism. After taking a few doses of Athlophoros she could move easily, and before two bottles were finished she had recovered completely and has not been troubled since. Mr. Briggs himself, who was troubled with stiffness in the joints, used some of the Athlophoros and experienced decided relief."

Charles H. Minchew, of Taunton, tells this story of his wife's cure, which was not unlike that of Mrs. Briggs:

"My wife had been afflicted with rheumatism for some time, and I employed a doctor who failed to do her any good. I happened to see Athlophoros advertised and concluded to get and try it. It worked like a charm, curing my wife completely, and I cannot speak too highly of it."

Mr. George H. Surgens is foreman of the cloth room of the Flint mill, Flint Village, Fall River, Mass. He lives at No. 140 County Street, Fall River. Of his wife's case he says:

"My wife was treated by four different doctors for a severe case of neuralgia of six years' standing. Her sufferings were terrible and the physicians could not allay them, though using the most powerful medicines all the time. As she was getting worse and worse I bought a bottle of Athlophoros, and that brought the first and only relief my wife had. Now she can attend to her household affairs and other duties as though she had never experienced the tortures of that dread disease, neuralgia. When Athlophoros can be had at the nearest drug store nobody should suffer from neuralgia or rheumatism."

If you cannot get ATHLOPHOROS of your druggist, we will send it express paid, on receipt of regular price—one dollar per bottle. We prefer that you buy it from your druggist, but if he hasn't it, do not be persuaded to try something else, but order at once from us, as directed. ATHLOPHOROS CO., 112 Wall Street, New York.

LOVE AND FRIENDSHIP.

When Chloe sweetly calls me friend
The presage bids me pause and ponder;
I feel all love is at an end;
And I had hope for something fonder.
Still I'm elate
That smiling Fate—
What though that smile be half sardonic—
Has answered love,
So far above
All friendship, with regard Platonic.

'Tis something that she lets me hold
Her lily hand when none are present;
That I, when I am bold,
May kiss that hand is still more pleasant,
'Tis something sure
That she'll endure
My timorsome but fond caresses;
And more, I vow,
That she'd allow
The arm that round her bodice presses.

My Chloe's eyes are black as sloes;
My Chloe's lips like rose's petals;
My Chloe's throat like driven snows;
My Chloe's wit like stinging nettles.
Those eyes of hers
My heart prefers;
I love sweet lips, and I must laud hers;
I dearly dote
Upon her throat;
But, ah! her wit prevents marauders.

But rest content, thou stubborn churl,
Be not so clamorous and greedy,
Thou yet canst have some other girl;
Of Chloe sure thou art not needy.
But then some boor
May her secure
(Beshrew the thought, it grieves me sadly),
May me eclipse
To kiss her lips;
May win her heart and wear it badly.
—The Rambler.

MRS. JAMES BROWN POTTER.

The Success of the Amateur Elocutionist Before an Audience—Country Critics.

Every audience has to be won over, and an amateur does not always have the time or chance. I find my own frame of mind more or less reflected by the audience, in the shape of coldness, if I am tired or nervous. Constant habit and practice and knowledge of stage methods enable a professional to play a part evenly and well, however little he may fancy it; but I find I must feel the beauty of the lines or the lesson they teach to do good work, and, at any rate, after reciting or acting I feel discouraged and disappointed. The theatrical managers and professionals have always treated me with unvarying courtesy and kindness, and even encouragement. To Mr. David Belasco especially I am indebted for much valuable advice and friendly counsel.

The success of recitation naturally depends much upon the choice of the piece, and I rarely decide upon my selection until the last moment, when I am on the spot and have made my estimate of the general character of the audience. Our judgment on a question of this sort is anything but infallible, and at times, when trusting to my own instincts, I have arrived at very unfortunate results. But if a piece touches me and I feel its pathos, it is very natural to suppose it will affect others in the same way if properly interpreted. I am only a beginner, however, and my experiences are almost all experiments.

I find it far easier to interest an audience by a story with a moral than by something abstract, however superior the versification of the latter may be, and I have generally found country audiences more appreciative of serious pieces than those in the city. City people want something gayer and more amusing, that will not make them think. Nor am I ashamed to confess that my most enthusiastic and generous critics have been workingmen and shop girls and newsboys. For if they have had fewer advantages in education and refining associations than those in a more fortunate position, their wits have been sharpened by practical trials and adversity, and the absence of affectation in themselves makes them quick to see through false sentiment and appreciate what is true.—Cora Urquhart Potter, in Lippincott's.

Colors and Markings of Animals.

By careful selection aided by great practical experience, the skilled breeder can produce almost any color he pleases, limited only by the range of colors and markings natural to other animals of the family to which the species belongs on which he is experimenting. Thus all the marking of the wild Feladæ can be reproduced in the domestic cat; those of the Columbidæ in the pigeon; but the feline markings cannot be produced in the dog, nor the distribution of color seen in the Australian pigeons be implanted in the domestic fowl.—London Nature.

Sanitary Advantages of Low Ceilings.

Rooms with low ceilings, or with ceilings even with the window tops, are more readily and completely ventilated than those with high ceilings. The leakage of air which is always going on keeps all parts of the air in motion in such rooms, whereas if the ceiling is higher, only the lower part of the air is moved and an inverted lake of foul and hot air is left floating in the space above the window-tops.—Scientific Monthly.

Regarding the Brain of the Ant.

"Mr. Darwin, in speaking of the wonderful difference in size between what is regarded as the brain of the ant and that of man, says: 'Ants communicate information to each other, and several unite for the same work or games of play. They recognize one another after a long absence; they build great edifices, keep them clean, close the doors in the evening and post sentries; they make roads and even tunnels under rivers;

Make Haste to Defend Yourself

If you live in a locality where malaria is prevalent, with a preventive that experience indicates as the most reliable of medical safe-guards—Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. Entirely free from the objections—and they are valid ones—which attach to the mineral alkaloid quinine, it is far more effective, and its effects are not evanescent, but lasting, unlike those of the drug. There are portions of our land—and none more beautiful and more fertile—which at no season of the year are entirely exempt from the malarial scourge. In such regions Hostetter's Stomach Bitters has undergone a continuous test for the past thirty years, with results which have established its reputation beyond all cavil as a special defense against every form of malarial disease. For biliousness, also, it is an acknowledged specific, and it is a potent remedy for constipation, dyspepsia, rheumatism and an impoverished condition of the blood.

The hearing in the Parker poison case at Rutland, Vt., is closed, Justice Bailey refusing to hold Mrs. Nason on the charge of poisoning her son-in-law, D. D. Parker. Although Mrs. Nason was released, the state attorney will probably bring her case before the grand jury next September.

A Beautiful Present.

The Virgin Salt Co., of New Haven, Conn., are making a grand offer. A pair of Doves as natural as life, new design, printed in ten beautiful colors on a fine lithograph card 9x10 inches, given away with Virgin Salt (four certificates) in order to introduce it. For household purpose this salt has no equal. It is the cleanest, purest and whitest salt ever seen or used. Large package costs only ten cents. Ask your grocer for it.

Four notorious anarchists of St. Louis, Mo., named F. H. Bergemann, Martin Frank, Otto Fricke and Gottlieb Jabbarsky, have been arrested and jailed to await trial on the charge of having introduced and urged the adoption at an unlawful assemblage, of resolutions indorsing the actions of the anarchists during the Haymarket riot in Chicago.

Numerous testimonials prove beyond a doubt that Allcock's Porous Plasters cure paralysis, nervous debility, and loss of memory when applied to the spine. They remove kidney difficulties when worn on the small of the back; applied to the pit of the stomach, dyspepsia and indigestion disappear. Colds, coughs and asthma no longer trouble the suffering patient when he uses them on the chest. If you have a headache, or want to sleep, put an Allcock's Porous Plaster on the nape of the neck—the work is not only done, but well done. This remedy not only cures agne cake, liver complaint, and malaria, but is a protection against fevers, small pox, or sewer gas.

Proposed Ordnance Factories.

Senator Hawley, from the committee on coast defences, has reported favorably the two bills introduced early in the session by Senator Cameron. They authorize the secretaries of war and the navy, respectively, to make contracts, after suitable advertisement, with responsible steel manufacturers for the supply of rough-bored, rough-turned and tempered steel for the fabrication of heavy ordnance adapted to modern warfare, and steel for armor, shafting and other army and naval purposes, in quantity not to exceed 10,000 gross tons for each department. The secretary of war is authorized to erect at the arsenal, West Troy, N. Y., an army-gun foundry for the fabrication of the heaviest guns adapted to modern warfare, and the manufacture of gun carriages and ordnance equipment for the army, at a cost not to exceed $1,000,000; and the secretary of the Navy is authorized to erect at the navy yard, Washington, D. C., a naval-gun factory for the fabrication of the heaviest guns adapted to modern warfare, and the manufacture of gun carriages and ordnance equipment of the naval service, at a cost not to exceed $1,000,000. To each of the bills the committee has added a section appropriating $8,000,000, to be available during the six years from January, 1887.

A Wonderful Escape.

A French vessel arrived at St. George's bay, Newfoundland, May 19th, from St. Malo, bound to Port-au-Choix. She touched at Newfoundland for the purpose of landing Miss Louise Journeaux, who was picked up from an open boat at sea some twenty miles off the island of Jersey. The lady, with a gentleman companion named Earne, went boating on Sunday evening, April 18th, after leaving church. While rowing the gentleman lost his oars, and jumped overboard to recover them. The boat fast drifted beyond his reach, and he was compelled either to swim for the land or sink. Miss Journeaux was alone in the little cockelshell coat for nearly forty hours in solitary and excruciating agony, when she was rescued by the French barque, which was unable to reach Jersey to land the lady, and so was compelled to bring her across the Atlantic. Earne reached St. Hilaire harbor safely, but his story was disbelieved. He was arrested and indicted for homicide. His liberation is of course certain, Miss Journeaux having cabled her miraculous escape.

The article on the British navy, by Sir Edward Reed, which attracted much attention in the February Harper's, and the description of the Krupp establishment in March, is followed in the June number by a timely paper on the United States navy, by Rear-Admiral Edward Simpson, of the navy department at Washington, with a large number of excellent illustrations. The history of our navy is briefly sketched, and the record is one that Uncle Sam need not be ashamed of. But as one reads of its present deplorable condition every patriot must regret the indifference and stagnation which have left us far behind the age. Previous to last year our navy consisted only of thirty-two wooden vessels, two iron sloops of war, and a few old primitive monitors. In 1883 the construction of three steam-cruisers and a dispatch boat, with steel plates, was authorized. These vessels are the Chicago, Boston and Atlanta, which are nearly finished, and the Dolphin, now doing service. With the construction of these vessels the manufacture of steel plates for ships began in this country. This feeble array constitutes the present naval force of the United States. We have not one armor-clad man-of-war, (the old single-turreted monitors not being considered as having any efficiency,) and the ordnance and equipments are ridiculously behind the age. It would be impossible for us to cope even with some of the smaller powers in our own hemisphere, and the naval armaments of Europe make our deficiency a humiliation. Public opinion is stirring Congress to action, and the article mentions some important improvements which are in operation. It is to be hoped that this able paper will hasten the adjustment of our navy to the age of steel.

The citizens of Dover who met last week to express their opinions in regard to the fishery trouble, knew just what they wanted to say and to have the government do, as follows:

Resolved, that it is the duty of our government at once to furnish adequate protection to the fishing industry of our country, so that no vessel sailing under our flag shall be disturbed or interfered with in any manner whatsoever while engaged in legitimate commerce.

Resolved, that it is the duty of our government to demand and compel the immediate release of the two vessels now under seizure, and the payment of sufficient damages for the loss and annoyance which have come about from the seizure of the same.

Those resolutions have a good ring, and read well; but just now, thanks to the democratic policy of obstructiveness in Congress, this country has no warships, no guns to arm such ships with, and no facilities for making such guns.

Foster's Democrat, referring to the meeting of people in Portland to demand the protection of American citizens engaged in the fisheries, says: "They passed resolutions denouncing the seizure of American fishing vessels, and calling on the Cleveland administration to do something;—just get up and halloo, if nothing else. But there is not perceptible to the naked eye any purpose or disposition to do even that much for American interests. This Cleveland mugwump concern in Washington seems to be sunk in hopeless imbecility, with not brains enough to make a respectable monkey. There will be no fisheries or anything else worth saving much longer, the way the thing is running."

The G. W. & N. W. Libbey Lumber company of Whitefield have secured a title to the entire township of Kilkenny, a heavily timbered tract, and will build a railroad branch to it from Lancaster, a distance of about six miles.

Prince Bismark has instructed Count Von Munster, German ambassador at Paris, to inform M. de Freycinet that the reports of a change in the friendly sentiments of Germany toward France are without foundation.

purifier, it is very much superior to any other preparation of Sarsaparilla. All persons of scrofulous or consumptive tendencies, and especially delicate children, are sure to be greatly benefited by its use." J. W. Starr, Laconia, Iowa, writes: "For years I was troubled with Scrofulous complaints. I tried several different preparations, which did me little, if any, good. Two bottles of Ayer's Sarsaparilla effected a complete cure. It is my opinion that this medicine is the best blood of the day." C. E. Upton, Nashua, N. H., writes: "For a number of years I was troubled with a humor in my eyes, and unable to obtain relief until I commenced using Ayer's Sarsaparilla. I have taken several bottles, am greatly benefited, and believe it to be the best of blood purifiers." R. Harris, Creel City, Ramsey Co., Dakota, writes: "I have been an intense sufferer, with Dyspepsia, for the past three years. Six months ago I began to use

The rumor is current in Berlin that all the German officers travelling in France have been recalled, and that staff and other officers have been refused their usual summer furloughs. The recall of the officers from France was probably due to the French espionage law.

MISS HELENE ADELL.

The Helene Adell dramatic company had a large audience at Music hall on Monday evening, when they opened their week's engagement with "Frou-Frou." Miss Adell won a very large measure of popularity when she was here before, and added to it on Monday evening. Her support is nearly the same as on the former occasion, there having been only one or two changes made, but these have strengthened what was before a very strong company.

This evening Miss Adell's new melodrama "Juanita" will be presented. Reserved seat tickets, at people's prices, procurable through the day at Goodrich's.

BIRTHDAY PARTY.

On Saturday evening last, fifteen of the many friends and acquaintances of Miss Florence A. Webb gathered at her home on Daniel street, to commemorate the eighteenth anniversary of her birth. The ladies were attired in white and blue dresses, and together with the gentlemen the party made a very pretty appearance. Miss Webb was the recipient of many handsome and useful presents. The young people were entertained during the evening with singing, violin solos, social games, etc. No pains were spared by the young lady's parents to make the evening one of enjoyment for all. Ice cream, cake, etc., were served, and when the party broke up all were fully satisfied that the evening had been most enjoyably spent. M.

POLICE COURT--BATCHELDER J.

MONDAY, May 23d.

Jesse R. Miles was before the court for drunkenness, but was allowed to go on probation.

Mr. George F. Thompson, formerly of the Rockingham and Wentworth houses, was in town Monday. He is to be the traveling agent of the Boston & Maine railroad on all its branches this summer, and will in the fall go into the hotel business.

The bridge over York river, on the main road from this city to York village, is undergoing repairs, and is closed to travel.

The gas-light in front of the city building sprung a leak Sunday night, and blazed up finely until the arrival of Superintendent Martin, the whole post and lamp seeming to be on fire. Mr. Martin soon stopped that fun.

A draught horse purchased a year ago by E. F. Sise & Co. weighed at that time 1,200 lbs. He has been worked steadily ever since, and last Friday was again weighed, this time tilting the scales at 1,310 lbs. That horse does credit to the teamster, Mr. Frank P. Banks.

Peter Nelson and Lizzie Tracey departed from the city on Monday, without waiting for formalities. They had been arrested for keeping a disorderly house, but on their promising to rid the city of their presence at once if allowed, they were let off without trial.

The people of Dover showed themselves prompt in denouncing the acts of the Dominion officials against the American fishermen on the coast of the British provinces. But where is the board of trade of Portsmouth, where so many fishermen reside? X.

Elvin Newton is hastening his arrangements for the carrying on of fisheries at Longing island, Isles of Shoals, during the coming season. Last week he received from Gloucester a new seine-boat thirty-one feet long, and costing $211; also two seines, one 180 fathoms long, and the other 150. He also received from Raymond 220 mackerel barrels; and the schooner Golden Gate, Amee master, was in port with 100 hhds. of salt for him, taken from an English steamer at Boston. The estimated cost of the preliminary outfit is about $2,000. Mr. Alonzo Smith and a gang of twelve men go to the island with Mr. Newton.

Mr. Frank F. Chase of Kittery, who was recently married in this city, on that occasion combined business and pleasure in a very practical degree. He is employed in Rye, and on his way there stopped over in this city, met his bride, a young lady from Boston, got married, and then proceeded to his business for the day.

There will be a Memorial service in the Christian church at Rye next Sunday, with an appropriate sermon by Rev. Lewis Phillips, the pastor, and music by Spear's orchestra.

Capt. Daniel Trefethen died in Dover on Monday, at the age of seventy-eight years. He followed the sea for forty-five years, during forty of which he was master of the vessels in which he sailed; he retired from active duty about twenty years ago. He commanded vessels for the Dover Packet Co. for many years, during the time when the traffic between Dover and this city was mostly carried on by water.

Eastern railroad stock was not quite so buoyant on Monday in the Boston market, as it was on Friday and Saturday. At the opening of the board it sold down to 90, recovered to 91, and closed at 90 3-8.

Mrs. Caroline A. Frost, widow of Charles L. Frost, died suddenly in New York on Friday, in the sixtieth year of her age. The deceased was a daughter of the late Thomas D. Bailey of this city, and an aunt of Thomas Bailey Aldrich. Funeral services are to be held at her late residence in 42d street, New York, to-day.

The long passage of the U. S. S. Nipsic from Montevideo to New York, was caused by the breaking down of her engine. Commander Dana reports her to be a dull sailer, as might be expected when dragging her screw.

A thrifty young black ash tree at Langdon park was girdled last week by some vandal unknown. It is difficult to understand why any one should wish to detract from the pleasures of the public by such doings. Everything is open there, and consequently the act was all the more cowardly.

A new lamp post was erected on Deer street, Saturday evening, opposite the western avenue of the railroad depot, and at the corner of Garrett's avenue.

A yoke of cattle belonging to Charles Odiorne, of Odiorne's point, Rye, weighed at Ben. Russell's scales, tipped the scales at 4,030 pounds. They were purchased by H. L. Garrett & Son.

Mr. Editor: The north millbridge, through which a team recently fell at a cost to the city of several hundred dollars, had been known to be badly out of repair underneath for a long time. The title to the use of the waters of the pond now vests apparently in the Boston & Maine railroad; that is, however, or might be, questionable in law; perhaps it belongs to the state of New Hampshire. The pond was leased under a democratic mayor and republican city council to the city of Portsmouth for the sum of $500 per annum—for what earthly use no one knows. The attention of the present city authorities had been repeatedly called to the condition of the bridge abutment, but without avail. However, it has been fixed now, after a costly accident, and a large amount of money is being laid out on the reconstruction of the dam. Y.

Good chance for investment. See advertisement of Granite State Fire Ins. stock for sale to-day (Tuesday) at noon, at Morse & Ilsley's office.

Mr. William E. Noyes of Kittery has been appointed District Deputy Grand Worthy Chief Templar of the Maine Grand Lodge of Good Templars, for York district.

The Southend Hoodoos say they are anxious to row the Gymnasiums, with either six or ten oars, fom the Concord railroad wharf around Kitt's rock buoy and return, a distance of eight or nine miles, and that they will put up $50 on the result provided the Gymnasiums will cover it.

Four apprentice boys are reported to have been discharged from the Swamscot Machine Co., South Newmarket, because they refused to board at the corporation boarding house.

Mr. Clarence Caswell brought in 385 lobsters from the Shoals on the 22d inst.

About fifty men and six teams were at work on the widening and improving of Sagamore road, opposite the south cemetery, on Monday.

The Cunard steamship Pavonia, which sailed from Boston on the 13th inst. for Europe, having on board Rev. E. M. O'Callahgan of this city, pastor of the Church of the Immaculate Conception, Rev. D. W. Murphy of Dover and Vicar General Barry of Concord, arrived at Queenstown, Ireland, early in the morning on the 22d, and proceeded after a brief stop.

A gang of men are now employed in laying down new steel rails on the Boston & Maine railroad between West Biddeford and Kennebunk. The rails that are being taken up are 600 pounds in weight, and are being substituted by a better steel rail, weighing 720 lbs., and similar to the rails laid last summer between Kennebunk and Wells. When the work between West Biddeford and Kennebunk is done, the old 600-pound rails between Wells and North Berwick will be replaced by new 720-pound rails, so that the rails from North Berwick to West Biddeford will be all of one kind. The change was found necessary since the Boston & Maine railroad determined on such heavy new locomotives as are now being built.

BASE BALL.

A game of base ball Saturday afternoon between the Blues and the Fearnaughts resulted in favor of the latter, ten to eight. The Blues would like to meet any other nine in the city whose players are about the same age as their own, sixteen years or thereabouts. Address James Salmon.

The Red Stocking base ball club of this city had a game with the Newmarket club on Saturday, at Newmarket, the visiting club winning by a score of eleven to six.

The Riverside base ball club challenge the Brewery club to a game of ball for $25 a side.

To the Cuticura Remedies I owe My Health, My Happiness, and My Life.

A day never passes that I do not think and speak kindly of the CUTICURA REMEDIES. Seven years ago, all of a dozen lumps formed on my neck, ranging in size from a cherry stone to an orange. The large ones were frightful to look at, and painful to bear; people turned aside when they saw me, in disgust, and I was ashamed to be on the street or in society. Physicians and their treatment, and all medicines failed to do any good. In a moment at despair I tried the CUTICURA REMEDIES—CUTICURA, the great Skin Cure, and CUTICURA SOAP, an exquisite Skin Beautifier, externally, and CUTICURA RESOLVENT, the new Blood Purifier, internally; the small lumps (as I call them) gradually disappeared, and the large ones broke, in about two weeks, discharging large quantities of matter, leaving two slight scars in my neck to-day to tell the story of my suffering. My weight then was one hundred and fifteen sickly pounds; my weight now is one hundred and sixty-one solid, healthy pounds, and in height is only five feet five inches. In my travel I praised the CUTICURA REMEDIES, North, South, East, and West. TO CUTICURA REMEDIES I OWE MY HEALTH, MY HAPPINESS, AND MY LIFE. A prominent New York druggist asked me the other day, "Do you still use the CUTICURA REMEDIES; you look to be in perfect health?" My reply was, "I do, and shall always. I have never known what sickness is since I commenced using the CUTICURA REMEDIES." Sometimes I am laughed at by praising them to people not acquainted with their merits, but sooner or later they will come to their senses and believe the same as those that use them, as dozens have whom I have told. May the time come when there shall be a large CUTICURA Supply House in every city in the world, for the benefit of humanity, where the CUTICURA REMEDIES shall be sold ONLY, so that there will be rarely a need of ever entering a drug store.

M. HUSBANDS,

Sneezing Catarrh.

The distressing sneeze, sneeze, sneeze, the acrid, watery discharges from the eyes and nose, the painful inflammation extending to the throat, the swelling of the mucous lining, causing choking sensations, cough, ringing noises in the head and splitting headaches,—how familiar these symptoms are to thousands who suffer periodically from head colds or influenza, and who live in ignorance of the fact that a single application of SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE FOR CATARRH will afford instantaneous relief.

But this treatment in cases of simple Catarrh gives but a faint idea of what this remedy will do in the chronic forms, where the nasal passages are obstructed by choking, putrid mucous accumulations, the hearing affected, smell and taste gone, throat inflamed and hacking cough gradually fastening itself upon the debilitated system. Then it is that the marvellous curative powers of SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE manifests itself in instantaneous and grateful relief. Cure begins from the first application. It is rapid, radical, permanent, economical, safe.

they collect food for the community, and when an object too large for entrance is brought to the nest they enlarge the door, and afterward build it up again; they go out to battle in regular bands and freely sacrifice their lives for the common weal; they emigrate in accordance with a preconcerted plan; they capture slaves.'"

"Dr. Lindsay, in speaking of the white ant, says: 'They exhibit foresight in the construction of long clay chimneys for communication with air, land, or both, during inundations. Their edifices or constructive works include galleries and corridors, magazines, nurseries, royal chambers, offices, ordinary rooms and egg rooms, floors and ceilings, pillars and other appurtenances.'

"Of the agricultural, or harvesting ant, Dr. Lindsay says: 'It not only stores up seed, but cultivates the plants which are to provide it, and carefully gathers in its crop at the right season. In the wet season the seed in the granaries are apt to get wetted and to sprout; and, accordingly, on the first fine day the ants bring out all the damaged grain and set it in the sun to dry, returning to the store only such as is uninjured. These ants may truly be said to cultivate their estates. They have grass paddocks. From their fields they clear all the herbage save aristidee stricta, a grain-bearing grass, called by Dr. Lincicum ant-rice, and they sow the seeds of the same grass.'"—Sarah E. Titcomb.

Tradition of the Beaver Tribe.

It is only in tradition that the history of the Indian lives, and only one version of the story is ever heard. Sometimes this is so true to nature that no room for doubt can be found. Such is the following chapter from the annals of the Beaver tribe, which lives in the northe.n part of the British possessions.

One day a young chief shot his arrow through a dog belonging to another brave. The brave revenged the death of his dog, and instantly a hundred bows were drawn. Ere night had fallen some eighty warriors lay dead around the camp, the pine woods rang with the lamentations of the women, the tribe had lost its bravest men. There was a temporary truce; the friends of the chief whose arrow had killed the dog yet numbered some sixty people; it was agreed that they should separate from the tribe, and seek their fortune in the vast wilderness lying to the south.

In the night they began their march; sullenly their brethren saw them depart never to return. They went their way by the shores of the Lesser Slave lake, towards the great plains which were said to be far southward by the banks of the swift-rolling Saskatchewan.

The tribe Beavers never saw again this exiled band, but a 100 years later a Beaver Indian, who followed the fortunes of a white fur-hunter, found himself in one of the forts of the Saskatchewan. Strange Indians were camped about the palisades; they were portions of the great Blackfeet tribe whose hunting grounds lay south of the Saskatchewan. Among them were a few braves who, when they conversed together, spoke a language different from that of the other Blackfeet; in this language the Beaver Indian recognized his own tongue.—Youth's Companion.

To this the Bell people reply that Welber is a proved perjurer and self-confessed liar and fraud.

The President

Of the bank of Waverly, Iowa, says: Sulphur Bitters saved my life. For ten years I suffered from catarrh and liver complaint; I lost forty-five pounds and was growing worse rapidly. I had lost all faith in medicine, but hearing your Bitters so well recommended, I gave them a trial. Six bottles cured me.—Smith P. Hunt, Waverly, Iowa.

Relief from sick headache, drowsiness, nausea, dizziness, pain in the side, etc., guaranteed to those using Carter's Little Liver Pills. These complaints are nearly always caused by torpid liver and constipated bowels. Restore these organs to their proper functions and the trouble ceases. Carter's Little Liver Pills will do this every time. One pill is a dose. Forty in a vial. Price 25 cents.

The printing office of the Toronto Mail was damaged to the amount of $80,000 by fire on the night of May 22d.

In chronic diseases, medicines should be restoring, and not debilitating, in their action. The wonderful strengthening and curative effects, realized from the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, sustain the reputation of this remedy as the most popular blood purifier.

Sick Headache.

GENTS:—I have been subject to Sick Headache for years, and have tried, in vain, many advertised remedies and several physicians, but all to no purpose. At last I tried your B. B. Bitters—without much faith, I admit—but to-day I can truly say, that after taking the third bottle I have not suffered from it. I recommend it to all my friends; several have been cured by it. My little grandson was permanently cured of Biliousness and Sick Headache, which were so severe as to cause convulsions. They have all ceased since he commenced the use of B. B. B.

Dyspepsia.

GENTS:—I feel it my duty to say respecting Burdock Blood Bitters that it is the best medicine I ever took. I suffered two or three years from stomach troubles and dyspepsia as well as from liver and kidney complaint. I was not able to attend to my business. My wife was afflicted in much the same way. We read of your Bitters in the papers and made up our minds that we would try them. The result is my wife and I began to improve at once and I am now able to do more hard work than before in ten years. It relieved my kidney troubles as well. We both wish you, the makers of it Godspeed. JOSEPH LANDON,

HEALTH AND STRENGTH REGAINED.

AND DEBILITATED MEN seeking Health, Strength and Energy, should avoid Drugs, Secret Medicines, etc., and send for "The Review," or "Health and Strength Regained," a large illustrated Journal published entirely for their benefit.

It treats on health, hygiene, physical culture, and medical subjects, and is a complete encyclopedia of information for suffering humanity afflicted with long standing, chronic, nervous, exhausting and painful diseases.

YOUNG AND MIDDLE AGED MEN, and others who suffer from nervous and physical debility, exhausted vitality, premature decline, etc., are especially benefitted by consulting its contents. Everything such sufferers wish to know is fully given in its pages. It is next of medical aid or counsel, read it before "doctoring" or investing in medicines or appliances of any description, and you will save time, money and disappointment. If using medicine or medical treatment of any kind, read it and learn the better way.

THE REVIEW exposes the frauds practised by quacks and medical impostors who profess to "practice medicine," and points out the only safe, simple and effective road to health, vigor and bodily energy.

Electric Belts and all curative appliances are treated upon; all about them—which are genuine, which are bogus. Belts on thirty days' trial (?) and other fallacies reviewed. Thousands of dollars saved nervous-debility sufferers and others by the advice given. THE REVIEW is now in its ninth year of publication. Complete specimen copies mailed free.

A Revolutionary Relic.

A report comes from Provincetown, Mass., that the ancient wreck reported as exhumed by the sea near Peaked Hill bars life-saving station is without doubt that of the Somerset, a British man-of-war of sixty-four guns. She took part in the battle of Bunker hill, covering the landing of English soldiers at Charlestown. After the evacuation of Boston she went south, but reappeared with other ships one day in November, 1778, chasing the French fleet. Encountering a heavy northeast gale off Cape Cod she was driven ashore a wreck. Several of the crew of 480 men were drowned, but the larger part were captured by the Continental militia, and marched to Boston as prisoners of war. The ship was looted by the inhabitants of Provincetown and Truro, and the guns and ammunition turned over to the Continental army. Relic hunters visit her daily for mementoes, and a large piece has been sent to Memorial hall, Plymouth. Traces of her portholes are still visible, also the twenty-two foot draught mark on her massive stern.

A Public Benefaction.

How to laundry linen as it is done in Troy, N. Y., has been kept a secret long enough; it can and should be done in every family. The Elastic Starch is the only starch in the United States that is put up by men who have a practical knowledge of the laundry profession. It requires no cooking, keeps the iron from sticking and linen from blistering while ironing, and gives shirts, cuffs and collars that stiffness and beautiful polish they have when new, which, everybody knows keeps them clean twice as long. Beware of imitations. See that the name J. C. HUBINGER & BRO., New Haven, Conn., is on every package.

A call has been issued for $4,000,000 of the three per cent bonds of 1882.

Hop Plasters are made from pure and reliable medicinal agents. Cure aches, pains, weak parts.

The British provincial schooner Three Sisters has been fined $500 at Portland, Me., for entering that port without having the proper papers.

Carter's Little Liver Pills have no equal as a prompt and positive cure for sick headache, biliousness, constipation, pain in the side, and all liver troubles. Try them.

There has been some sharp fighting between the Greeks and the Turks on the frontier, but an armistice has been arranged.

Carter's Little Liver Pills must not be confounded with common Cathartic or Purgative Pills as they are entirely unlike them in every respect. One trial will prove their superiority.

A Burglar Captured.

This morning about two o'clock, John Wood, the well known plumber who resides on Main street, was awakened by hearing glass break. On getting out of bed he received a blow on the head. He immediately grappled with the burglar, and after a terrible struggle succeeded in holding him until his wife obtained help. On being searched at the station, Mr. Wood's watch and wallet was found on his person. He gave the name of Robert Terry. The broken glass proved to be a bottle of Sulphur Bitters which had almost cured Mrs. Wood of rheumatism. —Exchange.

McCLELLAN AND BURNSIDE.

The recent death of General McClellan leaves but few living of those unfortunate commanders who found themselves unequal to the great responsibilities placed upon them during the civil war. Burnside, Halleck, "Fighting Joe" Hooker, and others, had passed away before him, honored by the nation they had served, after having lived down the hostile criticism their official acts had excited. Equal justice will be done to General McClellan, and a true estimate of his abilities as an organizer and a soldier will be recorded. In his political ambition the genial Burnside was far more successful than his old commander, and death found him a senator from Rhode Island. McClellan might have been a cabinet officer but for factional quarrels in New Jersey which made his appointment inexpedient.

Rhode Island's devotion to her handsome senator illustrates a happy characteristic of the smallest State which still distinguishes her. General Burnside was not a native of "Little Rhody"—having come east from Indiana—but he had the right timber in him, and was made governor and afterward senator of his adopted State. The same spirit may be seen in her citizens to-day in their hearty reception of that which will be of benefit to them. A case in point is that of Mr. John A. Bishop, of Central Falls, R. I., who tells this story:

"For eighteen years I suffered with neuralgia and never got any relief until I took Athlophoros. After that had cured me of the disease I became afflicted with sciatic rheumatism, for which I was treated by two doctors. Neither of them did me any good, in fact I grew worse under their treatment. Again I began taking Athlophoros, and, strange as it may seem, relief came almost instantly. The pain abated so that I was able to get around in less than three days, and as I daily grew stronger the rheumatism left me altogether."

Mr. S. T. Goss, of No. 42 Dudley Street, Providence, can confirm this seemingly wonderful cure out of her own experience. She says:

"For thirty years I suffered with muscular rheumatism, during which time I used every known remedy and all sorts of prescriptions from physicians. At times I would gain a little relief, but only for a short period, after which the disease would attack me with renewed violence. It was while I was suffering one of these very severe attacks that a friend spoke to me of the wonders Athlophoros was doing and advised me to try it. I did get a bottle and in two days after beginning to use it was on my feet. Athlophoros is now kept in my house and is looked upon as indispensable. It is the greatest preparation I ever knew of and will cure rheumatism just as it is claimed it will do."

Mr. J. D. Payne, one of the most prominent citizens of Westville, Ct., where he has pleasant home on Fountain street, is outspoken in his praise of Atlophoros.

"I did not think there was any cure for rheumatism," he says, "but I am pleased to say that there is and that it is Athlophoros. Three doses of it cured my wife of rheumatism."

If you cannot get ATHLOPHOROS of your druggist, we will send it express paid, on receipt of regular price—one dollar per bottle. We prefer that you buy it from your druggist, but if he hasn't it, do not be persuaded to try something else, but order at once from us, as directed. ATHLOPHOROS Co., 112 Wall Street, New York.

ONE NIGHT IN KANSAS.

"There's the shotgun, Molly, and here's my revolver. Both loaded." "Yes, Tom." "Now, mind, child, there isn't one chance in ten thousand that there will be a soul near you. If I thought there was, Molly, I wouldn't leave you. You understand that?"

"Yes, Tom."

"If any one does come, it will be a neighbor or a neighbor's boy. The bandits and desperadoes have all joined traveling shows. If you don't go scaring yourself to death, you will be all right."

"Yes, Tom."

"But there's a lot of moral support in a shooting-iron, and maybe you'll feel a little safer with these."

He stooped to kiss her, feeling her lips tremble a little as he touched them. But she smiled as she raised her head, and her good-bye was quite steady.

"Plucky little thing," he said to himself, as he rode down the trail at a long, swinging lope.

At 14 Mary Allison's mother died. Then her father, with broken health and spirits, gathered up the wreck of his fortunes and went away to the green wilderness of a Kansas ranch, leaving the girl in an eastern school. Tom's college course being at an end, he went with his father, and presently found himself making a profitable business of sheep to the remembered rhythm of Greek and Latin classics. When, four years later, Miss Allison had been properly graduated with much ceremony and white muslin, her father, too, had "joined the majority," and she found Tom living in a precarious fashion at the hands of a native housekeeper, and enthusiastically glad to welcome even this very inexperienced head to his small household.

That was in July, and on that radiant September afternoon Tom found himself imperatively called to the nearest town, twenty miles away. The woman who ruled the kitchen had taken herself over the creek to "visit her kinfolks," and the herders were all at the ends of the earth with their flocks when Tom sank out of sight behind the low prairie swells. Miss Allison had the whole green world to herself as far as she could see.

The simply-built house had the New England requisite of space within, and the southwestern necessity of deep porches without. Somehow the empty rooms had all kinds of echoes inhabiting them, now that the exorcising, manly presence was removed. Miss Allison made her afternoon toilet, and took her sewing-machine and work-basket out to a shady corner.

It was easier to dream than to sew. Truth to tell, Miss Allison had no special vocation for employment for the sake of work. She sat now with slender brown hands clasped behind her head, and drifted on a tide of aimless fancies.

Over her arched a wide sky of tender, cloudless blue. Out to the bounding ring of the horizon swept the world of grass. From sky-edge to sky-edge a full tide of summer sunshine seemed to rise and fall in great fire-heated billows as the south wind surged across the space. There were no shadows, but the soft glare did not blind nor scorch. And before she knew it she was fast asleep.

She awoke with a sudden start, broad awake after a most unaccustomed fashion. All her senses came back to her instantly. The whole wide heaven was aglow with sunset, an unbroken, unflecked arch of color fading down through every tender tint to the cool gray of the short twilight. She took it all in at a single glance, and against the glory a man's figure standing black and motionless.

She was on her feet at once. Not a neighbor nor a neighbor's boy; somebody coatless, bareheaded, with white drawn face, and a helpless arm swung in a blood-stained bandage.

She stood speechless, motionless, an awful, helpless terror clutching her heart. The moral support of Tom's armory was quite out of reach in the house. That the man was already wounded—that he looked as if the merest push of her unarmed hand would be too much for him, did not matter. Such an appearance in the heart of that calm loneliness was not to be accounted for in any ordinary fashion. He might be the climax of any dreadful sequence of events. If Miss Allison had reasoned, she would have found herself afraid of what had happened, rather than of what might come.

"What do you want?" She came forward a step to say it, and tried not to let her heart choke her voice.

The figure put up one weak, appealing hand, uttered an inarticulate sound, and dropped forward face down on the grass.

Miss Allison looked about her a minute. All the little flashy pools in the prairie caught the reflection from above, and shone red in the gathering gloom about them. A slender new moon and a single great white star hung calm in the fading glow. She saw it all, and saw herself alone with that prostrate figure lying black before her.

She went towards him over the grass. He neither spoke nor stirred. She gathered back her dress and touched him with her foot. It was an involuntary, half-unconscious gesture; but the woman in her reacted spontaneously? In an instant she was on her knees beside him touching the cold hand and forehead.

"He has fainted!" she said aloud, quite coolly. There was that redeeming quality in Miss Allison. Her wits were at hand in an emergency.

In two minutes camphor and ammonia had done their appointed work. The stranger lay gasping feebly, but with

Make Haste to Defend Yourself

If you live in a locality where malaria is prevalent, with a preventive that experience indicates as the most reliable of medical safe-guards—Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. Entirely free from the objections—and they are valid ones—which attach to the mineral alkaloid quinine, it is far more effective, and its effects are not evanescent, but lasting, unlike those of the drug. There are portions of our land—and none more beautiful and more fertile—which at no season of the year are entirely exempt from the malarial scourge. In such regions Hostetter's Stomach Bitters has undergone a continuous test for the past thirty years, with results which have established its reputation beyond all cavil as a special defense against every form of malarial disease. For biliousness, also, it is an acknowledged specific, and it is a potent remedy for constipation, dyspepsia, rheumatism and an impoverished condition of the blood.

George W. Biddle of Philadelphia and William L. Putnam of Portland, Me., have been retained by the United States government to represent its interests in the trials arising from the seizure of the fishing vessels David J. Adams and Ella M. Doughty by the Canadian authorities for alleged violations of the customs laws.

A Beautiful Present.

The Virgin Salt Co., of New Haven, Conn., are making a grand offer. A pair of Doves as natural as life, new design, printed in ten beautiful colors on a fine lithograph card 9x10 inches, given away with Virgin Salt (four certificates) in order to introduce it. For household purpose this salt has no equal. It is the cleanest, purest and whitest salt ever seen or used. Large package costs only ten cents. Ask your grocer for it.

The British house of lords has again defeated the bill legalizing the marriage of a widower with his deceased wife's sister.

Numerous testimonials prove beyond a doubt that Allcock's Porous Plasters cure paralysis, nervous debility, and loss of memory when applied to the spine. They remove kidney difficulties when worn on the small of the back; applied to the pit of the stomach, dyspepsia and indigestion disappear. Colds, coughs and asthma no longer trouble the suffering patient when he uses them on the chest. If you have a headache, or want to sleep, put an Allcock's Porous Plaster on the nape of the neck—the work is not only done, but well done. This remedy not only cures ague cake, liver complaint, and malaria, but is a protection against fevers, small pox, or sewer gas.

A labor riot in Trani, Italy, resulted in the burning of several buildings and the loss of many lives.

The good effects of Ayer's Sarsaparilla on a debilitated person are felt at once, and a cure follows its use.

The town of Baligrod, in Austro-Galicia, has been destroyed by fire.

Scott's Emulsion of Pure Cod Liver Oil, with Hypophosphites,

Possesses the remedial power of these two valuable specifics in their fullest degree. Is prepared in a palatable form, easily tolerated by the stomach, and for delicate, sickly children, emaciation, consumption and all improvished conditions of the blood is unequalled by any other remedy.

Bad Man to "Discipline."

The democratic editors who do not know better than to lecture Foster of Dover upon his daring to criticise President Cleveland's administration, should learn that Foster never was the kind of editor to swallow without a bold protest the prescriptions of his party when unsavory to his political palate. The Democrat asserts that it is in accord with Harry Bingham and the leading democrats of the state, in opinion concerning Mr. Cleveland. It says:

With Mr. Bingham it is our "humble opinion Cleveland is not conducting his administration in a manner that would enable him to retain the confidence of the great mass of the democratic party." With him we agree that "when Cleveland makes an appointment he generally commits a mistake." With him we "cannot form any settled opinion as to how the administration will finally turn out." In other words there is no confidence to be placed in it by democrats. It is a doubtful quantity which cannot be counted certainly for or against anything. That has been our position ever since Mr. Cleveland began to develope himself in the reappointment of the republican postmaster of the great city of New York over a year ago, and as exploited in various similar cases ever since, and so far as policies, measures and principles are concerned, in his inertness and manifest incapacity generally. In this matter all good sound democrats of honest and intelligent convictions are agreed.

Foster differs from the average democratic editor in that he is as ready to condemn his own party leaders when they depart from the party line of conduct, as to combat a principle of the opposition; and this kind of loyalty to the party for the party's good is above the comprehensions of those who follow the lead of party managers right or wrong. Foster can afford to be independent, and he has to-day the most influential democratic journal in the state and probably the most profitable one, simply because he leads instead of following upon questions to which the public are alive.

Naval Intelligence.

Captain F. M. Bunce, Lieutenant Commander R. M. Berry, Lieutenants C. G. Bowman, W. P. Clason and B. A. Fiske, Ensign Hiero Taylor, Surgeon George F. Winslow, Passed Assistant Surgeon A. C. Heffenger and Paymaster A. W. Bacon, are ordered to the Atlanta.

Lieut. Comdr. George E. Ide is ordered as executive of the Alliance.

Commodore W. K. Mayo, and Lieutenants John T. Sullivan, James M. Grimes and W. E. B. Delehay, have been placed on the retired list.

First Lieut. Wm. F. Spicer, U. S. M. C., is detached from the marine barracks at Boston, and ordered to command the marine guard of the Atlanta.

First Lieut. George D. Bates is detached from command of the marine guard of the Powhatan, and ordered to Annapolis, Maryland.

Passed Asst. Engr. George W. Stivers and W. W. Heaton have been promoted to the rank of chief engineer.

The retirement of Rear Admirals English and Simpson, with the failure of Commodore Truxton to be confirmed for the English vacancy, and the failure of Commodore Mayo to pass the examination for rear admiral, have resulted in promotions as follows: Commodores James E. Jouett and J. H. Russell to be rear admirals; Captains John Irwin and J. A. Greer to be commodores; Commanders N. H. Farquhar and T. F. Kane to be captains; Lieut. Commanders Edwin White and O. F. Heyerman to be commanders; Lieutenants S. W. Very and G. A. Bicknell to be lieutenant commanders; Lieutenants (junior grade) W. F. Halsey and F. A. Wilner to be lieutenants.

A syndicate of gentlemen resident in New Hampshire who are opposed to the Boston, Concord & Montreal railroad being leased to the Lowell road, have purchased a controlling interest in the former corporation and chosen their representative directors. E. H. Rollins is the new president of the corporation. The new owners are men who have been in sympathy with the effort to have the leases of the B., C. & M. and the Northern railroads, and the consolidation likely to succeed these leases, abrogated under the plea that if there is to be a consolidation it is better that they should be the consolidationists than to have Boston capitalists managing the railways of New Hampshire. At the meeting of the stockholders of the B., C. & M. R. R. on Monday a remonstrance against the proposed act of the Massachusetts legislature providing for a union of the Boston & Lowell with the B., C. & M. R. R. was read and adopted.

Samuel Clark of Eliot Depot owns the Hambletonian stallion "Hardscrabble," five years old this month, 15 1-2 hands high and weighing 1025 lbs., compactly built, splendid looking and good gaited. He is also the owner of the stallion "Delightful," four years old in June, a full brother to Hardscrabble, good looking and a very powerful colt, fifteen hands high, and weighs 1000 lbs. Mr. Clark has a Hardscrabble colt two years old that it would be hard to beat; dark bay, stands 15 1-4 hands high, and weighs 850 lbs. John S. Moulton has a mare colt eight months old, by Hardscrabble, that he has refused $100 for; she is handsome as a picture, and weighs 596 lbs. There are several other good ones in this vicinity. Albert A. Fernald has a nice one, that he was offered $100 for when four months old. John Mathes is owner of the fine stallion "Japonica," three years old in June, by "Frank Faulkner," dam a Morgan mare; he stands 15 3-4 hands high, and weighs 1060 lbs. Jasper Shapleigh has a brood mare by Goodwin's Hambletonian, with a year-old colt; also a five-year-old. Henry C. Tobey sold his last spring colt to Mr. Spinney for eighty-five dollars. O. C.

The May term of the supreme judicial court of Maine for York county opened at Alfred last week, and one of the first incidents was the resignation of Mr. Ellas Clark, foreman of the grand jury, he being charged with conspiracy in connection with the wholesale repeating engineered by some of the leading democrats of Biddeford at the late election. Among the traverse jurors present were Augustus H. Adams and Albert Moulton of Kittery, Albert Hurst of Eliot, Charles C. Barrell of York, Howard P. Marston and Samuel G. Stackpole of South Berwick, Henry G. Quint of North Berwick, George B. Pike of Wells, Tobias S. Nason and Benjamin F. Getchell of Kennebunk; Messrs. Moulton, Marston and Getchell were excused.

THE BEST

boon ever bestowed upon man is perfect health, and the true way to insure health is to purify your blood with Ayer's Sarsaparilla. Mrs. Eliza A. Clough, 34 Arlington st., Lowell, Mass., writes: "Every winter and spring my family, including myself, use several bottles of Ayer's Sarsaparilla. Experience has convinced me that, as a powerful purifier, it is very much superior to any other preparation of Sarsaparilla. All persons of scrofulous or consumptive tendencies, and especially delicate children, are sure to be greatly benefited by its use." J. W. Starr, Laconia, Iowa, writes: "For years I was troubled with scrofulous complaints. I tried several different preparations, which did me little, if any, good. Two bottles of Ayer's Sarsaparilla effected a complete cure. It is my opinion that this medicine is the best blood of the day." C. E. Upton, Nashua, N. H., writes: "For a number of years I was troubled with a humor in my eyes, and unable to obtain relief until I commenced using Ayer's Sarsaparilla. I have taken several bottles, am greatly benefited, and believe it to be the best of blood purifiers." R. Harris, Creel City, Ramsey Co., Dakota, writes: "I have been an intense sufferer, with Dyspepsia, for the past three years. Six months ago I began to use

Blood

Purifier

Three Peculiarities

Hood's Sarsaparilla, the great blood purifier and regulating medicine, is characterized by three peculiarities, namely:

1st: The combination of the various remedial agents used.

2d: The proportion in which the roots, herbs, barks, etc., are mixed.

3d: The process by which the active medicinal properties are secured.

The result is a medicine of unusual strength and curative power, which effects cures heretofore unequalled. These peculiarities belong exclusively to Hood's Sarsaparilla, and are

Unknown to Others

Hood's Sarsaparilla is prepared with the greatest skill and care, by pharmacists of education and long experience. Hence it is a medicine worthy of entire confidence. If you suffer from scrofula, salt rheum, or any disease of the blood, dyspepsia, biliousness, sick headache, or kidney and liver complaints, catarrh or rheumatism, do not fail to try

SALE OF INSURANCE COMPANY STOCK.

A small but solid attendance was seen at the office of Auctioneer Morse on Tuesday noon, when were offered for sale twenty shares of the capital stock of the Granite State Fire Insurance company. The auctioner, who is an "Insurance Broker," was eloquent in his statistics of the receipts of the company, the description of its large business, its plethoric bank account, and its prospective dividends. The first bid was made by a cautious capitalist at ninety, which was quickly succeeded by a bid of ninety-five; ninety-seven and a half followed, and par was soon reached.

It became evident that it was a mere question of figures, whether the stock would be purchased by the president or one of the directors of the company. This was soon determined when the auctioneer knocked down the shares at 101 to Hon. Frank Jones, who took the lot at that price, in accordance with the announced terms of the sale, five shares or the whole.

MISS HELENE ADELL.

Another good audience occupied Music hall Tuesday evening, when "Juanita," a new and pleasing melodrama, was presented, to the plainly-expressed satisfaction of the spectators. Miss Adell as the heroine was especially good. Miss Sara Lascelles—a very meritorious actress, by the way—filled a dual role very pleasingly; in fact the support was, as usual, good all the way through.

This (Wednesday) evening "A Night in Rome" is on the bills.

Thursday evening the Madison square success "Engaged" will be presented; Friday evening, Ouida's noted creation, "Moths;" Saturday afternoon, Byron's pleasing light comedy, "Our Boys;" and Saturday evening the comedy "Tom Cobb," and the farce "The Day After the Wedding."

COMMITTEE MEETING.

The Finance Committee (Soldiers' and Sailors' Monument) will hold a meeting at the city rooms on Thursday evening, May 27th, at 7:30 o'clock.

C. M. GIGNOUX, Chairman.

PERSONAL.

William H. Rollins, Esq., president of the Portsmouth savings bank, returned this week from a business trip in the west.

John Sise, Esq., president of the National Mechanics & Traders' bank, has gone to Kansas City.

Wm. A. Peirce, Esq., of Greenland, has been absent some time on a western tour.

Capt. Robert F. Bradford, U. S. N., left for New York on Tuesday evening to serve as president of the board of naval officers who are to inspect the U. S. S. Nipsic this week.

Walter C. Harriman, Esq., was in town on Tuesday.

Joseph H. Thompson left Portsmouth this week for New York, and will sail in a few days with his family for Europe, for a lengthened stay abroad.

FIRE.

A little daughter of Mr. Thomas Salmon, who lives in house No. 4 Russell street, owned by Mrs. Sweeney, between eight and nine o'clock Tuesday evening saw light shining under the kitchen door, and opening the door found the stormhouse on fire, the door being nearly burned through. Mr. Salmon and some neighbors soon extinguished the flames, without a general alarm. The week's washing of the family, which hung in the stormhouse, was partly burned, and ruined. Officer Smart at the first intimation hastened to the spot to arrest the progress of the conflagration, and got there just in time to see the last of it go out.

BASE BALL.

The Dover base ball club will play a game at the Plains on Thursday afternoon of this week, with the Portsmouth high school club.

The Portsmouth high school club will play a game at Greenland Parade on Saturday afternoon, with the Greenland club.

The board of aldermen have asked for an appropriation of $4000 for the widening and improving of Sagamore road. Whether the common council will concur in this item of the appropriation bill remains yet to be decided. Nevertheless, under the authority of the mayor and board of aldermen the work is progressing, just the same as if the council had already agreed. Perhaps they intend by-and-bye to ask for a transfer of the items of the appropriation.

COMMON COUNCIL.

At Music hall on Monday evening, the opening night of the Helene Adell company's present engagement, the curtain rose within a few minutes after eight o'clock. The audience, as is customary, came straggling in until half an hour later, probably one-half the persons who were in the hall that night entering after the performance began. If this rule of promptness in commencing entertainments were kept up for a month or two, it would become as universal a rule for people to be in their seats at the proper time, as it now is for them not to be.

Mr. Eugene Flynn was in Boston on Tuesday, buying groceries with which to stock the store on Penhallow street, near Bow, recently repaired and fitted up by Mr. George Scott.

We learn from undoubted authority that the delightful "Kirmes" of last summer will be repeated in July. The ladies having the matter in charge are adding many new features, which will insure the success of the entertainment.

Mr. C. J. O'Reilly, draughtsman in the department of steam engineering at this navy yard, is temporarily transferred to the bureau of steam engineering at Washington, and will leave for that city in a few days.

The bill granting Major Alfred J. Hill a pension of $17 a month has passed the house of representatives.

The Grand Army post will attend divine service at the Methodist church in a body, in full uniform, on the 30th inst.; the Woman's Relief corps will also attend, in a body.

Atwell & Co., at No. 28 Market street, are in receipt of strawberries of such size and flavor as are not often to be procured in the height of the season, and are selling them at such prices that it does not require that a person should have a Vanderbilt's bank account before taking a look at them through the window.

The last dance of the colored people of the city for this season takes place this (Wednesday) evening in upper Franklin hall, under the management of "A. M. D." It was to have been given on the evening of the 19th, but was postponed on account of a death.

John N. Maffit, whose death at Wilmington, N. C., on the 15th inst., has been announced, won evil notoriety during the war of secession by his energy and enterprise, as captain of the British-confederate cruiser Florida, in destroying the merchant ships of the United States. He entered the United States navy in 1832, and resigned in 1861 to enter the rebel service. He was son of the late John Maffit, an eminent preacher of the Methodist pursuasion over half a century ago, and was born in the house on the easterly corner of Daniel and Mulberry streets in this city, his father being then pastor of the Methodist church here. As is usually the case with renegades, Maffit's devotion to the cause of disunion was more intense than that displayed by the average native-born southerner.

Capt. Daniel Trefethen, who died in Dover on the 24th inst. at an advanced age, was born on Trefethen's island in this harbor, now the navy yard.

The Dover Republican of Monday says: "There were three schooners in the river over Sunday. Capt. Drew of the tug Ann declined to take them down the river on Sunday."

Tickets to the exercises in Music hall on Memorial evening, Monday, May 31st, will be on sale at Goodrich's on Friday morning, May 28th, price fifteen cents, to all parts of the house.

Ira Hall, who was employed in this city for some time last year, leaving the city early in the summer, is again in town. It may be remembered that last fall our local papers published a long story of the burial alive of a young man named Hall, in Denver, Colorado, and who was then thought to be the one known in this city.—Times.

The Concord railroad locomotive Pembroke, formerly a wood burner, has been undergoing a general overhaul and repair in the machine shop at Concord, and has been altered over into a coal burner. It will be put on the Concord & Portsmouth line in a few days, taking the place of the Gov. Stearns, and will be run by Engineer William E. Littlefield of this city.

J. Albert Walker shipped on Tuesday fifty-six tons of coal to the Sovereigns of Industry at Newmarket, by gondola Hardchance, Cheney master, this being her 29th trip on the river this season.

The gondola Fearless, Harry Watson master, sailed on Friday of last week with coal from C. E. Walker & Co., and salt for the alewive fishery from E. F. Sise & Co. to Charles Chapman of Newmarket. On Tuesday of this week she was loaded with 100 hhds. of salt from Sise to Elliot & Batchelder of Exeter. She is making trips with heavy goods from here to the up-river towns right along.

George R. Webber's team was in town on Tuesday from Lobster cove, York, with 300 lobsters.

Among Sam Jones' Chicago converts is a "young newspaper man." That is nothing to brag about. Any clergyman with a soft, insinuating tongue and pleasing address can convert a young journalist. Let him tackle the old ones. Take an old fellow who has been in the harness forty years, and get him on the mourners' bench, and you have an item for the Associated Press.—Kansas City Times.

To the Cuticura Remedies I owe My Health, My Happiness, and My Life.

A day never passes that I do not think and speak kindly of the CUTICURA REMEDIES. Seven years ago, all of a dozen lumps formed on my neck, ranging in size from a cherry stone to an orange. The large ones were painful to look at, and painful to bear; people turned aside when they saw me, in disgust, and I was ashamed to be on the street or in society. Physicians and their treatment, and all medicines failed to do any good. In a moment of despair I tried the CUTICURA REMEDIES—CUTICURA, the great Skin Cure, and CUTICURA SOAP, an exquisite Skin Beautifier, externally, and CUTICURA RESOLVENT, the new Blood Purifier, internally; the small lumps (as I call them) gradually disappeared, and the large ones broke, in about two weeks, discharging large quantities of matter, leaving two slight scars in my neck to day to tell the story of my suffering. My weight then was one hundred and fifteen sickly pounds; my weight now is one hundred and sixty-one solid, healthy pounds, and my height is only five feet five inches. In my travels I praised the CUTICURA REMEDIES, North, South, East, and West. TO CUTICURA REMEDIES I OWE MY HEALTH, MY HAPPINESS, AND MY LIFE. A prominent New York druggist asked me the other day, "Do you still use the CUTICURA REMEDIES; you look to be in perfect health?" My reply was, "I do, and shall always. I have never seen what sickness is since I commenced using the CUTICURA REMEDIES." Sometimes I am laughed at by praising them to people not acquainted with their merits, but sooner or later they will come to their senses and believe the same as those who use them, as doubtless have whom I have told. May the time come when there shall be a large CUTICURA Supply House in every city in the world, for the benefit of humanity, where the CUTICURA REMEDIES shall be sold ONLY, so that there will be rarely a need of ever entering a drug store.

Sneezing Catarrh.

The distressing sneeze, sneeze, sneeze, the acrid, watery discharge from the eyes and nose, the painful inflammation extending to the throat, the swelling of the mucous lining, causing choking sensations, cough, ringing noises in the head and splitting headaches,—how familiar these symptoms are to thousands who suffer periodically from head colds or influenza, and who live in ignorance of the fact that a single application of SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE FOR CATARRH will afford instantaneous relief.

But this treatment in cases of simple Catarrh gives but a faint idea of what this remedy will do in the chronic forms, where the breathing is obstructed by choking, putrid mucous accumulations, the hearing affected, smell and taste gone, throat ulcerated and hacking cough gradually fastening itself upon the debilitated system. Then it is that the marvellous curative powers of SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE manifests itself in instantaneous and grateful relief. Cure begins from the first application. It is rapid, radical, permanent, economical, safe.

restored consciousness.

"What is the matter with you?" she asked crisply.

He looked up at her, standing straight and tall in her white dress.

"I've eaten nothing for forty-eight hours," he said quietly.

Speech and voice were clear and soft. Miss Allison found herself conscious of a glimmer of friendly interest.

"Can you get into the house?" with matter-of-fact coolness; "I will find you something to eat."

He raised himself weakly as she turned away. Miss Allison looking up presently from her struggles with the cooking-stove fire, found him standing in the doorway regarding her out of hollow sunken eyes. She had lighted a lamp, and Tom's revolver lay within reach.

A faint smile crossed the man's pale lips. Miss Allison saw it, and a little flash of temper sent color and light into her cheeks and eyes.

"I need accounting for?" answering the flash.

"You do, certainly," sharply. "There's bread and a glass of wine beside you. Drink it and lie down till this coffee boils."

He obeyed her. When Miss Allison went to him presently with her coffee, she found him asleep. And from the wounded arm a dark stream dripped slowly.

Miss Allison set down her tray, and turned faint and sick. Then she roused him gently.

"Look at your arm. What is the matter with it?"

"I have been shot," drowsily. "It is bleeding again? Can you—get me——" falling off into unconsciousness, half sleep, half stupor.

"Oh, dear!" desperately. "He's going to bleed to death! You must wake up!" seizing his shoulder, and speaking with a ring in her clear voice.

He opened his eyes again.

"I will help you bandage your arm."

The apron she had tied over her white dress was in strips, and she was bending over him, her hands not quite steady, her face pale. There was blood on her hands and gown before the work was done.

"I am very sorry," looking up deprecatingly. He had long-lashed, womanish eyes, and his face, if not handsome, was certainly not ruffianly nor coarse.

She poured his coffee and held his food. A man with one hand is not expected to be expert with knife and fork; but he ate and drank with a refinement that made his evident eagerness more marked and touching.

Not a word was spoken. Miss Allison, behind a table, with her revolver lying in her lap, watched him closely. All at once a conclusion flashed on her mind and took her breath away.

"You are one of the horse-thieves!" she said, slowly. She was leaning towards him, her lips apart, her eyes very wide open.

He laid down his knife and fork, and looked at her silently.

And then the inconsequent woman's logic asserted itself. The man was a fugitive from justice, certainly; but there he was in her power—hungry—wounded and—interesting. And, somehow, the Allison blood had a trick of taking the losing side.

She rose impulsively.

"They are after you," she said, in a half whisper. "The whole community is searching."

A PROCLAMATION.

FROM THE SAGES OF THE EAST, TO THE CHILDREN OF THE WEST.

GREETING:

BE IT KNOWN UNTO YOU AND TO ALL THE DWELLERS OF WALLED TOWNS THAT TO THE BRAINERD & ARMSTRONG CO. AND TO THEM ALONE IS IMPARTED THE KNOWLEDGE OF AND THE RIGHT TO USE THE EASTERN OR ASIATIC DYES.

Society of Decorative Art,
28 EAST 21ST ST., NEW YORK, Dec. 22, 1885.

To THE BRAINERD & ARMSTRONG CO.—Dear Sirs: Having tested your embroidery silks, and finding them in color and texture eminently satisfactory, the managers of the Society of Decorative Art believe that you have found the secret of fast dyes. They believe it is no longer necessary to the Society to be dependent upon foreign manufactures. I have pleasure in telling you that it has been decided by the board of management to give you the silk thread business of the Society in Decorative Art. Congratulating you that your dyes stand "test" under the severest test, I am,

Very truly yours, A. H. BLODGETT,
President of the Society of Decorative Art.

Also endorsed and exclusively used by the ASSOCIATED ARTISTS OF NEW YORK.

☞ Avoid imitations by taking only skeins bearing our name and guarantee tag. If your storekeeper does not keep our goods in stock, or will not get them for you, send us your address on a postal card. Waste Embroidery Silk, assorted colors, 40c. per oz. Send stamp for Circular.

An eight-year-old son of Captain Alexander French of Gloucester, Mass., strayed from home Saturday, and was found drowned in Sayward's dock next day.

In chronic diseases, medicines should be rest-ring, and not debilitating, in their action. The wonderful strengthening and curative effects, realized from the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, sustain the reputation of this remedy as the most popular blood purifier.

The Minneapolis Tribune observes that "It will be a sad blow to superstitious people to learn that the jurors and others upon whom Guiteau poured his torrent of fearful curses have, as a rule, enjoyed uncommonly good luck since the trial. A gentleman who has investigated the matter, finds that with two exceptions of sick men at the time, all the jurors, judges, lawyers, etc., engaged in the trial of the assassin are well, hale, and prosperous in business pursuits."

The restoration to health of our child we considered uncertain. When two weeks old she caught cold. For eighteen months she was not able to breathe through her nostrils. How It Was That Five Portlanders Got $15,000.

Mr. Rufus F. Bacon held one-fifth of the ticket which drew the capital prize of $75,000 in The Louisiana State Lottery Drawing of April 13th. Some of his friends suggested that they purchase some tickets in The Louisiana State Lottery. They purchased one-fifth of ten different tickets, paying therefor $10. When they got the tickets, each selected two tickets haphazard, and if either ticket drew, the amount was to be divided between them all. On Wednesday last a telegram was received, stating that ticket No. 25,944 had drawn one-fifth of the capital prize of $75,000.—Portland (Me.) Argus, April 21.

Advice to Mothers.

Are you disturbed at night and broken of your rest by a sick child suffering and crying with pain of cutting teeth? If so, send at once and get a bottle of Mrs Winslow's Soothing Syrup for Children Teething. Its value is incalculable. It will relieve the poor little sufferer immediately. Depend upon it, mothers, there is no mistake about it. It cures dysentery and diarrhœa, regulates the stomach and bowels, cures wind colic, softens the gums, reduces inflammation, and gives tone and energy to the whole system. Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup for Children Teething is pleasant to the taste, and is the prescription of one of the oldest and best female nurses and physicians in the United States, and is for sale by all druggists throughout the world. A Burglar Captured.

This morning about two o'clock, John Woed, the well known plumber who resides on Main street, was awakened by hearing glass break. On getting out of bed he received a blow on the head. He immediately grappled with the burglar, and after a terrible struggle succeeded in holding him until his wife obtained help. On being searched at the station, Mr. Wood's watch and wallet was found on his person. He gave the name of Robert Terry. The broken glass proved to be a bottle of Sulphur Bitters which had almost cured Mrs. Wood of rheumatism. —Exchange.

AS INVALUABLE AS FLOUR.

Ansonia and West Ansonia are two thrifty towns in Connecticut that have become famous for their brass works. These are not their only claims to distinction, however. Apart from many pleasant features common to progressive New England communities, they possess a number of citizens of advanced views who are at present engaged in a work of peculiar interest. One of these is Mr. Reuben Locke, whose home is on Hill Street, West Ansonia, and who is highly esteemed by his fellow citizens. Why he is active in his present work he thus explains:

"Five spoonfuls of Athlophoros cured me of a very stubborn attack of inflammatory rheumatism. I cannot express my feelings of joy at having at last found a medicine that did what the doctors failed to do for me. I esteem Athlophoros as I would my dearest friend, and recommend it because I know that it will do all that is claimed for it."

Mr. J. V. Wightman, of Ansonia, is no less enthusiastic and positive in his belief in the efficacy of this great remedy. He says:

"I believe, in fact I know, that there is nothing like Athlophoros. It cured me permanently of a very severe case of muscular rheumatism. I have recommended it on the strength of my own case to a number of people suffering with rheumatism and neuralgia, and they have one and all been cured by it, and the good work still goes on. On every side I hear the highest praise of Athlophoros."

From Providence, R. I., the same good news is reported. The happy messenger of glad tidings in the present instance is Mr. Isaac Crocker, who is well known to many people in Providence as the paper carrier who brings them their daily papers. Mr. Crocker rejoices over the cure of his son which he describes as follows:

"In the winter of 1882 and 1883 our son, who was then fourteen years old, was very sick with inflammatory rheumatism. He was confined to his bed and suffered greatly. He was very sick until the spring, and his trouble continued up to February of the present year (1885), when he saw Athlophoros advertised. At that time he was unable to move his feet. After taking two doses he could move them without pain, and by the time he had taken half a bottle he was cured. We have recommended Athlophoros to a neighbor who is 75 years old and it has helped him more than anything he ever tried. We would as soon think of being without flour as without Athlophoros."

Mrs. Millie M. Davis, of No. 193 Whalley Avenue, New Haven, says:

"For three months I suffered dreadfully with muscular rheumatism. In that time I was treated by four different physicians, none of whom relieved me of the pain and distress. They said I had waited too long and their medicine had no effect. I did not experience the much-sought relief till I took Athlophoros, the very first dose of which eased me so much that I could, for the first time in a great while, sit down to eat my meals. I steadily improved and in a short time was completely cured of rheumatism. I gladly add my testimony to that of the many others who have been cured by Athlophoros."

If you cannot get ATHLOPHOROS of your druggist, we will send it express paid, on receipt of regular price—one dollar per bottle. We prefer that you buy it of your druggist, but if he hasn't it, do not be persuaded to try something else, but order at once from us as directed. ATHLOPHOROS CO., 112 Wall Street, New York.

ONE NIGHT IN KANSAS.

"I know it," despondently. "I have been in the brush for two days. Somebody gave me this," touching his arm. "I was starved out, worn out, and came here to surrender."

"Finish your supper," abruptly.

Then she went away, and on the porch paced steadily up and down for ten good minutes in the starlight. Through the open window she could watch her visitor, and she had her revolver firmly clutched.

He had finished his meal when she went back.

"I don't know anything about you," she said, severely. "I don't want to. You are a young man, and you do not look as if you were entirely hardened in crime. I am going to give you another chance. I don't know whether I am doing right or wrong," breaking down in her moral tone. "I don't care!" She stopped and caught her breath. Then she hurried on, forgetting everything, woman fashion, in the excitement of the moment. "The eastern train passes at 4 o'clock. It's only a signal-station, and there will be nobody there. I'll take you down in time for it, and that will give you six good hours of sleep. Tom isn't coming home, and you can have his clothes."

She opened the door of a small room behind her—an orderly, half-filled storeroom.

"You can stay here. Nobody will come; and if they do, I—I am armed!" valiantly giving the information as a warning as well as an assurance.

He obeyed her speechlessly. He heard the lock click as he stretched himself on the couch that waited him. And in two minutes he was asleep.

It did not seem much more than that time before he woke, to find her standing beside him.

"Here are Tom's clothes. You have ten minutes to get dressed. I've ripped the coat-sleeve, you see; and there's a traveling-shawl. The horses are ready."

She was waiting for him as he came out. A slight, dark-clad figure; a white face, with wide, shining eyes and resolute, firmly set lips. After all, being clad with a semblance of order and decency, he was not such a desperate-looking character.

There was more hot coffee.

"Come," she said, curtly, as he put down his cup.

He paused at the door.

"Who harnessed?"

"I did."

"And you are going alone!"

"Quite alone."

"And coming back alone?"

"Yes."

She was whiter than ever, and her eyes filled with tears as she looked up at him. Anything less like a heroine never figured in an adventure.

"You poor child!" There was nothing but kindly pity in his voice. "You will take your revolver?" glancing toward it as it lay on the table.

"Yes."

"Hadn't you better," gently, "let me load it?"

"It is loaded. Tom said so."

"Tom was mistaken. "See," showing her the empty chambers."

There was the faintest light in the room, carefully screened from outside observation. She had sunk back in her chair at the discovery of Tom's blunder. His face was in strong relief as, with one hand, he did his work slowly and awkwardly.

"You are sure you can use it?"

Somevow there seemed a curious change in their relations.

The swift ponies knew the firm little hands holding the reins. The trail was smooth as a floor, and the five miles vanished behind them. In the clear darkness of the west burned a low, red light.

"There's your train. The station is just ahead. I shall wait here till I see that you get away." It was the first word that had been spoken.

She pulled her horses down to a walk.

"I hope," forcing herself to improve the occasion, "that you won't do it again."

"Get caught for a horse-thief?" pleasantly. "I certainly shall try to avoid it."

It did not sound penitent. Miss Allison experienced a revulsion of feeling.

"You had better get down here," she said, severely.

He alighted slowly and with difficulty. Then he turned toward her, and she saw his face pale in the shadow of Tom's slouched hat.

"I do not want you to think that I do not know that you are saving my life, and that not one woman in a thousand would have had the nerve to do what you have done." There was no question of earnestness in his voice now.

"I hope you will mend your ways then."

"Will you tell me your name?" not heeding her speech.

"Mary Allison."

"Thank you." He turned and took a few steps away. "Excuse me," diffidently, forgetting his abandoned character. He was at her side again. "Have you—have you"—desperately—"any money?"

"Very little"—quietly. "Take this, then," dropping a purse into his hand. "And I wish you'd tell me," with a sudden impulse, "did you take the horse?"

"Upon my word, no."

She bent towards him.

"Good-bye," putting out a bare white hand.

He took it with frank earnestness, held it a brief minute, and then the darkness swallowed him up.

A Multitude of Ailments.

The ailments which afflict the kidneys and bladder are so numerous, that merely to name them would fill a space far outrunning the limits of this article. Suffice it to say, that they are both obstinate and dangerous. To their prevention Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is well adapted. The stimulous which it lends to the action of the kidneys when they are lethargic, serve to counteract a tendency in them to lapse, first, into a state of pernicious inactivity, and afterwards into one of positive organic disease, which soon destroys their delicate integuments, poisons the blood and causes death. A double purpose is served by this depurent. It promotes activity of the kidneys, and expels impurities from the blood which have no natural channel of outlet except those organs. Constipation, billiousness, fever and ague, rheumatism and dyspepsia, are also remedied by this medicine of thorough action and wide scope.

Joseph Dorway, of Dover, a French Canadian, aged seventeen years, who was jilted by a young girl whom he was keeping company with, took Prussic acid and died.

A Beautiful Present.

The Virgin Salt Co., of New Haven, Conn., are making a grand offer. A pair of Doves as natural as life, new design, printed in ten beautiful colors on a fine lithograph card 9x10 inches, given away with Virgin Salt (four certificates) in order to introduce it. For household purpose this salt has no equal. It is the cleanest, purest and whitest salt ever seen or used. Large package costs only ten cents. Ask your grocer for it.

A boat race between George A. Perkins of England and Neil Matterson of Australia, for £200 a side and the championship of England challenge cup, was rowed over the usual Thames course at London on May 24th. Perkins won by three lengths.

Numerous testimonials prove beyond a doubt that Allcock's Porous Plasters cure paralysis, nervous debility, and loss of memory when applied to the spine. They remove kidney difficulties when worn on the small of the back; applied to the pit of the stomach, dyspepsia and indigestion disappear. Colds, coughs and asthma no longer trouble the suffering patient when he uses them on the chest. If you have a headache, or want to sleep, put an Allcock's Porous Plaster on the nape of the neck—the work is not only done, but well done. This remedy not only cures ague cake, liver complaint, and malaria, but is a protection against fevers, small pox, or sewer gas.

Keene Bros. started their shoe factory at Skowhegan, Me., Monday afternoon, May 24th, but not one of the striking lasters returned to work. The factory was operated by the old crew, including sixty men discharged the previous Saturday by order of the Lasters' union.

The good effects of Ayer's Sarsaparilla on a debilitated person are felt at once, and a cure follows its use.

Purify Your Blood.

Among spring preparations, do not neglect that which is most important of all—your own body. During the winter the blood absorbs many impurities, which, if not expelled, are liable to break out in scrofula or other disease. The best spring medicine is Hood's Sarsaparilla. It expels every impurity from the blood, and gives strength to every function of the body. Sold by all druggists.

The railroad commissioners of Massachusetts find that the accident on the Fitchburg road last April, by which a train went down a bank, was due to defective construction of the road bed. The present managers of the road are exonerated.

The Duke's Trowsers.

The Duke of Sutherland sailed into New York harbor a month ago aboard his yacht, in which he is cruising around the world, and his advent stirred Fifth avenue profoundly. He was lionized during his three weeks in the city, and in whatever respects his manners differed from those previously accepted as the best in London, in those particulars the Anglomaniacs amended their own. He was accepted as undoubted authority. One day he went to the tailor most patronized by this clique, and ordered two suits of clothes. He stipulated that the trowsers should be very loose, and they were made so. The tailor hastily informed his customers of the dimensions, and they followed the example with all speed. In a week the legs of a hundred dandies were lost in flapping pantaloons. Then some suits direct from London arrived, and the trowsers were only of medium size. The truth transpired that the duke meant his two pairs for wear aboard his yacht simply, for comfort and not for style. But the fashion had been set, and baggy trowsers, though blunderingly donned, are not to be taken off.

Ex-President Arthur.

A despatch of May 25th from New York says: "Ex-President Arthur is again practically confined to his bed, and his friends believe that his rides taken last week did him more harm than good. He is greatly emaciated and unable to take any substantial food, and the exertion last week, added to the natural excitement which the exercise in the open air produced, has operated to his disadvantage. His friends have hopes of carrying him through the summer, but the most sanguine of them hardly hope for more than this."

The Webster Statue.

The Webster statue, which was given to the state by Benjamin P. Cheney, will be dedicated with impressive ceremonies on June 17th. It is of the finest Concord granite. It was designed by Thomas Ball, but the plans were drawn and the work performed under the direction of John A. Coffey, an architect of Boston. The base is a single stone about nine feet square, weighing eleven tons, and showing cut work some six inches above ground. The plinth is six and a half feet square, four feet high, and weighs thirteen tons; it has bevelled edges, and a series of finely cut mouldings.

The die is four and a half feet square, and three and a quarter feet high; it tapers toward the top. On the front are the words cut in polished letters, "Daniel Webster." On the sides are panels of fine government bronze of a light shade. On the north side are the coat of arms of New Hampshire and the legend, "Born at Salisbury, New Hampshire, January 18, 1782." On the south tablet is the coat of arms of the state of Massachusetts, and the inscription, "Died at Marshfield, Mass., October 24, 1852." On the west side is the following: "Presented by Benjamin Pierce Cheney to the State of New Hampshire, January 18, 1886."

The model of the statue was made by Thomas Ball at Florence, and the casting was executed in Munich. The statue is eight feet tall, and weighs 2,000 pounds. Webster is arrayed in an old style dress suit. The neck is dressed with a stock, much worn in those times, with a broad turned-down collar. The arms are at the sides, the thumb and index finger of the right hand being opened, with the remaining fingers partially closed. The left hand holds a manuscript partly opened. The head represents Webster in his closing years, and the features are of the most marked and expressive character, said by those who knew him to be extremely lifelike and correct. The pose is admirable, massive and commanding. The figure stands on a light bronze base thirty-two by thirty inches square. In the rear of the right leg is an irregular pile of books surmounted by manuscript. The whole height of base and statue is seventeen and one-eighth feet, and the cost is $12,000. The artists and municipal authorities of Munich were so pleased with the beauty of the statue that in response to their request it was placed on public exhibition in that city for several days before being shipped to this country.

The Riverside base ball club will play a game with the South Newmarket club on Memorial day, appearing in their new uniform on that occasion. The game will take place in South Newmarket.

Andrew J. Wiggin, who killed himself at Springfield, Mass., on May 21st, after shooting his wife three times on a public street, was a native of Stratham, thirty-eight years old, and a brick-mason by trade.

There is a petition in circulation by persons interested in the county business, addressed to the commissioners of Rockingham county, requesting that the register's office and the county officers in the county building at Exeter be heated by steam. The commissioners will be in session on the 15th of June at 11:30 o'clock A. M., at their office in the town hall at Exeter, to hear all parties who wish to be heard in the case.

The Dover Republican says that Portsmouth "has no fishing vessels on the Canadian coast, or anywhere else,"—a most mistaken assertion, for the fishing interest of Portsmouth has done more for the advance of business in this city during the past winter than has the great United States navy yard in the harbor; and is even now so doing. Give the navy yard to the fishermen between Cape Porpoise and Cape Ann, and they would soon stop all neighberly disturbances.

TURLAH.

Calvin Chisholm, one of the survivors of four men who got astray on the fishing grounds in the Gulf of St. Lawrence from the schooner Cecil H. Low of Gloucester, Mass., has arrived home. He was in a dory eight days before he was able to land at Louisburg. He has not recovered from the hardships endured, and has been sent to the Massachusetts hospital.

Daniel McEachern and Hugh Campbell, two of the crew of the schooner Maud M. Story, have also arrived in Gloucester. They got astray while attending trawls on the fishing grounds. After being in a dory five days they were picked up and landed at Canso, Nova Scotia. Two others of the crew were lost from the schooner at the same time, and have not yet been heard from; and it is feared they are lost.

The schooner Frederick Gerring, Jr., of Gloucester, Capt. Morris, being unable to purchase a bait of mackerel from the fishermen in Crow harbor, Nova Scotia, procured a supply at one of the outlying coves. The captain is a native of Nova Scotia, and thoroughly acquainted with all the out-of-the-way coves in that vicinity, of which there are a large number.

boon ever bestowed upon man is perfect health, and the true way to insure health is to purify your blood with Ayer's Sarsaparilla. Mrs. Eliza A. Clough, 34 Arlington st., Lowell, Mass., writes: "Every winter and spring my family, including myself, use several bottles of Ayer's Sarsaparilla. Experience has convinced me that, as a powerful purifier, it is very much superior to any other preparation of Sarsaparilla. All persons of scrofulous or consumptive tendencies, and especially delicate children, are sure to be greatly benefited by its use." J. W. Starr, Laconia, Iowa, writes: "For years I was troubled with scrofulous complaints. I tried several different preparations, which did me little, if any, good. Two bottles of Ayer's Sarsaparilla effected a complete cure. It is my opinion that this medicine is the best blood of the day." C. E. Upton, Nashua, N. H., writes: "For a number of years I was troubled with a humor in my eyes, and unable to obtain relief until I commenced using Ayer's Sarsaparilla. I have taken several bottles, am greatly benefited, and believe it to be the best of blood purifiers." H. Harris, Creel City, Ramsey Co., Dakota, writes: "I have been an intense sufferer, with Dyspepsia, for the past three years. Six months ago I began to use

Purifier

MUSIC HALL.

The Helene Adell dramatic company will play this (Thursday) and to-morrow evenings for the benefit of the Soldiers' and Sailors' monument fund, the play this evening being "Engaged," and on Friday evening "Moths,"—both first-rate pieces of their class, and both played for all they are worth, by this excellent combination. The fact that the monument is to be benefitted should be an additional inducement to lovers of fun and good acting, to crowd the house.

LOCAL MEASUREMENTS.

The following record of distances between various points in this city and Rye, is taken from a paper in the city clerk's office; the measurements were made by Alfred M. Hoyt, and the paper is endorsed in the handwriting of the late John Bennett.

From the mayor's office to Burying-yard corner [the corner of South street and Sagamore road] is seven-eighths of a mile, precisely.

From the mayor's office to Little Harbor road, 1 1-8 miles.

From the mayor's office to centre of Sagamore bridge, 1 4-5 miles.

From Burying-yard corner to Sagamore bridge, (southerly end,) one mile.

From Burying-yard corner to Rye Centre, via Sagamore bridge, 4 1-2 miles.

From Little Harbor road to Sagamore bridge, (centre,) one-half mile, precisely.

From Little Harbor road to Rye Centre, four miles.

From Burying-yard corner to Rye, through South road, 4 7-8 miles.

From Samuel Langdon's corner to Rye Centre, 4 1-4 miles.

From Burying-yard corner to Rye Centre is one-half mile nearer by Sagamore bridge than through South road.

From the mayor's office to Rye Centre through Auburn street [now Richards avenue] and over Sagamore bridge is 5 1-6 miles, precisely; through Middle street, old road, 5 1-2 miles, nearly, (5 5-12.)

From Samuel Langdon's corner to the mayor's office, through Middle street, is 1 1-6 miles; through South road and Auburn street, 1 1-2 miles—difference one-third of a mile.

AFFAIRS IN KITTERY.

KITTERY, ME., May 24th.

Mr. Aaron Frost has moved with his family to East Boston, where he has obtained a position as foreman in a shipyard.

Mr. Joseph W. Lewis, who formerly carried on the horse shoeing business at the depot, is now doing a prosperous business in Haverhill, Mass.

Morrill Lodge of Good Templars, at North Kittery, have voted to drape their charter in mourning for thirty days in respect to the memory of the late John R. Bean of Kennebunk, district councilor of York District Lodge, I. O. G. T.

Mrs. Ellen E. Fernald, wife of the late Paschal Fernald, who died in Kittery recently, was a lady respected by all who knew her. She was for many years a worthy member of the Good Templars, and Whipple lodge (of which she was a member) held appropriate services, and at a regular meeting of the lodge passed the following preamble and resolutions:

Whereas, in the providence of the Supreme Ruler of the Universe, our beloved sister, Mrs. Ellen E. Fernald, has been removed by death to the shores of the immortal, and

Whereas, the deceased was an honored member of this lodge, and was thoroughly imbued with the principles of our order, which indeed shone out conspicuously in her life and character, endearing her to our hearts; and

Whereas, by this dispensation of divine providence, our lodge has lost a worthy sister, society an honored member, and three little children of the deceased have been made orphans, thereby making this affliction to seem doubly severe; therefore,

Resolved, that while we bow submissively to the edict of the Eternal Master in this afflictive blow, we yet rejoice that our sister has only preceded us to the "better country, that is an heavenly." And we pray that the consolations of the Allwise Father may have in especial remembrance the welfare of the orphaned children, that they may grow up in the nurture and admonition of the Lord; and we pledge ourselves as a lodge to have watchful care over their interests, that the wishes of our deceased sister concerning them may be advanced so far as we have the power to do so; and further,

Resolved, that we tender to the relatives of our deceased sister, our heartfelt sympathy in their bereavement. Also

Resolved, that a copy of these resolutions be recorded on the secretary's book, and sent to the immediate relatives of the deceased; also that they be furnished the press for publication.

REV. E. E. COLBURN,
NATHAN JUNKINS, } Com.
MAGGIE JACKSON,

Hon. James W. Locke, United States district judge for the southern district of Florida, is expected to arrive at his former home early in June. Miss Annie Locke and a younger sister arrived last week, from Key West.

Mr. Joseph W. Lewis of Haverhill, Mass., has a very fine four-year-old Knox colt, one of a lot that Mr. Lewis brought from St. John, N. B., last year. His indications for speed are very promising, and though he has been handled but little he will readily show a 2:50 clip, hitched to a common road wagon. We understand the owner has refused an offer of $400 for the colt.

Mrs. Frank C. Eaton of Kennebunk was in town Sunday. She was accompanied by her daughter, Miss Fannie F. Eaton.

Dr. Andrew R. Wentworth, U. S. N., is at home on a short visit. SUB ROSA.

City Officials Trip.

Messrs. Wm. E. Littlefield, Edward D. Coffin, John Griffin, Howell C. Russell and Oliver H. Cook, of our board of aldermen, upon the invitation of the Manchester city-government, made a trip to that city Tuesday, for the purpose of inspecting a steam road roller and other city institutions. Although made under rather unfavorable circumstances as far as atmospheric conditions were concerned, the trip was a very pleasant affair. The members of the Manchester city government exerted themselves to make the event interesting and pleasurable, and success crowned their efforts. Our aldermen express themselves in the highest terms of the treatment received. There were also delegations present from Portland, Me., and Lawrence, Mass., all of whom were met at the depot on the arrival of the trains, and driven to the city hall, where they were introduced to the Mayor and other aldermen of the city. The party were afterwards driven about the city, witnessing the workings of the road machine, viewing the new police station, the fire station, the new McGregor bridge, and many other points of interest. Dinner was served at the Manchester house at two o'clock, the menu being of a very elaborate description. There was a manifestation of much interest and many expressions of admiration by the visitors all along the line. After dinner, previous to starting home, they expressed their hearty thanks for the glorious entertainment they had received at the hands of the Manchester officials.—Times.

RAILROAD MATTERS.

The Boston Post of May 26th, in its article on the money market of the previous day, in regard to the Eastern railroad and the "deal" by which the Concord railroad people obtained control of the Boston, Concord & Montreal road says:

Eastern was firm, advancing five-eighths to ninety-one. The fight for the control next Tuesday still continues, and the new leader of the syndicate keeps picking up blocks of the stock. It is rumored that, as a result of Concord railroad people obtaining control of the Boston, Concord & Montreal, the latter road will make running arrangements with the Boston & Maine to enter Boston over its tracks. Years ago the Boston & Maine had the bulk of this northern business, and if it now comes back to them it will very materially add to the gross receipts of the Boston & Maine-Eastern system, and the new receipts from this traffic will swell largely the funds available for payment of Eastern dividends. In fact the Eastern railroad appears to be the party to be most benefitted by the proposed disruption of the Boston & Lowell's mountain system. Without carrying a single passenger or a ton of freight, every dollar's worth of business that comes down from or goes up to the north, via Lawrence and Manchester, over the Boston & Maine and Manchester & Lawrence roads, will enlarge the fund from which the Boston & Maine pays its rental charges to the Eastern. The closing of Eastern was very strong to-night, and indications point to much higher prices within the next few days.

The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Concord railroad was held in Concord on May 25th, President Smyth presiding. C. H. Campbell and John A. Spalding of Nashua, Nathan Parker of Manchester, William F. Thayer of Concord and John J. Pickering of Portsmouth were appointed to receive, sort and count the votes for directors, and the ballot resulted as follows: Whole number of votes cast, 15,585, all being for Frederick Smyth and Walter M. Parker of Manchester, James W. Johnson of Enfield, and Josiah Minot, J. A. Kimball, John H. Pearson and John A. White of Concord. The directors organized by re-electing Frederick Smith president, and William M. Chase of Concord clerk.

A party of Sons of Veterans will go to Exeter this (Thursday) evening in Beacham's new barge, to be present at the institution of a camp of Sons of Veterans there.

The game of cricket between the Portsmouth and Dover clubs, which was arranged to take place on Saturday, May 29th, has been postponed to some time in June.

The remains of Mrs. Caroline A. Frost, widow of Charles L. Frost, arrived in this city on Wednesday forenoon, May 26th, from New York, in a special car and accompanied by relatives and friends. The body was taken to the south cemetery and deposited in the family tomb, services being conducted by Rev. Dr. Alden.

The veteran piscator, Zach. Randall of Newcastle, came up to the Market street landing on Tuesday of this week with his wherry well loaded with that versatile fish which, though a cat-fish when caught, becomes in a few hours a "rock salmon" or "black salmon,"—and which is really one of the very best fishes taken in our waters, whether eaten under his true name or an alias. The cat-fish is not prepossessing to look at, and his jaw power is much better than his temper, which makes it advisable to pound him on the head with a club as soon as he is hauled in over the gunwale, to prevent his chewing up the ballast and oars, and cleaning out the boat entirely; but his flesh is firm, fine grained, and of the most delicate flavor.

The Concord railroad shifting engine Portsmouth, on duty at the yard in this city, is now being repaired in the company's shops in Concord. While the Portsmouth is away the old Liberty (formerly in use in this city) is doing the work.

Miss Allison sat and waited. The low rumble grew more and more distinct—the red light came sliding towards her out of the gloom with an awful unswerving certainty in its advance. She saw the pause—the signaling swing of the conductor's lantern as the scarce checked motion began again, and turned her horse's head toward home.

If Miss Allison lives a hundred years, she will never forget that drive. Now that she was free from the companionship of a desperate character, and behind a pair of thoroughly broken, swift-paced horses, with Tom's revolver really loaded beside her, and not one chance in ten thousand of wanting it, she was frightened. The air was full of starshine; in the east a faint white glow just indicated the coming dawn. The awfulness of the night oppressed her beyond endurance. She cried all the way home, sobbing convulsively while she unharnessed her ponies and restored everything to order after which, with her cold little feet in the stove-oven, she drank a cup of still hot coffee, and then went to bed and to sleep, where Tom found her at 9 o'clock the next morning.

A month later Tom wanted that coat and hat, and failing to find them, raised the usual masculine whirlwind about their disappearance.

"Molly Allison, you're responsible! If the country produced image-venders, I should say you had been making a trade!"

She shook her head, but with the color mounting in her face.

"Tramps!" he said, accusingly; and poor Molly shuddered to think how much, much worse it really was. "You wouldn't like it, I dare say, if I should go encouraging pauperism with your frocks and things," he grumbled, trying to reconcile himself to another garment.

He came back from the station that night with news.

"Visitors coming, Molly."

"Who and when?"

"Rob McKenzie. You don't know Rob. He was a classmate of mine. He's coming next week to spy out the land. I haven't heard of him since I came out here."

Rob McKenzie alighting at the small sunny signal station one day in the next week, found a stylish apparition in white dress and pretty garden hat waiting on the platform.

"You are Mr. McKenzie?" a pleasant voice said. "I am Mary Allison. Tom sprained his ankle last night and couldn't come."

Mr. McKenzie seemed rather a quiet young man. Miss Allison drove her ponies and chattered away in the unrestrained delight of having a stranger to talk with—or rather to—and some one fresh from the good times that seemed doubly good in recollection.

* * * * *

"I suppose everybody here shoots more or less. Are you an expert with firearms, Miss Allison?"

They were sitting within-doors in the slight chill of the October evening. Tom answered for her.

"Molly says she can, but I don't believe it. An awful little coward is Molly."

"Is she?" quietly. I shouldn't think it."

Somebody opened a door incautiously, and in the strong draft the light went out. It was McKenzie who relighted it, and in the faint glow he bent over rekindled lamp his face came out with an odd effect against the dark background.

"Oh, my!" in a gasp from Molly's corner.

McKenzie turned toward her as the lamp flamed up. She was staring at him with wide eyes full of perplexity.

"Are you civilized beyond lynch law yet?" he asked, irrelevantly.

"Why? A private grudge against any one?"

"One likes to see all the peculiar institutions of the country. Do you ever hang horse-thieves, for instance?"

"We don't always catch them," drily.

"Did you ever miss a coat and hat, Tom?"

"Molly gave them to a tramp," in slow wonder at his companion's drift. And then, catching his sister's blank face, "What have you been telling, Mary Allison?"

"Oh, Tom, I—I gave them to a horse-thief, and I believe it was Mr. McKenzie."

Tom sat staring.

"Truth, Allison." And then came the story. "There were two of us taken together. I don't know who they mistook us for. I dodged the mob and took to the timber I never knew what became of the other man."

"I suspect he is the one I helped out of the state the night I left you alone, Molly."

* * * * * *

Some weeks later Rob McKenzie was going through the ceremony of fitting a diamond solitaire on Miss Allison's left-hand index finger.

"Oh, the beauty! Where did you get it?"

"I brought it with me," coolly.

"Upon my word, Rob McKenzie! And you took this for granted?"

"I made up my mind, one night in September, between here and the Mississippi river, that I would marry Molly Allison if I could get her, and I did my best."—Frank Leslie.

I LOVED YOU ONCE.

I loved you once; but now, alas!
The flame is out, the hearth is cold.
Love could not leap the chasm set,
It missed its purpose, lost its hold,
And in the pit of doubt it fell:
Ah, doubt to love is love's death-knell!

I loved you once; but as a rose
Fades from its Summer into clay,
And never more may bloom the same,
So love lies in its grave to day.
No resurrection may aspire
To raise again its dead desire.

I loved you once; you flung me doubt,
And basely dealt untruth's sharp thrust.
How deep the wound and scar will show
Where love is stabbed thro' its own trust.
You dug its grave—then why regret?
Tears bring not back the sun that's set.

BELLAIRE, OHIO, O., March 30, 1883.

Duffy Malt Whiskey Co., Baltimore, Md. My Dear Sirs—Your Malt Whiskey has actually cured my wife of her lung trouble thought to be consumption in its first stages. She was unable to do anything, when she first commenced using your Whiskey, and to-day, just three months from its use, she weighs 124 pounds, feels better and is better than she has been for two years. I believe her entirely cured and thank you most heartily for the trouble you took in prescribing the formula and other favors from your medical department. Yours, I shall praise it to all that I think can be benefited by it, as it has saved me an enormous doctor bill and an invalid's care.

Most sincere y yours,

C. L. BARRINGER,

GREETING:
BE IT KNOWN
UNTO YOU AND TO ALL THE DWELLERS OF WALLED TOWNS THAT TO THE BRAINERD & ARMSTRONG CO. AND TO THEIR AGENTS IS IMPARTED THE KNOWLEDGE OF AND THE RIGHT TO USE THE EASTERN OR ASIATIC DYES.

Society of Decorative Art,
28 EAST 16TH ST., NEW YORK, Dec. 22, 1885.

TO THE BRAINERD & ARMSTRONG CO.—Dear Sirs: Having tested your embroidery silks, and finding them in color and texture eminently satisfactory, the managers of the Society of Decorative Art believe that you have found the secret of fast dyes. They believe it is no longer necessary to the Society to be dependent upon foreign manufacture. I have pleasure in telling you that it has been decided by the board of management to give you the silk thread business of the Society of Decorative Art. Congratulating you that your dyes stand "fast" under the severest test, I am,

Very truly yours, A. B. BLONDETT,
President of the Society of Decorative Art.

Also endorsed and exclusively used by the ASSOCIATED ARTISTS of New York.

WANTED—Salesmen who will sell our line of Fall and Winter blankets, cottonades, jeans, cassimeres, flannels, and ginghams, in connection with their other business. Liberal commission paid. Address with reference, FRANK D. LA LANNE & CO., Manufacturers, Philadelphia, Penna. my24,31,je7

The quickest and most certain remedy in case of rheumatism or neuralgia is St. Jacobs Oil.

The strikers at the silk mills of Jersey City and Hoboken have accepted the terms of their employers.

The marked efficacy of Red Star Cough Cure is due to its freedom from dangerous drugs.

In St Louis at the Preller murder trial, a detective testified that Maxwell had confessed the murder of Preller. The detective gained Maxwell's confidence some time before the present trial began, in jail.

The combination, proportion and process in preparing Hood's Sarsaparilla, are peculiar to this medicine, and unknown to others.

The strike of the soft-coal miners in the Clearfield district, Pa., is over, and all of the men in the thirteen mines at Hautzdale have resumed work at the old rates.

The well known strengthening properties of iron, combined with other tonics and a most perfect nervine, are found in Carter's Iron Pills, which strengthen the nerves and body, and improve the blood and complexion.

The Phillip Best Brewing company's buildings at Milwaukee have been destroyed by fire, entailing a loss of $120,000.

The Housekeeper who has not used Pyle's Pearline should not wait a day longer without having it in the house. As an article to make washing easy, without injury to the finest fabric, it is unequalled.

One hundred kegs of powder exploded on a moving train, near Knoxville, Tenn., and three train hands were killed.

In chronic diseases, medicines should be restoring, and not debilitating, in their action. The wonderful strengthening and curative effects, realized from the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, sustain the reputation of this remedy as the most popular blood purifier.

The family of Police Officer Gehlort of Cincinnati, consisting of himself, wife, daughter and one son, were poisoned from drinking coffee in which arsenic had been placed. There is no clue to the perpetrator of the deed.

The restoration to health of our child was considered uncertain. When two weeks old she caught cold. For eighteen months was not able to breathe through her nostrils. Upon using Ely's Cream Balm her difficulty is removed; she breathes naturally.—Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Smith, Owego, N. Y. Price 50 cents.

A tornado visited Wetzlar, Prussia, May 25th, and destroyed the railway station, unroofed a large number of houses and factories, overturned scores of chimneys, and lifted barges out of the river Lahn and carried them, in some instances, considerable distances in the air. In the neighboring country the wind uprooted entire forests.

The President

Of the bank of Waverly, Iowa, says: Sulphur Bitters saved my life. For ten years I suffered from catarrh and liver complaint; I lost forty-five pounds and was growing worse rapidly. I had lost all faith in medicine, but hearing your Bitters so well recommended, I gave them a trial. Six bottles cured me.—Smith P. Hunt, Waverly, Iowa.

At Reading, Pa., warrants have been sworn out against six hat finishers, members of the Hatters' union, who are now on strike, on the charge of being the parties who burned down E. H. Coldren's hat factory at Adamstown, involving a loss of $50,000. It is alleged that a resolution was offered in the union to burn down the hat factories.

Relief from sick headache, drowsiness, nausea, dizziness, pain in the side, etc., guaranteed to those using Carter's Little Liver Pills. These complaints are nearly always caused by torpid liver and constipated bowels. Restore these organs to their proper functions and the trouble ceases. Carter's Little Liver Pills will do this every time. One pill is a dose. Forty in a vial. Price 25 cents.

A Buffalo paper says: Letters received in this city from Buffalo women now in Paris, and who have personally seen Miss Frankie Folsom, report that the mortified girl positively declares that she is not going to marry Mr. Cleveland.

The French cabinet on May 25th adopted the principle of the expulsion of the Orleans princes. A bill providing for their expulsion will be submitted to the chamber of deputies.

The Messrs. Cummings have closed their shoe factory in South Berwick for the summer, rather than accede to the demands made by the lasters' union for an advance of wages. The firm have employed about 300 hands, with a monthly pay roll of $10,000 to $12,000.

Advice to Mothers.

Are you disturbed at night and broken of your rest by a sick child suffering and crying with pain of cutting teeth? If so, send at once and get a bottle of Mrs Winslow's Soothing Syrup for Children Teething. Its value is incalculable. It will relieve the poor little sufferer immediately. Depend upon it, mothers, there is no mistake about it. It cures dysentery and diarrhœa, regulates the stomach and bowels, cures wind colic, softens the gums, reduces inflammation, and gives tone and energy to the whole system. Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup for Children Teething is pleasant to the taste, and is the prescription of one of the oldest and best female nurses and physicians in the United States, and is for sale by all druggists throughout the world. Price 25 cents a bottle. codtJan

HEALTH AND STRENGTH REGAINED.

AND DEBILITATED MEN seeking Health, Strength and Energy, should avoid Drugs, Secret Medicines, etc., and send for "The Review," or "Health and Strength Regained," a large illustrated Journal published entirely for their benefit. It treats on health, hygiene, physical culture, and medical subjects, and is a complete encyclopædia of information for suffering humanity afflicted with long standing, chronic, nervous, exhausting and painful diseases.

YOUNG AND MIDDLE AGED MEN, and others who suffer from nervous and physical debility, exhausted vitality, premature decline, etc., are especially benefitted by consulting its contents. Everything such sufferers wish to know is fully given in its pages. If in need of medical aid or counsel, read it before "doctoring" or investing in medicines or appliances of any description, and you will save time, money and disappointment. If using medicine or medical treatment of any kind, read it and learn the better way.

THE REVIEW exposes the frauds practised by quacks and medical imposters who profess to "practice medicine," and points out the only safe, simple and effective road to health, vigor and bodily energy.

Electric Belts and all curative appliances are treated upon; all about them—which are genuine, which are bogus. Belts on thirty days' trial (?) and other fallacies reviewed. Thousands of dollars saved nervous-debility sufferers and others by the advice given. THE REVIEW is now in its ninth year of publication. Complete specimen copies mailed free.

How to laundry linen as it is done in Troy, N. Y., has been kept a secret long enough; it can and should be done in every family. The Elastic Starch is the only starch in the United States that is put up by men who have a practical knowledge of the laundry profession. It requires no cooking, keeps the iron from sticking and linen from blistering while ironing, and gives shirts, cuffs and collars that stiffness and beautiful polish they have when new, which, everybody knows keeps them clean twice as long. Beware of imitations. See that the name J. C. HUMPHREY & BRO., New Haven, Conn., is on every package.

Malarial poisons contain the germs of dangerous diseases. If these poisons accumulate in the system, typhoid, bilious, intermittent or chill fever is sure to follow. Ayer's Ague Cure is a warranted specific for malaria.

The body of Henry Osborne, who had been missing since Thursday morning, May 13th, was found on the shore of the Cabot farm, North Salem, Mass., on the 24th. He had tied a stone weighing fifteen pounds about his neck, and evidently jumped off Parker's wharf, near where he was found.

A Burglar Captured.

This morning about two o'clock, John Wood, the well known plumber who resides on Main street, was awakened by hearing glass break. On getting out of bed he received a blow on the head. He immediately grappled with the burglar, and after a terrible struggle succeeded in holding him until his wife obtained help. On being searched at the station, Mr. Wood's watch and wallet was found on his person. He gave the name of Robert Terry. The broken glass proved to be a bottle of Sulphur Bitters which had almost cured Mrs. Wood of rheumatism. —Exchange.

—"I guess, sister, you needn't bother about having the parlor swept out today," was the remark of a youth, as he started to school. "What on earth do you mean, George?" "Well, I heard father tell mother that if that young man of yours came to-night he'd wipe the floor with him."

—Mrs. A.—"I was reading to-day about the dreadful slaughter of our songbirds. One case was where 75,000 were killed. Isn't it dreadful?" Mrs. B.—"It is, indeed. What did they kill them for?" Mrs. A.—"The paper says they were killed to decorate ladies' hats." Mrs. B.—"Oh, well, that isn't a great many, after all, considering how many hats there are in the world. But is it really true that the birds are becoming scarce? I guess I'd better lay in a stock before the price goes up. It's almost Easter, you know."

A LETTER-CARRIER'S STORY.

"A letter-carrier has his ups and downs as every one else has, I suppose," said one of these messengers of Uncle Sam the other day, in speaking of his experiences, "but take it all in all I would rather be a carrier at $1,000 a year than a clerk at $1,200. In the first place our position is assured as long as we are honest and attentive to our duties, and then we have our little perquisites that net us more than people generally think. I used to have a route along Beacon street near the Public Gardens, and it was a very cold Christmas indeed when the rich nobs didn't remember me to the extent of $300 or $400. For letters that brought good news I have often been given crisp $5 notes from the pleased recipients. And then the little romances, and sometimes deep disappointments and heart-burning that we know of! I shall never forget the pale, anxious face with which an old millionaire used to greet me every morning for a long time, as he opened the door himself in answer to my whistle, and nervously reach for his letters. His hands would tremble as he tore open the envelopes, and then would come a long sigh of relief when he found there was no bad news. At last there came a letter that blanched his face whiter than the paper on which it was written, and he fell down senseless all in a heap at my feet. I helped to carry him up to his room, but never saw him again. Pretty soon a new family moved into the house. It was some financial trouble, I suppose, and the letter had brought ruin to the old gentleman, who had a big family to support."

Letter-Carrier W. B. Goodale, of Hartford, Conn., tells a not less interesting story, though happily its ending is not so tragic. Mr. Goodale is well known in Hartford, and his many friends to whom he had often as a carrier brought tidings of sorrow and of joy, were much pleased to receive his present message:

"For three months," he says, "I was confined to my house with inflammatory rheumatism. So severe, indeed, was my affliction that the doctors took such heroic measures as to prescribe forty grains of morphine a day, beside steaming me five hours and dosing me with all sorts of medicine. I had three doctors, but their combined skill failed to give me any relief. Finally I became discouraged and determined to let the disease do its work. I had a pair of crutches made and was nervously awaiting the worst, when a friend came to see me and advised me to try Athlophoros. After much persuasion I consented. I took the first dose at six o'clock in the evening and two more during the night. The next morning, for the first time in three months, I was able to go to work, greatly to the astonishment of my friends, who all thought I would never get around again. As Athlophoros cured me I believe it will cure anybody suffering with rheumatism. It has many friends in Hartford since the people have seen that it will do all that is claimed for it."

If you cannot get ATHLOPHOROS of your druggist, we will send it express paid, on receipt of regular price—one dollar per bottle. We prefer that you buy it from your druggist, but if he hasn't it, do not be persuaded to try something else, but order at once from us, as directed. ATHLOPHOROS CO., 112 Wall Street, New York.

THE NATURE OF LOVE.

Love is a fire in air,
Love is a rose in Spring,
Love is a crystal sphere,
A melody, a mirroring,
Love is a blossom, love a flower,
Love is the gleaming of a shower
Of dewdrops from an orange bower.

Love is a golden star,
A fragrance of the night,
A rainbow in the air,
A cloud, a lost delight;
Love, 'tis the sense of Heaven near,
The memory of Heaven gone,
The last leaf of the lingering year,
The faint smell of the dawn.

A THOUSAND DOLLAR MOTH,

By No Means Striking in Appearance—The Only One Ever Found.

It is by no means the most beautiful or striking in color, for it is painted, as you may say, in a single color of grayish brown, though in many, many tints of that color. Its form is the more wonderful, for its secondary or hinder wings reach back into long tails an eighth of an inch wide and over four inches long, so that the insect measures about seven inches from head to tip of tails, and between four and five inches across. It is of the general shape of what is known as our luna moth, the large, greenish white-tailed moth; but in the luna the tails are only two inches long. I do not think any other moth or butterfly has so great eccentricity of form. But the most wonderful thing of all is that it is the only insect of the kind ever found.

Thirteen years ago a son of Professor Meyer caught it in a barber shop in Rio Janeiro, into which it had flown during the evening. He sent it to his father, who had been a collector for many years. When the box containing it was opened, and the great entomologist dropped his eyes upon it, he almost fainted with delight, and at once was offered $100 for it.

The news of the discovery of it spread rapidly everywhere among collectors, and diligent search has been made ever since to find another of its kind, but in vain. It stands alone, perhaps the last of an almost extinct species, but surely the only one that rests in air on entomologist's pin. This fact that it defies duplication, together with its kingly form, will help to remove the shudder that passes over you as you hear its name, Jehovah, for by this name the princely insect is known among scientists—Endæmonia Jehovah. It should be stated, however, that its happy owner did not intend giving it this name, but somehow the real name, Jupiter, was changed into Jehovah when it was being catalogued, and so it has remained.

It is hard to place a value upon this precious insect, for Dr. Meyer values it almost as his own life; but I have been told $1,000 would not induce him to part with it. We can believe this when we are told that a kind of beetle found in the west was sold, for several years at $100 a specimen. Professor Meyer's entire collection is valued at $40,000.—Congregationalist.

The Process of Thought Transference.

"As to the process by which thought is transferred from one brain to another, it is impossible at present to determine. The committee on thought transference observe:

"It is quite open to surmise some sort of analogy to the familiar phenomena of the transmission and reception of vibratory energy. A swinging pendulum suspended from a solid support will throw into synchronous vibration another pendulum attached to the same support, if the period or oscillation of the two be the same; the medium of transmission here being the solid material of the support. One tuning fork or string in unison with another will communicate its impulses through the medium of the air. Glowing particles of a gas, acting through the luminiferous ether, can throw into sympathetic vibration cool molecules of the same substance at a distance. A permanent magnet brought into a room will throw any surrounding iron into a condition similar to its own; and here the medium of communication is unknown. Similarly we may conceive, if we please, with many modern philosophers, that for every thought there is a corresponding motion of the brain, and that this vibration of molecules of brain-stuff may be communicated to an intervening medium, and so pass under certain circumstances from one brain to another, with a corresponding simultaneity of impressions no more than in the case of the magnetic phenomena is any investigator bound to determine the medium before inquiry into the fact of transit."—Globe-Democrat.

The Yucca, or "Newspaper Plant."

It seems that in certain far-away territories called New Mexico and Arizona, there are great tracts of desolate desert lands, where the very hills seem destitute of life and beauty, and where the earth is shriveled from centuries of terrible heat. And in these desert-tracts grow a curious, mishapen, grotesque and twisted plant that seems more like a goblin tree than a real one.

Of all the trees in the world, you would imagine this to be the most outcast and worthless—so meager a living does it obtain from the waste of sand and gravel in which it grows. And yet this goblin tree is now being sought after and utilized in one of the world's greatest industries—an industry that affects the daily needs of civilization. Those wise folks, the botanists, call our goblin tree by its odd Indian name of the "Yucca" palm.

This plant of the desert for a long

A Multitude of Ailments.

The ailments which afflict the kidneys and bladder are so numerous, that merely to name them would fill a space far outrunning the limits of this article. Suffice it to say, that they are both obstinate and dangerous. To their prevention Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is well adapted. The stimulous which it lends to the action of the kidneys when they are lethargic, serve to counteract a tendency in them to lapse, first, into a state of pernicious inactivity, and afterwards into one of positive organic disease, which soon destroys their delicate integuments, poisons the blood and causes death. A double purpose is served by this depurent. It promotes activity of the kidneys, and expels impurities from the blood which have no natural channel of outlet except those organs. Constipation, billiousness, fever and ague, rheumatism and dyspepsia, are also remedied by this medicine of thorough action and wide scope.

The eight-hour system has been wholly discarded in the Chicago stock yards district. After a trial of three weeks at eight hours, the Northwestern Fertilizing works were opened on a ten-hour basis; a majority of the employes refused to work, and the management, fearing a demonstration, sent the remainder home. The establishment will remain closed for a time.

A Beautiful Present.

The Virgin Salt Co., of New Haven, Conn., are making a grand offer. A pair of Doves as natural as life, new design, printed in ten beautiful colors on a fine lithograph card 9x10 inches, given away with Virgin Salt (four certificates) in order to introduce it. For household purpose this salt has no equal. It is the cleanest, purest and whitest salt ever seen or used. Large package costs only ten cents. Ask your grocer for it.

James Casey, a newsboy, aged fifteen yerrs, in Danbury, Conn., fell down unconscious, and so remained for five hours. It was thought to be a case of sunstroke, but it was ascertained that he had smoked two packages of cigarettes, and had eaten no breakfast. It is said by the physicians to be a case of nicotine poisoning, and he is in a dangerous state.

Numerous testimonials prove beyond a doubt that Allcock's Porous Plasters cure paralysis, nervous debility, and loss of memory when applied to the spine. They remove kidney difficulties when worn on the small of the back; applied to the pit of the stomach, dyspepsia and indigestion disappear. Colds, coughs and asthma no longer trouble the suffering patient when he uses them on the chest. If you have a headache, or want to sleep, put an Allcock's Porous Plaster on the nape of the neck—the work is not only done, but well done. This remedy not only cures ague cake, liver complaint, and malaria, but is a protection against fevers, small pox, or sewer gas.

The annual encampment of the Grand Army veterans of Maine will be held at Maranacook in September.

The Root of all Evil.

To thoroughly cure scrofula it is necessary to strike directly at the root of the evil. This is exactly what Hood's Sarsaparilla does, by acting upon the blood, thoroughly cleansing it of all impurities, and leaving not even a taint of scrofula in the vital fluid. Thousands who have been cured of scrofula by Hood's Sarsaparilla, testify to its wonderful blood-purifying qualities. Sold by all druggists.

The annual report of the warden of the New Hampshire state prison shows the earnings of the past year to have been $17,652.95, and the expenses $20,299.68, leaving a balance against the institution of $2646.73. There have been fifty-six prisoners committed and fifty-one discharged during the year. The number of convicts in the prison May 1st was 132.

THE LAW REGARDING MEDICAL PRACTISE.

Civil Liability of Physicians and Surgeons—What degree of skill and care required—Not liable for errors of judgment.

It is the misfortune of members of the medical profession that of all the cases in which their services are employed, their efforts must necessarily often fall short of accomplishing the purpose desired, so that if they do not disappoint expectations, they must at least fail to fulfill hopes. For this reason they are peculiarly liable to the charge of failure in the performance of professional duty, and it is therefore important to learn exactly what it is that the practitioner promises when he engages his services.

In every case where the physician or surgeon undertakes to render service, the contract implied by law is, first, that he is possessed of a reasonable degree of learning, skill and experience, such as is necessary to qualify him for such employment; second, that he will use ordinary care in the treatment of the patient; third, that he will in all cases of doubt use his best judgment as to the proper mode of treatment.

The general rule therefore is, that a medical man who attends for a fee, is liable for such a want of ordinary care, diligence and skill upon his part, as leads to the injury of his patient. To render him liable, it is not enough that there has been a less degree of skill than some other medical man might have shown, or a less degree of care than even he himself might have bestowed; nor is it enough that he himself acknowledged some degree of want of care. There must have been a want of competent and ordinary care and skill, and to such a degree as to have led to a bad result. However, if a patient is benefitted, he must pay for the services, even though not performed with the highest degree of skill, and which might have been performed more skillfully by others.

By special contract a physician may undertake to perform a cure absolutely, but the law will not imply such a contract, for he is not a warrantor or insurer of a cure, and is not to be tried by the result of his remedies. This doctrine is well stated by the court in a noted case as follows: "The implied contract of a physician or surgeon is not to cure—to restore a limb to its natural perfectness, but to treat the case with diligence and skill. The fracture may be so complicated that no skill vouchsafed to man can restore original straightness and strength, or the patient may, by willful disregard of the surgeon's directions, impair the effect of the best contrived measures. He deals not with insensate matter, like the stone-mason or bricklayer, who can choose their materials and adjust them according to mathematical lines, but he has a suffering human being to treat, a nervous system to tranquillize, and a will to regulate and control."

The practitioner must possess at least the average degree of learning and skill in his profession in that part of the country in which his services are offered to the public. The standard of skill may vary according to circumstances. In country towns, and in unsettled portions of the country remote from cities, physicians, though well informed in theory, are but seldom called upon to perform difficult operations in surgery, and do not enjoy the greater opportunities of daily observation and practice which large cities afford. It would be unreasonable to exact from one in such circumstances that high degree of skill which an extensive and constant practice in hospitals or large cities would imply a physician to be possessed of.

The contract of the physician also implies that he will, in all cases of doubt, use his best judgment as to the best mode of treatment. He is not responsible for errors of judgment, or mere mistakes in matters of reasonable doubt and uncertainty. But an error of judgment may be so gross as to be inconsistent with the use of that degree of skill which it is the duty of every surgeon to bring to the treatment of a case.

A physician who conducts himself with propriety ought to be protected, when he acts to the best of his skill and knowledge. Everyone is liable to commit error. The uncertainty of the medical science is almost proverbial. Different schools entertain different and almost irreconcilable theories as to the nature, mode and treatment of disease. Every case presents its own peculiar symptoms and characteristics. Slight circumstances, easily overlooked and sometimes difficult of detection, render cases radically different. A remedy that would prove effective in the one, would prove fatal in the other. Often many doubts and uncertainties surround the medical practicioner. He is unavoidably exposed to mistake and error, and the law, recognizing his position, only requires that he use that skill and diligence in the exercise of his profession, as is fairly and reasonably consistent with the standard of his science. He is bound when about to administer chloroform or other anæsthetic agents, to inform himself as to the condition of the patient's heart, lungs and other organs which if diseased would warn a prudent physician against the administration of the medicine.

In an action against a physician for an injury sustained by reason of alleged unskillful and careless treatment, the burden of proof is upon the plaintiff to prove a want of knowledge and skill. An interesting case arose in this state some years ago, whereby the plaintiff, in consequence of being thrown from a carriage, sustained a severe injury about the ankle, of such a character that, under skilled treatment, it might be expected to result in the stiffness and loss of the use of the ankle joint. The physician attended the plaintiff regularly for several weeks. The plaintiff contended that the physician neglected to place and keep the foot in a position at right angles with the leg, whereby the leg was rendered useless in walking. The court in an elaborate opinion held that the physician was not responsible, for it was not a special undertaking or promise to cure the plaintiff, but only such as the law implies, viz: to use reasonable professional skill and attention to that end. Ayer's Cherry Pectoral

Should be kept constantly at hand, for use in emergencies of the household. Many a mother, startled in the night by the ominous sounds of Croup, finds the little sufferer, with red and swollen face, gasping for air. In such cases Ayer's Cherry Pectoral is invaluable. Mrs. Emma Gedney, 159 West 125 st., New York, writes: "While in the country, last winter, my little boy, three years old, was taken ill with Croup; it seemed as if he would die from strangulation. Ayer's Cherry Pectoral was tried in small and frequent doses, and, in less than half an hour, the little patient was breathing easily. The doctor said that the Pectoral saved my darling's life." Mrs. Chas. B. Landon, Guilford, Conn., writes: "Ayer's Cherry Pectoral

Saved My Life,

and also the life of my little son. As he is troubled with Croup, I dare not be without this remedy in the house." Mrs. J. Gregg, Lowell, Mass., writes: "My children have repeatedly taken Ayer's Cherry Pectoral for Coughs and Croup. It gives immediate relief, followed by cure." Mrs. Mary E. Evans, Scranton, Pa., writes: "I have two little boys, both of whom have been, from infancy, subject to violent attacks of Croup. About six months ago we began using Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, and it acts like a charm. In a few minutes after the child takes it, he breathes easily and rests well. Every mother ought to know what a blessing I have found in Ayer's Cherry Pectoral." Mrs. Wm. C. Reid, Freehold, N. J., writes: "In our family, Ayer's medicines have been blessings for many years. In cases of Colds and Coughs, we take

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral,

and the inconvenience is soon forgotten."

Proposals for Bonds.

SEALED proposals will be received at the office of the Treasurer of the Portsmouth Machine Company, in Portsmouth, N. H., until two o'clock, P. M. of June 14th, 1886, for the whole or any part of an issue of $75,000 of the bonds of said Machine company.

These bonds are a series of one hundred and fifty bonds of $500 each, secured by a duly executed deed of trust to Edward P. Kimball, Marcellus Eldredge and Charles H. Mendum, as trustees for the holders of said bonds. These bonds bear interest at the rate of five per cent per annum, payable semi-annually on the first days of April and October on presentation of coupon at the First National Bank of Portsmouth, N. H., the principal payable in ten years, and due in twenty years after date, and the bonds are dated April 1st, 1886. The right to reject any and all bids is reserved.

MUSIC HALL.

There was a very large audience at Music hall on Wednesday evening of this week, to see Miss Adell's finished and most satisfactory portrayal of the bold and unscrupulous adventuress Eugenie DeMornay, in "A Night in Rome."

Thursday evening "Engaged" was performed to an immense and greatly pleased concourse of people, the entertainment being for the benefit of the Soldiers' and Sailors' monument fund.

This (Friday) evening Ouida's famous and popular production, "Moths," will be given, also for the benefit of the monument fund.

To-morrow afternoon the charming comedy "Our Boys" will be given; and in the evening the excellent company will wind up the week's engagement with Gilbert's best comedy, "Tom Cobb," and the farce "The Day After the Wedding."

INSTALLATION.

At the regular meeting of Rockingham Lodge, I. O. G. T., on Wednesday evening, May 26th, officers were installed as follows by Deputy C. T. Wiggin, assisted by George P. Webber as G. W. M.:

W. C. T., Charles H. Besselievre;
W. S., Ida M. Dearing;
W. F. S., F. E. Hall;
W. T., B. F. Russell;
W. C., Mary C. Sanborn;
W. M., George P. Webber;
W. D. M., Katie Stuart;
W. R. S., Lydia Besselievre;
W. L. S., Emma A. Howe;
P. W. C. T., James Janvrin.

A petition to the city government, asking the enforcement of the ordinance in relation to the sale of liquor on the Sabbath, was circulated, receiving the signatures of the members present.

NAVAL DRY DOCKS.

The recent report from the committee on naval affairs submitted to the house of representatives concerning disestablishing and maintaining dry docks is of especial interest. The committee states that it has been demonstrated that dry docks of wood inside, while two-thirds cheaper, are really more lasting and less costly to keep in repair than those constructed of granite. Our present docks are inefficient. We have no dock (save one not completed, at Mare island, Cal.,) that could receive the Chicago. To dock this or others of our new steel cruisers would cost at a private dock not less than between five and six thousand dollars. These vessels average about 341 feet in length. The dock at this station is 350 feet in length. The report is accompanied by two views of the stone dock at the Brooklyn yard, showing leakage and ice formation at the head of the dock, and displaced masonry and leakage at the entrance. There is needed $125,000 to put this dock in repair.

The report contains an extract from the report (which is highly commended by the committee) of Naval Constructor Philip Hichborn, U. S. N., on European dock yards, etc., as follows:

In London I had the pleasure of inspecting the machinery constructed by Mr. Allen for pumping the large dock recently built at St. John's, Newfoundland, by Mr. J. E. Simpson, of New York, whose dry-docks have met with great approval from the civil engineers and constructors of the United States navy, and which have a great advantage over the graving docks of Europe in cost, light, and accessibility.

There are two centrifugal pumps, having 36-inch suctions, driven directly by two horizontal engines, twenty-one inches in diameter and twenty-two inches stroke. They are intended to run at 170 revolutions with eighty pounds pressure. The combined capacity of the pumps is 6,400,000 imperial gallons in two hours.

It may be interesting to state that the total length of this dock, from the outer sill to the inside of the coping at the heads of the dock, is 610 feet 10 inches, the breadth across the top is 132 feet 6 inches, the breadth across the bottom is 49 feet 10 inches, the depth of water over the sill at spring tides is twenty-five feet.

Wooden docks cost from thirty to fifty per cent less than those of stone, and in climates where they are exposed to severe frosts are much cheaper in maintenance; extensive repairs are not required within the first twenty years.

The report also contains the report of a board of officers of which Commodore P. C. Johnson was chairman, made to Ex-Secretary of the Navy Hunt in 1882, after examination of Simpson & Co.'s docks at South Brooklyn, of the capacity, wear and cost of maintaining and operating these docks and their relative durability, which showed that all things taken into the account the kind of dock at this naval station is the best in use. Now let a suitable appropriation be made to put it in good order, and send along the vessels to be repaired.

BASE BALL.

The game of base ball between the nines from the Dover and Portsmouth high schools, announced to be played at the Plains on Thursday afternoon of this week, was given up on account of the Dover boys being rushed in school matters.

The Red Stocking club of this city will play a game with the Rochesters at Rochester on Monday next.

MARITIME NOTES.

Thomas Carey, Thomas Judge and Alderman O'Neil of Biddeford started out early Monday morning, May 24th, in a little yacht named "Emma," belonging to Carey, for a trip to Hill's beach, near the mouth of the Saco river. Arriving there they made a brief stop, and then started for a sail outside, heading toward Wood island. They found it easy work to run off shore, but a strong wind and heavy sea prevented their getting back so easily, and they were caught in a fog and lost their reckoning. They kept sailing all day, and late at night found themselves off Portsmouth harbor, but were afraid to attempt an entrance, and had to lie at anchor all the rest of the night until day-light, with neither bedclothes, food nor water. With the advent of day on Tuesday they made the harbor, secured their boat and made tracks for the nearest restaurant; and then having had all the yachting they wished for one week, took the cars for home, where they arrived at 7:30 o'clock P. M. on the 25th. The absence of the young men from home on Monday night caused great uneasiness to their friends, as they had only intended being absent a few hours.

The keel of the new schooner for Portsmouth parties has been laid at Fernald's yard, Freeman's point, and carpenters are engaged in getting out the frame under the supervision of Capt. John J. Call. She is to be built of the best New Hampshire pasture white oak.

At the head of Long wharf, Portland, Me., in front of Chase Brothers' grain store, was recently placed an old cannon that did service in the war of 1812-14. The gun was placarded in the following belligerent manner: "Fishermen, attention! Arm and protect yourselves! This cannon for sale. Enquire within." This novel spectacle attracted hundreds to the spot. Even Governor Robie and some members of his staff were among the visiting crowd.

A number of ladies and two or three gentlemen were at work in the court house on Thursday, making wreaths for use Memorial day. There is a great deal of work to be done there yet, and other willing hands can find employment today.

Arthur Williams of this city, late of the Quincy house, Boston, is to be clerk of the Union house, Hampton, this summer.

Calvin L. Hayes, Esq., who went to Chicago some months ago from Kittery with his family, arrived back on the evening of May 26th; they have seen all they wish of the great west, so far as residing there is concerned, and are more than ever pleased with the Piscataqua region as a locality to live in.

Mr. Charles Colson writes from Concord to friends in this city that Messrs. Mead Blake & Co. of Dover, by whom he is employed, have been at work on the new Board of Trade building in Concord, which is six and a half stories high, applying their patent elastic roofing paint, their operations attracting considerable attention from the people on the street; they are now on the roof of the Phenix hotel, having finished the other. Before going to Concord, they did considerable work on some of the vast roofs at the Jones brewery in this city.

Tickets to the exercises in Music hall on Memorial evening, Monday next, May 31st, are now on sale at Goodrich's; price fifteen cents, to all parts of the house.

Fifty cent underwear for thirty-five cents. Messrs. H. C. Hewitt & Co., No. 32 Congress street, offer fifty dozen fine Summer Merino Shirts and Drawers for only thirty-five cents each. Don't fail to examine this wonderful bargain.

Have you tried Preston's Witch Hazel, Insect Powder, or Household Ammonia? They are articles of acknowledged merit.

The Eruption of Ætna.

Monte Rosso, which is threatened by the lava of Mount Ætna, is a very pretty town, with a population of three or four thousand. A hill with a double head, about four or five hundred feet high and more than two miles in circumference, protects one-half of the town. This double headed hill is called Red Hill, and from it the town derives its name. About two hundred years ago an eruption and an earthquake combined in forming this small mountain, and partially destroyed old Catania, the largest town at the foot of Mount Ætna. Generally speaking the lava does not lie deeper than thirty or forty feet, for while hot and fluid it spreads over the surface until it gets cold, when it forms a cement or crust; but on that occasion only the refined sulphur remained on the hill, and gives it a reddish appearance. When the smoke slackens suddenly and slight shocks of earthquake are felt an eruption is at hand, for these are always the infallible precursors of the internal disturbance in the mountain. In 1874 these signs were noticed for eight days before the eruption occurred. Sometimes the mountain stops smoking, and fiery stones are seen issuing from the main crater.

The secretary of the navy on May 26th ordered a court of inquiry to convene on board of the U. S. S. Tennessee, at New York, June 1st, to investigate and report upon certain allegations contained in a report made by Rear Admiral James E. Jouett, reflecting upon the conduct of Lieutenant Commander George W. Pigman while in the performance of his duty as executive officer of the Tennessee.

The president on the 26th inst. issued an executive order as follows: "Under the provisions of section four of the act approved March 3d, 1883, it is hereby ordered that the several executive departments, the department of agriculture and the government printing office be closed on Monday, May 31st, to enable the employes to participate in the decoration of the graves of the soldiers who fell during the rebellion."

Levi W. Beebe, a noted gambler and confidence man, well known in every large city of this country, committed suicide at Detroit by stabbing himself with a small pocket knife. Beebe made two ineffectual stabs, and completed the job by another attempt, touching a vital spot.

An old house and barn at Kennebunk Depot, owned by Charles E. Harmon of Wells, were burned a few nights ago; loss $1,000.

[Concluded from 1st page]

time was considered valueless. But not long ago it was discovered that the fiber of the Yucca could be made into an excellent paper. And now one of the great English dailies, The London Telegraph, is printed upon paper made from this goblin tree. Indeed, The Telegraph has purchased a large plantation in Arizona, merely for the purpose of cultivating this tree, and manufacturing paper from it. So, you see, the Yucca is now a newspaper plant.—St. Nicholas.

Easiest Recipe for a Novel.

Hearken to the ceaseless demand and the perpetual prayer of an even unsatisfied and an always suffering humanity! How is a book to answer the ceaseless demand? Self-forgetfulness is of the essence of enjoyment, and the author who would confer pleasure must possess the art or know the trick of destroying for the time the reader's own personality. Undoubtedly the easiest way of doing this is by the creation of a host of rival personalities—hence the number and popularity of novels. Whenever a novelist fails his book is said to flag; that is the reader suddenly (as in skating) comes bump down upon his own personality, and curses the unskillful author. No lack of characters and continual motion is the easiest recipe for a novel, which like a beggar, should always be kept "moving on." Nobody knew this better than Fielding, whose novels, like most good ones, are full of inns.—Macmillan's Magazine.

How Gladstone Prepares His Speeches.

We are told on good authority that this is Mr. Gladstone's method of preparing his speeches: He keeps a box into which he is in the habit of throwing cuttings from newspapers and other memoranda of facts bearing upon the subject in hand. The morning of the day preceding any great oration he goes through this box and picks out his notes of the particular facts which he wishes to use. These he gums in their proper order upon a large sheet of paper, and uses them as the posts upon which the speech itself is to be hung. Then he imagines himself to be actually speaking—composes his oration, in fact, in his head. After he is satisfied with it, he dismisses the subject from his mind, and occupies himself until the hour for speaking comes in reading a novel! His memory is so great that his previously composed sentences come back to him without effort.—London Whitehall Review.

The Art of Compelling Others.

The graduate of the school as he stands on the threshold of the world see on every hand wealth, luxury, extravagance, splendor. But, curiously enough, these good things of life are not in possession of the skilled workers who produce them. They are mostly in the hands of those who, like himself, can not produce a single thing they want or need. He naturally begins to study the art of compelling others to produce things for him.—Charles H. Ham.

Young Great-Grandmother in Mexico.

By the laws of Mexico boys at 13 years of age and girls at 12 are eligible to marriage; and it is not an unusal sight there to see a womnn who looks not more than 35 a great-grandmother.—Chicago Tribune.

A PROCLAMATION

FROM THE SAGES OF THE EAST, TO THE CHILDREN OF THE WEST.

GREETING:

BE IT KNOWN UNTO YOU AND TO ALL THE DWELLERS OF WALLED TOWNS THAT TO THE BRAINERD AND ARMSTRONG CO. AND TO THEM ALONE IS IMPARTED THE KNOWLEDGE OF AND THE RIGHT TO USE THE EASTERN OR ASIATIC DYES.

Society of Decorative Art,
25 EAST 21ST ST., NEW YORK, Dec. 22, 1885.

To THE BRAINERD & ARMSTRONG CO.—Dear Sirs: Having tested your embroidery silks, and finding them in color and texture eminently satisfactory, the managers of the Society of Decorative Art believe that you have found the secret of fast dyes. They believe it is no longer necessary to the Society to be dependent upon foreign manufactures. I have pleasure in telling you that it has been decided by the board of management to give you the silk thread business of the Society of Decorative Art. Congratulating you that your dyes stand "fast" under the severest test, I am,

Very truly yours, A. B. BLONDEL,
President of the Society of Decorative Art.

Also endorsed and exclusively used by the ASSOCIATED ARTISTS of New York.

☞ Avoid imitations by taking only skeins bearing our name and guarantee tag. If your storekeeper does not keep our goods in stock, or will not get them for you, send us your address on a postal card. Waste Embroidery Silk, assorted colors, 40c. per oz. Send postage.

Lumbago and kindred diseases all yield to the prompt efficacy of St. Jacobs Oil.

Fire in a large business block in Chicago destroyed property valued at nearly $1,000,000.

Mr. A. F. McMillan, Washington, D. C., says Red Star Cough Cure cured his cough.

It is reported that the betrothal of Princess Louise, eldest daughter of the prince of Wales, to Prince Oscar, son of the king of Sweden, will soon be officially declared.

This is the best season in which to purify the blood, and Hood's Sarsaparilla is the best blood purifier. 100 doses one dollar.

The greatest floods since 1852 are general throughout South Carolina.

The well known strengthening properties of iron, combined with other tonics and a most perfect nervine, are found in Carter's Iron Pills, which strengthen the nerves and body, and improve the blood and complexion.

Leopold Von Ranke, the German historian, is dead.

The Musekeeper who has not used Pyle's Pearline should not wait a day longer without having it in the house. As an article to make washing easy, without injury to the finest fabric, it is unequalled.

Lord Roseberry, foreign secretary, of England, will recommend that the powers raise the blockade on Greek ports and withdraw th foreign fleet from Suda bay.

In chronic diseases, medicines should be rest ring, and not debilitating, in their action. The wonderful strengthening and curative effects, realized from the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, sustain the reputation of this remedy as the most popular blood purifier.

A Buffalo father to encourage early rising offered a prize of money to the child who should rise earliest next morning. At a very early hour a bright little girl made her appearance, claimed and got the prize, and then went back to bed.

The restoration to health of our child we considered uncertain. When two weeks old she caught cold. For eighteen months was not able to breathe through her nostrils. Upon using Ely's Cream Balm her difficulty is removed; she breathes naturally.—Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Smith, Owego, N. Y. Price 50 cents.

Judge Samuel Belcher, of Farmington, Me., ex-speaker of the Maine house of representatives, and formerly judge of probate and county attorney of Franklin county, died May 22d, at the age of seventy-one years.

The President

Of the bank of Waverly, Iowa, says: Sulphur Bitters saved my life. For ten years I suffered from catarrh and liver complaint; I lost forty-five pounds and was growing worse rapidly. I had lost all faith in medicine, but hearing your Bitters so well recommended, I gave them a trial. Six bottles cured me.—Smith P. Hunt, Waverly, Iowa.

In the Maxwell-Preller murder trial at St. Louis, Maxwell took the stand, May 26th, in his own behalf. He acknowledged himself to be Hugh M. Brooks, aged twenty-five years, born in Hyde, England. He confessed killing Preller, but insisted that it was done accidentally with chloroform, which he (Maxwell) was administering at Prellér's request before performing a painful surgical operation.

Relief from sick headache, drowsiness, nausea, dizziness, pain in the side, etc., guaranteed to those using Carter's Little Liver Pills. These complaints are nearly always caused by torpid liver and constipated bowels. Restore these organs to their proper functions and the trouble ceases. Carter's Little Liver Pills will do this every time. One pill is a dose. Forty in a vial. Price 25 cents.

At the meeting in London of the creditors of Mr. McHenry, proofs were tendered for $3,000,000 out of a total of his debts, which are alleged to be $3,750,000.

Scott's Emulsion of Pure Cod Liver Oil, with Hypophosphites.

Possesses the remedial power of these two valuable specifics in their fullest degree. Is prepared in a palatable form, easily tolerated by the stomach, and for delicate, sickly children, emaciation, consumption and all improvished conditions of the blood is unequalled by any other remedy.

Mr. Gladstone has called a meeting of the liberals to decide whether it is best to make certain changes in the home rule bill, with a view to conciliating the dissenting members of the party.

HEALTH AND STRENGTH REGAINED.

AND DEBILITATED MEN seeking Health, Strength and Energy, should avoid Drugs, Secret Medicines, etc., and send for "The Review," or "Health and Strength Regained," a large illustrated Journal published entirely for their benefit.

It treats on health, hygiene, physical culture, and medical subjects, and is a complete encyclopædia of information for suffering humanity afflicted with long standing, chronic, nervous, exhausting and painful diseases.

YOUNG AND MIDDLE AGED MEN, and others who suffer from nervous and physical debility, exhausted vitality, premature decline, etc., are especially benefitted by consulting its contents. Everything such sufferers wish to know is fully given in its pages. If in need of medical aid or counsel, read it before "doctoring" or investing in medicines or appliances of any description, and you will save time, money and disappointment. If using medicine or medical treatment of any kind, read it and learn the better way.

THE REVIEW exposes the frauds practised by quacks and medical imposters who profess to "practice medicine," and points out the only safe, simple and effective road to health, vigor and bodily energy.

Electric Belts and all curative appliances are treated upon; all about them—which are genuine, which are bogus. Belts on thirty days' trial (?) and other fallacies reviewed. Thousands of dollars saved nervous-debility sufferers and others by the advice given. THE REVIEW is now in its ninth year of publication. Complete specimen copies mailed free.

PORTSMOUTH, N. H.

A Public Benefaction.

How to laundry linen as it is done in Troy, N. Y., has been kept a secret long enough; it can and should be done in every family. The Elastic Starch is the only starch in the United States that is put up by men who have a practical knowledge of the laundry profession. It requires no cooking, keeps the iron from sticking and linen from blistering while ironing; and gives shirts, cuffs and collars that stiffness and beautiful polish they have when new, which, everybody knows keeps them clean twice as long. Beware of imitations. See that the name J. C. HUBINGER & BRO., New Haven, Conn., is on every package.

It is beginning to be admitted that the increase in cyclones is real and not apparent. A great many theories have been advanced to account for it. Electricity generated by railroads, denudation of forests, cultivation of the soil and other causes, have been assigned.

Second to none. Beach Soap Co's beautiful banner picture, free. Learn how to get it at your grocer's.

Why go about with backache, sore muscles, aching sides or weak parts. A Hop Plaster cures.

The cutters' strike in the shoeshops of Stoneham, Mass., has been settled by arbitration.

Carter's Little Liver Pills have no equal as a prompt and positive cure for sick headache, biliousness, constipation, pain in the side, and all liver troubles. Try them.

H. M. Duryea, a clerk of the New York board of education, went to Central park and shot himself twice in the head. He didn't die.

Malarial poisons contain the germs of dangerous diseases. If these poisons accumulate in the system, typhoid, bilious, intermittent or chill fever is sure to follow. Ayer's Ague Cure is a warranted specific for malaria.

The Brooklyn Sunday School union paraded 50,000 pupils through the public streets.

A Burglar Captured.

This morning about two o'clock, John Wood, the well known plumber who resides on Main street, was awakened by hearing glass break. On getting out of bed he received a blow on the head. He immediately grappled with the burglar, and after a terrible struggle succeeded in holding him until his wife obtained help. On being searched at the station, Mr. Wood's watch and wallet was found on his person. He gave the name of Robert Terry. The broken glass proved to be a bottle of Sulphur Bitters which had almost cured Mrs. Wood of rheumatism. —Exchange.

A Beautiful Present.

The Virgin Salt Co., of New Haven, Conn., are making a grand offer. A pair of Doves as natural as life, new design, printed in ten beautiful colors on a fine lithograph card 9x10 inches, given away with Virgin Salt (four certificates) in order to introduce it. For household purpose this salt has no equal. It is the cleanest, purest and whitest salt ever seen or used. Large package costs only ten cents. Ask your grocer for it.

The superior court at Boston has found John Greer guilty of manslaughter in killing his wife Mary at Roxbury, April 4th, by beating and choking her to death.

Numerous testimonials prove beyond a doubt that Allcock's Porous Plasters cure paralysis, nervous debility, and loss of memory when applied to the spine. They remove kidney difficulties when worn on the small of the back; applied to the pit of the stomach, dyspepsia and indigestion disappear. Colds, coughs and asthma no longer trouble the suffering patient when he uses them on the chest. If you have a headache, or want to sleep, put an Allcock's Porous Plaster on the nape of the neck—the work is not only done, but well done. This remedy not only cures ague cake, liver complaint, and malaria, but is a protection against fevers, small pox, or sewer gas.

Advice to Mothers.

Are you disturbed at night and broken of your rest by a sick child suffering and crying with pain of cutting teeth? If so, send at once and get a bottle of Mrs Winslow's Soothing Syrup for Children Teething. Its value is incalculable. It will relieve the poor little sufferer immediately. Depend upon it, mothers, there is no mistake about it. It cures dysentery and diarrhœa, regulates the stomach and bowels, cures wind colic, softens the gums, reduces inflammation, and gives tone and energy to the whole system. Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup for Children Teething is pleasant to the taste, and is the prescription of one of the oldest and best female nurses and physicians in the United States, and is for sale by all druggists throughout the world. Price 25 cents a bottle. codtJan

BETTER THAN PROMISES

Is positive proof.

What has been done in many cases can still be done in others. Sufferers from rheumatism and neuralgia can find relief if they wish. In proof of this statement the following letters are submitted:—

East Somerville, Mass., Jan. 26, 1886.

I have been asked to give my testimony as to what good there is in Athlophoros as a cure for rheumatism, and I simply say to those who are suffering from it try it, and if it does not give relief or a permanent cure it will be a most extraordinary case. In my own case it is a well-known fact among many of my acquaintances it knocked the rheumatism out of me.

GEO. C. BOZRUN, U. S. N.
44 Franklin street.

East Douglass, Mass., Jan. 25, 1886.

One-third of a bottle of Athlophoros cured me of inflammatory rheumatism. Being a cattle dealer my business compels me to be around in all kinds of weather and by constant exposure I contracted a severe and painful attack of inflammatory rheumatism in the hips and arms, which defied the supposed healing virtues of most every known remedy. Hearing that Athlophoros was doing wonders I tried it with the above gratifying results. Although the rheumatism has not troubled me for nearly a year, I always keep Athlophoros where I can lay my hands on it, and now instead of the disease defying the medicine matters are reversed. I feel perfectly safe for I know Athlophoros will cure rheumatism. E. P. HEATH.

Boston, Mass., Jan. 8, 1886.

Yes, sir; Athlophoros will cure rheumatism and so far as my experience goes it is the only medicine that will make a complete cure, for I have tried almost every thing with no effect. Certainly there was no good effect from my long use of the many so-called rheumatic cures, for all proved worthless; but when I saw with my own eyes what Athlophoros had done for a friend of mine—cured him of rheumatism—I tried it, and two doses of it relieved me so much as to permit me to put my feet on the ground, and in twenty-four hours I was standing on my feet, after which I steadily improved and soon was entirely rid of the rheumatism. So I truthfully say to anybody suffering with rheumatism take Athlophoros and you will be cured.

GUSTAF NELSSON, 216 Harrison Av.

Boston, Mass., Jan. 8, 1886.

I was suffering terribly with inflammatory rheumatism and thought I would just try Athlophoros. I did so, receiving immediate relief after taking three or four doses without any deleterious effects from it. I can honestly recommend it to any one suffering from muscular or inflammatory rheumatism. E. S. RICHARDS.

50 Washington street.

Boston, Mass., Jan. 19, 1886.

I desire to express my feeling of gratitude for the benefit I received from the use of Athlophoros, a medicine of genuine worth; being afflicted with that common but painful disease, inflammatory rheumatism, and being laid up because my feet were so swollen I could not stand up, I commenced using Athlophoros. Before half of the first bottle was used I was able to walk to my store. I continued to use it until in a short while my rheumatism disappeared entirely, the cure complete. I recommend Athlophoros because I know it to be an article of merit.

I am spinning the thread of life.
And the seven stars in my crown
Stand for the stages of mortal strife
I weave in my weft adown.

The violet hue of infanthood,
The indigo of childhood truth,
The blue the youthdawn lighter hued,
The green the time of growing youth,
The yellow, vigorous manhood's prime,
The orange, omen of decay,
The red that marks life's sunset time,
Refracted tint of life's brief day.

CLIFF DWELLERS OF COLORADO.

Some of the Observations Mad by an Explorer—Description of a Skull.

The ruins of which I shall write are found along the Dolores river, and in the Montezuma valley in the extreme southwestern part of Colorado, where is also found hundreds of mounds. I feel sure that the mound builders and cliff dwellers were two distinct races of people, as these mounds extend for thousands of miles, while the cliff dwellings extend over but a comparatively small portion of territory. They both used the pottery of which so much is found. Perhaps they both made it, but there is no way of telling. That part of the country of which I am writing is all seamed and gashed by deep canyons and ravines running in different directions. The walls of these canyons are generally of sandstone, ranging in height from ten to 200 feet; most of them are perpendicular, or nearly so. The face of these walls seem to be of different degrees of hardness. The softer portions have been worn out by the storms of rain, hail and sand till holes and caverns, in size all the way from swallow holes to caves a hundred or more feet long, five to twenty feet high and deep. It was these storm-worn caverns that these curious people made use of for their dwellings. Some of them are but a few feet from the base of the cliff, while others are at least 100 feet high. The fronts of these caverns are walled up with thin flat stones laid in mortar of clay, always using their hands for trowels. There is a difference of opinion as to how they reached their dwellings. Some think they had steps cut in the soft sandstone, while others claim that they had ladders of rope. I never have seen any proof that they used either of these means, though I can't say that they did not. I am of the opinion that they climbed the face of the cliff by means of crevices and fissures, and the rough surfaces of the rocks. I feel sure that they were by nature formed in such a way that they could do that kind of climbing nearly as well as monkeys.

There is good ground for the opinion that they were low of stature, with long arms, and fingers with very long nails. I will give some of my reasons for this opinion: First, some of these houses are not more than four feet from floor to ceiling. Some of the large dwellings are divided into several apartments, separated by partitions of stone. The doorways in no case, so far as I have seen, are more than four and a half feet high, when they might just as well have made them six or ten feet high if they had needed them. In the interior of some of these rooms are deep crevices, the backs of which are plastered with mud which was pressed in with their hands, as the impressed marks the fingers plainly show. Some of this mud is so far back that I could not reach it with my hand, which is good evidence that their arms were long. I am a tall man but my arms would not reach this mud by two or three inches. The finger points on the mortar are quite small, and the nails long, and are as plainly to be seen as though just made. I have several specimens of this mortar which is almost like stone.

These people lived to some extent at least by agriculture, as proven by finding corn-cobs in their houses. These cobs are found on the floor by removing the dust which has gathered to the depth of from six to twenty inches. The cobs soon crumble to dust upon exposure to the air. The corn raised by them was of a small kind, the cobs never being more than four or five inches in length. We also find a great many stone troughs, which were probably used for grinding corn. A great many arrow points are found, all of which are small; many of them are of beautiful workmanship, and made of different kinds of flint, onyx and other fine stones. The small size of these arrow heads is another evidence that these people were small. I have a skull which was dug up near the base of the cliffs directly under one of these dwellings. I will give a description of it by careful measurement. The forehead is but one inch high and two inches across. The eye sockets measure but one and three-quarters inches from center to center. The diameter of the head just back of the ears is six and one-fourth inches. On the back of the head is a perfectly flat place measuring three by four inches. This is the skull of an adult, as shown by the teeth, which are very much worn. Most of the pottery found in this vicinity is broken, but occasionally a jar, pot or vase is found. It is of the same kind as that found wherever the mounds are found, some of it is A New Racer.

A despatch of May 27th from New York says: "The new sloop yacht Atlantic, built by members of the Atlantic yacht club to compete for the honor of holding the America's cup against the English cutter Galatea, made her trial trip to-day and proved herself, if not an unqualified success, at least a remarkably fast boat. Contrary to the predictions of her critics she showed that her best point of sailing is on the wind. She had the good fortune to fall in with several fast sailers, against which her speed could be tried. First she fell in with the sloop Fanny, which, until last year, when the Puritan and Priscilla were launched, was one of the fastest boats afloat in smooth water, and the gallant style in which the Atlantic ran away from the Fanny delighted everybody on board, and whetted their appetite for bigger game. This she sudsequently found in the Priscilla, which she met on her return up the lower bay. In the contests last fall between the Puritan and Priscilla, it was a wonder to everybody how the former would work from leeward out to windward of the latter on the same tack. The Atlantic proved herself yesterday able to do the very same thing. She met the Priscilla, came about under her lee quarter, and ran away from and to windward of her. The owners of the Atlantic think she can beat the Puritan."

—"Who was the oldest man?" asked the teacher. "Methusaleh!" "Correct. Who was the strongest?" "Sampson?" "Right. Now, who was the greatest man the world has even seen?" Prize scholar: "Please, sir, I can't just remember his name, but he pitched for the Knock-em-outs last season, and he's just signed with the Rounders for the next."

—Senator Daniel, of West Virginia, remarks that "you might as well put a mustard plaster on a bald head for heart disease, as to apply legislation for the cure of the labor trouble."

—Joy never kills. A man has even been known to survive the shock of finding a forgotten $5 bill in the watch-pocket of his last summer's pantaloons.

Athlophoros has done me more good than anything I have ever taken. I was a great sufferer from rheumatism, but since taking seven bottles of the remedy I think I am nearly or quite cured. G. T. Gilson, Hinsdale, Mass.

The detail for the court of enquiry to investigate the conduct of Lieut. Comdr. George W. Pigman as executive officer of the Tennessee, is as follows: Rear Adm. S. P. Luce, president, Commodores Bancroft Gherardi and D. L. Braine, members, and Capt. McLean Tilton, U. S. M. C., judge advocate. The court is ordered at the request of Lieut. Comdr. Pigman.

Biliousness

is very prevalent at this season, the symptoms being bitter taste, offensive breath, coated tongue, sick headache, drowsiness, dizziness, loss of appetite. If this condition is allowed to continue, serious consequences may result. By promptly taking Hood's Sarsaparilla, a fever may be avoided or premature death prevented. It is a positive cure for biliousness. Sold by all druggists.

The mason work is about all done on the machine shop and foundry at Dover, and it is expected that they will start up the coming fall.

The Cathedral

Of St. Paul's, London, was rebuilt by Sir Christopher Wren in thirty-seven years, at $1,000,000 expense, raised by a duty on coals. Raising funds by special assessment is a speedy way. If you can raise the small sum necessary to purchase a case or bottle of the G. O. Taylor Bourbon and Rye Whiskey, you will find it worth its weight in gold to you, for coughs, weak lungs and colds. It is pure and strengthening, and is bottled by Chester H. Graves & Sons, Boston, and sold and indorsed by the leading Druggists and Grocers.

For sale by the bottle or case by John Leighton.

The Recent Railroad Change.

There are suggestions in the newspapers, and fond anticipations on the part of the biennial lobbyist of the state, that the recent purchase of a considerable block of shares in the Boston, Concord & Montreal railroad meant a rupture of the relations between the B., C. & M. R. R., under its new directors, and its lessees the Boston & Lowell railroad. This piece of news seems to whet the appetite and stimulate the anticipations of many gentlemen of leisure who congregate at Concord on every alternate June, and are ready to be retained to influence the votes of "their members," who if the gentlemen of the lobby are to be credited, always vote as the retained aids desire.

But we understand that the only question likely to come before the legislature in 1887 is whether an act can be passed similar to that now pending before the legislature of Massachusetts, providing for the consolidation of lines of railway leased to the Lowell road. Upon this question certain holders of stock in the Concord railroad have always had very decided views in opposition, while the practical railway men who keep abreast of the movements of railways and the advances of opposing and competing lines, maintain that there should be but one line from western Vermont to Boston, just as there is, practically, one line from the British provinces through Maine and New Hampshire to Boston.

It is pretty clear that if the roads running through the valley of the Merrimac did not place themselves in condition to do a through business on as good terms as competing lines, the business will go the other way. The Boston & Maine, with its key to the White mountain business, would have great advantage over the Lowell if the latter were obliged to stop and make detailed arrangements after reaching Lowell with its train from Boston, to have its cars hauled fifteen miles by the Nashua & Lowell railroad with an entirely different set of conductors and train men, and at Nashua have another set to see the cars hauled thirty-five miles to Concord, and there have still another set of men on the Boston, Concord & Montreal road, and perhaps another on the White Mountains railroad, and so on over all the lesser roads which in the early days of railway construction were built in corporate sections but are now a part of a great whole.

Now we have no idea that these new holders of Montreal stock have any such absurd idea as to their investment. It will probably turn out that Mr. Rollins, having become satiated with politics, has turned his attention to finance. He has visited the west and finds that under the vigilent canvassing of local "loan agents" there is hardly an acre of land which is not mortgaged to eastern capitalists, and therefore he turns from the absorbed and perhaps uncertain investments of the west, to the surer and more stable securities of the east. With the Montreal road leased at a fixed rate of dividend to be paid by the Lowell, it will not be surprising to see the price of the shares largely advance in the market. The purchase by the syndicate under the direction of its financial head is an indication of a conservative yet shrewd operation, which will prove perhaps far more satisfactory in its results than would a like sum planted in western farm loans or among the enchanting orange groves of Florida.

The American Antiquarian for May, contains an illustrated article on "Human Faces in Aboriginal Art," by Stephen D. Peet; the author takes the position that many of the specimens contain portraits of the prehistoric races. The second article is by William McAdams on "The Bone Paths found in Dacotah." The third is, "The Beginning of Writings in and around Tibet." Under "Correspondence" there are several short communications on "Mounds and Relics," "Firebeds," "Coinage," "Bronze Plate," etc. Under "Editorials" an illustrated article on "Geographical distribution of Three Great Races," "Notes from the Far East," "Linguistic Notes," "Ethnological Notes," and notes on "Classic Archaeology." Literary notes and book reviews complete the volume. Four dollars per annum. F. H. Revell, publisher, No. 150 Madison street, Chicago, Ill.

Hon. Thomas J. Smith has been appointed by Col. Henry O. Kent, naval officer at Boston, to be chief clerk of the naval office, and begins his duties June 1st. The salary is $2,000. Mr. Smith has been a patient waiter for this appreciation of his time-honored fealty to the democratic party.

The road machine which the town of Kittery at its last annual meeting voted to buy, has been accepted by the town committee appointed to procure and test it. It has been doing some excellent work.

Col. William A. Cromwell of South Berwick has resigned as a member of the democratic state committee of Maine from York county.

The bill granting a pension of $40 per month to Mrs. Abby L. Burbank, widow of the late Surgeon Charles H. Burbank, U. S. N., who died Jan. 30th, 1885, has been favorably reported in the house.

Stephen R. Niles, Esq., of Boston, accompanied by Mrs. Niles and Edward Glover Niles, will sail for Europe on the 10th of June per steamer Gallia, to be absent until September.

The scow Oregon, which was loading with nitrate of soda from a steamer at Jersey City, had an explosion, which badly burned several men and set the scow on fire. It was towed into the stream and scuttled. The loss is between $10,000 and $15,000.

Hugh Curry and John McGuire, of Chicago, are charged with knocking down and kicking Curry's sister and Fred Koestlin till both were insensible. The girl's injuries endanger her life. She is a Catholic, and her brother objected to her engagement to Koestlin, a Protestant.

—In every life there comes a time when hope is crushed, but the man with a healthy liver and a shirt that doesn't pinch in the neck seldom gets discouraged.

—It now takes but six minutes to send a cable message to London and get an answer, but it still takes an office boy something over two hours to go around the corner and return with a plumber.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral

Should be kept constantly at hand, for use in emergencies of the household. Many a mother, startled in the night by the ominous sounds of Croup, finds the little sufferer, with red and swollen face, gasping for air. In such cases Ayer's Cherry Pectoral is invaluable. Mrs. Emma Gedney, 129 West 129 st., New York, writes: "While in the country, last winter, my little boy, three years old, was taken ill with Croup; it seemed as if he would die from strangulation. Ayer's Cherry Pectoral was tried in small and frequent doses, and, in less than half an hour, the little patient was breathing easily. The doctor said that the Pectoral saved my darling's life." Mrs. Chas. B. Landon, Guilford, Conn., writes: "Ayer's Cherry Pectoral

Saved My Life,

and also the life of my little son. As he is troubled with Croup, I dare not be without this remedy in the house." Mrs. J. Gregg, Lowell, Mass., writes: "My children have repeatedly taken Ayer's Cherry Pectoral for Coughs and Croup. It gives immediate relief, followed by cure." Mrs. Mary E. Evans, Scranton, Pa., writes: "I have two little boys, both of whom have been, from infancy, subject to violent attacks of Croup. About six months ago we began using Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, and it acts like a charm. In a few minutes after the child takes it, he breathes easily and rests well. Every mother ought to know what a blessing I have found in Ayer's Cherry Pectoral." Mrs. Wm. C. Reid, Freehold, N. J., writes: "In our family, Ayer's medicines have been blessings for many years. In cases of Colds and Coughs, we take

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral,

and the inconvenience is soon forgotten."

Increasing Interest in Sports.

BOSTON, May 28. Interest in base ball, bicycling, yachting, etc., is on the increase. The season is now fully opened, and "Jack Plane" will have an intensely interesting article in to-morrow's Sunday Globe on the herculean efforts of the Boston nine to keep from sliding off the tail end of the league, and carefully avoiding getting anywhere near the top of the list. He will also talk about the wheelmen, the yacht fever, etc. The whole article will be copiously and humorously illustrated. File your order today for the Sunday Globe.

100 Doses

One Dollar. Hood's Sarsaparilla is the only medicine of which this can be truly said; and it is an unanswerable argument as to the strength and positive economy of this great medicine. Hood's Sarsaparilla is made of roots, herbs, barks, etc., long and favorably known for their power in purifying the blood; and in combination, proportion, and process, Hood's Sarsaparilla is peculiar to itself.

"For economy and comfort we use Hood's Sarsaparilla." MRS. C. BREWSTER, Buffalo.

"Hood's Sarsaparilla takes less time and quantity to show its effect than any other preparation I ever heard of. I would not be without it in the house." MRS. C. A. M. HUBBARD, North Chili, N. Y. 100 Doses

One Dollar

Hood's Sarsaparilla cures scrofula, salt rheum, all humors, boils, pimples, general debility, dyspepsia, biliousness, sick headache, catarrh, rheumatism, kidney and liver complaints, and all affections caused by impure blood or low condition of the system. Try it.

"I was severely afflicted with scrofula, and for over a year had two running sores on my neck. I took five bottles of Hood's Sarsaparilla, and consider myself entirely cured." C. E. LOVEJOY, Lowell, Mass.

"Hood's Sarsaparilla did me an immense amount of good. My whole system has been built up and strengthened, my digestion improved, and my head relieved of the bad feeling. I consider it the best medicine I have ever used, and should not know how to do without it." MARY L. PEELE, Salem, Mass.

ZIMRI S. WALLINGFORD

Died in Dover May 28th, in the 70th year of his age. He learned the trade of blacksmith, commencing in his 12th year, and later worked at machine building. In 1844 he entered the service of the Cocheco Manufacturing Co., and in 1860 became its agent, which office he filled with rare ability and faithfulness up to the time of his death. He was one of the early abolitionists, and a personal friend of Garrison, Phillips, Parker, Douglass and others. Later he was an earnest republican, and in 1876 was presidential elector. He held many corporate positions, in banks, railroads, etc. In religion he was a Unitarian, and an active member of that church in Dover. He leaves two daughters, his only son, Capt. John O. Wallingford, having died in 1872 from disease contracted in the service during the war.

ATHLETIC SPORTS.

The Athletic club have arranged for a series of athletic sports to take place in the Cricket field near Frenchman's lane on Monday afternoon, commencing at two o'clock. The list includes nine events, as follows:

1. Hundred yards dash, handicap.
2. Putting the shot.
3. Hurdle race.
4. Throwing the hammer.
5. Running high jump.
6. Sack race.
7. Foot race, one mile.
8. Tug of war.
9. Base ball game, between two nines from the gymnasium.

REPUBLICAN CAUCUS IN ELIOT.

The republicans of Eliot, Me., in caucus assembled, on Thursday, May 27th, elected delegates to the several republican conventions as follows:

State—Sylvester Bartlett, Martin P. Tobey and Albert Lord.

District—William Hill, Timothy Dame and John L. Emery.

County—Timothy Dame, Joseph F. Kennard and Augustus P. Shapleigh.

Also a town committee consisting of the following named person: Timothy Dame, William Hill, Joseph F. Kennard, Fred H. Rowe, Joseph Frost, Sylvester Bartlett and John C. McKenney.

This seems to indicate a lively, vigorous campaign in Eliot, this year.

SOLDIERS' AND SAILORS' MONUMENT--FINANCE COMMITTEE.

An interesting and very satisfactory meeting of the committee was held in the city rooms on Thursday evening last. A subscription of $50 was received from Col. J. Horace Kent. Hon. John Laighton, of the committee, reported progress, having made collections amounting to $75 on a partial canvass of his list.

MUSIC HALL.

Do not forget that the engagement of the Helene Adell company ends to-day. Matinee this afternoon, with "Our Boys" as the attraction. Closing entertainment this evening, with the comedy "Tom Cobb" and the farce "Day After the Wedding."

From 115 lbs. to 161 lbs.

To the Cuticura Remedies I owe My Health, My Happiness, and My Life.

A day never passes that I do not think and speak kindly of the CUTICURA REMEDIES. Seven years ago, all of a dozen lumps formed on my neck, ranging in size from a cherry stone to an orange. The large ones were frightful to look at, and painful to bear; people turned aside when they saw me, in disgust, and I was ashamed to be on the street or in society. Physicians and their treatment, and all medicines failed to do any good. In a moment of despair I tried the CUTICURA REMEDIES—CUTICURA, the great Skin Cure, and CUTICURA SOAP, an exquisite Skin Beautifier, externally, and CUTICURA RESOLVENT, the new Blood Purifier, internally; the small lumps (as I call them) gradually disappeared, and the large ones broke, in about two weeks, discharging large quantities of matter, leaving two slight scars in my neck to-day to tell the story of my suffering. My weight then was one hundred and fifteen sickly pounds; my weight now is one hundred and sixty-one solid, healthy pounds, and in height is only five feet five inches. In my travel I praised the CUTICURA REMEDIES, North, South, East, and West. To CUTICURA REMEDIES I OWE MY HEALTH, MY HAPPINESS, AND MY LIFE. A prominent New York druggist asked me the other day, "Do you still use the CUTICURA REMEDIES; you look to be in perfect health?" My reply was, "I do, and shall always. I have no words to tell what sickness is since I commenced using the CUTICURA REMEDIES." Sometimes I am laughed at by relating them to people not acquainted with their merits, but sooner or later they will come to their senses and believe the same as those that use them, as dozens have whom I have told. May the time come when there shall be a large CUTICURA Supply House in every city in the world, for the benefit of humanity, where the CUTICURA REMEDIES shall be sold ONLY, so that there will be rarely a need of ever entering a drug store.

Sneezing Catarrh.

The distressing sneeze, sneeze, sneeze, the acrid, watery discharges from the eyes and nose, the painful inflammation extending to the throat, the swelling of the mucous lining, causing choking sensations, cough, ringing noises in the head and splitting headaches,—how familiar these symptoms are to thousands who suffer periodically from head colds or influenza, and who live in ignorance of the fact that a single application of SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE FOR CATARRH will afford instantaneous relief.

But this treatment in cases of simple Catarrh gives but a faint idea of what this remedy will do in the chronic forms, where the breathing is obstructed by choking, putrid mucous accumulations, the hearing affected, smell and taste gone, throat ulcerated and hacking cough gradually fastening itself upon the debilitated system. Then it is that the marvellous curative powers of SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE manifests itself in instantaneous and grateful relief. Cure begins from the first application. It is rapid, radical, permanent, economical, safe.

SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE consists of one bottle of the RADICAL CURE, one box of CATARRHAL SOLVENT, and an IMPROVED INHALER; price, $1.

"Inventors cannot employ a person more trustworthy or more capable of securing for them an early and favorable consideration as the Patent Office."
EDMUND BURKE, late Commissioner of Patents.

BOSTON, October 19, 1878.

R. H. EDDY, Esq.—Dear Sir: You procured for me, in 1860, my first patent. Since then you have acted for and advised me in hundreds of cases, and procured many patents, reissues and extensions. I have occasionally employed the best agencies in New York, Philadelphia and Washington, but I still give you almost the whole of my business, in your line, and advise others to employ you.

Yours truly, GEORGE DRAPER.

plain, but most of it is decorated with figures in black or blue colors; quite a good deal of it is decorated with scalloped edges and corrugated sides. This pottery is found everywhere, on the slopes and in the valleys. It is also found on some of the highest mountain tops. We find it in digging in the mounds and in the cliff houses. Charcoal is also found in many places.

It is quite probable that these people had enemies of which they were afraid, as there are many high bluffs and headlands which appear to have been used as lookouts and on the approach of their enemies they could flee to their fortress in the cliffs and bid defiance to any who might assail them. How long it is since these people lived here of course is a matter of conjecture. The Indians living in the Montezuma valley say that they have lived there 600 years, and that their forefathers found these ruins in the same condition in which we find them to-day. That they are very ancient there can be no question and nothing will ever be really known.—H. M. Morse in American Field.

Prayers for a Needy Preacher.

A distinguished Boston divine preached a few Sundays ago for a cousin who is pastor of a church forty miles out in the country. His relative was somewhat flurried by the presence of the city minister and in the opening prayer with which he prefaced the other's sermon he prayed:

"Help thy servant who is to speak to us to-day. Without Thee—help him—for—." He stopped, tried to collect himself, and finished, "for, O Lord, he can't do much, anyway!"—Boston Record.

The Pottery Kilns of America.

There are now about 375 pottery kilns in operation in this country, not including the large number employed by decorated pottery makers. The total capital employed in the industry is about $8,000,000, two-thirds of which is absorbed in plant. The amount of wages paid to the thousands of pottery hands is placed at from $4,000,000 to $5,000,000 per annum. Finally, the annual value of the American pottery product is over $8,000,000.—Chicago Herald.

Railroad Train Checked by Wind.

It is an interesting fact that the speed of a railway train is more retarded by wind which blows against it from the side than if it comes "dead ahead." The reason is in the increased friction of the flanges of the wheels upon the rails caused by the side blow.—Pioneer Press.

Mr. Gladstone's Rather Quaint Dress.

Mr. Gladstone dresses in a quaint and rather peculiar manner. He wears a black frock-coat, a vest opened low and displaying a broad shirt front, a high standing collar, with a black cravat carelessly knotted, and dark, baggy trousers.—Chicago Herald.

Is Two-Thirds Plaited Silk.

A writer, speaking of the Chinese, says that while the men appear to have a great deal of hair, examination of their pigtails reveals that nearly two-thirds of that appendage is plaited silk thread.—Exchange.

GREETING: BE IT KNOWN
UNTO YOU AND TO ALL THE DWELLERS OF WALLED TOWNS THAT TO THE BRAINERD & ARMSTRONG CO. AND TO THEM ALONE IS IMPARTED THE KNOWLEDGE OF AND THE RIGHT TO USE THE EASTERN OR ASIATIC DYES.

Society of Decorative Art,
23 EAST 26TH ST., NEW YORK, Dec. 22, 1885.

TO THE BRAINERD & ARMSTRONG CO.—Dear Sirs: Having tested your embroidery silks, and finding them in color and texture eminently satisfactory, the managers of the Society of Decorative Art believe that you have found the secret of fast dyes. They believe it is no longer necessary to the Society to be dependent upon foreign manufactures. I have pleasure in telling you that it has been decided by the board of management to give you the silk thread business of the Society of Decorative Art. Congratulating you that your dyes stand "fast" under the severest test, I am,

Very truly yours, A. B. BLODGETT,
President of the Society of Decorative Art.

Also endorsed and exclusively used by the ASSOCIATED ARTISTS of New York.

☞ Avoid imitations by taking only skeins bearing our name and guarantee tag. If your storekeeper does not keep our goods in stock, or will not get them for you, send us your address on a postal card. Waste Embroidery silk, assorted colors, 40c. per oz. Send postal note to

"I have no appetite," complains many a sufferer. Hood's Sarsaparilla gives an appetite, and enables the stomach to perform its duty.

It is rumored that Jachne, the convicted "boodle" alderman of New York, has made a confession implicating many others in the bribery of the aldermen of 1884.

The well known strengthening properties of iron, combined with other tonics and a most perfect nervine, are found in Carter's Iron Pills, which strengthen the nerves and body, and improve the blood and complexion.

The New York sloop yacht Atlantic has made her trial trip; her owners are jubilant over the result, and predict success in the season's races.

The Housekeeper who has not used Pyle's Pearline should not wait a day longer without having it in the house. As an article to make washing easy, without injury to the finest fabric, it is unequalled.

The annual meeting of the Catholic Knights of America was held at Springfield, Mass.

In chronic diseases, medicines should be restoring, and not debilitating, in their action. The wonderful strengthening and curative effects, realized from the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, sustain the reputation of this remedy as the most popular blood purifier.

The New Hampshire democratic state committe will hold a meeting June 3d to settle upon the time and place for holding the state convention.

The restoration to health of our child we considered uncertain. When two weeks old she caught cold. For eighteen months was not able to breathe through her nostrils. Upon using Ely's Cream Balm her difficulty is removed; she breathes naturally.—Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Smith, Owego, N. Y. Price 50 cents.

The drying house of a dynamite manufactory at Tom's River, N. J., was blown up May 27th, and two men were scattered in fragments hundreds of feet in every direction.

The President

Of the bank of Waverly, Iowa, says: Sulphur Bitters saved my life. For ten years I suffered from catarrh and liver complaint; I lost forty-five pounds and was growing worse rapidly. I had lost all faith in medicine, but hearing your Bitters so well recommended, I gave them a trial. Six bottles cured me.—Smith P. Hunt, Waverly, Iowa.

Congress has unanimously passed the bill empowering the president to withhold privileges from vessels of any country discriminating against American vessels.

Relief from sick headache, drowsiness, nausea, dizziness, pain in the side, etc., guaranteed to those using Carter's Little Liver Pills. These complaints are nearly always caused by torpid liver and constipated bowels. Restore these organs to their proper functions and the trouble ceases. HEALTH AND STRENGTH REGAINED.

AND DEBILITATED MEN seeking Health, Strength and Energy, should avoid Drugs, Secret Medicines, etc., and send for "The Review," or "Health and Strength Regained," a large illustrated Journal published entirely for their benefit.

It treats on health, hygiene, physical culture, and medical subjects, and is a complete encyclopedia of information for suffering humanity afflicted with long standing, chronic, nervous, exhausting and painful diseases.

YOUNG AND MIDDLE AGED MEN, and others who suffer from nervous and physical debility, exhausted vitality, premature decline, etc., are especially benefitted by consulting its contents. Everything such sufferers wish to know is fully given in its pages. If in need of medical aid or counsel, read it before "doctoring" or investing in medicines or appliances of any description, and you will save time, money and disappointment. If using medicine or medical treatment of any kind, read it and learn the better way.

THE REVIEW exposes the frauds practised by quacks and medical impostors who profess to "practice medicine," and points out the only safe, simple and effective road to health, vigor and bodily energy.

Electric Belts and all curative appliances are treated upon; all about them—which are genuine, which are bogus. Belts on thirty days' trial (?) and other fallacies reviewed. Thousands of dollars saved nervous-debility sufferers and others by the advice given. THE REVIEW is now in its ninth year of publication. Complete specimen copies mailed free.

A TRIBUTE.

[To the memory of EDWARD G. PARKER of Kittery, of the 17th Maine Regiment, who was killed at Spottsylvania Dec. 12th, 1864.]

The hardy grass is springing
Above a lowly grave,
The merry birds are singing
Above the true and brave.

My boyhood friend is sleeping
Within this quiet bed;
The years are softly creeping
Above the honored dead.

A spirit brave and daring,
He heard his country's call,
And in her peril sharing
He gave to her his all.

On many a field of battle
He served his country well,
And 'mid the cannon's rattle
At Spottsylvania fell.

Beside the peaceful river
They laid him to his rest;
The winds shall murmur ever
A requiem o'er his breast.

O, comrade pure and tender,
O, soldier brave and strong,
To thee we love to render
The tribute of our song;

And in the life eternal,
Beyond our toil and pain,
Where all is bright and vernal,
We hope to meet again.

—THOMAS E. WILSON, Roxbury, Mass.

A Public Benefaction.

How to laundry linen as it is done in Troy, N. Y., has been kept a secret long enough; it can and should be done in every family. The Elastic Starch is the only starch in the United States that is put up by men who have a practical knowledge of the laundry profession. It requires no cooking, keeps the iron from sticking and linen from blistering while ironing, and gives shirts, cuffs and collars that stiffness and beautiful polish they have when new, which, everybody knows keeps them clean twice as long. Beware of imitations. See that the name J. C. HUBINGER & BRO., New Haven, Conn., is on every package.

The three brothers, Everett, Harry and John Wright, of Camden, N. J.; who were supposed to have been drowned by the capsizing of their yacht, returned, walking from Billingsport. The storm kept them down the river four days.

What Was It, John,

That made your face so clear and free from pimples? said his sweetheart. Why, don't you know, Eva? For over a year I took everything I could think of without helping me, then I bought two bottles of Sulphur Bitters, and now I haven't one pimple on my face. It is the best blood cleanser I ever saw.

"Oh! if I had only known that in time." Known what? "Known that a simple cold in the head may develop into chronic catarrh." Well, it isn't too late, for Ely's Cream Balm will cure catarrh even after the sufferer's life has become a burden to him, and he a nuisance to his friends. It is the only radical and thoroughly scientific catarrh cure known. Not a snuff. Not a liquid. Applied to the nostrils with the finger. Price fifty cents.

Advice to Mothers.

Are you disturbed at night and broken of your rest by a sick child suffering and crying with pain of cutting teeth? If so, send at once and get a bottle of Mrs Winslow's Soothing Syrup for Children Teething. Its value is incalculable. It will relieve the poor little sufferer immediately. Depend upon it, mothers, there is no mistake about it. It cures dysentery and diarrhœa, regulates the stomach and bowels, cures wind colic, softens the gums, reduces inflammation, and gives tone and energy to the whole system. Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup for Children Teething is pleasant to the taste, and is the prescription of one of the oldest and best female nurses and physicians in the United States, and is for sale by all druggists throughout the world. Price 25 cents a bottle. codtJan

THE HOPE OF NEW ENGLAND.

The last census is not altogether pleasant reading in many portions for the sons of New England, but it conveys lessons which they cannot afford to ignore. If it tells that Maine and Vermont stood stationary as regards populations between 1870 and 1880, it also records the rapid growth and prosperity of many cities and towns which are beginning to tread upon the heels of older communities. It seems to say that to manufactures, not to agriculture, must New England apply herself, and that to the skill of her artisans must she look for her old-time supremacy. This changed condition of affairs is recognized in many enterprising cities, a good example of which may be found in Waterbury, the bustling Connecticut city upon the Naugatuck that is so rapidly coming to the front as a manufacturing center. Waterbury has wide-awake citizens who take every opportunity to push it and to welcome new ideas. The advantage of such a progressive spirit is well shown in the case of G. W. Angell, who lives at No. 204 South Main street, Waterbury, and who gives this personal experience:

"For twenty years I have suffered tortures from chronic rheumatism. The doctors said I was incurable, but thanks to Athlophoros, I have now taken a new lease on life. I had tried numerous remedies with the hope of at least allaying my suffering, but all failed until a friend advised me to try Athlophoros. I did so, and as the result am now looking and feeling as though I had never known what rheumatism was."

Mrs. E. Vickers, of No. 46 Pleasant street, says:

"It is owing to Athlophoros that I am now alive. I suffered with inflammatory rheumatism for years, most of the time being perfectly helpless. One bottle of Athlophoros cured me. I can sincerely say that there is nothing like it for the speedy relief and permanent cure of rheumatism and can recommend it to all suffering from that disease."

The testimony is reinforced by that of Mrs. Jane Downey, of No. 24 Pleasant street, a near neighbor of Mrs. Vicker's, in this story of her case:

"Two bottles of Athlophoros cured me of inflammatory rheumatism. My family physician advised me to take the remedy, saying that he had done all he could for me, but could give me no relief. Athlophoros drove the rheumatism away, and I am happy to say that it has never come back. My daughter, who suffered terribly from rheumatism, was also cured by taking half a bottle of the medicine."

If you cannot get ATHLOPHOROS of your druggist, we will send it express paid, on receipt of regular price—one dollar per bottle. We prefer that you buy it from your druggist, but if he hasn't it, do not be persuaded to try something else, but order at once from us as directed. ATHLOPHOROS Co., 112 Wall Street, New York.

STEAMBOATS IN INNER AFRICA.

Carrying Large Vessels Overland Hundreds of Miles—How It Is Done.

Many times within the last five years large caravans have traveled along the paths that lead far into Africa, carrying strips of iron or steel, boxes of rivets and bolts, and sections of boilers, paddle-wheels and smoke-stacks. After many weeks these expeditions have heaped their loads upon the shore of some great lake or mighty river, where white men and their native assistants have welded the hundreds of pieces together and finally launched complete and perfect steamboats upon the waters of interior Africa.

Eleven steamboats and one sailing vessel are now plying upon the great lakes and rivers. It is only twenty-eight years since Burton and Speke were the first white men to visit Lakes Victoria and Taganyika. Only within the past ten years have they and the third great lake Nyassa been carefully explored, the upper waters of the Congo visited, and the Alima river traced on the maps. On all these inland waters, and also on the upper Niger, the whistle of the steamboat is now heard, and many natives have learned to welcome the puffy craft as offering them a chance to trade.

It was a costly undertaking to transport these vessels hundreds of miles overland, far into the depths of Africa. Small as the steamboats are compared with over river boats, they weigh from 25,000 to 50,000 pounds apiece. From 800 to 1,500 porters were required to transport each boat to its destination. A few of the Upper Congo steamers, however, were mounted sections on steel wagons with broad tires, and Mr. Stanley tells of the awful toil of dragging these heavy steamers overland before they are set afloat above the cataracts."

These steamers were nearly all built in England, and they puffed up and down English rivers on trial trips before they were taken to pieces and shipped to Africa. Serious delay was caused if a single important piece was lost. After the little French steamer Djue had nearly reached the Alima river early last year it was discovered that one of the most necessary pieces was missing and the boat lay useless on the shore for many months until a duplicate piece could be obtained from Europe.

A missionary steamer launched last summer on Lake Nyassa is manned, from engineer to cook, by a crew of native Africans, who were taken to England to learn their duties. By means of this little craft and its predecessor, the Ilala, regular communication is maintained among the mission stations along Uyassa's 700 miles of coasts. In another steamer named Peace, which 800 blacks carried on their heads to Stanley pool two years ago, the missionary Grenfell traveled last year about 5,000 miles, making many interesting discoveries in wholly unknown and densely populated regions along the Congo tributaries.—New York Times.

An Interesting Household Pet.

The Beaked Chætodon of the Indian and Polynesian seas is a fish of eccentric form and beautiful tints, but its most remarkable features is its curiously elongated muzzle or beak, which is employed as a gun, with a drop of water for a bullet. Unlike other fishes, this creature does not wait for its prey to fall into the water, but shoots it down like a true sportsman. Seeing a fly or other insect on a twig over the water, the Chætodon quietly approaches and with its nose just above the surface, accurately projects a drop of water at the unsuspecting insect which is thus knocked down from its perch and is quickly snapped up by the fish. The finny archer is highly prized as a household pet by the Japanese, who keep it in bowls and amuse themselves by watching it "shoot" flies held up before it.—Arkansaw Traveler.

Healthfulness of El Paso's Climate.

Another word about the healthfulness of this climate. Dr. Chambers, an eminent English physician, says: "In choosing a home for a consumptive never mind the average height of the thermometer or its variation. Do not trouble yourself about the mean rain-fall. Do not be scientific at all; but find out by somebody's journal how many days we were fine enough to go out forenoon and afternoon." The forenoons and afternoons of El Paso are always inviting.—Cor. Cincinnti Enquirer.

Number of Duels Fought in France.

According to some recently published statistics there have been fought in France since 1870 no less than 847 duels, besides many between officers and private soldiers, which are scarcely ever mentioned in the papers. Out of these 847 duels only nine resulted in one of the parties being disabled. In 98 per cent. of the cases the combatants left the field unscratched.—Paris Letter.

Three Developed "Universal Languages."

Another universal language has been invented. There are now three well-developed systems, "Volupuk," "Pasilingua," and the last, "Nal Bino," and if philologists continue their inventions there will be more trouble in learning all the "universal languages" than in acquiring acquaintance with the languages now existing which do not profess so much.—Chicago Times.

The Subject of Physical Exercise.

On the subject of physical exercise most people are fools. As man without a muscle is as badly off in this rough and tumble world as a man without a brain. Parents take pride in their children when their heads are packed

AROUND HOME.

The large driving pulley at Mason's steam saw and planing mill burst last Friday, but fortunately no one was in the way of the flying pieces. A new pulley of iron will be put in its place. The bursted pulley was four feet in diameter, built of wood, and the flying fragments would have made it warm for an elephant had one been in their path.

The Portsmouth correspondent of the Manchester Union writes that paper that "A leading railroad man connected with the Boston & Maine management, says the north pond will undoubtedly be filled in before five years more have elapsed."

The steamer May Queen, which arrived at this port several weeks ago, and was reported to have been chartered to run between this city and York beach during "the season," was really under charter to George A. Carr of Dover, who will use her this summer for carrying picnic, fishing and other excursion parties, with headquarters at Dover. The steamer has been lying in the lower Cocheco, near the old steam mill, undergoing repainting and being otherwise put in first rate condition. She has been used as an excursion boat on the Merrimac river for a number of years, and will carry about 200 passengers.

The boarding houses at Rye beach will be early filled this season, the engagements being far in advance of any previous year.

A Multitude of Ailments.

The ailments which afflict the kidneys and bladder are so numerous, that merely to name them would fill a space far outrunning the limits of this article. Suffice it to say, that they are both obstinate and dangerous. To their prevention Hostetter's Stomach Bitters' is well adapted. The stimulous which it lends to the action of the kidneys when they are lethargic, serve to counteract a tendency in them to lapse, first, into a state of pernicious inactivity, and afterwards into one of positive organic disease, which soon destroys their delicate integuments, poisons the blood and causes death. A double purpose is served by this depurent. It promotes activity of the kidneys, and expels impurities from the blood which have no natural channel of outlet except those organs. Constipation, billiousness, fever and ague, rheumatism and dyspepsia, are also remedied by this medicine of thorough action and wide scope.

How Often

We see some young man who has squandered his money and ruined his health by excesses, and before thirty years of age is an all broken down and played out man! In all such cases I prescribe nature's tonic and nervine, Sulphur Bitters. They supply food for the brain, strengthen the nerves, and are successful in nine cases out of ten.—Old Physician.

Three Reasons

Why every one needs, and should take Hood's Sarsaparilla in the spring:—

1st: Because the system is now it its greatest need. Hood's Sarsaparilla gives trength.

2d: Because the blood is sluggish and impure. Hood's Sarsaparilla purifies.

3d: Because, from the above facts, Hood's Sarsaparilla will do a greater amount of good now than at any other time. Take it now.

John Gomez, captain of the schooner Springbird, which came into New Bedford a month ago loaded with a crowd of natives of the Cape de Verde islands, was found guilty in the United States court May 26th under three indictments, charging him with various violations of the passenger act, and was sentenced to $1,000 fine and three months in jail.

At the Time

Of the Plantagenets it was the custom for ladies of w[illegible] to distribute alms to the poor, and the title "lady" (Anglo-Saxon) means "giver of bread." Good bread is the staff of life, but for renewing vitality, restoring energy and vigor, nothing excels the pure G. O. Taylor Bourbon and Rye Whiskey, bottled by C. H. Graves & Sons, Boston, and sold by your druggist and grocer, who will praise its excellent qualities.

MEMORIAL DAY.

This is a day when people pause from their pursuits to give a due recognition of the gallant deeds of the heroes of the civil war. On Independence day we cherish and strive to appreciate the boon of our liberty as a free people; on Memorial day we are mindful of the efforts of so many patriotic heroes of our country, living and gone before, to preserve inviolate that glorious union bequeathed us by our fathers! We need not the orator's eloquence or the poet's song to inspire our patriotic emotions. The sight of the boys in blue, who appear with ranks thinned by reason of the final musterout of some of their comrades, the tramp of marching men, the sound of the "spirit-stirring drum," all serve to bring to our grateful recollection the scenes of the war period, to recall the sacrifices of the noble men who left home with its attractions, business with its prospective gains, and the comforts and enjoyments of New England life for experience in camp, fatigue on marches, and the perils of the field. There may be an annual sameness in these observances of the day, the ceremonies and exercises may be perhaps dull and even unprofitable to some of us, but there comes to every loyal man, woman and child in our land the rich appreciation of that patriotic devotion of the boys who march in our streets on this day,—boys, though a quarter of a century has caused bleaching locks and mature countenances to succeed the fresh, jubilant and buoyant elasticity of the young soldiers, who fell in at the word of command and composed a part of that grand army of vigorous, self-sacrificing patriots whose tramp, tramp, tramp was heard all over the land.

Memorial day has its noble purposes and its beneficial results. It serves as an annual reminder of the undischarged obligations of the Nation to these heroes, and the widows of the departed ones. It keeps alive our patriotic devotion and loyalty to our country, and in whatever way it may be observed, whether by the silent tribute of floral decoration at the graves of those who have marched on, or by a suitable recognition of the sacrifices and devotion of the survivors, let us continue as in the past, to cherish this occasion as one on which we can, as a people, as well as individually, acknowledge our obligations to these men who went forth to do battle for the right, at their country's call.

Disaster on Lake Winnipesaukie.

A sad drowning accident occurred at Wolfeboro' last Friday, resulting in the loss of five lives. Rev. T. C. Jerome, pastor of the Congregational church at Wolfeboro' village, in company with his two sons and a daughter, and a young man by the name of Davis, went out on the lake for fishing and pleasure, expecting to return about three o'clock in the afternoon. Not making their appearance at the stated time, the family became somewhat alarmed. A small steamer arrived at four o'clock, and reported seeing a boat bottom side up, drifting in the vicinity of Kenniston's island. Parties immediately went in search, and late in the evening the bodies were recovered. Mr. Jerome was a wealthy gentleman, owning about $250,000 worth of property. He came from New York two years ago. Irene Jerome, the artist and authoress, is a sister of deceased.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral

Should be kept constantly at hand, for use in emergencies of the household. Many a mother, startled in the night by the ominous sounds of Croup, finds the little sufferer, with red and swollen face, gasping for air. In such cases Ayer's Cherry Pectoral is invaluable. Mrs. Emma Gedney, 159 West 128 st., New York, writes: "While in the country, last winter, my little boy, three years old, was taken ill with Croup; it seemed as if he would die from strangulation. Ayer's Cherry Pectoral was tried in small and frequent doses, and, in less than half an hour, the little patient was breathing easily. The doctor said that the Pectoral saved my darling's life." Mrs. Chas. B. Landon, Guilford, Conn., writes: "Ayer's Cherry Pectoral

Saved My Life,

and also the life of my little son. As he is troubled with Croup, I dare not be without this remedy in the house." Mrs. J. Gregg, Lowell, Mass., writes: "My children have repeatedly taken Ayer's Cherry Pectoral for Coughs and Croup. It gives immediate relief, followed by cure." Mrs. Mary E. Evans, Scranton, Pa., writes: "I have two little boys, both of whom have been, from infancy, subject to violent attacks of Croup. About six months ago we began using Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, and it acts like a charm. In a few minutes after the child takes it, he breathes easily and rests well. Every mother ought to know what a blessing I have found in Ayer's Cherry Pectoral." Mrs. Wm. C. Reid, Freehold, N. J., writes: "In our family, Ayer's medicines have been blessings for many years. In cases of Colds and Coughs, we take

and the inconvenience is soon forgotten."

Hon. Wm. E. Chandler will leave Washington this week for the comfortable region of Warner. Previous to his departure he will fire a written broadside into Secretary Whitney relative to the Dolphin, the points of which will be furnished by his client John Roach. The ex-secretary will thereby discover how much more pleasant it is to criticise a cabinet officer than it is to have official acts subject to discussion in the public prints. Mr. Chandler knows all about this fun.

Mr. Edward S. Stuart arrived home from Boston, and Mr. Dujeen L. Berry from Malden, Mass., to pass Memorial day.

Mr. Fred J. Dennett and wife, of Salem, Mass., arrived at Mr. Dennett's former home in this city last week, to remain a few days, after which they will take a trip south for the benefit of Mrs. Dennett's health.

A Great Victory

A Terrible Case of Scrofula Cured by

Hood's Sarsaparilla

"In the winter of 1879 I was attacked with Scrofula in one of the most aggravating forms. At one time I had no less than thirteen large abscesses over and around my neck and throat, continually exuding an offensive mass of bloody matter disgusting to behold, and almost intolerable to endure. It is impossible to fully describe my sufferings, as the case was complicated with Chronic Catarrh. After three years of misery, having been treated by three physicians, I was worse than ever. Finally, on the recommendation of W. J. Huntley, druggist, of Lockport, I was induced to try Hood's Sarsaparilla. And now, after having taken twelve bottles, within the last twelve months, the scrofulous eruptions have entirely ceased, and the abscesses have all disappeared, except the unsightly scars, which are daily becoming smaller by degrees, and beautifully less.' I do not know what it may have done for others, but I do know that in my case, Hood's Sarsaparilla has proved an effective specific indeed. As an evidence of my gratitude I send these facts unsolicited, and I am ready to verify the authenticity of this cure, by personal correspondence with any one who doubts it." CHARLES A. ROBERTS, East Wilson, N. Y.

This statement is confirmed by W. J. Huntley, druggist, of Lockport, N. Y., who calls the cure a great victory for Hood's Sarsaparilla. Send for book giving statements of many cures.

There are in this city and vicinity 284 known graves of deceased soldiers and sailors of the United States service, the numbers in the different cemeteries being as follows: Harmony Grove, 126; Proprietors', fifty-five; Catholic, twenty-six; North, fifteen; Sagamore and Cotton's, nine each; Union, three; Riverside, at Newcastle, five; Tarlton's, at Newcastle, ten; private grounds in this city, Rye, Greenland, Newington, etc., twenty-six.

Persons having flowers to contribute for the decoration of graves to-day are requested to hand them in at the court house as early as practicable this forenoon.

The ladies of the Woman's Relief Corps are requested to assemble at the Soldiers' Memorial during the exercises at the cemetery this afternoon.

CLOSING THE SALOONS.

Mayor Eldredge last week received the following communication from the Woman's Temperance League of this city:

To the Mayor of Portsmouth, N. H.

Dear Sir:—A day having been set apart, by act of congress, to commemorate the soldiers and sailors who died in the war of the rebellion, in view of preserving the day sacred to the memory of our dead brothers, and to have the temptation to strong drink removed from those of our citizens who have not the power to resist for themselves, the Women's Temperance League most earnestly pray that you will order, by virtue of your office, that all places in our city be closed to the sale of alcoholic beverages, on the day set apart for this observance, and that you will take proper measures to see that your order is strictly enforced.

Most respectfully,
Mrs. F. A. PETTIGREW, Pres't W. T. L.
Mrs. L. H. PERKINS, Cor. Sec.
(Por order State W. C. T. U.)

In accordance with the above request, the mayor instructed the city marshal to order all the saloons to be closed to-day.

BASE BALL.

The Portsmouth high school base ball club played a game with the Greenland nine, Saturday afternoon, at Greenland, and won by a score of fifteen to eight. Base hits—Portsmouths six, Greenlands three; errors — Portsmouths thirteen, Greenlands sixteen.

REAL ESTATE SALE.

One undivided half of Marvin's island was sold at auction by J. P. Morse at noon on Saturday, to Thomas Haywood, for $1900. The sale was well attended and the bidding quite spirited.

ACCIDENTS.

Among the bicyclists from this city in attendance on the annual meet of the League of American Wheelmen in Boston last week was Mr. Daniel W. Pickering, who was there Saturday. In returning home, on the train due here at 5:30 o'clock in the evening, when entering the station at Newburyport Mr. Pickering was standing on the platform of a car, and leaning out to look forward his head came in contact with a post, the blow knocking him insensible on the platform. He was taken from the train, but recovered sufficiently to come home on the next one.

Mr. John Parsons of Salem, Mass., employed in running a stationary engine for the pile-driving operations now being carried on at Portsmouth bridge, on Saturday afternoon had his right hand caught between the hoisting rope and drum, and was carried over the drum, striking on his head on the other side, and receiving some bruises, though the principal injury was to the hand, which was badly squeezed and lacerated. The accident was caused by the breaking of a pin, which let the pile-driving hammer down, a man having but a moment before been exactly where it struck. Mr. Parsons went to the hospital in Salem on Saturday evening.

It was reported on Sunday that a Mr. Adams, living on Gosling road, Newington, had one of his feet so badly crushed under a car wheel in Boston on Saturday, that amputation was found necessary on Sunday.

LET'S HAVE A RACE.

It is talk along the water front that Mr. Charles S. Drowne of this city would like to sail his yacht Tryphosa to the Shoals and back against the yacht Dolphin, owned by Mr. William S. Dixon of Kittery, for $50 a side. If a match should be arranged and a good breeze should prevail on the day of sailing, an interesting race would result.

NEWCASTLE AVENUE.

It has been proposed, and we hope it may be carried into effect, to change Newcastle street to Newcastle avenue. There is a reason in words themselves; why the ways into and out of the city should be called avenues. Avenue means an entrance, broad, tree-lined and unpaved; street is a way within the city, paved usually, and leading to other streets.—Penny Post.

Taking the above definition of "avenue" as correct, the only claim of Newcastle street to be called an avenue is that it is unpaved; it does not lead out of the city, is by no means broad, and not particularly straight; and as to being tree-lined, the only trees on its southerly side are a barn about its middle, and the little old one-story house facing the straight (!) part of Water street, and perched up on a bank eight or ten feet above the level of the highway. It is more like a well kept country lane than a city street or avenue, and has but seven or eight houses on it, and they are all on one side, except the little house before mentioned; and it extends from the sharp bend of Water street to South street. The part of Water street from the bend to Newcastle bridge, or to the Newcastle line, might well be called Newcastle avenue, and Newcastle street might be tailed on to it, so that the avenue would end on South street.

No paper will be issued from this office to-morrow.

"Railroad day" to-morrow,—at least, that is the day the meeting was adjourned to.

Italian awnings were put up at each window on the front and west side of the Rockingham house on Saturday.

An advertising sheet called "The Memorial," published by two young men of this city and containing the programme of Memorial day exercises, was being gratuitously distributed on our streets Saturday.

The pastor of the Unitarian church on Sunday morning announced the discontinuance of the vesper service for the summer; also that hereafter only the closing hymn of the morning service will be sung by the congregation.

Mr. Nathaniel D. Miller and wife celebrated their golden wedding on Saturday, May 29th. One of the guests of the occasion was Mr. Moses Yeaton, who with his wife celebrated their golden wedding some time since. Mr. Miller "stood up" with Mr. Yeaton when the latter was married over fifty years ago, and each has attended the other's golden wedding.

Mr. Charles H. Lane, of Christian Shore, died on Saturday of pneumonia, quite suddenly.

The directors of the Granite State Fire Insurance Co. met on Saturday. Wallace Hackett was elected a director, in place of Chas. H. Mendum, resigned. The company has recently established agencies at Cincinnati, St. Louis, Kansas City, etc.

A very great improvement is that now being made on Sagamore road, opposite the cemetery, by widening and grading. A large force of men and teams are employed,—and complaint is made that Mr. Holmes under whose supervision the work is being done, has discharged from employment men residing in this city, and hired workmen from Kittery and Rye.

SKIN TORTURES —AND— BLOOD HUMORS

HUMILIATING Eruptions Itching and Burning Skin Tortures, Loathsome Scurfs, and every species of Itching, Scaly, Pimply, Inherited, Scrofulous and Contagious Diseases of the Blood, Skin and Scalp, with Loss of Hair, from Infancy to old age, are positively cured by CUTICURA, the great Skin Cure, and CUTICURA SOAP, an exquisite Skin Beautifier, externally, and CUTICURA RESOLVENT, the new Blood Purifier, internally.

COVERED WITH SORES.

I have been afflicted since last March with a Skin disease the doctors called Eczema. My face was covered with scabs and sores, and the itching and burning were almost unbearable. Seeing your CUTICURA REMEDIES so highly recommended, concluded to give them a trial, using the CUTICURA and CUTICURA SOAP externally, and RESOLVENT internally, for four months. I call myself cured, in gratitude for which I make this public statement.

MRS. CLARA A. FREDERICK.
BROAD BROOK, CONN.

SCALP, FACE EARS AND NECK.

I was afflicted with Eczema on the Scalp, Face, Ears and Neck, which the druggist, where I got your remedies, pronounced one of the worst cases that had come under his notice. He advised me to try your CUTICURA REMEDIES, and after five days use my scalp and part of my face were entirely cured, and I hope in another week to have my ears, neck, and the other part of my face cured. HERMAN SLADE.

ITCHING DISEASES CURED.

CUTICURA stands at the head of its class, especially is this the case with the CUTICURA SOAP. Having had an unusually good sale this summer, owing to the prevalence of an aggravated form of Itch through some localities in the country, in which the CUTICURA REMEDIES proved satisfactory. W. L. HARDIGG, Druggist.

Constitutional Catarrh.

No single disease has entailed more suffering or hastening the breaking up of the constitution than Catarrh. The sense of smell, of taste, of sight, of hearing, the human voice, the mind,—one or more, and sometimes all, yield to its destructive influence. The poison it distributes throughout the system attacks every vital force, and breaks up the most robust of constitutions. Ignored, because but little understood, by most physicians, impotently assailed by quacks and charlatans, those suffering from it have little hope to be relieved of it this side of the grave. It is time, then, that the popular treatment of this terrible disease by remedies within the reach of all passed into hands at once competent and trustworthy. The new and hitherto untried method adopted by Dr. Sanford in the preparation of his RADICAL CURE has won the hearty approval of thousands. It is instantaneous in affording relief in all head colds, sneezing, snuffing and obstructed breathing, and rapidly removes the most oppressive symptoms, clearing the head, sweetening the breath, restoring the sense of smell and hearing, and neutralizing the constitutional tendency of the disease towards the lungs, liver and kidneys.

like a pawnbroker's shop with all sorts of odds and ends of information, but they do too little to encourage the symmetrical development of their bodies. They forget that robust health constitutes about three-quarters of the problem of human happiness, and that it is criminal neglect of the boy and girl to keep them at their books until they lose all appetite for out of door sports.

Half the men in the world are broken down with dyspepsia and the other half are broken up with rheumatism. The women, who are not supposed to have any muscles, indulge in the luxuries of sick headache and neuralgia. A half hour's vigorous exercise in the morning before the business of the day begins, a brisk walk of a dozen miles, would sweeten the temper and make life worth living. Such is our physical condition, however, that if you should turn the gentlemen of Wall street into a gymnasium for an hour's torture with the parallel bars and fifty pound dumb bells and the inspiring trapeze, you would have to pick them up from the floor like chestnuts under a tree after a gale of wind. Our clerks, and their employers also, after a three hours' trot on a hard road, with a leap here and there over fence or ditch, would have to be brought home in furniture wagons and a large proportion of them deposited at the undertaker's. We have not yet learned the secret of right living. No man lives well who does not spend hours every day out of doors. We are asthmatic, rheumatic, spleeny and hard to get along with at home because we believe in brains and not in bodies.—New York Herald.

Stamps and Stamped Envelopes.

Since the government began in 1851 to sell stamped envelopes there has been a steady increase in the amount required each year, until the government has for several years been selling more envelopes than all other producers combined. Last year 279,000,000 stamped envelopes, worth $5,778,000, were sold. With every letting the size of the contract increases and the price of envelopes is reduced. Envelopes which in 1859 cost $4.80 per 1,000 can now be sold for $1.80 per 1,000, and the extra letter size that then cost $6, are now sold for $2.40.

The proposals this year provide for a greater variety of paper and a number of new grades. It was found that people preferred to buy the best quality of envelopes rather than the medium sorts, while no cheap grade was provided. This time a plain ungummed manilla envelope has been called for which can be sold for 40 cents per 1,000. This will meet the demand of circular advertisers, which is a large one, monopolized hitherto by private dealers. Two sizes called baronial, about 3 by 4 inches, have been inserted for the benefit of the ladies who like to use fancy note papers. The size most used is the plain white or amber known as No. 5, 3 1-2 by 6 5-16 inches. Of this, for the year ending March 31, 130,475,000 were required, more than twice as many as any other kind used.—Washington Letter.

HEALTH AND STRENGTH REGAINED.

AND DEBILITATED MEN seeking Health, Strength and Energy, should avoid Old Drugs, Secret Medicines, etc., and send for "The Review," or "Health and Strength Regained," a large illustrated Journal published entirely for their benefit.

It treats on health hygiene, physical culture, and medical subjects, and is a complete encyclopedia of information for suffering humanity afflicted with lung standing, chronic, nervous, exhausting and painful diseases.

YOUNG AND MIDDLE AGED MEN, and others who suffer from nervous and physical debility, exhausted vitality, premature decline, etc., are especially benefitted by consulting its contents. Everything such sufferers wish to know is fully given in its pages. If in need of medical aid or counsel, read it before "doctoring" or investing in medicines or appliances of any description, and you will save time, money and disappointment. If satisfied of medicine or medical treatment of any kind, read it and learn the better way.

THE REVIEW exposes the frauds practised by quacks and medical imposters who profess to "practice medicine," and points out the only safe, simple and effective road to health, vigor and bodily energy.

Electric Belts and all curative appliances are treated upon; all about them—which are genuine, which are bogus. Belts on thirty days' trial (?) and other fallacies reviewed. Thousands of dollars saved nervous-debility sufferers and others by the advice given. THE REVIEW is now in its ninth year of publication. Complete specimen copies mailed free.

SAMUEL W. EMERY
ATTORNEY AT LAW AND SOLICITOR OF PATENTS.
—OFFICE, MARKET SQUARE,—
PORTSMOUTH, N. H.

The democrats of York are so indignant over a recent appointment made for an office which belongs to that town, that at a caucus called for Saturday last, to choose delegates to the Maine democratic state convention, not enough for a corporal's guard were present, although due notice was given. The town committee consists of nine members, and only one of them, and one other citizen, appeared,—making a total of two! Selah. AGITATOR.

The caucus of the Kittery democrats was held at the point on Friday evening. The last previous caucus, when candidates for town officers were nominated, was controlled by the mugwump (or Stimson) wing of the party; but the late one was composed almost wholly of stalwarts, and delegates to the democratic state convention were selected as follows: Josiah G. Stover, Frank Clarkson and Edwin C. Nealley.

A large white oak tree near Sturgeon creek, Eliot, was sold to John Rogers by S. C. Nason about two years ago, with the proviso that it should be dug up by the roots, for the knees. Operations were immediately commenced for its removal, and since then it has been sold three times, yet in spite of all the excavations it still persists in keeping green. The neighbors call it the witch.

A Multitude of Ailments.

The ailments which afflict the kidneys and bladder are so numerous, that merely to name them would fill a space far outrunning the limits of this article. Suffice it to say, that they are both obstinate and dangerous. To their prevention Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is well adapted. The stimulous which it lends to the action of the kidneys when they are lethargic, serve to counteract a tendency in them to lapse, first, into a state of pernicious inactivity, and afterwards into one of positive organic disease, which soon destroys their delicate integuments, poisons the blood and causes death. A double purpose is served by this depurent. It promotes activity of the kidneys, and expels impurities from the blood which have no natural channel of outlet except those organs. Constipation, billiousness, fever and ague, rheumatism and dyspepsia, are also remedied by this medicine of thorough action and wide scope.

The graduating exercises of the Tilden seminary class of '86 will take place June 13th, 15th and 16th, at the seminary buildings in West Lebanon.

How Often

We see some young man who has squandered his money and ruined his health by excesses, and before thirty years of age is an all broken down and played out man! In all such cases I prescribe nature's tonic and nervine, Sulphur Bitters. They supply food for the brain, strengthen the nerves, and are successful in nine cases out of ten.—Old Physician.

The funeral of the five victims of the drowning accident near Wolfeboro' last week, took place Sunday from the Congregational church in that town.

There is no one article in the line of medicines that gives so large a return for the money as a good porous strengthening plaster, such as Carter's Smart Weed and Belladonna Backache Plasters.

William B. T. Smith, rector of St. James' church at Keene, has tendered his resignation, to take effect at once.

THE WRONG WAY TO GO UP STAIRS.

Going up stairs on one's hands and knees is a method of ascent not uncommonly seen among infants who are just learning the mysteries and perplexities of ambulation, but fortunately it is seldom that those of mature years have to resort to such means of progress. Mrs. J. C. Chapman, a well known resident of Mansfield, Mass., says that she once tried it and failed, and that others may be deterred from a similar experience it is perhaps worth while to give her experience. Mrs. Chapman now walks as upright as any one, and gives this account of her attempt:

"I was perfectly helpless with an attack of acute rheumatism, and was all doubled up. I could not sit upright even long enough to eat a meal. I tried once to get up stairs on my hands and knees, but failed. After taking everything recommended by my friends, and not getting the least benefit from anything, I despaired of ever getting around again. I had lost all hope of being cured when, like a ray of light, Athlophoros was recommended to me by a friend who had used it with entire success. I took it and have never been troubled with rheumatism since, now three years. I can cheerfully recommend Athlophoros to any body suffering with rheumatism, for I know from experience that it will make a complete and permanent cure."

From J. A. Crane & Co., prominent druggists of Orange, Mass., comes this statement of a case that came under their observation:

"Mr. Shubel Briggs, of this place, has bought Athlophoros of us. He stated to us to-day that his wife before taking it could not move herself in bed, as she was suffering from a severe attack of rheumatism. After taking a few doses of Athlophoros she could move easily, and before two bottles were finished she had recovered completely and has not been troubled since. Mr. Briggs himself, who was troubled with stiffness in the joints, used some of the Athlophoros and experienced decided relief."

Charles H. Minchew, of Taunton, tells this story of his wife's cure, which was not unlike that of Mrs. Briggs:

"My wife had been afflicted with rheumatism for some time, and I employed a doctor who failed to do her any good. I happened to see Athlophoros advertised and concluded to get and try it. It worked like a charm, curing my wife completely, and I cannot speak too highly of it."

Mr. George H. Surgens is foreman of the cloth room of the Flint mill, Flint Village, Fall River, Mass. He lives at No. 140 County Street, Fall River. Of his wife's case he says:

"My wife was treated by four different doctors for a severe case of neuralgia of six years' standing. Her sufferings were terrible and the physicians could not allay them, though using the most powerful medicines all the time. As she was getting worse and worse I bought a bottle of Athlophoros, and that brought the first and only relief my wife had. Now she can attend to her household affairs and other duties as though she had never experienced the tortures of that dreadful disease, neuralgia. When Athlophoros can be had at the nearest drug store nobody should suffer from neuralgia or rheumatism."

If you cannot get ATHLOPHOROS of your druggist, we will send it express paid, on receipt of regular price—one dollar per bottle. We prefer that you buy it from your druggist, but if he hasn't it, do not be persuaded to try something else, but order at once from us, as directed. ATHLOPHOROS CO., 112 Wall Street, New York.

Memorial Address

Delivered in Music Hall on Monday Evening, May 31st, 1886, by John Albee, Esq.

VETERANS OF THE GRAND ARMY OF THE REPUBLIC, LADIES AND GENTLEMEN:

We have now paid the honor, due to the memories of those men, who went forth from us to serve their country. Some of them died on the field of battle; some returned to us, wounded and diseased, to die in the arms of their friends.

We have observed the yearly obsequies over their dust; we have decorated their graves with flowers and flags, and are assembled here to give to them the final tribute of music and of speech.

But better than either these, and more than all the ceremonials of the day, is your presence in such numbers, to testify your interest and your respect for the dead who died for their country; who sacrificed their lives in maintaining its integrity; who washed out with their blood the black blot of slavery.

Your presence is the best speech; and mine, therefore, may be brief and simple. After twenty years, the painful memories of the war have become nearly obliterated. Grief has grown calm, and a just pride for those who were lost, has taken its place. Soldiers' widows are married again; soldiers' children are the young men and women of the present generation. Everybody is pensioned, or is about to be. The dollar will now buy as many of the necessaries of life as before the war, and in some articles more. But it will not buy as much labor. There is peace throughout the land; broken only by the discontent of men employed in large numbers in similar occupations. There is good will, and more and more real union and intercourse between North and South, undisturbed in their growth, save when Jefferson Davis forgets that he is a dead man, and that it is now 1886, and not 1862. Cotton is no longer king; the negro is not a piece of property; the white American is no more a thief, nor the accomplice of thieves. We were arrested in our crime; we paid a moral as well as pecuniary penalty; we suffered, and at length we are liberated and healed.

All this is now a well-worn story. The young men who were actors in the story are now veterans; and their children and grandchildren are learning their deeds as lessons in American history at school. We who participated in the war, either in the field or at home, seem to ourselves older than we are, because we lived through that eventful time. Our friends and contemporaries are fewer than they should be. The ranks of the generation of 1860 were thinned early and untimely. We cannot forget what we then lost; and sometimes there is a feeling that we have no right to be alive—that it is shameful not to have died with our comrades. When we remember the campaigns and the battles of four years of struggle, its mortifications and disappointments, its defeats and its victories, there is, for those who were actors and witnesses, and who still live, something more of sadness than of joy in this day which we devote to memory. For in those years no one escaped untouched; and there are deep scars yet visible on many now living, who never heard the sound of cannon or rifle, but were struck. Therefore, I entreat of you, men of this Grand Army Post, to be careful not to speak always, of those who did not go to the war, with contempt and derision. Circumstances compelled some to remain at home who would rather have enlisted; circumstances also compelled others to go to the war who would rather have remained at home. We judge patriotism as often by the event, as by the motive. No questions are asked, there are no doubts or suspicions, when a man is seen marching to battle in front of an enemy. He is a hero, if he lives; and if he falls, then death pays all debts. Large bounties were a temptation to some; to others fame and power were noble incentives. Cowardice, either moral or physical, was rare. The English race dislikes a military life in peaceful times, but is fond of active soldiering, and has great resources for it; resources which have their foundation in education and intelligence. In action such men are independent fighters, and do not have to be commanded so much, can be trusted more. The private soldier in the ranks was an ununiformed officer; he was capable of following and obeying so well, because he was also competent for command. He could take responsibilities. He knew what orders meant; in short, he knew for what he was fighting. The cause was his own; it was not like that of most later European wars, whose causes have been affairs of policy, and whose direful consequences alone, have been known and shared by soldier and people.

When, therefore, our friends, whose memories we revere and to whom we have consecrated this day, lost their lives, it was not a useless sacrifice. Every dead soldier brought us nearer to the end for which we were battling. His spirit entered into some fresh volunteer, and the purpose lived on; however defeated and delayed, the ideas that made the civil war were victorious, and come out of every particular battle and campaign, month by month, year by year, more and more clearly. The ideas of Freedom, and Union, for Freedom's sake, could not be vanquished. For God, and all the spiritual powers which prevail unseen, in the affairs of men, were on that side. Defeat is only one of the methods, the necessary law of final and perfect success. And—

—"freedom's battle, once begun,
Bequeathed by bleeding sire to son,
Though baffled oft, is ever won."

I believe not in numbers, nor in money, nor provisions, in the day of battle; although it is said we conquered the South because we were stronger in these things than they. Then how did we win in the Revolution of 1776? In my opinion the South had just as much manhoodness, valor and devotion as the North. They had as able officers; and they never could have been permanently conquered, had their cause been good. Various worldly-wise sayings are often quoted in support of the view that not moral but material superiority is the secret of successful war. Napoleon said that he always observed that Providence was on the side of the strongest battalions. But what makes the strongest battalions? Providence! He has appeared in all ages, under many names and disguises, the champion of the better cause; as Jehovah in Judea, as Apollo in Greece, as Mars in Italy, as Thor and Odin in the North. And never were any people condending for their freedom, for a noble idea, but the gods appeared to be taking their part in person; or lending the forces of nature, making the sun stand still upon Gibeon and the moon in the valley of Ajalon. And it is one and the same means which, at the same moment, helps one side and hinders the other.

No; numbers and material resources do not, in truth prevail in war, else the world long since would have been in the grasp of tyrants. Nor do they, in truth, prevail at last, in any mortal affairs, else it would be the devil's world. The odds are always at first against freedom, justice and right. Therefore the immense sacrifices demanded and never withheld. "I offer you," said Garibaldi to those who came to join his little band in the beginning of the contest which finally freed Italy from Bourbon thraldom, "I offer you hunger, wounds, death; let him who chooses these, follow me." The spirit of self-sacrifice is the real sinews of war, and not money. This is why we honor on this day the memory of the humble, common soldier, who performed no conspicuous deed, who simply fell in his place; the ranks closed up; he was buried, perchance by friends, perchance by enemies, and the earth alone knows his unremembered grave.

"His country claimed his life—
His life he gave."

And as the American soldier knows for what he is fighting, so he is conscious for what he dies. It consecrates the last moment; it mitigates the grief of those to whom he was dear, with honorable pride.

Behind self-sacrifice is always some idea. But only a few men and women are capable of the first conception of ideas. Although the Rebellion had been long preparing, not many anticipated what was to happen. Lincoln and Seward were the only public men whose voices had been prophetic; and by a remarkable coincidence of events, they both become the chief actors in the fulfilment of their prophecies, and one was destined to be the chief victim. The belief in open conflict was not allowed to be entertained. Even when it began, we only fought because we were attacked. It was two years before we fairly realized the situation, and assumed an aggressive attitude. Meanwhile the two principles which divided the North and South became more and more distinct, allowing men of ordinary perceptions to comprehend them and to choose between them. But a free people is always so slow to come to its consciousness; and the wars of freedom, of independence, of ideas, are always a long time gathering, and continue never for a short period, and often for many years; sometimes, as in Greece, France, the Low Countries and England, from generation to generation. They begin feebly, almost hopelessly; but grow as much by defeat as victory.

Thus it happened in the late war. Slowly, yet steadily, the principles and ideas involved on either side came into clearer light; they become simplified, so that right and wrong could not be confused any more, and from that moment the cause of the seceding States was doomed, the Union triumphant. Meanwhile we had to go on killing and being killed, in order to put the conclusion forever beyond dispute. In the process greater issues were evolved than had been dreamed of; first, it was seen that by their open or secret sympathy with the South, some powerful foreign nations, and especially our own kinspeople, the English, utterly misunderstood the civil institutions of the United States. They were very ignorant, or very hostile. In either case there was a constant, though probably remote danger. The war opened their understanding as a century of peace could not have done; and it made them respect us, which among nations, is the same as fear.—Thus we were strengthened abroad as well as at home.

The second uncalculated effect of the war was the Proclamation of Emancipation; the greatest, most momentous single act of the age. For by it not only were four millions of actual chattel slaves made free, but thirty millions of people, the whole North and South, walked upright that day.

The war delivered the South from its own Nemesis; it showed to Europe who and what we are; it tested our institutions and our resources, and renewed our faith in them.

The South has, for the most part, abandoned forever the cause for which it contended and suffered so heavily. It cannot, it is not in human nature, that it should reject its leaders in the Rebellion. But time will reject them; and history will relate with an iron, unadorned pen, by what sophistries they led astray a noble army of their fellow citizens.

On this day of mingled sorrow and gladness, we cherish no sentiment but that of magnanimous regard for our Southern kinsmen. They lost everything but their dead; and these, at the close of the war, exceeded, as to young and middle-aged men, the number of the living. All the southern boys I knew at Worcester, at Andover and Exeter; all the young men at Cambridge and New Haven, from 1850 to 1860, were, with a single exception, killed in battle. With greater truth than that of Pericles over the young men who fell at Marathon, might the South mournfully complain that the year had lost its spring. So while they decorate the graves of their fallen in the same manner that we do, we can have nothing but heart-felt sympathy for the tender rite, which is like our own in its intention, to remember their dead; and in that act, in that hour, we obliterate animosities; we decree an armistice which the custom itself will help to render perpetual.

"Sleep sweetly in your humble graves,— Sleep, martyrs of a fallen cause!"

* * * * * * * * * * * *

Stoop, angels, hither from the skies!
There is no holier spot of ground
Than where defeated valor lies,
By mourning beauty crowned!"

There is more of melancholy in their celebration, more of exultation in ours.

For many years past my daily walk has taken me by the graves of three soldiers, side by side and unmarked save by the three little flags planted on each return of this day. For a week and not more, the miniature stars and stripes keep their gay color. Then the sun begins to subdue, the rain to bleach; autumn finds them white and changes them to its own brown. Storm and winter wind tear them; the snow buries them. In spring a few shreds and tattered strings flutter at the tops of the little sticks; and yesterday they were still there. Not without solemn and tender thoughts does the wayfarer behold them following and symbolising all the natural changes of the year. It is the soldier's year; into the spring he lives again; he arises at the sound of your drums; he shoulders his arms; he marches forth; he fights, he conquers, but he dies. Again with tears we sing his requiem; again with joy we remember his valor, his victory, his brave young life, his glorious death.

Will it be so for a hundred, for a thousand years more? We know not; we cannot tell what changes, what manner of men will come after we ourselves shall sleep by the side of our defenders and our saviors. But let us leave some more enduring memorial than flowers and flags and ceremonials; so that if these should become neglected and unobserved there will remain an imperishable token of our sentiment and our gratitude.

The monument must be built! It must be built, not only for the dead soldier's sake, but our own honor. And as it will be a sign by which after ages will determine in some measure what manner of men and women once inhabited this city, let it be a work of art, although the design should cost as much as the casting and construction. And let the situation be chosen solely with reference to a beautiful and impressive effect. Then will the dead be doubly honored, and secure that most enduring of all immortalities, the consecration of the artist's mind and hand. Thus shall we also be remembered with our heroes, and it shall be said that we were worthy to have had heroes, since we know how fitly to commemorate their deeds.

Once more let us salute their graves, and say farewell until spring returns again. Then if we go forward in our project with good will and harmonius action, we shall gather all their memories, all their now scattered sepulchers into one place, and dedicate a monument to their everlasting and well-earned fame. They have deserved it, they expect it; and here we promise it to them. To you as well, yet living veterans of the Union Army, it is due that we should show, by this testimonial to your fallen brothers in arms, what sentiment we feel for your patriotic services and unselfish devotion. It will sometime be your monument also. But in behalf of this audience, and all your fellow citizens I salute you, and wish that day far distant, and that your lives may pass on in peace, in comfort and happiness, surrounded by friends, and cheered by the benedictions of a grateful country.

Steamship Missing.

A despatch of May 31st, from St. John's, Newfoundland, reported much anxiety prevailing there in regard to the Allan line steamship Siberian, then six days overdue from Halifax. The fog has been very dense and icebergs numerous on the Newfoundland coast for several weeks.

A coasting schooner from the northward arrived at St. John's on the evening of May 30th, and reported having seen a large three-masted steamer off Torbay, nine miles east of St. John's. The Hercules, a powerful steam screw tug, was immediately despatch to her aid, but the ship proved to be the war ship Emerald, bound for St. John's on fishery protection service, waiting for the fog to lift to enter port. The Emerald arrived next morning. The Siberian was due at ten o'clock Wednesday morning, May 26th, and during the interval four steamships, including the Emerald, fifteen foreign sailing ships, and numberless local coasting crafts arrived safely. Tugboats were engaged on the 30th and 31st zigzagging the coast in vain quest of the missing steamship.

The Boston & Maine railroad management is thoroughly alive to the interests of the travelling public, and bound to furnish its patrons with the best the market affords in the way of equipment and rolling stock. The company, in order to more fully accommodate the summer travel, has just built at the shops in Lawrence, Mass., two elegant dining-room cars. The first of these, "No. 362," made its trial trip last Friday afternoon, General Passenger Agent Flanders, Assistant Passenger Agent Lord and Travelling Agent Goumslay taking a party of newspaper men out to Medford from Boston, and back. The car proved to be in every respect a perfect success. It is of regulation length, sixty feet, mounted on the latest improved trucks, and externally is a beauty, being painted a rich cherry color. The interior is of light mahogany, with ceilings of bird's-eye maple. The carving is simple and chaste, and the arrangements for comfort and ease are perfect. The windows are alternately broad and narrow, a unique design producing a pleasing effect. The main saloon contains twenty-six richly upholstered drawing-room chairs. The floor is covered with a rich Wilton carpet. Smokers will be delighted with a cosy little room at the end which is provided with all the little contrivances which they so dearly prize. "No. 362" will run this summer on one of the regular through Portland trains on the Western division. Its companion will probably run on the Eastern division of the road. These two cars are models of the car-builder's art, and reflect credit alike upon the builders and the company.

In addition to $100,000 already voted this session for the protection of Canadian fisheries against the intrusion of American fishermen, the government asked parliament to make a further grant of $50,000, to enable them to make the service more effective.

COMPLIMENTARY.

The Boston Commercial Age of recent date contains the following complimentary notice of two former residents of this city, now doing business in Boston:

This firm, which consists of Messrs. Henry T. Hutchings and Waterman K. Prior, has been established at City Point, South Boston, for the past eleven years as boat and yacht builders and repairers, and during that time they have completed and launched many good boats and yachts. They are prepared to build anything from a ship to a dory to order, promptly and efficiently. Both members of the firm are thoroughly practical men, and assisted by a large staff of competent workmen they execute some of the finest boat building in the state. They have also a fleet of about twenty to thirty row and sailing boats, including the "M. L. I.," the fastest boat of the sort in this state for hire, and we are glad to say that all the boats which they let are sound, in perfect order and trustworthy in every way. They are also prepared to provide an experienced boatman to take charge of any parties unable to navigate the boats themselves. We are glad to find that Messrs. Hutchings & Prior are already very busy, and from the opening so far they anticipate a good season, not only for the ship builder's trade, but also as regards the visitors to City Point. Messrs. Hutchings & Prior's wharf is situated at the back of the Sea-Side house, and we would also add that on this wharf they can store quite a number of boats for the winter, so that any of our readers who prefer to purchase their own boats can do so and at the end of the season store them here with perfect safety, and every boatman well knows the advantages of this arrangement.

At Woodbridge, Conn., May 28th, Harry Elliot, twenty years old, teacher of the district school, was attacked at the door of the schoolhouse after the close of the session, by a school boy named Charles Bailey, seventeen years old, and an unknown companion, both being masked and armed. Elliot succeeded in freeing himself from his assailants, and snatching up a club which was at hand smashed Bailey's skull, from which he died. Bailey's companion covered the teacher with a revolver, and escaped. Bailey had repeatedly made trouble in the school.

The democrats of Congressman Bynum's district in Indiana have split, one faction renominating Bynum, and the other putting up State Senator Bailey. The split is the outcome of the Hendricks-Bynum post-office fight, which resulted in the chose of Aquilla Jones for postmaster.

The election at Richmond, Va., resulted in the defeat of the regular democratic nominees.

Ayer's
Cherry Pectoral

Should be kept constantly at hand, for use in emergencies of the household. Many a mother, startled in the night by the ominous sounds of Croup, finds the little sufferer, with red and swollen face, gasping for air. In such cases Ayer's Cherry Pectoral is invaluable. Mrs. Emma Gedney, 159 West 128 st., New York, writes: "While in the country, last winter, my little boy, three years old, was taken ill with Croup; it seemed as if he would die from strangulation. Ayer's Cherry Pectoral was tried in small and frequent doses, and, in less than half an hour, the little patient was breathing easily. The doctor said that the Pectoral saved my darling's life." Mrs. Chas. R. Landon, Guilford, Conn., writes: "Ayer's Cherry Pectoral

Saved My Life,

and also the life of my little son. As he is troubled with Croup, I dare not be without this remedy in the house." Mrs. J. Gregg, Lowell, Mass., writes: "My children have repeatedly taken Ayer's Cherry Pectoral for Coughs and Croup. It gives immediate relief, followed by cure." Mrs. Mary E. Evans, Scranton, Pa., writes: "I have two little boys, both of whom have been, from infancy, subject to violent attacks of Croup. About six months ago we began using Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, and it acts like a charm. In a few minutes after the child takes it, he breathes easily and rests well. Every mother ought to know what a blessing I have found in Ayer's Cherry Pectoral." Mrs. Wm. C. Reid, Freehold, N. J., writes: "In our family, Ayer's medicines have been blessings for many years. In cases of Colds and Coughs, we take

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral,

and the inconvenience is soon forgotten."

Rheumatism

It is an established fact that Hood's Sarsaparilla has proven an invaluable remedy in many severe cases of rheumatism, effecting remarkable cures by its powerful action in correcting the acidity of the blood, which is the cause of the disease, and purifying and enriching the vital fluid.

It is certainly fair to assume that what Hood's Sarsaparilla has done for others it will do for you. Therefore, if you suffer the pains and aches of rheumatism, give this potent remedy a fair trial.

A Positive Cure.

"I was troubled very much with rheumatism in my hips, ankles, and wrists. I could hardly walk, and was confined to my bed a good deal of the time. Being recommended to try Hood's Sarsaparilla, I took four bottles and am perfectly well. I cheerfully recommend Hood's Sarsaparilla as one of the best blood purifiers in the world." W. F. WOOD, Bloomington, Ill.

For Twenty Years

I have been afflicted with rheumatism. Before 1883 I found no relief, but grew worse. I then began taking Hood's Sarsaparilla, and it did me more good than all the other medicine I ever had." H. T. BALCOM, Shirley, Mass.

"I suffered from what the doctors called muscular rheumatism. I took Hood's Sarsaparilla and am entirely cured." J. V. A. PROUDFOOT, letter carrier, Chicago, Ill.

We shall be glad to send, free of charge, to all who may desire, a book containing many additional statements of cures by

GUARANTEE FARM LOANS IN NEBRASKA.

These Loans are Made and Guaranteed by the OMAHA LOAN AND TRUST CO., which has an authorized Capital of $1,000,000, and a Subscribed and Guarantee Capital of $500,000. The Constitution of Nebraska provides that the Stockholders are personally liable to the full extent of the Stock subscribed, and that in no case shall the indebtedness of the Company exceed two-thirds of the Capital Stock. When it is taken into consideration that the Stockholders consist of twenty-five of the most celebrated capitalists and foremost financial men of the Country — consisting in part of such men as Hon. Fred'k L. Ames of Boston, G. G. Williams, Pres't of the Chemical Nat. Bank, New York City, and W. J. Quinlan, Cashier of the above-named Bank, with Hon. A. U. Wyman, late Treasurer of the United States, as Pres't of the Co., it will occur to the most conservative investor that he can here invest his money and be absolutely as sure of both Principal and Interest being paid, and as promptly, as if he owned Government Bonds. The above-named Loans are in sums of from $300 to $5,000.

THE MEMORIAL EXERCISES

Were carried out in accordance with the published programme, with some slight variations in detail. The day was all that could be asked, and many visitors from neighboring towns were in the city. The evening exercises in Music hall were appropriate and pleasing, and largely attended; the address of Mr. John Albee, of judicious length, terse in style, and patriotic and generous in sentiment, we are by the courtesy of the Penny Post enable to give in full to our readers, on another page.

DISCONTINUED.

In consequence of the pump on Miller avenue having been a second time this season tampered with and a part of it stolen, the public drinking facilities hitherto maintained there, for man and beast, are discontinued.

EASTERN RAILROAD MEETING.

About twenty-five stockholders of the Eastern railroad met in Boston on the 1st inst., by adjournment, and elected Arthur Sewall of Bath, Me., and Joseph H. Gray and Jarvis D. Braman of Boston, directors for the current year.

THE SOLDIERS' MONUMENT.

"The Memorial," a well printed sheet of which several thousand copies were distributed about town on Monday, advocates, instead of a Soldiers' monument at this late day, a "Home for Soldiers" who have suffered from wounds, etc. This in connection with a hospital would be a noble tribute to our soldiers as well as a monument of practical utility. It is true that monuments of the proposed kind are now succeeded by arches, of which several splendid specimens have of late delighted the inhabitants of some of our cities. If we cannot have a "Home" let us have an arch at the entrance of the South cemetery or upon some prominent avenue. It is better than expending a large sum for the purchase of a site for a monument. But the "Home" is the project which commends itself to the practical philanthropist.

BASE BALL.

The Riverside base ball club of this city went to South Newmarket on Monday, and played a game with the South Newmarket club; the local nine was the best that could be raised in the town, but the Riversides won by a score of ten to eight. The Portsmouth club looked first-rate in their new uniform, this being the first time they had worn it at a game. Umpire, Murphy of South Newmarket. Time of game, two hours and a quarter.

A game of base ball at Rochester on Monday, between the Rochester club and the Red Stockings of this city, was won by the Rochesters, the score being eleven to one. The Portsmouth boys claim that there were some very rank decisions given against them by the umpire. The Rochesters will play a return game at the Plains in about two weeks.

ACCIDENTS.

Monday afternoon, just as the procession was forming, a horse attached to a double seated carriage standing on State street, in front of the post-office, took fright at the band, and ran with the carriage upon one of the granite curbed mounds, where he was stopped by a bystander. Considering the throng of spectators it was almost miraculous that no person was hurt. Neither the horse, carriage or occupants were injured.

Between four and five o'clock Monday afternoon, Mr. Justin V. Hanscom and wife were sitting in their carriage on Richards avenue, waiting for the procession to emerge from the cemetery, when a saddle horse which was being ridden at high speed by a boy ran into the rear of the carriage, overturning it and throwing out both the occupants, Mrs. Hanscom being severely bruised and very badly jarred, though no bones were broken; Mr. Hanscom was unhurt. The horse attached to the carriage cleared himself and ran away, but was caught just as he was dashing into the cemetery by Mr. Charles H. Foote, one of the city teamsters, who thus at no little danger to himself prevented the frightened animal from plunging through a throng of women and children. The horse which struck the carriage belonged to Stoddard's stable, and had its chest badly bruised and cut, probably by striking a wheel; the boy who was riding the horse was not hurt.

HAMPTON JOTTINGS.

HAMPTON, May 31st.

Rev. Edward A. Rand, formerly of South Boston, delivered the Memorial day oration this afternoon; music by the Hampton Falls brass band.

Rev. J. B. Merrill, pastor of the Freewill Baptist church, baptized twenty-one persons, including his wife and two daughters, in the ocean at North beach last Sabbath, in the presence of a large crowd of people.

Rev. W. W. Fay, pastor of the Congregational church, has moved into the residence of Mrs. James, lately occupied by Mr. Green, who has removed to his seaside cottage. The Congregational parsonage is leased to Mr. Pray, for many years proprietor of the Boston hotel at Boston.

Rev. H. B. Copp, pastor of the Methodist church, delivered an eloquent discourse on Sunday before the Grand Army post.

Mrs. Bryart is opening an inviting refectory near the depot.

Rev. Dr. DeLancey is able to walk out of doors on pleasant mornings, after many weeks of illness. **

In the superior criminal court at Boston last week, the counsel for Mrs. Mary E. Green, on trial on the charge of embezzlement and larceny from her father and mother, Michael and Mary Cunningham, formerly of Portsmouth, had a long consultation with Judge Blodgett and Assistant District Attorney Adams, the result of which was that Mrs. Green took her place behind the bar, and pleaded guilty to the third and fourth counts of the indictment, which charged the larceny of $140 and $550 by the defendant. Judge Blodgett, in taking the case from the jury, said that the evidence in the case showed that the prisoner was guilty of larceny if guilty of anything, and he had therefore consented to the acceptance of the plea as stated. Sentence was deferred, and Mrs. Green left the court room with her counsel. Her husband, who had been present every previous day of the trial, was not present at the close.

The regular monthly test of the fire alarm apparatus was made on Tuesday afternoon, one blow from each box being struck.

Col. J. Horace Kent has presented Storer Post, G. A. R., with a likeness of Gen. John B. Murray, the founder of the Grand Army.

The loam removed from Sagamore road in the course of the improvements now being made there, being unfit for use in road building, is being utilized to fill in the unsightly old gravel pit near the Proprietors' cemetery, which is to be graded up to the level of the adjacent street, as far as the material available will permit.

One of the handsomest of the many beautiful monuments in the south cemetery is the one recently placed in the lot of the late Joseph K. Dupray. The monument was imported from Aberdeen, Scotland, by Hon. John S. Treat, and is of Scotch granite, mounted on a base of Quincy granite, on which the moulded plinth rests, with "Dupray" in raised, polished letters on the front. On this rests the main part, or die, twenty inches square and three feet six inches in height; this is polished on the four sides, and has a chased edge of one inch, making the polished surface look like a panel. The whole is finished with a handsome gothic cap.

Capt. Robinson, who is to command the steamer Appledore this season, has arrived in town, and commenced the work of fitting the steamer for the summer business.

The vessels comprising the "brick fleet" have not been hurried of late, because there has not been a superabundance of bricks at the upper Piscataqua yards. The master brickmakers are said to have been slow in the preparation of their kilns, because of the suspension of building operations in consequence of the strikes.

The schooners Willow Harp and John Bracewell, both from Weehawken with coal to O. F. Philbrick & Co., made remarkably good trips. The Willow Harp hauled in at Weehawken to load on May 26th, sailed that night, and arrived at Philbrick's wharf at noon on the 30th, without taking the services of either pilot or tow-boat. The John Bracewell loaded on May 27th, and arrived at Philbrick's wharf on the morning of June 1st.

The schooner Emily A. Staples, Captain Samuel Goodwin, is on the railway at Kittery. It is reported that she will be recaulked from her garboard strakes to her waterways, and also her deck.

Capt. Ed. Jameson, of Commercial wharf, is now giving steady employment to a half-dozen shore-boat fishermen.

Mr. Elvin Newton was on Tuesday getting ready to start on Wednesday from Commercial wharf for Lunging island, Isles of Shoals, per schooner Golden Gate, with his crew, barrels, salt and fishing gear, to prosecute the summer fishery there until October.

Capt. Zach Randall, who lives near the banks of the Piscataqua at Newcastle, reports that Mrs. Randall rushed up stairs a few days since and announced the cellar to be full of snakes. Upon going down to investigate matters he found the intruders to be only a large colony of eels, which had crawled up into the drain of the house last fall, and were just putting in an appearance. Capt. Zach further reports that he this week saw the veritable sea serpent in the lower harbor—the genuine article, no sham. The city trout-angler is not the only fisherman who is possessed of a vivid imagination.

The Dover board of trade has been wrestling with the conundrum "What makes lobsters turn red when they are boiled?" Let the B. of T. await the return of Col. Jim Christie to the banks of the Cocheco, and any information as to the boiling or digesting of this species of crustacean delicacy which the "Senator" cannot impart will have to be obtained from a more authentic source than can be afforded by the hardy fishermen of the Bellamy and adjacent rivers.

The Piscataqua house at Dover point has been opened for the season by Park. Copp, who has previously proved himself an agreeable landlord.

Soda is the natural alkali of the blood, and is principally given in diseases attended with acidity of the stomach, such as gout, dyspepsia, etc. Preston's Pocket Package is convenient for travellers, and the Tablets perfectly reliable.

SKIN TORTURES —AND— BLOOD HUMORS

HUMILIATING Fruptions Itching and Burning Skin Tortures, Loathsome Scaly and every species of Itching, Scaly, Pimply, Inherited, Scrofulous and Contagious Diseases of the Blood, Skin and Scalp, with Loss of Hair, from infancy to old age, are positively cured by CUTICURA, the great Skin Cure, and CUTICURA SOAP, an exquisite Skin Beautifier, externally, and CUTICURA RESOLVENT, the new Blood Purifier, internally.

COVERED WITH SORES.

I have been afflicted since last March with a Skin disease the doctors called Eczema. My face was covered with scabs and sores, and the itching and burning were almost unbearable. Seeing your CUTICURA REMEDIES advertised, I concluded to give them a trial, using the CUTICURA and CUTICURA SOAP externally, and RESOLVENT internally, for four months. I call myself cured, in gratitude for which I make this public statement.

MRS. CLARA A. FREDERICK,
BROAD BROOK, CONN.

SCALP, FACE EARS AND NECK.

I was afflicted with Eczema on the Scalp, Face, Ears and Neck, which the druggist, where I got your remedies, pronounced one of the worst cases that had come under his notice. He advised me to try your CUTICURA REMEDIES, and after five days use my scalp and part of my face were entirely cured, and I hope in another week to have my ears, neck, and the other part of my face cured.

ITCHING DISEASES CURED

CUTICURA stands at the head of its class, especially is this the case with the CUTICURA SOAP. Having had an unusually good run this summer, owing to the prevalence of an aggravated form of Itch through some localities in the country, in which the CUTICURA REMEDIES proved satisfactory.

Constitutional Catarrh.

No single disease has entailed more suffering or hastening the breaking up of the constitution than Catarrh. The sense of smell, of taste, of sight, of hearing, the human voice, the mind,—one or more, and sometimes all, yield to its destructive influence. The poison it distributes throughout the system attacks every vital force, and breaks up the most robust of constitutions. Ignored, because but little understood, by most physicians, impotently assailed by quacks and charlatans, those suffering from it have little hope to be relieved of it this side of the grave. It is time, then, that the popular treatment of this terrible disease by remedies within the reach of all passed into hands at once competent and trustworthy. The new and hitherto untried method adopted by Dr. Sanford in the preparation of his RADICAL CURE has won the hearty approval of thousands. It is instantaneous in affording relief in all head colds, sneezing, snuffing and obstructed breathing, and rapidly removes the most oppressive symptoms, clearing the head, sweetening the breath, restores the senses of smell, taste and hearing, and neutralizing the constitutional tendency of the disease towards the lungs, liver and kidneys.

SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE consists of one bottle of the RADICAL CURE, one box of CATARRHAL SOLVENT, and IMPROVED INHALER; price, $1.

William Henry Tucker, with his nice span of young horses, "Dexter" and "Jonah," recently broke up an acre of hard virgin soil in Eliot, near Sturgeon creek. The operation, with his stout team, only required a few hours.

Mr. John Moulton, of Eliot, had a promising yearling colt of fine pedigree nearly ruined through the animal getting entangled in a barbed-wire fence, by which it was very badly cut in the left foreleg.

The Lobster cove fishing team of York brought in again on Tuesday morning 300 lobsters. Some of them on exhibition were very large.

Mrs. Joseph Stacey of Sturgeon creek, Eliot, slipped on the door step of her residence after dark one evening last week, and received quite severe injuries from the fall.

Mr. George Preble of York is engaged with James W. Tufts, No. 33 Bowker street, Boston, in the soda fountain apparatus business.

Don't Give It Up So.

"Oh! if I had only known that in time." Known what? "Known that a simple cold in the head may develop into chronic catarrh." Well, it isn't too late, for Ely's Cream Balm will cure catarrh even after the sufferer's life has become a burden to him, and he a nuisance to his friends. It is the only radical and thoroughly scientific catarrh cure known. Not a snuff. Not a liquid. Applied to the nostrils with the finger. Price fifty cents.

George Keck and wife of Ritchie county, West Virginia, were taken at night into the woods by the organization of outlaws called Red Men, tied to trees and beaten brutally with hickory withes. Their dwelling was burned. Twelve arrests have been made.

A Public Benefaction.

How to laundry linen as it is done in Troy, N. Y., has been kept a secret long enough; it can and should be done in every family. The Elastic Starch is the only starch in the United States that is put up by men who have a practical knowledge of the laundry profession. It requires no cooking, keeps the iron from sticking and linen from blistering while ironing, and gives shirts, cuffs and collars that stiffness and beautiful polish they have when new, which, everybody knows keeps them clean twice as long. Beware of imitations. See that the name J. C. HUNSICKER & BRO., New Haven, Conn., is on every package.

Scott's Emulsion of Pure Cod Liver Oil, with Hypophosphites.

Is more reliable as an agent in the cure of consumption, chronic coughs and emaciation, than any remedy known to medical science. It is so prepared that the potency of these two most valuable specifics is largely increased. It is also very palatable.

Card from the Duffy Malt Whiskey Co.

BALTIMORE, Md., April 14, 1886.

To the Editor—We have from time to time, through the columns of your paper as well as through the medium of the leading newspapers of this country, called attention to a simple and effective formula for a large class of ailments which the medical profession has intelligently conceded, cannot be benefitted permanently in any other way than through the agency of some article of the character of a food. The remedy to which we refer is a preparation which can be prepared in any household, the principal ingredients being raw beefsteak and a specified quantity of Duffy's pure malt whiskey.

We expected through the circulation of your paper and others in which our notices appeared, to get a limited number of copies of this formula and our expectations have not only been met to the fullest degree, but exceeded our most sanguine expectations. During the few months which have elapsed since the first notice appeared, ten thousand invalids have placed themselves in charge of our Medical Department, all these cases received individual supervision, and the wonderful results that have been obtained, including in many cases a gain in weight from ten to twenty-five pounds, notices of which have appeared in the papers, has also led to the use of this formula by thousands with whom we are not in communication, relatives of our patients. The wonderful success of this formula is due principally to the peculiar properties of Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey. The range of action of this remedy comprises all lung, stomach, bowel affections and weakened conditions of the nervous system.

The extraordinary growth of our business has made it necessary for us to make special arrangements to meet the inquiry and attend to the supervision of the thousands who are using our remedy, and we are anxious that no one suffering from any of the above ailments should fail to send to us for a copy of this formula, which will send with pleasure on receipt of a two-cent stamp, to any address that may be requested. With the formula we furnish evidence of its value which causes Duffy's pure malt whiskey and formula to become at once an established household remedy.

We appreciate the fact that our measure of success is due to the interest manifested by your readers, and we desire that none who are ailing from the diseases above referred to and other derangements consequent of the fact that there is a simple and effective remedy that will restore health where disease now dwells.

Under False Colors. Notwithstanding the protection with which the law encircles patent rights and trade marks, no sooner does a valuable patent or proprietary article make its appearance than a horde of unprincipled persons try by every means to imitate the original. Pyle's Pearline, celebrated as a washing compound, has had a score of imitations, but the superiority of the genuine article over the counterfeits is so plainly apparent that very few people have been deceived.

A business block at Harrington, Me., was burned by lightning on the night of May 30th. Loss $6,800; insurance $4,300.

BURDOCK BLOOD BITTERS FOR That Tired, Weary Feeling.

Sick Headache.

GENTS:—I have been subject to Sick Headache for years, and have tried in vain, many advertised remedies and several physicians, but all to no purpose. At last I tried your B. B. Bitters—without much faith, I admit,—but to-day I can truly say, that after taking the third bottle I have not suffered from it. I recommend it to all my friends; several have been cured by it. My little grandson was permanently cured of Biliousness and Sick Headache, which were so severe as to cause convulsions. They have all ceased since he commenced the use of B. B. B.

Dyspepsia.

GENTS:—I feel it my duty to say respecting Burdock Blood Bitters that it is the best medicine I ever took. I suffered two or three years from stomach troubles and dyspepsia as well as from liver and kidney complaint. I was not able to attend to my business. My wife was afflicted in much the same way. We read of your Bitters in the papers and made up our minds that we would try them. The result is my wife and I began to improve at once and I am now able to do more hard work than before in ten years. It relieved my kidney troubles as well. We both wish you, the makers of it Godspeed.

Headache and Biliousness.

GENTS:—I have been troubled for many years with serious Bilious disorders, as serious, indeed, that I seldom was free from the Headache. At night I was restless and nervous and seldom obtained refreshing sleep. A short time since I commenced the use of B. B. Bitters, and found immediate relief, my Headache disappearing and no more sleepless nights.

HEALTH AND STRENGTH REGAINED.

AND DEBILITATED MEN seeking Health, Strength and Energy, should avoid Drugs, Secret Medicines, etc., and send for "The Review," or "Health and Strength Regained," a large illustrated Journal published entirely for their benefit.

It treats on health, hygiene, physical culture, and medical subjects, and is a complete encyclopedia of information for suffering humanity afflicted with long standing, chronic, nervous, exhausting and painful diseases.

YOUNG AND MIDDLE AGED MEN, and others who suffer from nervous and physical debility, exhausted vitality, premature decline, etc., are especially benefitted by consulting its contents. Everything such sufferers wish to know is fully given in its pages. It is need of medical aid or counsel, read it before "doctoring" or investing in medicines or appliances of any description, and you will save time, money and disappointment. If using medicine or medical treatment of any kind, read it and learn the better way.

THE REVIEW exposes the frauds practised by quacks and medical imposters who profess to "practice medicine," and points out the only safe, simple and effective road to health, vigor and bodily energy.

Electric Belts and all curative appliances are treated upon; all about them—which are genuine, which are bogus. Belts on thirty days' trial (?) and other fallacies reviewed. Thousands of dollars saved nervous debility sufferers and others by the advice given. THE REVIEW is now in its ninth year of publication. Complete specimen copies mailed free.

How Often

We see some young man who has squandered his money and ruined his health by excesses, and before thirty years of age is an all broken down and played out man! In all such cases I prescribe nature's tonic and nervine, Sulphur Bitters. They supply food for the brain, strengthen the nerves, and are successful in nine cases out of ten.—Old Physician.

An important discovery of gold at Kimberly, Australia, is reported.

There is no one article in the line of medicines that gives so large a return for the money as a good porous strengthening plaster, such as Carter's Smart Weed and Belladonna Backache Plasters.

We recommend Carter's Iron Pills to every woman who is weak, nervous and discouraged; particularly those who have thin, pale lips, cold hands and feet, and who are without strength or ambition. These are the cases for which Carter's Iron Pills are specially prepared, and this class cannot use them without benefit. Valuable for men also. In metal boxes, at 50 cents. Sold by druggists or sent by mail. See advertisement elsewhere.

McCLELLAN AND BURNSIDE.

The recent death of General McClellan leaves but few living of those unfortunate commanders who found themselves unequal to the great responsibilities placed upon them during the civil war. Burnside, Halleck, "Fighting Joe" Hooker, and others, had passed away before him, honored by the nation they had served, after having lived down the hostile criticism their official acts had excited. Equal justice will be done to General McClellan, and a true estimate of his abilities as an organizer and a soldier will be recorded. In his political ambition the genial Burnside was far more successful than his old commander, and death found him a senator from Rhode Island. McClellan might have been a cabinet officer but for factional quarrels in New Jersey which made his appointment inexpedient.

Rhode Island's devotion to her handsome senator illustrates a happy characteristic of the smallest State which still distinguishes her. General Burnside was not a native of "Little Rhody"—having come east from Indiana—but he had the right timber in him, and was made governor and afterward senator of his adopted State. The same spirit may be seen in her citizens to-day in their hearty reception of that which will be of benefit to them. A case in point is that of Mr. John A. Bishop, of Central Falls, R. I., who tells this story:

"For eighteen years I suffered with neuralgia and never got any relief until I took Athlophoros. After that had cured me of the disease I became afflicted with sciatic rheumatism, for which I was treated by two doctors. Neither of them did me any good, in fact I grew worse under their treatment. Again I began taking Athlophoros, and, strange as it may seem, relief came almost instantly. The pain abated so that I was able to get around in less than three days, and as I daily grew stronger the rheumatism left me altogether."

Mrs. S. T. Goss, of No. 42 Dudley Street, Providence, can confirm this seemingly wonderful cure out of her own experience. She says:

"For thirty years I suffered with muscular rheumatism, during which time I used every known remedy and all sorts of prescriptions from physicians. At times I would gain a little relief, but only for a short period, after which the disease would attack me with renewed violence. It was while I was suffering one of these very severe attacks that a friend spoke to me of the wonders Athlophoros was doing, and advised me to try it. I did get a bottle and in two days after beginning to use it was on my feet. Athlophoros is now kept in my house and is looked upon as indispensable. It is the greatest preparation I ever knew of and will cure rheumatism just as it is claimed it will do."

Mr. J. D. Payne, one of the most prominent citizens of Westville, Ct., where he has pleasant home on Fountain street, is outspoken in his praise of Atlophoros.

"I did not think there was any cure for rheumatism," he says, "but I am pleased to say that there is and that it is Athlophoros. Three doses of it cured my wife of rheumatism."

If you cannot get ATHLOPHOROS of your druggist, we will send it express paid, on receipt of regular price—one dollar per bottle. We prefer that you buy it from your druggist, but if he hasn't it, do not be persuaded to try something else, but order at once from us, as directed. ATHLOPHOROS Co., 112 Wall Street, New York.

Putting Niagara Falls to Work.

The plan is a simple one. A great pipe or shaft is to be cut through the rock close by and parallel with the Niagara river, 160 feet deep and running half a mile or more back from the falls. The open end of this little shaft or tunnel is to empty out of the rock at the falls a foot or two above the level of the water below the cascade.

Whenever a company wants water power it may sink a vertical shaft from the surface almost down to this horizontal shaft. In the bottom of this vertical shaft a turbine wheel is to be placed, and below this a smaller shaft, for a tail race, will carry the water from the wheel to the great horizontal shaft, which will then work as a waste-pipe to carry off the water. In order to get the needed water to drive the wheel it will only be necessary to build a short pier on the river shore to catch the edge of the swiftly-flowing current and divert a little of it by means of a ditch or pipe, into the vertical shaft, and so past the wheel and through the great subterranean shaft and back into the river again below the falls. These vertical shafts are to be big enough to admit one or two of the workmen, who must place the turbine in position and afterward attend to it. It is said that a wheel as big as a man's hat will supply 200 horse power, though this was said carelessly by the reporter's informant, who acknowledged uncertainty as to the precise amount.—New York Sun.

Remarkable Experiment in Photography.

A remarkable experiment recently made in photography opens up a trackless and undiscovered domain in the heavens. It beggars the wildest fiction of Verne. Some time ago a camera charged with highly sensitivized paper was directed at a clear spot in the skies, where the most power-ful telescope detected nothing. To the surprise of the operator the negative showed several stars of magnitude. This was at first thought due to some spot or defect in the paper, but the experiment was tried again and again with the same result. Some months afterward stars appeared at the very points indicated by the camera.

The explanation is this: Ever since the velocity of light has been measured it has been known that there were myriads of stars whose rays, traveling with unconceivable rapidity since the morning of creation, had not yet reached the earth. Every now and then one of these appears. The camera in the instance I mention had caught the first glimpse of these new-born planets months before their shafts of light had penetrated space strongly enough to reveal them to the telescopic lens.—F. P. Clark, in Photographer's Journal.

Virtues of the Horseback Cure.

There is a saying among the Russians that a man who is fond of his horses will not grow old early. The Arab and the Cossack are examples of the truth of the proverb. They generally live long, enjoy robust health, and have no use for liver pads and blue pills. That vigorous octogenarian, David Dudley Field, tells us that he attributes his remarkable vitality to the habit of horseback riding, and if the truth were known, it would doubtless appear that our sturdiest old men are those who have been fond of the saddle. The taste for equestrian sports and exercise which has lately made such progress in Brooklyn is therefore a hopeful and healthful sign. It is not a mere freak of fashion, but a development in the direction of rational enjoyment and an assurance that the rising generation will be less of an indoor and more of an outdoor people. It means less headache hereafter, better appetites, stronger lungs, rosier cheeks, brighter eyes, sounder sleep, happier spirits, and a total oblivion of that organ which, according to Sidney Smith, keeps men a good deal lower than the angels—the liver.

One Explanation of Decimal Counting.

Many use decimals instead of octonals to-day, because in the progress from the finned fish to the fur-limbed amphibian the number of fin-rays on each limb happened to be reduced from eight or ten to five only. Hence most of the higher animals have five fingers or five toes on each extremity; and man in this respect conforms strictly to his prehuman arboreal ancestor.

If that ancestor had had only four toes, like so many quadrupeds, we might now count by eights or by sixteens; but the accident of his possessing five digits on each limb has saddled us forever with the foolish custom of reckoning everything either by tens or by twenties. Our most advanced mathematics bear obviously on their face the marks of their irrational and savage origin, and more remotely recall the evolution of the race from a many-rayed mud-haunting amphibious progenitor.—Lippincott's Magazine.

Tea as a Cumulative Poison.

Dr. W. N. Bullad, in a paper lately read before the Massachusetts Medical society, gives a detailed analysis of the various symptoms of tea-poisoning, obtained from the study of a large series of cases. He arrives at the important conclusions that the action of tea is cumulative, and is more pronounced on the young and those in a depressed physical condition, although persons otherwise healthy not infrequently show poisonous symptoms; that, as a rule, in the class of people examined by him, chiefly adult women, the average amount needed to cause poisonous symptoms was a little less than five cups daily; and than chronic tea-poisoning is

A Public Benefaction.

How to laundry linen as it is done in Troy, N. Y., has been kept a secret long enough; it can and should be done in every family. The Elastic Starch is the only starch in the United States that is put up by men who have a practical knowledge of the laundry profession. It requires no cooking, keeps the iron from sticking and linen from blistering while ironing, and gives shirts, cuffs and collars that stiffness and beautiful polish they have when new, which, everybody knows keeps them clean twice as long. Beware of imitations. See that the name J. C. HUBINGER & BRO., New Haven, Conn., is on every package.

There were three races between noted oarsmen on the 1st inst. At Albany, N. Y., Courtney and Hosmer rowed three miles with a turn, and made a dead heat of it. At Oak Point, N. Y., Teemer beat Wallace Ross half a length. At Lake Quinsigamond, Mass., James A. Ten Eyck of Worcester beat Joseph Laing of Montreal, the latter being taken sick when a good way ahead; there is a good deal of suspicion about this race.

Death of a Hero.

Gen. George J. Stannard, who has for some years held a minor office in the house of representatives at Washington, died June 1st. During the war he was a major-general of Vermont volunteers, and at Gettysburg is credited with having saved the day when Pickett's division was hurled against Hancock. Stannard's men, who were lying behind a stone wall, were thrown upon Pickett's flank. This is said to have saved the day. Pickett's men were mowed down by the Vermonters on their flank, while Hancock was repelling the assault in front. A monument now marks the place held by Stannard. A resolution was passed by the house giving to the relatives of the deceased general half a year's salary, and providing for the funeral expenses.

Impressive memorial services were held at Gettysburg. The orator, Major William H. Lambert, paid a glowing tribute to General Hancock.

An Honest Reformer Takes "the Party" at Their Word.

In the last presidential campaign the orators of the democracy waxed eloquent, while their organs teemed with idle insinuations regarding the corrupt manner in which the money of the people was disbursed by the party then in power. There was no disposition to give credit for the system of accounts, the thorough manner in which by means of reports, statements and checks the financial interests of the government are guarded and every transaction noted, docketed and recorded.

Since the days of defalcations prior to 1840, under democratic rule, the checks upon officials handling the money of the government have been made plenty and at every hand, so that the chances of defalcation without immediate detection are almost impossible. Notwithstanding these facts, patent to every well informed person, there were some of the time-honored democracy who believed what their leaders told them. They supposed that republicanism, from misrepresentation made, was synonymous with corruption; while democracy, out of power, was the emblem of integrity.

Now, when the democrats attempt to administer the government of this expanded country upon the broad principles which its importance demands, they are met with the result of this teaching in some virtuous but impractical official, who supposes that the mission of his party and himself is to obstruct the natural and legitimate flow of the finances, and to dam the flood of appropriated funds as they themselves are damned by their political friends, who desire to expend the sums voted by Congress, without the prohibitory construction of some treasury official.

The principal officer who stands in the way is First Comptroller Durham of the treasury department, who has written to friends in Kentucky that a "financier" is badly needed at the head of the government of that state, but that he is not a candidate for governor. If he were, why—and here he ends. Governor Proctor Knott has taken public notice of this remarkable letter to call attention to Durham's "financiering," which has brought ridicule upon the treasury department and useless expense upon the government. Durham disallowed the accounts of the disbursing officer of the court of Alabama claims, and made a great outcry about the "fraud" he had discovered there. But the democratic house of representatives promptly passed a bill compelling the treasury to pay every dollar of those disallowed accounts. Mr. Hewitt told in the house the other day how this "incorruptible" man, as he ironically called him, had disallowed an addition of $120 a year which Mr. Hewitt secured from the state department to the salary of $480 allowed the interpreter at Constantinople, "the mainstay," Mr. Hewitt said, "of the consulate."

Mr. Cannon in remarking on this fact said that if Congress proposed to change legislation to meet the decisions of the first comptroller it would have time for nothing else the remainder of the session. He related how an appropriation had been made for putting in gas pipes in the new pension building, but the learned first comptroller held that after the pipes were in no part of the appropriation could be used to put in fixtures so that the pipes could be used! Out of the appropriation for contingencies the first comptroller held that car tickets could not be purchased for messengers. Among the items disallowed by this "incorruptible" man is one for thirty-one cents "over-charge on stationery." Mr. Cannon says that one of two things must be done, the first comptroller must modify the strictness of his views touching construction, or a commissioner must be appointed to go all along the line and make laws to suit this "incorruptible reformer" who is working up a record as a "financier" in order to get nominated for governor of Kentucky.

President Cleveland's Marriage.

The arrangement for the marriage of the president and Miss Folsom, Wednesday evening, was kept so secret that little was really known except that the ceremony was to take place, and all the newspaper details given were the result of imagination and not of information. The most absurd tale was that the president and his bride would go on a wedding tour to Europe.

The Boston reporter who said that there were only "about twenty-five" stockholders present at the adjourned annual meeting of the Eastern railroad in Boston on the 1st inst., should be discharged for his carelessness or reckless misrepresentation, a much larger number than that having gone up from this city. An Eastern railroad train official who runs on one of the morning trains from Portsmouth to Boston, informs us that there were 671 passengers on his train, "railroad day," and nearly all of them were stockholders.

It now turns out that the sympathy extended to the two fishermen who several weeks ago arrived at Star island and reported themselves as lost in a storm from the schooner Laura Young of Cape Porpoise, was not worthily bestowed; the men having stolen the boat, and run away from the schooner. Capt. White of the schooner was in this city on the 1st inst. looking after the boat and gear left at Star island.—Penny Post.

Mr. Floren Barri, formerly of this city but now a resident of Boston, was in town on Wednesday.

Messrs. Trefethen & Connor laid fifteen linear feet of the four-foot sewer on the 2d inst. We should be very glad to chronicle the laying of the last foot, and the commencement of the street commissioners gang at fixing up the street.

William Goodwin of South Berwick, a freight brakeman on the Boston & Maine railroad, aged twenty-four years, in attempting to jump on a moving train at Salmon Falls on the evening of the 29th ult. fell between two cars, and had his right leg cut off below the knee.

Mackerel struck in at the Isles of Shoals on Saturday, May 29th, and a few were taken. This is the earliest appearance of these fish at the Shoals on record.

A despatch from Philadelphia says: "The American Line steamship Indiana has been put out of commission. Her owners say that they lose in the neighborhood of $3,500 to $4,000 on every trip, and have decided to lay up the whole fleet of the original American Line for an indefinite period."

Miss Sarah Orne Jewett has gone to her summer home at South Berwick.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral

Should be kept constantly at hand, for use in emergencies of the household. Many a mother, startled in the night by the ominous sounds of Croup, finds the little sufferer, with red and swollen face, gasping for air. In such cases Ayer's Cherry Pectoral is invaluable. Mrs. Emma Gedney, 159 West 123 st., New York, writes: "While in the country, last winter, my little boy, three years old, was taken ill with Croup; it seemed as if he would die from strangulation. Ayer's Cherry Pectoral was tried in small and frequent doses, and, in less than half an hour, the little patient was breathing easily. The doctor said that the Pectoral saved my darling's life." Mrs. Chas. B. Landon, Guilford, Conn., writes: "Ayer's Cherry Pectoral

Saved My Life,

and also the life of my little son. As he is troubled with Croup, I dare not be without this remedy in the house." Mrs. J. Gregg, Lowell, Mass., writes: "My children have repeatedly taken Ayer's Cherry Pectoral for Coughs, and Croup. It gives immediate relief, followed by cure." Mrs. Mary E. Evans, Scranton, Pa., writes: "I have two little boys, both of whom have been, from infancy, subject to violent attacks of Croup. About six months ago we began using Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, and it acts like a charm. In a few minutes after the child takes it, he breathes easily and rests well. Every mother ought to know what a blessing I have found in Ayer's Cherry Pectoral." Mrs. Wm. C. Reid, Freehold, N. J., writes: "In our family, Ayer's medicines have been blessings for many years. In cases of Colds and Coughs, we take

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral,

and the inconvenience is soon forgotten."

6 PER CENT GUARANTEE FARM LOANS IN NEBRASKA.

These Loans are Made and Guaranteed by the OMAHA LOAN AND TRUST CO., which has an authorized Capital of $1,000,000, and a Subscribed and Guarantee Capital of $500,000. The Constitution of Nebraska provides that the Stockholders are personally liable to the full extent of the Stock subscribed, and that in no case shall the indebtedness of the Company exceed two-thirds of the Capital Stock. When it is taken into consideration that the Stockholders consist of twenty-five of the most celebrated capitalists and foremost financial men of the Country — consisting in part of such men as Hon. Fred'k L. Ames of Boston, G. G. Williams, Pres't of the Chemical Nat. Bank, New York City, and W. J. Quinlan, Cashier of the above-named Bank, with Hon. A. U. Wyman, late Treasurer of the United States, as Pres't of the Co., it will occur to the most conservative investor that he can here invest his money and be absolutely as sure of both Principal and Interest being paid, and as promptly, as if he owned Government Bonds. The above-named Loans are in sums of from $300 to $5,000.

ATHLETIC SPORTS.

The first annual spring meeting of the Portsmouth Athletic club, held at the cricket field near Frenchman's lane on Monday afternoon of this week, was witnessed by fully 800 persons.

The first event, 100 yards dash, run in heats, was closely contested, as the record shows. The first heat was won by C. H. Kingsbury in 11 1-4 seconds; second by Wallace Lear, in 11 seconds; third by T. F. Cronin in 11 seconds; fourth and final heat by Wallace Lear in 10 1-2 seconds, with Cronin second.

For putting the shot (sixteen pounds) there were six entries, William Merrill being the winner with 30 1-2 feet. W. G. Smart and Elroy Nickerson tied for second place, with 27 1-2 feet.

Hurdle race, in heats, distance 120 yards, over four hurdles; six entries. The first heat was won by Nickerson; second by Cronin; third heat a dead one; fourth won by Cronin.

For the running high jump there were six entries, and the contest was very exciting. Charles Lear was the winner, with five feet two inches.

The half-mile run was won by Cronin, time two minutes and forty-five seconds.

Four innings were played between nines from the gymnasium captained by Dempsey and Davis, Davis' nine scoring eighteen, to six for Dempsey's nine.

The judges were Frank Dennett, John D. Randall and Fred E. Hasty; starter, J. E. Amazeen; director of sports, T. F. Cronin.

MEN OVERBOARD.

About half-past four o'clock P. M. on the 2d inst., as Mr. Frank Raymond was sailing in a boat belonging to Mr. Alfred R. Goodwin, when between Pumpkin and Badger's islands the boat was capsized, and went to the bottom out of sight. Mr. William G. Billings, who was pulling up river from Kittery Point in a small rowboat belonging to Mr. Goodwin, went to the aid of Mr. Raymond, and got him into the boat; he then pulled after his coat, which was floating, and when the boat got to it both men reached out to catch it at the same time, and over that boat went, too. Mr. Billings can't swim any better than a grindstone, but the steamer James Sampson threw him a line and hauled him aboard; and another boat, said to have been manned by Mr. Charles Gray, picked up Mr. Raymond again, and he stayed picked up that time. The capsized rowboat was towed ashore, and parties were at a later hour attempting to grapple the sunken sailboat.

THE SCHOONER SEIZURE AT PORTLAND.

The schooner "The Sisters," a little bit of a craft from Yarmouth, Nova Scotia, arrived at Portland, Me., May 25th, with a cargo of fresh mackerel but without a manifest, her captain, Jesse Ellis, not knowing he had to have one, this being his first "foreign" voyage as master. The collector of the port accordingly seized the vessel and imposed a five of $500—more than the little vessel was worth. A good many people thought this action of the collector was in retaliation for the doings of the Dominion officials in regard to the American fishing vessels, and said it was rather small business, but the collector had no option in the matter, the statutes imposing a fine of $500 in such a case; and the collector having duly reported the matter to the acting secretary of the treasury, that official promptly telegraphed to the collector to release the schooner on the payment of the actual expenses incurred.

Such seizures are not uncommon, but are not commonly heard of; and this one would not have been, but for the excitement regarding the fisheries. In cases where the informality is palpably the result of ignorance, and not of any intent or desire to defraud the revenue, the fine is always remitted on the payment of expenses actually incurred.

We remember two somewhat similar cases which happened at this port, during Collector Howard's incumbency. One was where a coasting schooner, with a Portsmouth captain, came in from Gloucester, her papers showing that she had ten tons of salt on board, which salt could not be seen, the captain reporting that he had landed it at the Isles of Shoals. As he had no permit to land it there, there was nothing for the collector to do but seize the vessel, which he did, thereby causing something very like a panic to seize the unlucky skipper, who had no thought of doing anything wrong; but the collector reassured him, and on the matter being represented to the secretary the vessel was released at a cost to the captain of only three or four dollars.

The other case was where a Nova Scotia schooner of sixty or seventy tons, with a load of potatoes to sell, bound from Boston, where the captain had failed to find a market, for Portland, put into this port on the way, and tried to dispose of the cargo. This vessel was seized for some informality, and the poor skipper, who was an honest-appearing, farmer-like old fellow, was scared almost to death; but on the collector's representation he got off with the payment of a trifling sum for telegraphing, etc., instead of being hung for piracy, as he at first seemed to think likely would be done.

MUNICIPAL AFFAIRS.

There was a special meeting of the common council on Tuesday evening, June 1st, a quorum being present. In the absence of President Crowley, Councilman Pearson was called to the chair.

The committee on bills on their second reading reported in favor of the passage of the appropriation bill, amended from the draft in which it came from the aldermen by altering the item appropriation six hundred dollars for sprinkling the streets, and making the appropriation five hundred dollars.

Concurrence in the joint resolutions authorizing the sale of the city farm and almshouse, and of part of the city's stock in the Portsmouth & Dover railroad, was refused by an unanimous vote.

THE RISE IN EASTERN.

Since a large banking house began buying Eastern railroad stock some two weeks or more ago over 10,000 shares have been taken, and the price advanced from eighty to ninety-five. Very strong parties are back of all this buying, and we hear it intimated that capitalists largely interested in both the Concord and the Worcester, Nashua & Rochester railroads are also back of it, and the movement presents all the appearance of another Worcester, Nashua & Rochester "deal."

We learn from good authority that the Boston & Maine directors are unanimously in favor of a consolidation of all of their leased lines, consisting of the Eastern railroad, the Eastern railroad of New Hampshire, the Portland, Saco & Portsmouth, the Portsmouth, Great Falls & Conway, and the Worcester, Nashua & Rochester, and some intimate a further consolidation with the Concord, the Boston, Concord & Montreal, and the Northern railroads, as it is believed that the decision of the New Hampshire supreme court, now daily expected, will be favorable to the breaking of the existing leases with the Boston & Lowell railroad. It is even hinted that the action of the Concord railroad people in securing control of the Boston, Concord & Montreal and Northern railroads was taken in the interest of the Boston & Maine, and that the eventual outcome of that action contemplates a further consolidation with and absorption of all these northern railroads.

The successful accomplishment of this project would place the Boston & Maine in the position of one of the strongest and most powerful railroad corporations in the east, a system practically free from competition, and one whose earning capacity would be almost unlimited. It is a well-known fact that the Concord people have been in with the Boston & Maine people for years, and as the Boston & Maine once had a share of their business, it is only fair to suppose that now when it has increased many fold over what it was in the past that they would like it again.

All sorts of conjectures as to schemes of consolidation, legislative enactment and management are hinted at. In the mean time the stock has a firm price which must profoundly astonish some of the ex-stockholders who unloaded at low-water mark.

AFFAIRS IN KITTERY.

KITTERY, ME., June 1st.

Mrs. Albert S. Wilson is slowly improving from her recent illness, and it is earnestly hoped by her numerous friends that she will soon be able to be about again.

Morrill Lodge of Good Templars of North Kittery has adopted Hassam's Competitive System as a source of entertainment in the lodge.

Rev. Mr. Grovenor preached an appropriate memorial sermon at the 2d Methodist church on Sunday. The singing by the choir, under the directorship of Miss Florence E. Sanderson, deserves special mention; they were ably assisted by Mr. Geo. A. Damon of Boston, and Mr. Nathaniel Keen of Salisbury Point, Mass.

Mr. John H. Remick has been employed as yardman, and Andrew J. Grace as porter at the Boat's Head hotel, Hampton beach, during the coming season.

Mr. William Cole and wife, of Hampton, were in town Sunday last, on a short visit. SUB ROSA.

The Dover Democrat of June 1st says: "The excursion season was opened Sunday last by the steamer May Queen, which went down the river with a large party." The party merely made a fishing trip to Dover point.

The "band stand" used in the excavating of Gangway rock was on the 2d inst. moved for the last time under the present contract, forty feet eastward toward the main channel of the Piscataqua. A survey of the work last done on the ledge has been held by the proper United States officials.

The street commissioner's gang commenced putting gravel on Richard's avenue, Wednesday morning.

It is stated unofficially that the North Atlantic squadron will drop down east just to prevent our armed fishermen from seizing the British provinces, which just now are not worth the taking with their debt as a part of the spoils of war.

The United States tug Leyden, Lieut. Francis H. Delano commanding, left the navy yard early in the morning on Wednesday, 2d inst., for Boston, Newport and New York, having on board the shaft of the late U. S. S. Plymouth, which is to be put into the Vandalia in New York; also a number of spars, and other articles and materials.

One of the north pond tide-gates was hung in position on the 2d inst., the derrick and other obstructions to travel removed and the planking of the bridge relaid.

Mr. James Sanborn, at No. 61 State street, next the post-office building, does all kind of work in his line, from the making of the finest dress boots, warranted to fit, to repairing the down-river stogas of the cunner hunter, using the best materials, and making as moderate charges as first-class work will allow. Persons desiring new boots made, or to have the needs of ancient ones administered to, will do well to give him a call.

SKIN TORTURES — AND — BLOOD HUMORS!!

HUMILIATING Eruptions Itching and Burning Skin Tortures, Loathsome Sores, and every species of Itching, Scaly, Pimply, Inherited, Scrofulous and Contagious Diseases of the Blood, Skin and Scalp, with Loss of Hair, from infancy to old age, are positively cured by CUTICURA, the great Skin Cure, and CUTICURA SOAP, an exquisite Skin Beautifier, externally, and CUTICURA RESOLVENT, the new Blood Purifier, internally.

COVERED WITH SORES.

I have been afflicted since last March with a Skin disease the doctors called Eczema. My face was covered with scabs and sores, and the itching and burning were almost unbearable. Seeing your CUTICURA REMEDIES advertised, I decided to give them a trial, using the CUTICURA and CUTICURA SOAP externally, and RESOLVENT internally, for four months. I call myself cured, in gratitude for which I make this public statement.

MRS. CLARA A. FREDERICK.
BROAD BROOK, CONN.

SCALP, FACE EARS AND NECK.

I was afflicted with Eczema on the Scalp, Face, Ears and Neck, which the druggist, where I got your remedies, pronounced one of the worst cases that had come under his notice. He advised me to try your CUTICURA REMEDIES, and after five days use my scalp and part of my face were entirely cured, and I hope in another week to have my ears, neck, and the other part of my face cured. HERMAN SLADE.
120 E. 4TH STREET, NEW YORK.

ITCHING DISEASES CURED.

CUTICURA stands at the head of its class, especially is this the case with the CUTICURA SOAP. Having had an unusually good sale this summer, owing to the prevalence of an aggravated form of Itch through some localities in the country, in which the CUTICURA REMEDIES have proved satisfactory. W. L. HARDIGG, Druggist.
UNIONTOWN, KY.

CURE IN EVERY CASE.

Your CUTICURA REMEDIES outsell all other medicines I keep for skin diseases. My customers and patients say they have effected a cure in every instance, where other remedies have failed.

BEAUTIFY the Complexion and Skin by using the CUTICURA SOAP.

Constitutional Catarrh.

No single disease has entailed more suffering or hastened the breaking up of the constitution than Catarrh. The sense of smell, of taste, of sight, of hearing, the human voice, the mind, one or more, and sometimes all, yield to its destructive influence. The poison it distributes throughout the system attacks every vital force, and breaks up the most robust of constitutions. Ignored, because but little understood, by most physicians, impotently assailed by quacks and charlatans, those suffering from it have little hope to be relieved of it this side of the grave. It is time, then, that the popular treatment of this terrible disease by remedies within the reach of all, passed into hands at once competent and trustworthy. The new and hitherto untried method adopted by Dr. Sanford in the preparation of his RADICAL CURE has won the hearty approval of thousands. It is instantaneous in affording relief in all head colds, sneezing, snuffing and obstructed breathing, and rapidly removes the most oppressive symptoms, clearing the head, sweetening the breath, restores the senses of smell, taste and hearing, and neutralizing the constitutional tendency of the disease towards the lungs, liver and kidneys.

Preservation of French Vineyards.

In order to prevent the vines freezing in the great French vineyards during exceptionally cold weather it is customary to create large clouds of smoke around the vines, so as to prevent radiation as much as possible. This is now done automatically by the aid of electricity. In the center of the vineyard is placed a thermometer. When the mercury in this falls to two degrees above the freezing point, the mercury closes the circuit through a small galvanic battery. The current starts an ignition apparatus, which sets fire to the heaps of combustibles, so that if a sudden frost comes the whole vineyard in a few seconds is enveloped in a cloud of smoke.—Paris Letter.

Glass-Lined Wrought-Iron Pipes.

Glass-lined wrought-iron pipes are now successfully made so as to be practically homogeneous, will withstand any alternation of heat or cold from 212 degrees Fahrenheit to 32 degrees and lower, can not, when fixed, be broken by any accidental mechanical violence, are hermetically sealed in their entirety, and so seem specially adapted to the requirements of breweries, laboratories, chemical manufactories, large milk establishments, and numerous other applications in the arts. For all hygienic purposes they are immeasurably superior to the tin-lined lead pipes, which, until now, have been recommended for the conveyance of water, and especially good soft water, in its prestine state of purity, from its source to its delivery.—Chicago News.

Peculiarity of a Horse's Eye.

One often hears the expression that a horse don't know its strength. That is a mistake. A horse is fully aware of its strength, but owing to a peculiarity of its optic lens it is kept in a constant state of intimidation. A horse's eye magnifies nearly six diameters, and a man looks like a giant to it. Queer, isn't it? but true. A series of curious experiments recently made by Parisian savants have established it beyond any question. That accounts for many of the odd fits of fright the best horses are subject to.—Charles Viele, Veterinary Surgeon.

Posing Animals for Their Pictures.

There are several photographers in New York who have posed, collectively, over 3,000 dogs and cats. One of them says that in most instances the photographer is not permitted to touch the animal. The dog is taken into the gallery in a basket by a waiting maid, the mistress spreads a costly rug on the table and the dog is then posed in different attitudes.—Chicago Herald.

It would take a man 3,000 years to read all the standard works.—New Haven News.

The French have taken the American verb "to interview" into their language.

A Beautiful Present.

The Virgin Salt Co., of New Haven, Conn., are making a grand offer. A pair of Doves as natural as life, new design, printed in ten beautiful colors on a fine lithograph card 9x10 inches, given away with Virgin Salt (our certificates) in order to introduce it. For household purpose this salt has no equal. It is the cleanest, purest and whitest salt ever seen or used. Large package costs only ten cents. Ask your grocer for it.

The bill prohibiting the manufacture and sale of intoxicating liquors has passed both branches of the Rhode Island legislature. A similar bill has also passed the Vermont legislature.

Under False Colors. Notwithstanding the protection with which the law encircles patent rights and trade marks, no sooner does a valuable patent or proprietary article make its appearance than a horde of unprincipled persons try by every means to imitate the original. Pyle's Pearline, celebrated as a washing compound, has had a score of imitations, but the superiority of the genuine article over the counterfeits is so plainly apparent that very few people have been deceived.

The drought in Texas continues. Crops are almost a failure in forty-eight counties of the dry region. The plains are covered with dead and dying cattle.

Why hesitate? Hop Porous Plasters are better thrn others, do the work quicker and never fail.

The trades unions in convention have presented a treaty to the Knights of Labor regarding the rights of the latter organization, which the unions want adopted.

The pure and reliable virtues of the Hop Plaster give hope and strength to weak, sore lungs.

The soldiers' monument at Brandon, Vt., was dedicated May 29th.

Women with pale, colorless faces who feel weak and discouraged, will receive both mental and bodily vigor by using Carter's Iron Pills, which are made for the blood, nerves and complexion.

The report of the board of managers of the American Baptist Union shows that a deficiency of nearly $150,000 was found in the accounts of John H. Dean of New York, who was counsel for the board for many years. Mr. Dean says the money was lost in stock speculations.

Neither mind nor body can act healthfully, if the blood is vitiated. Cleanse the vital current from impurities by the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla. This remedy purifies the blood, recruits the wasted energies, and restores health to the debilitated system.

Four boys in Down parish, county Down, Ireland, have been sent to prison for three months for "disorderly conduct" in cheering for home rule at a late hour at night.

The good opinion of the public, in regard to Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, is confirmed by clergymen, lawyers, public speakers, and actors. All say it is the best remedy for affections of the throat and lungs.

A mining settlement near Pottsville, Penn., is intensely excited over the disappearance of a priest, Rev. John S. Kent, with Mary McDevitt, a Philadelphia girl, whom he pretended he was going to put into a convent against her parents' wish. He owes the parishioners about $2,000.

Those unhappy persons who suffer from nervousness and dyspepsia should use Carter's Little Nerve Pills, which are made expressly for sleepless, nervous, dyspeptic sufferers. Price twenty-five cents, all druggists.

M. Rosseau, the eminent engineer sent to Panama by the French government to report on the progress of the de Lesseps canal, has reported so unfavorably that the government has refused to allow de Lesseps to have a lottery to raise $120,000,000 more to be wasted in the big ditch. He reports that not nearly so much progress has been made as the canal men have stated.

Sick Headache.

GENTS:—I have been subject to Sick Headache for years, and have tried, in vain, many advertised remedies and several physicians, but all to no purpose. At last I tried your B. B. Bitters—without much faith, I admit—but to-day I can truly say, that after taking the third bottle I have not suffered from it. I recommend it to all my friends; several have been cured by it. My little grandson was permanently cured of Biliousness and Sick Headache, which were so severe as to cause convulsions. They have all ceased since he commenced the use of B. B. B.

Dyspepsia.

GENTS:—I feel it my duty to say respecting Burdock Blood Bitters that it is the best medicine I ever took. I suffered two or three years from stomach troubles and dyspepsia as well as from liver and kidney complaint. I was not able to attend to my business. My wife was afflicted in much the same way. We read of your Bitters in the papers and made up our minds that we would try them. The result is my wife and I began to improve at once and I am now able to do more hard work than before in ten years. It relieved my kidney troubles as well. We both wish you, the makers of it Godspeed. JOSEPH LANDON,

Headache and Biliousness.

GENTS:—I have been troubled for many years with serious Bilious disorders, so serious, indeed, that I seldom was free from the Headache. At night I was restless and nervous and seldom obtained refreshing sleep. A short time since I commenced the use of B. B. Bitters, and found immediate relief, my Headache disappearing and no more sleepless nights.

HEALTH AND STRENGTH REGAINED.

AND DEBILITATED MEN seeking Health, Strength and Energy, should avoid Drugs, Secret Medicines, etc., and send for "The Review," or "Health and Strength Regained," a large illustrated Journal published entirely for their benefit.

It treats on health, hygiene, physical culture, and medical subjects, and is a complete encyclopædia of information for suffering humanity afflicted with long standing, chronic, nervous, exhausting and painful disease.

YOUNG AND MIDDLE AGED MEN, and others who suffer from nervous and physical debility, exhausted vitality, premature decline, etc., are especially benefitted by consulting its contents. Everything such sufferers wish to know is fully given in its pages. If in need of medical aid or counsel, read it before "doctoring" or investing in medicines or appliances of any description, and you will save time, money and disappointment. If using medicine or medical treatment of any kind, read it and learn the better way.

THE REVIEW exposes the frauds practised by quacks and medical imposters who profess to "practice medicine," and points out the simple, safe, simple and effective road to health, vigor and bodily energy.

Electric Belts and all curative appliances are treated upon; all about them—which are genuine, which are bogus. Belts on thirty days' trial (?) and other fallacies reviewed. Thousands of dollars saved nervous-debility sufferers and others by the advice given. THE REVIEW is now in its ninth year of publication. Complete specimen copies mailed free.

How Often

We see some young man who has squandered his money and ruined his health by excesses, and before thirty years of age is an all broken down and played out man! In all such cases I prescribe nature's tonic and nervine, Sulphur Bitters. They supply food for the brain, strengthen the nerves, and are successful in nine cases out of ten.—Old Physician.

John Bunch and wife, residing near Pocahontas, Ark., have been arrested, charged with murdering their daughter's illegitimate child.

There is no one article in the line of medicines that gives so large a return for the money as a good porous strengthening plaster, such as Carter's Smart Weed and Belladonna Backache Plasters.

Mrs. Jennie Tracey, of Boston, was seriously injured by Joseph A. McDeavitt, who struck her on the head with a pitcher, apparently intending to strike her husband instead.

What Was It, John,

That made your face so clear and free from pimples? said his sweetheart. Why, don't you know, Eva? For over a year I took everything I could think of without helping me, then I bought two bottles of Sulphur Bitters, and now I haven't one pimple on my face. It is the best blood cleanser I ever saw.

At the convention of the Knights of Labor at Cleveland, Ohio, June 1st, it was decided that in the future a strike or a boycott would not be allowed without the approval of the executive board.

We recommend Carter's Iron Pills to every woman who is weak, nervous and discouraged; particularly those who have thin, pale lips, cold hands and feet, and who are without strength or ambition. These are the cases for which Carter's Iron Pills are specially prepared, and this class cannot use them without benefit. Valuable for men also. Sold in metal boxes, at 50 cents. Sold by druggists or sent by mail. See advertisement elsewhere.

AS INVALUABLE AS FLOUR.

Ansonia and West Ansonia are two thrifty towns in Connecticut that have become famous for their brass works. These are not their only claims to distinction, however. Apart from many pleasant features common to progressive New England communities, they possess a number of citizens of advanced views who are at present engaged in a work of peculiar interest. One of these is Mr. Reuben Locke, whose home is on Hill Street, West Ansonia, and who is highly esteemed by his fellow citizens. Why he is active in his present work he thus explains:

"Five spoonfuls of Athlophoros cured me of a very stubborn attack of inflammatory rheumatism. I cannot express my feelings of joy at having at last found a medicine that did what the doctors failed to do for me. I esteem Athlophoros as I would my dearest friend, and recommend it because I know that it will do all that is claimed for it."

Mr. J. V. Wightman, of Ansonia, is no less enthusiastic and positive in his belief in the efficacy of this great remedy. He says:

"I believe, in fact I know, that there is nothing like Athlophoros. It cured me permanently of a very severe case of muscular rheumatism. I have recommended it on the strength of my own case to a number of people suffering with rheumatism and neuralgia, and they have one and all been cured by it, and the good work still goes on. On every side I hear the highest praise of Athlophoros."

From Providence, R. I., the same good news is reported. The happy messenger of glad tidings in the present instance is Mr. Isaac Crocker, who is well known to many people in Providence as the paper carrier who brings them their daily papers. Mr. Crocker rejoices over the cure of his son which he describes as follows:

"In the winter of 1882 and 1883 our son, who was then fourteen years old, was very sick with inflammatory rheumatism. He was confined to his bed and suffered greatly. He was very sick until the spring, and his trouble continued up to February of the present year (1885), when he saw Athlophoros advertised. At that time he was unable to move his feet. After taking two doses he could move them without pain, and by the time he had taken half a bottle he was cured. We have recommended Athlophoros to a neighbor who is 75 years old and it has helped him more than anything he ever tried. We would as soon think of being without flour as without Atlophoros."

Mrs. Millie M. Davis, of No. 193 Whalley Avenue, New Haven, says:

"For three months I suffered dreadfully with muscular rheumatism. In that time I was treated by four different physicians, none of whom relieved me of the pain and distress. They said I had waited too long, and their medicine had no effect. I did not experience the much-sought relief till I took Athlophoros, the very first dose of which eased me so much that I could, for the first time in a great while, sit down to eat my meals. I steadily improved and in a short time was completely cured of rheumatism. I gladly add my testimony to that of the many others who have been cured by Athlophoros."

If you cannot get ATHLOPHOROS of your druggist, we will send it express paid, on receipt of regular price—one dollar per bottle. We prefer that you buy it of your druggist, but if he hasn't it, do not be persuaded to try something else, but order at once from us as directed. ATHLOPHOROS CO., 112 Wall Street, New York.

WORK OF THE MANICURE.

How Finger Nails Are Cleaned, Cut and Polished—The Parisian Method.

"Let me see your nails," said the operator. She took the writer's hand and cast a critical glance at the nails. "You bite your nails," she said, "and that will never do if you expect to have nice looking hands." With this remark she rubbed a small quantity of a dull, brown colored powder on the nails, and then, with a pad or "buffer," as it is called—made of chamois skin—she rubbed them. This accomplished, she put a sort of ointment on the nails and placed the hand in a silver bowl filled with hot water, while she gave her attention to the left hand. This she put through the same course, and into the bowl to soak it went to keep the other company. They were allowed to remain there about ten minutes. While waiting for the hot water to soften the nails, the writer considered it a good time to talk for points. The operator very willingly conversed about her business. She said: "I am from Paris, in which city I studied this art. Here is one of my models," she said, laughing as she opened a drawer in her instrument case and took out what seemed to be a little roll of paper, but what proved to be when the covering was removed, a human finger. "This is what we use to study the anatomy of the nail," she remarked, as she noted the rather curious glance the writer shot at her. She rolled up the hideous little thing and placed it back in the drawer.

"The anatomy of the nail is an interesting study, like all other portions of the body," she said. "The nail is composed of three layers. The inner one is hard and has a grain running lengthwise. The next is porus or spongy, and the outer is composed of scales which, of course, can only be discerned by the aid of a powerful microscope. The habit which most people have contracted of scraping the nails with a knife or sharp instrument is very injurious. The inner hard shell is scraped off and the spongy layer exposed and dirt collects under them. People clean their nails and shortly after notice that a quantity of real estate has again gathered under them. They wonder why it is. They do not realize that every time they scrape their nails they expose a spongy surface to which dust will cling.

"The nails should never be cleaned when the hands are dry, and an ivory cleaner or scraper is the best thing to use. I guess your nails have soaked long enough now," she remarked, as she removed the silver bowl from the tray which had rested on the writer's lap. With an ivory cleaner she delicately scraped the nails, taking great care to shape the ends, or rather the flesh where it separates from the nail perfectly. This took some time, and when it was done on one hand the nails were rubbed with a pink substance bearing very much the appearance of vaseline, and the hand was then wrapped in a napkin, where it remained till the same work had been performed on the other hand. A file was then taken, and with the greatest care the ends of the nails were perfectly shaped. Care was taken that they should be filed squarely in order to expose as little as possible of the porous layer. What little is necessarily exposed is on the end where dust cannot collect and cling. Then came a very difficult and delicate piece of work. The operator took up a chisel, especially prepared, and gently pressed the cuticle back from the nail, separating it therefrom. The effect of this was to lengthen it and prevent hang nails. This done, she brought into requisition a pair of peculiarly constructed nippers and trimmed the cuticle. "Here is where the Parisian method differs from the American," remarked the operator. "The American manicures use curved scissors such as are made for surgeons, and many times accidentally cut the cuticle so that blood flows, or so much so as to make the finger feel sore and disagreeable. People who have been to American manicures find this, with one or two other methods, a source of much annoyance. With these nippers it is impossible to injure the cuticle."

The nails having been polished in a preliminary way, soaked, cleaned, cut and shaped, the final operation was taken up. A pink pomade, differing from that spoken of, was applied very sparingly. It was used to delicately tint the nails, and after it had been carefully rubbed on and cleaned off where it had stuck to the cuticle the buffer was again used to polish them. A very brilliant "shine" was given the writer's "talons," and, as he glanced at them, he could see his reflection almost clearly enough to arrange his necktie. "There," said the operator, "I think you will do." "How much?" she was asked. "One dollar, please," she replied.—Boston Herald.

TO DESIGN A MONOGRAM.

A Mass of Mixed-Up Letters and Ornaments—Rules Which Are Violated.

Scarcely anything seems so easy as to design a monogram, yet we see very few successful ones, the most of them being a mass of mixed-up letters and ornaments of which we can find neither the beginning nor the end. There is a law regulating the designing of everything, and it is this law which the true designer keeps in mind and applies to his work; the effects of obedience to this law, and its violation, are seen as clearly in the design of a monogram as in the design for a cathedral.

First, there should be harmony of composition, that is, the letters should so emphasize, subdue, or control each other

Col. Bee, the Chinese consul at San Francisco, writes to Troy, N. Y., collar manufacturers: If you are desirous of replacing your worthless help with Chinese, who are sober, industrious and non-striking, I will be ready to furnish on short notice from 10,000 to 20,000 Chinese who understand all branches of laundry work, at prices that will be satisfactory.

A Public Benefaction.

How to laundry linen as it is done in Troy, N. Y., has been kept a secret long enough; it can and should be done in every family. The Elastic Starch is the only starch in the United States that is put up by men who have a practical knowledge of the laundry profession. It requires no cooking, keeps the iron from sticking and linen from blistering while ironing, and gives shirts, cuffs and collars that stiffness and beautiful polish they have when new, which, everybody knows keeps them clean twice as long. Beware of imitations. See that the name J. C. HUBINGER & BRO., New Haven, Conn., is on every package.

Another grand old man in England, one who is not afraid to tell truths, Mr. John Bright, says: "The powers of monarchs are lessening, and the influence of the aristocracy is fading away, while the power of the people is increasing." They don't mind such talk over in England. They say it is Bright's disease.—New Orleans Picayune.

SICK-HEADACHE. — Thousands who have suffered intensely with sick headache say that Hood's Sarsaparilla has completely cured them. One gentleman thus relieved, writes: "Hood's Sarsaparilla is worth its weight in gold." Reader, if you are a sufferer with sick headache, give Hood's Sarsaparilla a trial. It will do you a positive good. Made by C. I. Hood & Co., Lowell, Mass.. Sold by all druggists. 100 Doses One Dollar.

Engineer Smith of the Panama canal company thinks the prospects of completing the canal in this century are not good.

At the Time

Of the Plantagenets it was the custom for ladies of wealth to distribute alms to the poor, and the title "lady" (Anglo-Saxon) means "giver of bread." Good bread is the staff of life, but for renewing vitality, restoring energy and vigor, nothing excels the pure G. O. Taylor Bourbon and Rye Whiskey, bottled by C. H. Graves & Sons, Boston, and sold by your druggist and grocer, who will praise its excellent qualities.

For sale by the bottle or case by John Laighton.

The President's Marriage.

The first marriage of a president of the United States in the White House took place on Wednesday evening, June 2d, when Grover Cleveland and Frances Folsom were declared husband and wife by Rev. Dr. Byron Sunderland, the ceremony taking place in the "blue room," whose walls were almost hidden by flowers and plants. The following is a complete list of the persons present:

Mrs. Folsom, mother of the bride; Rev. William Cleveland, the president's brother; Miss Rose Cleveland and Mrs. Hoyt, the president's sisters; Thomas F. Bayard, secretary of state; Daniel Manning, secretary of the treasury, and Mrs. Manning; William C. Endicott, secretary of war, and Mrs. Endicott; William C. Whitney, secretary of the navy, and Mrs. Whitney; William F. Vilas, postmaster-general, and Mrs. Vilas; L. Q. C. Lamar, secretary of the interior; Daniel S. Lamont, private secretary to the president, and Mrs. Lamont; Benjamin Folsom of Buffalo; Mr. Rogers of Senaca Falls, N. Y., and wife; Mrs. Cadman and Miss Huddleston of Detroit, Mich.; Mrs. Harmon and Miss Harmon of Boston, relatives of the bride; Miss Nelson of New York; Mr. W. S. Bissell of Buffalo, N. Y., the president's former law partner; Rev. Dr. Byron Sunderland, and Mrs. Sunderland.

The ceremony was performed at quarter past seven o'clock, and at half past eight the president and his bride, in travelling dress, left the White House by a private exit and were driven to the Baltimore & Ohio railroad station, where they took a special train for Deer Park, Md., where they will remain about a week, occupying a small cottage near the Deer Park hotel, which is not yet opened for the season.

The attire of the ladies present is described as follows:

The bride wore an enchanting wedding dress of ivory satin, simply garnished on the high corsage with India muslin crossed in Grecian folds, and carried in exquisite falls in simplicity over the petticoat. The orange blossom garniture, commencing upon the veil in a superb coronet, was continued throughout the costume with artistic skill. Her veil of tulle, about five yards in length, completely enveloped her, falling to the edge of her petticoat in front and extending the entire length of her full court train. She carried no flowers and wore no jewelry except an engagement ring, which contained a sapphire and two diamonds.

Mrs. Folsom wore a superb dress of violet satin, with garniture in white faille, with crystallized violet drops in pendants everywhere.

Miss Cleveland were an exquisite dress, a combination of Nile green and cameo pink duchesse satin with silver ornaments, low corsage garnished with pink roses, short sleeves, demi-length gloves in light tan. She carried a fan of pink curlew feathers.

Mrs. Hoyt, the president's sister, wore a dainty costume en train of China crepe in robin's egg blue, most effectively garnitured with rare old lace. Her flowers were La France roses.

Mrs. Manning's dress was of white satin, flounced across the front with duchesse lace trimmings, finished with sea pearls, square neck and elbow sleeves. She wore diamond ornaments.

Mrs. Endicott wore satin, with silver and white sapphire, draped in black Chantilly lace, diamond ornaments.

Mrs. Whitney wore a bodice of violet velvet with white satin and tulle, skirts trimmed with violets and diamond ornaments.

Mrs. Vilas' dress was light-blue silk, with long train strewn with daises of silver, front of crystal and point lace and pearl trimming, low neck and elbow sleeves.

Mrs. Lamont wore an ivory-tinted satin dress, demi-train, with a panel of crystal and pearl on the left side of the skirt, square neck corset edged with crystal and jet fringe, elbow sleeves and a beautiful corsage bouquet.

Maine Democratic Convention.

The democratic state convention of Maine was held at Bangor, and at 3:40 o'clock P. M. on the 2d inst. Col. Clark S. Edwards, of Bethel, was nominated for governor, by acclamation. Col. Edwards was colonel of the Fifth Maine regiment, and a brave soldier. He is now a farmer.

New Hampshire Patents.

The following list of patents granted June 1st, to citizens of New Hampshire, is specially reported by Franklin H. Hough, solicitor of American and foreign patents, 925 F street, N. W., Washington, D. C.:

No. 342,774. L. C. Baldwin, Manchester, window fastening.

No. 342,958. H. C. Griffin, Franklin, combination lock.

No. 342,889. G. P. Whitman, Manchester, expanding compression-rolls for slashers.

The whole number of patents granted to citizens of the United States for the week ending June 1st was 368.

A letter from Rev. Phillips Brooks, declining the office of assistant bishop of the Philadelphia diocese of the Episcopal church, gives the following reasons for declining: "My present work, in which I have been long engaged, and to which I am profoundly attached, still, I believe, welcomes and demands my care. I must not leave it, not even for such a useful and important task as I should find the service to which I am invited. There enters into my decision that I must not come to you no small element of regret, but I have no hesitation or doubt with regard to the result to which I have been led. It will always be a deep source of satisfaction to me to think of the honor and confidence with which my brethren in Pennsylvania have regarded me."

—There are 1,400,000,000 people living on the planet which we inhabit. And yet there is now and then a man who wonders what the rest of us will do when he dies.

—The Delmonico hotel at Sequin, Texas. Proprietor—"Stranger, if you are hungry, jest walk into the dinin' parlor, through the main entrance of the refreshment, and you will be waited on jest as soon as the other gentleman is through with the spoon."

—Wife—"Can you tell me, my dear, why a widower is like a young baby?" Husband—"H—m—er—because—because—" Wife—"The first six months he cries a great deal, the second six months he begins to take notice, and he always experiences great difficulty in getting through his second summer."

—Old Mr. Bentley (at the Eden Musee)—"Now, there's a statoo, Mariar, of one of them fellers they calls a dood. It looks like it was alive, don't it?" Old Mrs. Bentley (poking it with her umbrella)—"It beats all how nateral like they gits 'em up." Statue (indignantly) —"A-w—a-w."

—First train robber: "Is this the train we are waiting for?" Second train robber: "No, this only carries a couple of millions in gold to the San Francisco mint It is the next train." First train robber: "What's on the next train?" Second train robber: "A sleeping car porter with a whole week's earnings in his pocket."

Happiness

results from that true contentment which indicates perfect health of body and mind. You may possess it, if you will purify and invigorate your blood with Ayer's Sarsaparilla. E. M. Howard, Newport, N. H., writes: "I suffered for years with Scrofulous humors. After using two bottles of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, I great relief. It has entirely restored me to health." James French, Atchison, Kans., writes: "To all persons suffering from Liver Complaint, I would strongly recommend Ayer's Sarsaparilla. I was afflicted with a disease of the liver for nearly two years, when a friend advised me to take this medicine. It gave prompt relief, and has cured me." Mrs. H. M. Kidder, 41 Dwight st., Boston, Mass., writes: "For several years I have used Ayer's Sarsaparilla in my family. I never feel safe, even without it. As a liver medicine and general purifier of the blood, it has no equal." Mrs. A. B. Allen, Winterpock, Va., writes: "My youngest child, two years of age, was taken with Bowel Complaint, which we could not cure. We tried many remedies, but he continued to grow worse, and finally became so reduced in flesh that we could only move him upon a pillow. It was suggested by one of the doctors that Scrofula might be the cause of the trouble. We procured a bottle of and commenced giving it to him. It surely worked wonders, for, in a short time, he was completely cured."

At Home

Sold by all Druggists.

Price $1; Six bottles, $5.

6 PER CENT GUARANTEE FARM LOANS IN NEBRASKA.

These Loans are Made and Guaranteed by the OMAHA LOAN AND TRUST CO., which has an authorized Capital of $1,000,000, and a Subscribed and Guarantee Capital of $500,000. The Constitution of Nebraska provides that the Stockholders are personally liable to the full extent of the Stock subscribed, and that in no case shall the indebtedness of the Company exceed two-thirds of the Capital Stock. When it is taken into consideration that the Stockholders consist of twenty-five of the most celebrated capitalists and foremost financial men of the Country — consisting in part of such men as Hon. Fred'k L. Ames of Boston, G. G. Williams, Pres't of the Chemical Nat. Bank, New York City, and W. J. Quinlan, Cashier of the above-named Bank, with Hon. A. U. Wyman, late Treasurer of the United States, as Pres't of the Co., it will occur to the most conservative investor that he can here invest his money and be absolutely as sure of both Principal and Interest being paid, and as promptly, as if he owned Government Bonds. The above-named Loans are in sums of from $300 to $5,000.

MUNICIPAL AFFAIRS.

In Board of Mayor and Aldermen, Thursday evening, June 3d, Mayor Eldredge in the chair:

Present the full board, except Alderman Cook.

Records of the last meeting were read and approved.

Request of Mrs. G. H. Clark for repair of drain at corner of Penhallow and Daniel streets, was referred.

Petition of W. Freeman and others for the acceptance of Spring street, was referred.

C. W. Tracy and others asked for a fire-alarm box at Lincoln and Miller avenues. Referred.

Request of C. H. Mendum for removal of a tree on the corner of Pleasant and Warren streets, and for relay of sidewalk, was referred to the committee on streets, with power.

Request of David Urch and others that the part of Water street near Newcastle bridge be called Newcastle avenue, was granted.

Marcellus Eldredge, E. S. Fay and H. F. Eldredge, for the Portsmouth Electric Light Co., were granted permission to locate poles for a system of electric lights.

Notice was received from the common council of the amendment of the appropriation bill, and non-concurrence in the joint resolutions authorizing the sale of the city farm and part of the city's railroad stock. The board concurred in the amendment, and the mayor and Aldermen Coffin, Griffin and Magraw were appointed a committee of conference on the joint resolutions.

John Nutter was granted leave to withdraw his claim for compensation for injury received by a fall on the sidewalk.

Report was made that the obstruction on Sparhawk street had not been removed, and the city marshal was instructed to see it done.

Department bills to the amount of $2,556.47 were ordered paid.

Health committee bills amounting to $10.50, previously disputed, were ordered paid.

Gas Co.'s bill, $732.92, was ordered paid.

Matter of vacations for police was referred.

Samuel P. Treadwell was reappointed tax collector for the present year.

The mayor was empowered to engage a band for the 4th of July, and to have the bells rung.

Adjourned for two weeks.

NEW PROVISION STORE.

The Flynn brothers, well known farmers living on the Greenland road, have opened the store Nos. 25 and 31 Penhallow street, near Bow street, with a complete stock of first class groceries and provisions, which they propose to sell as cheaply as such goods can be sold by any one. Fresh meats, poultry and game of all kinds in their season, and choice butter and cheese, can be found there; and fresh cream, milk, eggs and vegetables are received daily. Country produce will be bought, and goods delivered promptly in any part of the city.

GRIEVED DEMOCRATS.

A staff correspondent of the Boston Globe, having made a tour through Maine, writes that the democrats of the state are "somewhat sad but still true to their party; they are not disgusted with the administration, but they are grieved."

Commenting on this, the Biddeford Journal says the "democrats in all parts of the state are not only 'somewhat sad' but they are thoroughly mad; they are not only 'grieved' with the administration, but they are disgusted and disgruntled by its snail-pace action in turning the rascals in, and the exasperating coolness with which men who have borne the burden and heat of the day have been shoved aside, and those whose chief distinction as democrats is their activity in seeking the offices—after election—are brought to the front." The Journal continues:

We have in mind several representative democrats in this county who have been practically frozen out of the party by this wet-blanket process, and are beginning to look about for a place of shelter. Col. William A. Cromwell, of South Berwick, has been for years one of the trusted and active members of his party in this state; he stood high in its councils, and has devoted time and money to its interests. He very naturally supposed that he would be allowed some voice in the distribution of the offices in the state, and especially those in his own county. While he has been gracefully received and patiently listened to at Washington, his advice and wishes have been almost uniformly set aside in favor of the men of the count-out Chairman Brown stamp. The resignation of his position as a member of the state committee meant much more than appeared on the surface, if his outspoken denunciation of the administration and its methods are to be taken as genuine.

Another representative York county democrat who does not hesitate to denounce the administration in vigorous English for its shilly-shallying, is the veteran E. C. Spinney of Kittery, one of the veritable "war horses" of the party in the past. He declares his contempt for an administration which, claiming to be democratic, uniformly frowns upon and snubs the great mass of its own party, and reserves its smiles and fat places for a parcel of toplofty mugwumps.

A large crop of grass was gathered from the Haymarket square reservoir on Thursday of this week.

The sailboat which was capsized and sunk between Badger's and Pumpkin islands on the 2d inst., having freed herself of ballast came to the surface again, and drifted up against Portsmouth bridge, where she hung against the piles until the ebb tide, when she drifted down against the Gangway rock drill platform, where she was recovered by her owner, Mr. Al. Goodwin, about seven o'clock in the morning on the 3d. Her mast and sails were gone, and the hull somewhat damaged.

At a meeting of the committee on the celebration of the 150th anniversary of St. John's Lodge of Masons, held on the evening of the 2d inst., it was reported that every lodge heard from in response to invitation to be present, had accepted.

Mr. Editor: I was glad to see your remarks about a home for the soldiers. If the present head of the pension office is too much of a physical wreck to be able to consider the just claims of a soldier for a pension, and if President Cleveland can spare more time to pick out defects in a case which comes from Congress for his signature, then the disabled and needy soldiers will have to be cared for by their friends instead of an ungrateful republic. Let us have a Home. ANTIETAM.

Contractor Shanahan on the 2d inst. laid fifteen feet of the four-foot sewer on his end of the line. The two ends are less than 200 feet apart, but the intervening ledge is the hardest and most difficult to remove yet met with in excavating the trench. It has been decided to tunnel the rest of the distance, and the work of so doing will probably commence to-day.

When the U. S. S. Leyden left this port on the 2d inst. she had in tow two ninety-foot spars, formerly lower masts of the U. S. S. Constitution, to be towed to Newport, R. I., for special use there.

While the Woman's Temperance League regret that Marshal Norton failed to fully carry out the mayor's instructions in regard to the closing of the liquor saloons on Memorial day, they were much pleased to notice that the paper called "The Memorial" contained no advertisement of any liquor dealer; they also would take this opportunity of extending their thanks to the mayor for his action. COM.

The schooner Loella, Capt. Amee, arrived on the 2d inst. from Bangor with a load of lumber for Thomas E. Call & Son.

The fourth officer of the steamship Indiana, of the American Line between Philadelphia and Europe, informs us that there is no truth in the despatch from Philadelphia concerning the laying up of all the steamers of the line, at least so far as the Indiana is concerned, as that vessel will sail for Liverpool on the 19th inst.

The steamer May Queen will make a trip from Dover to York beach on Sunday, June 13th, touching at the Gas Co.'s wharf going and returning. If satisfactory arrangements can be made, she will be put to run between this city and York beach regularly, after the season is fairly open. She will make a trip to the Shoals next Sunday, the 6th, leaving Gas-house wharf at nine o'clock in the forenoon.

The fishing schooner Helena Young, of Cape Porpoise, Me., which was several weeks ago reported lost, arrived at Cape Porpoise on Sunday, May 30th, with between 40,000 and 50,000 lbs. of fish. This was the vessel from which two of the crew deserted on Jeffrey's, taking a dory and gear, and landing on Star island with a cock-and-a-bull story about having lost the schooner in a fog, and been several times upset in their endeavor to reach the land.

Hon. Thomas B. Reed was renominated as a candidate for Congress in the first congressional district of Maine (York and Cumberland counties) on the 3d inst. Proposals will now be in order from democrats who will contribute liberally in return for the empty honor of a candidacy against the present member.

The grand jury of York county, after being in session several weeks at Alfred, were dismissed May 29th, having reported a large number of indictments, among which were the following, for crimes in connection with the wholesale frauds committed by the Biddeford democratic wire-pullers at the last municipal election: John Gillis, Fred T. Gillis, Edward Smith and Lawrence Charlton, of Portland, for illegal voting; Joseph H. Cote, Elias Clark, Charles H. Andrews, James E. Carter and Noel Velandre, for conspiracy; and all the persons named, for conspiracy jointly. The four Portland men are the roughs who as alleged did the repeating at the polls. Clark was foreman of the grand jury up to the time the court commenced, when he resigned, his resignation being promptly accepted by the judge.

A "cooking matinee" will take place at the store of Mr. John Laighton, No. 1 Market square, to-day and to-morrow, which all are cordially invited to attend and learn the great variety of uses to which Cerealine can be put in cooking. Muffins, biscuit, soups, pastries, etc., will be neatly and tastfully served to those desirous of testing the merits of this food.

Soda is the natural alkali of the blood, and is principally given in diseases attended with acidity of the stomach, such as gout, dyspepsia, etc. Preston's Pocket Package is convenient for travellers, and the Tablets perfectly reliable.

Fifty cent underwear for thirty-five cents. Messrs. H. C. Hewitt & Co., No. 32 Congress street, offer fifty dozen fine Summer Merino Shirts and Drawers for only thirty-five cents each. Don't fail to examine this wonderful bargain.

President Cleveland's last official act before he entered the matrimonial estate was to sign the Alabama claims court bill, which he did about five o'clock in the afternoon on his wedding day. This measure authorizes the payment of the awards made by the court.

SKIN TORTURES — AND — BLOOD HUMORS

HUMILIATING Eruptions Itching and Burning Skin Tortures, Loathsome Sores, and every species of Itching, Scaly, Pimply, Inherited, Scrofulous and Contagious Diseases of the Blood, Skin and Scalp, with Loss of Hair, from infancy to old age, are positively cured by CUTICURA, the great Skin Cure, and CUTICURA SOAP, an exquisite Skin Beautifier, externally, and CUTICURA RESOLVENT, the new Blood Purifier, internally.

COVERED WITH SORES.

I have been afflicted since last March with a Skin disease the doctors called Eczema. My face was covered with scabs and sores, and the itching and burning were almost unbearable. Seeing your CUTICURA REMEDIES so highly recommended, concluded to give them a trial, using the CUTICURA and CUTICURA SOAP externally, and RESOLVENT internally, for four months. I call myself cured, in gratitude for which I make this public statement.

MRS. CLARA A. FREDERICK.
BROAD BROOK, CONN.

SCALP, FACE EARS AND NECK.

I was afflicted with Eczema on the Scalp, Face, Ears and Neck, which the druggist, where I got your remedies, pronounced one of the worst cases that had come under his notice. He advised me to try your CUTICURA REMEDIES, and after five days use my scalp and part of my face were entirely cured, and I hope in another week to have my ears, neck, and the other part of my face cured. HERMAN SLADE.
120 E. 4TH STREET, NEW YORK.

ITCHING DISEASES CURED

CUTICURA stands at the head of its class, especially is this the case with the CUTICURA SOAP. Having had an unusually good sale this summer, owing to the prevalence of an aggravated form of itch through some localities in the country, in which the CUTICURA REMEDIES proved satisfactory. W. L. HARDIGG, Druggist.
UNIONTOWN, KY.

CURE IN EVERY CASE.

Your CUTICURA REMEDIES outsell all other medicines I keep for skin diseases. My customers and patients say they have effected a cure in every instance, where other remedies have failed.

CUTICURA REMEDIES

Are sold by all druggists. Price: CUTICURA, 50 cents; RESOLVENT, $1.00; SOAP, 25 cents. POTTER DRUG AND CHEMICAL CO., Boston. Send for "How to Cure Skin Diseases."

BEAUTIFY the Complexion and Skin by using the CUTICURA SOAP.

Constitutional Catarrh.

No single disease has entailed more suffering or hastening the breaking up of the constitution than Catarrh. The sense of smell, of taste, of sight, of hearing, the human voice, the mind,—one or more, and sometimes all, yield to its destructive influence. The poison it distributes throughout the system attacks every vital force, and breaks up the most robust of constitutions. Ignorant, because but little understood, by most physicians, impotently assailed by quacks and charlatans, these suffering from it have little hope to be relieved of it this side of the grave. It is time, then, that the popular treatment of this terrible disease by remedies within the reach of all passed into hands at once competent and trustworthy. The new and hitherto untried method adopted by Dr. Sanford in the preparation of his RADICAL CURE has won the hearty approval of thousands. It is instantaneous in affording relief in all head colds, sneezing, snuffing and obstructed breathing, and rapidly removes the most oppressive symptoms, clearing the head, sweetening the breath, restoring the senses of smell, taste and hearing, and neutralizing the constitutional tendency of the disease towards the lungs, liver and kidneys.

that the composition should impress us as compact, appropriate, and, being so, beautiful.

Second, there should be no unnecessary ornamentation; there should be a quiet and peace about the design which will always please the truly artistic. Looking at some designs, we get the impression that ornament was so plentiful that the designer saw no other means of consumption than that of burying his designs in it, for we see that there is a mass of curves, angles, shades, and leaves, but nothing else.

Third, simplicity of lettering is an important requisite, as there should be no possibility of mistaking an E for a G or C, and the boundaries or outlines of the letters should be well defined.

Fourth, the order of sequence of the letters should be carefully attended to. The common idea is that a certain number of letters are given with which to make a pleasing design, and so far, that impression is right; but there is something beyond this. There is the art of so placing the letters that one can distinguish at a glance the first, the central, and the last letter. Now, the rule to be observed to secure this result is as follows: The last letter of the monogram must be the principal feature, and must be the largest, the boldest, and the heaviest letter; then the first letter must be the next in size, but the lightest in outline and color; then the central letter must be the smallest, and of an intermediate tint. If the monogram is of four letters, the two intermediate must be of the same size, and the second letter lighter in outline and color than the third.—Art Amateur.

Success of a Mender and Darner.

A new idea has been introduced in this city which will undoubtedly be popular, and would be welcomed by the society ladies of other cities. A woman past middle age, who was recently thrown upon her own resources for a subsistence, conceived the idea of asking some of her former acquaintances in society for work as a mender and darner, at which she is very skillful. She was suprised to find herself looked upon as a special providence by many ladies whose social duties occupied so much of their time, and who have not hitherto thought it possible to obtain help in this direction. They very gladly accepted the offer, and now send to this lady's house every week all the clothing and hosiery needing repairs, which is brought back in good order within a few days. After a few weeks' experience the lady who has introduced this novelty finds herself possessed of a considerable income, and her example may be imitated with profit by others.—Washington Letter.

Long Live the Grand Duke.

A German school teacher was instructing his pupils how to act when the grand duke should pass through on the railroad, an event which was to occur next day.

"Remember, children," said the pedagogue, "that as soon as the train arrives you are to yell as loud as you can, 'Long live the grand duke!' until he leaves."

Next day when the grand duke arrived at the station, and graciously bowed from the platform of the special car, the school children made the welkin weary by yelling:

"Long live the grand duke until he leaves!"—Texas Siftings.

A Beautiful Present.

The Virgin Salt Co., of New Haven, Conn., are making a grand offer. A pair of Doves as natural as life, new design, printed in ten beautiful colors on a fine lithograph card 9x10 inches, given away with Virgin Salt (four certificates) in order to introduce it. For household purpose this salt has no equal. It is the cleanest, purest and whitest salt ever seen or used. Large package costs only ten cents. Ask your grocer for it.

Charles A. Buddenseik, the sham builder of New York, who was sentenced to ten years' imprisonment on a charge of man-slaughter, has had his appeal decided against him. He will probably have to serve his sentence.

Under False Colors. Notwithstanding the protection with which the law encircles patent rights and trade marks, no sooner does a valuable patent or proprietary article make its appearance than a horde of unprincipled persons try by every means to imitate the original. Pyle's Pearline, celebrated as a washing compound, has had a score of imitations, but the superiority of the genuine article over the counterfeits is so plainly apparent that very few people have been deceived.

Sir Roger Tichborne, better known as the claimant to the famous Tichborne estate, has arrived in New York. He is going to lecture.

Why hesitate? Hop Porous Plasters are better thrn others, do the work quicker and never fail.

Chief Engineer Eckel, of the Syracuse, N. Y., fire department, for a quarter of a century in service, was killed at a recent fire, being run over by a hook and ladder truck.

The pure and reliable virtues of the Hop Plaster give hope and strength to weak, sore lungs.

The corner stone of a soldier's memorial building was laid at Lebanon, Memorial day.

Women with pale, colorless faces who feel weak and discouraged, will receive both mental and bodily vigor by using Carter's Iron Pills, which are made for the blood, nerves and complexion.

Capt. Charles H. Chash of Portland, Me., has resigned as a member of the democratic state committee.

Neither mind nor body can act healthfully, if the blood is vitiated. Cleanse the vital current from impurities by the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla. This remedy purifies the blood, recruits the wasted energies, and restores health to the debilitated system.

The executor of the will of the late John Symonds of Keene states that the income of $31,649 will go to the widow during life, and at her decease the principal will become the property of Keene, to be used in establishing a public library.

The good opinion of the public, in regard to Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, is confirmed by clergymen, lawyers, public speakers, and actors. All say it is the best remedy for affections of the throat and lungs.

An Indian skeleton, together with a tomahawk and arrow heads, was unearthed at East Concord, May 26th.

Those unhappy persons who suffer from nervousness and dyspepsia should use Carter's Little Nerve Pills, which are made expressly for sleepless, nervous, dyspeptic sufferers. Price twenty-five cents, all druggists.

The next annual meeting of the Maine Homœopathic Medical society will be held in Augusta, in June, 1887.

Happiness is a great blessing to be purchased at so small a cost as that of a bottle of Hall's Hair Renewer.

The town of Aketa, Japan, has been almost entirely destroyed by fire.

The Greek army is disbanding.

"For economy and comfort, every spring, we use Hood's Sarsaparilla," writes a Buffalo, N. Y., lady.

The experience of the passengers on board the steamer Siberian, which was in the ice and fog eight days, was indescribable, the movements of the steamer being ahead, astern, and every moment the ominous signal "stop her" to clear one of the menacing icebergs, forcibly reminded all on board of the terrible uncertainty of their fate. At the moment the fog lifted the Siberian was closely surrounded by sixty huge icebergs, and had to reverse her engines full speed, being only 100 feet from one enormous ice mountain.

Advice to Mothers.

Are you disturbed at night and broken of your rest by a sick child suffering and crying with pain of cutting teeth? If so, send at once and get a bottle of Mrs Winslow's Soothing Syrup for Children Teething. Its value is incalculable. It will relieve the poor little sufferer immediately. Depend upon it, mothers, there is no mistake about it. It cures dysentery and diarrhœa, regulates the stomach and bowels, cures wind colic, softens the gums, reduces inflammation, and gives tone and energy to the whole system. Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup for Children Teething is pleasant to the taste, and is the prescription of one of the oldest and best female nurses and physicians in the United States, and is for sale by all druggists throughout the world. Price 25 cents a bottle. eodJan

HEALTH AND STRENGTH REGAINED.

AND DEBILITATED MEN seeking Health, Strength and Energy, should avoid Drugs, Secret Medicines, etc., and send for "The Review," or "Health and Strength Regained." A large illustrated Journal published entirely for their benefit.

It treats on health, hygiene, physical culture, and medical subjects, and is a complete encyclopedia of information for suffering humanity afflicted with long standing, chronic, nervous, exhausting and painful diseases.

YOUNG AND MIDDLE AGED MEN, and others who suffer from nervous and physical debility, exhausted vitality, premature decline, etc., are especially benefitted by consulting its contents. Everything such sufferers wish to know is fully given in its pages. If in need of medical aid or counsel, read it before "doctoring" or investing in medicines or appliances of any description, and you will save time, money and disappointment. If using medicine or medical treatment of any kind, read it and learn the better way.

THE REVIEW exposes the frauds practised by quacks and medical imposters who profess to "practice medicine," and points out the only safe, simple and effective road to health, vigor and bodily energy.

Electric Belts and all curative appliances are treated upon; all about them—which are genuine, which are bogus. Belts on thirty days' trial (?) and other fallacies reviewed. Thousands of dollars saved nervous-debility sufferers and others by the advice given. THE REVIEW is now in its ninth year of publication. Complete specimen copies mailed free.

—OFFICE, MARKET SQUARE,—

PORTSMOUTH, N. H.

How Often

We see some young man who has squandered his money and ruined his health by excesses, and before thirty years of age is an all broken down and played out man! In all such cases I prescribe nature's tonic and nervine, Sulphur Bitters. They supply food for the brain, strengthen the nerves, and are successful in nine cases out of ten.—Old Physician.

The steamship Sardinian, concerning whose safety much anxiety was felt, passed St. John's, Newfoundland, June 3d, all well.

There is no one article in the line of medicines that gives so large a return for the money as a good porous strengthening plaster, such as Carter's Smart Weed and Belladonna Backache Plasters.

The senate refused to confirm the nomination of Andrew Shanahan for postmaster at Rockland.

The best yet. Beach Soap Company's Banner Picture. Call at your grocer's and see it.

Several "ladies" at Laconia have been arrested for stealing flowers on Memorial day from soldiers' graves.

What Was It, John,

That made your face so clear and free from pimples? said his sweetheart. Why, don't you know, Eva? For over a year I took everything I could think of without helping me, then I bought two bottles of Sulphur Bitters, and now I haven't one pimple on my face. It is the best blood cleanser I ever saw.

Rev. W. R. Lord, while attempting to board a train at Wollaston, Mass., slipped and fell between the cars and the station platform. The physicians pronounce his injuries serious, but not necessarily fatal.

We recommend Carter's Iron Pills to every woman who is weak, nervous and discouraged; particularly those who have thin, pale lips, cold hands and feet, and who are without strength or ambition. These are the cases for which Carter's Iron Pills are specially prepared, and this class cannot use them without benefit. Valuable for men also. In metal boxes, at 50 cents. Sold by druggists or sent by mail. See advertisement elsewhere.

The Cunard steamship Gallia and an unknown barque were in collision off the Newfoundland coast in a dense fog, June 1st. The barque lost her foremast, and was towed sixty miles by the steamer, which arrived at Boston on the 3d.

J. L. Norton Carroll, residing at Far Rockaway, Queen's Co., N. Y., was so crippled with inflammatory rheumatism, for ten years standing, that he had to use crutches. He was completely cured by taking two Brandreth's Pills every night for thirty nights, and will answer any written or personal inquiries.

It is found that nearly thirty of the men in the International & Great Western railway shops at Palestine, Tex., at the time of a recent boiler explosion, were rendered partially deaf. Five engineers are in a critical condition.

Don't Give It Up So.

"Oh! if I had only known that in time." Known what? "Known that a simple cold in the head may develop into chronic catarrh." Well, it isn't too late, for Ely's Cream Balm will cure catarrh even after the sufferer's life has become a burden to him, and be a nuisance to his friends. It is the only radical and thoroughly scientific catarrh cure known. Not a snuff. Not a liquid. Applied to the nostrils with the finger. Price fifty cents.

On April 4th the house of Benjamin Downing on the Province road in Barnstead was broken into and robbed. On the 11th his barn was burned, and his house was set fire in two places; and on Monday, May 31st, his house was totally destroyed by an incendiary fire.

Scott's Emulsion of Pure Cod Liver Oil, with Hypophosphites.

Is more reliable as an agent in the cure of consumption, chronic coughs and emaciation, than any remedy known to medical science. It is so prepared that the potency of these two most valuable specifics is largely increased. It is also very palatable.

A LETTER-CARRIER'S STORY.

"A letter-carrier has his ups and downs as every one else has, I suppose," said one of these messengers of Uncle Sam the other day, in speaking of his experiences, "but take it all in all I would rather be a carrier at $1,000 a year than a clerk at $1,200. In the first place our position is assured as long as we are honest and attentive to our duties, and then we have our little perquisites that net us more than people generally think. I used to have a route along Beacon street near the Public Gardens, and it was a very cold Christmas indeed when the rich nobs didn't remember me to the extent of $300 or $400. For letters that brought good news I have often been given crisp $5 notes from the pleased recipients. And then the little romances, and sometimes deep disappointments and heart-burning that we know off I shall never forget the pale, anxious face with which an old millionaire used to greet me every morning for a long time, as he opened the door himself in answer to my whistle, and nervously reach for his letters. His hands would tremble as he tore open the envelopes, and then would come a long sigh of relief when he found there was no bad news. At last there came a letter that blanched his face whiter than the paper on which it was written, and he fell down senseless all in a heap at my feet. I helped to carry him up to his room, but never saw him again. Pretty soon a new family moved into the house. It was some financial trouble, I suppose, and the letter had brought ruin to the old gentleman, who had a big family to support."

Letter-Carrier W. B. Goodale, of Hartford, Conn., tells a not less interesting story, though happily its ending is not so tragic. Mr. Goodale is well known in Hartford, and his many friends to whom he had often as a carrier brought tidings of sorrow and of joy, were much pleased to receive his present message:

"For three months," he says, "I was confined to my house with inflammatory rheumatism. So severe, indeed, was my affliction that the doctors took such heroic measures as to prescribe forty grains of morphine a day, beside steaming me five hours and dosing me with all sorts of medicine. I had three doctors, but their combined skill failed to give me any relief. Finally I became discouraged and determined to let the disease do its work. I had a pair of crutches made and was nervously awaiting the worst, when a friend came to see me and advised me to try Athlophoros. After much persuasion I consented. I took the first dose at six o'clock in the evening and two more during the night. The next morning, for the first time in three months, I was able to go to work, greatly to the astonishment of my friends, who all thought I would never get around again. As Athlophoros cured me I believe it will cure anybody suffering with rheumatism. It has many friends in Hartford since the people have seen that it will do all that is claimed for it."

If you cannot get ATHLOPHOROS of your druggist, we will send it express paid, on receipt of regular price—one dollar per bottle. We prefer that you buy it from your druggist, but if he hasn't it, do not be persuaded to try something else, but order at once from us, as directed. ATHLOPHOROS Co., 112 Wall Street, New York.

CHARACTER IN THE HANDS.

Suggestive Ideas from a Leading English Magazine—A Brief List.

Our oriental friends, who are of a more slow and dignified character, disapprove of the western custom of taking hold of the precious person of an acquaintance and shaking him for welcome. It may be more dignified to bow, but if frankness and activity be our characteristics, we like the trustful mystery of a handclasp. It is an index in itself. The formal and cold character offers straight fingers for an instant; the dull and apathetic let us take hold of a hand like a dead fish; the energetic business man meets an old friend with a grip, that brings the water into his eyes; the warm-hearted takes our hand and holds it. The nervous hand, with an affectionate swiftness, comes out most readily and longingly. And is there anything more natural to a reverent love than the kissing of the hand that has been bountiful in love to us? See how far we have gone among mysteries!

Character, habits, and age are the three things that are told by the hands. When we draw the character of Heep, the hypocrite—and, as schoolboys would say, the "sneak"—Dickens did not neglect this tell-tale; "O what a clammy hand he was! as ghastly to the touch as to the sight; I rubbed mine afterward to warm it, and to rub his off. It was such an uncomfortable hand that when I went to my room it was still cold and wet upon my memory." Even if it be not that of Heep, the hypocritically humble hand is apt to writhe and squeeze its bending finger together.

The hand that little Jack Horner made sticky with his own pie in his own corner undoubtedly became with big Jack Horner, a thick-fingered, puffy index of his partiality for pies and plums. Little does the swaggerer who chinks his small change and cocks his thumbs out of his pockets imagine that thumbs and hands are as much his condemnation as the bragging seals and the chain that would anchor a ship.

The stingy man has a tight hand; his fingers keep fast hold of a sixpence, and his palm makes a careful hollow out of which it cannot roll, until he is quite sure he is obliged to part with it. The rough and the refined hand are different with a difference like that of education in the man. The lowest extremity of roughness is the hand of brute violence—a colossal paw, of iron strength, huge with muscle, vein, and sinew, but lacking all sensitiveness and flexibility—defiant in its attitudes—a human tool that has been turned into a weapon.

There are refined hands that are criminal also, but their character is the more hateful because no trace is made upon outward perfection, and their beauty is a lie. One reads in the well-cared for, or, as we might say, the educated hand, not only its own refinement, but that of other generations—the ancestors who lived at leisure from bodily toil, whose muscles were not stretched by labor, whose fingers, little used, went slender to the tips, whose very finger-nails revealed easy times, by their oval shape, not pressed and worn into hard-worked diminutive half-circles.

Yet one likes the strong hand—morally strong even if it has never been tasked with physical labor; the man's hand that is not effeminate, the girl's hand that is not a pretty waxwork, but a part of a helpful someone, who would be sweetly willing to do something for somebody else. Unless it be the weak hand of sickness, which is a most piteous sight, the hand of the weak character is not what anyone cares to clasp. More and more in this world we want the hands that can do something. As Carlyle says, the first doing would be for many a revelation.—Cassell's Family Magazine.

ONE'S MEAT IS ANOTHER'S POISON.

Some Valuable Hints Concerning the Training and Education of Children.

"Of all things," said the family physician to a young married woman of my acquaintance, solicitous about the welfare of her offspring—"of all things, never take the advice of experienced mothers. In the first place, no two of them will agree about anything, and your mind will be kept unsettled all the time. Then, if they do agree, what is true of their children may not be at all true of yours." "But," she pleaded, "are not measles, and mumps, and whooping-cough, and all those dreadful things very much the same in all cases?" "They are never precisely the same," he insisted, "in any two cases, either as to origin, or symptoms, or treatment indicated. Do not you know," he added, "that what is one man's meat is another man's poison?"

It sometimes seem as if, instead of the old medical methods of cast-iron, we had come upon a new method of infinite variation; each doctor asks his patient so many questions, and consults the individual peculiarities so much, that he seems almost to request it as a favor of each, first to "indicate" what medicine he needs, and then to take it. As civilization advances, individualities develop, and science grows more humble; it studies, instead of dictating. On my cautioning a lady at a party the other evening against a second cup of strong coffee, and advising chocolate as a better sleeping draught, she informed me that she was so constituted as to be kept awake by chocolate and put to sleep by coffee. She too has a family of young children, part of whom probably inherit this trait, and the others the more ordinary habit, and such a direct divergence might well run through the whole physical structure. How, then, can any Danger!

If you have a feeling of oppression and uneasiness a little above the diaphragm, and just below the right ribs, aggravated by lying on the right side, look out! As sure as fate, your liver is disordered. Perhaps not seriously as yet, but—fatal hepatic abscesses are not uncommon. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is the precise remedy to regulate the liver, and prevent its congestion and inflammation, and to disperse such minor indicia of its derangement as yellowness of the skin and ball of the eye, furred tongue, sourness of the breath, nausea on rising in the morning, dizziness, sick headache and constipation. By relaxing the bowels painlessly, it opens a channel of exit for the superfluous bile, checks a tendency to congestion and engorgement of the liver, at the same time giving a gentle impetus to its secretive action, and affords relief to the stomach, which is usually inactive, out of order and oppressed with wind when the bowels are costive. Use the Bitters also in fever and ague, rheumatism and kidney troubles.

A Public Benefaction.

How to laundry linen as it is done in Troy, N. Y., has been kept a secret long enough; it can and should be done in every family. The Elastic Starch is the only starch in the United States that is put up by men who have a practical knowledge of the laundry profession. It requires no cooking, keeps the iron from sticking and linen from blistering while ironing, and gives shirts, cuffs and collars that stiffness and beautiful polish they have when new, which, everybody knows keeps them clean twice as long. Beware of imitations. See that the name J. C. HUBINGER & BRO., New Haven, Conn., is on every package.

A Hartford Man Wins $1,200!

Occasionally a Hartford man turns up as a winner in a lottery, and when such an event happens, the hit is pretty likely to be made in The Louisiana State Lottery. Only a short time ago a lad named Duffy drew $5,000, and the money was promptly forwarded to him, the Times reporting the case at the time. And now comes Benjamin F. Prouty, a bookkeeper in Gold street, who receives the welcome intelligence that he is the winner of one-fifth of ticket No. 84,514, which drew the fourth capital prize of $6,000. This ticket was in the drawing of the 11th inst., Mr. Prouty was advised of his good fortune on the 21st, and today received his share of the ticket, viz., $1,200. A few years ago the same man was half owner of a ticket which drew $2,000, and he was promptly paid his share. He may be considered a lucky man, but he says the chances are open to all, and he thinks the risk worth taking. —Hartford (Conn.) Times, May 26.

Proposals for Bonds.

SEALED proposals will be received at the office of the Treasurer of the Portsmouth Machine Company, in Portsmouth, N. H., until two o'clock, P. M. of June 14th, 1886, for the whole or any part of an issue of $75,000 of the bonds of said Machine company.

These bonds are a series of one hundred and fifty bonds of five hundred dollars each, secured by a duly executed deed of trust to Edward P. Kimball, Marcellus Eldredge and Charles H. Mendum, as trustees for the holders of said bonds. These bonds bear interest at the rate of five per cent. per annum, payable semi-annually on the first days of April and October on presentation of coupon at the First National Bank of Portsmouth, N. H., the principal payable in ten years, and due in twenty years after date, and the bonds are dated April 1st, 1886. The right to reject any and all bids is reserved.

Purify Your Blood.

Among spring preparations, do not neglect that which is most important of all—your own body. During the winter the blood absorbs many impurities, which, if not expelled, are liable to break out in scrofula or other disease. The best spring medicine is Hood's Sarsaparilla. It expels every impurity from the blood, and gives strength to every function of the body. Sold by all druggists.

Citizens of Providence hold a meeting to protest against the action of the Rhode Island assembly in electing Charles R. Brayton as chief of the state police for the enforcement of the prohibitory liquor law.

At the Time

Of the Plantagenets it was the custom for ladies of wealth to distribute alms to the poor, and the title "lady" (Anglo-Saxon) means "giver of bread." Good bread is the staff of life, but for renewing vitality, restoring energy and vigor, nothing excels the pure G. O. Taylor Bourbon and Rye Whiskey, bottled by C. H. Graves & Sons, Boston, and sold by your druggist and grocer, who will praise its excellent qualities.

For sale by the bottle or case by John Laighton.

The New Hampshire Democrats.

The democratic managers met at Concord last Thursday evening to talk over the situation and fix the time for holding the state convention. The representation from this city was notably scarce. It was voted to hold the convention on Tuesday, the 29th inst.

The Boston Record's correspondent, who went to Concord to look at the Sachems, writes:

It is amusing to see the feeling of the democrats of this state toward the administration of President Cleveland. So far, those only who have been appointed to office—and they are very few—are satisfied at all. The rest are all asking each other: "Can this be Jacksonian democracy?" Still, with few exceptions, they do not dare to talk out loud. But one thing is pretty sure, Cleveland could not to-day again get the solid vote, if he could get any votes at all, of a New Hampshire delegation in a national convention.

It is asserting a good deal more than the truth when it is announced that those who have been appointed to office are satisfied. As representative democrats they are obliged to coincide with the views of the disappointed, or they would at once lose their hold on the caucus and be powerless in their positions.

Col. Edwards, the democratic candidate nominated for governor of Maine on the 2d inst., never tasted a drop of liquor in his life. He was nominated on a platform with the customary resolution of Judge Rawson of Bangor inserted, condemning the Maine law as to prohibition of liquor selling, which was interpreted to be in harmony with the Chicago platform against sumptuary laws. This resolution was unanimously adopted, and the candidate was nominated by acclamation. The candidate is in his sixty-third year, and is a successful farmer in Bethel. He does not expect to be elected.

Mr. John Holland, late assistant agent of the Cocheco Manufacturing company at Dover, has been appointed agent of that company by the directors, succeeding Hon. Zimri S. Wallingford, deceased. Mr. Holland was born in England in 1831, came to Fall River, Mass., in 1850, and moved to Taunton in 1856, where he was superintendent of the Hopewell mills until November, 1877, when he was appointed assistant agent of the Cocheco mills.

Secretary Whitney has ordered the vessels of the North Atlantic squadron to prepare for sea with all practicable dispatch. No special instructions for the cruise have been issued, but it is expected that in a few days the final programme will be sent to New York.

The vessels in the harbor of Montreal were on the 2d inst. decorated with bunting in honor of the marriage of President Cleveland, and most of them carried the American flag at the fore-masthead. A president's salute was also fired by an artillery company.

Queen Victoria sent the following cable message to President Cleveland on the 2d inst.

Pray accept my sincere congratulations on your marriage, and my best wishes for your happiness. VICTORIA.

The President's Wedding March.

BOSTON, June 4.—Of all the music ever issued in this country we have no President's Wedding March. To fill this great public want J. Thomas Baldwin, leader of the Boston Cadet band, has composed a brilliant, patriotic and beautiful President's Wedding March for the Boston Sunday Globe. The music entire will be given in the Sunday Globe to-morrow. Everybody who has a piano will want this original composition. The wise will see their newsdealer in advance.

Besieged by Moonshiners.

"We reached the house about sundown, and when we had got off our horses I called Davis' attention to a smoke curling above the trees in the distance, as if guns had been fired as a signal for something," said Deputy United States Marshal Phillips of Tennessee to a Nashville Union reporter, describing the "Peek House fight" between moonshiners and United States marshals in 1878. "I suspected something wrong and told Davis so. Well, when we were rested a little we went out to cut some corn and get other feed for our horses. What was our surprise to see hiding and peeping out from behind bushes and fence corners about a dozen men. I was in my shirt-sleeves and had only this pistol," said he, throwing down a revolver on the bed beside him. "I said to Davis that it would do well to examine into the reason why all these men should be present, so we got over the fence into a cornfield, and a good many of them ran off. There was one man who yelled 'Come back and fight like men!' to the fleeing moonshiners, but that did no good.

"While I was watching for some one to show himself a ball fired from the rifle of one of the men struck the buckle of my suspender on the left side, cut it in two, entered the flesh, and glanced around the lower rib. I went back to the house and got my gun, but Davis jerked it away from me because his had burst. Not one of the moonshiners was hurt. This was Friday evening. We went back to the house, went in, and during the night the house was surrounded by between fifty and one hundred moonshiners. I was considerably weakened from the loss of blood, and remained on the first floor. The rest of the men, except two, whom we had dispatched to Nashville for reinforcements, went to the second story. The chinking and bobbing was out of the space between the logs, and through these cracks the men poked their firearms at the horde of besiegers who thronged about the house all day Saturday. During this day Charles Tippen and Press Smith were wounded, one in the arm and the other in the nose and cheek.

"The fusillade was kept up all day, our men watching the moonshiners and they keeping at a safe distance and as much out of sight as they could. They offered to buy the house from old man Peek to set it on fire, but this scheme did not materialize. They did take the front part of a wagon, and, nailing a plank to screen themselves, piled kindling on it. No one could be found brave enough to let the fence down that the wagon might be backed up to the house, and this attempt also failed.

"On Sunday Mrs. ——, the daughter of Mr. Peek, started to the spring to get some water, but was driven back by the moonshiners, who said they would not allow her to get water for such scoundrels as those sheltered under her roof. In about an hour it rained hard and we caught as much water from the roof as we wanted. On that day many citizens from miles around came and pacified the mob and induced them to leave us."

His Modest Little Plan.

As I was overhauling the bill file in the Senate document room to-day a pompous individual entered and at once fastened his eyes upon a clerk. He presented a large card. A Grand Army badge was printed on the left-hand end and a startling array of titles and references covered the rest of the pasteboard. He hailed from Michigan, and his general appearance indicated that he had come from his home on foot. He was frozen out with some difficulty. "What do you suppose he wanted?" asked the clerk. "A few hundred bills perhaps." "No; he said he was going to get a power of attorney from all the inmates of the soldiers' home to draw their allowance and administer upon their property. He concluded by trying to borrow car fare to ride out to the institution. That's a fair sample of the schemes we hear about." N Y Herald.

Happiness

results from that true contentment which indicates perfect health of body and mind. You may possess it, if you will purify and invigorate your blood with Ayer's Sarsaparilla. E. M. Howard, Newport, N. H., writes: "I suffered for years with Scrofulous humors. After using two bottles of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, I great relief. It has entirely restored me to health." James French, Atchison, Kans., writes: "To all persons suffering from Liver Complaint, I would strongly recommend Ayer's Sarsaparilla. I was afflicted with a disease of the liver for nearly two years, when a friend advised me to take this medicine. It gave prompt relief, and has cured me." Mrs. H. M. Kidder, 41 Dwight st., Boston, Mass., writes: "For several years I have used Ayer's Sarsaparilla in my family. I never feel safe, even without it. As a liver medicine and general purifier of the blood, it has no equal." Mrs. A. B. Allen, Winterpock, Va., writes: "My youngest child, two years of age, was taken with Bowel Complaint, which we could not cure. We tried many remedies, but he continued to grow worse, and finally became so reduced in flesh that we could only move him upon a pillow. It was suggested by one of the doctors that Scrofula might be the cause of the trouble. We procured a bottle of and commenced giving it to him. It surely worked wonders, for, in a short time, he was completely cured."

Three Peculiarities

Hood's Sarsaparilla, the great blood purifier and regulating medicine, is characterized by three peculiarities, namely:

1st: The combination of the various remedial agents used.

2d: The proportion in which the roots, herbs, barks, etc., are mixed.

3d: The process by which the active medicinal properties are secured.

The result is a medicine of unusual strength and curative power, which effects cures heretofore unequalled. These peculiarities belong exclusively to Hood's Sarsaparilla, and are

Unknown to Others

CHANGE OF NAMES OF STREETS.

The board of mayor and aldermen have voted to call a portion of Water street, near Newcastle street, "Newcastle avenue."

The part of Water street from the south millbridge to the end of what was, sixty years ago, called Frame point, was originally called Patridge street, and the name of Water street was extended over its limits in December, 1838. What is now Newcastle street was known as Long lane. Our fathers were not as ready to change names of localities as we of the present day. Before Lafayette road was so named, it was called Long Lane road. Newcastle bridge was incorporated in June, 1820, and was built in 1821, and opened for travel on Jan. 8th, 1822. Six years after that, Patridge street was called Water street. The selectmen perhaps concluded that as people had been accustomed to go to Newcastle for so many years by water, it would be appropriate in going by land to go through Water street to reach the bridge. The street began at the foot of State street and extended to the Newcastle bridge, and the name Patridge was applied within fifty years to the street which we believe was formerly known as Sifton street.

In 1838 the selectmen had an extensive overhauling of the names of streets, dropping the ancient Pitt, Jaffrey, Joshua, Oak, Cross, Mason (a name that should not have been lost sight of,) Rundlett, Rosemary, George and Gravesend streets, Maudlin lane (now Howard street,) Fetter lane (changed to Pond street, now Warren street,) Fore street and others of ancient designations, for more modern appellations. The Parade was called Market square, Liberty square was changed to Charles street, Cold lane to Richmond street, Horse lane to Liberty alley, Ann to Rock street, etc.

Of course there are often good reasons for the change of names of streets. Richards avenue, for instance, was once Cow lane, and after that named "Joshua" street in honor of Col. Joshua Wentworth, who lived in the brick house at the head of the street, now owned by the children of the late James Foster Shores. Later, when the cemetery was laid out in 1830, some person perhaps thought it worth while to copy Boston names, and the street was called "Auburn" from its mortuary associations; and after the death of the lamented Henry L. Richards, who with Dr. Robert Odiorne Treadwell had with so much personal labor and generous foresight planted the avenue with the trees which have so beautified it, it was named in honor of the hero who fell at Gettysburg, a man who though by education, training and ability, he was capable of great achievements as a military leader, seemed to be determined that in obeying the call of his country he would demonstrate that "The post of honor is a private station."

We trust that the name will remain unchanged for all coming time.

The frequent change of names of streets makes confusion at times in determining locations of building lots, or in searching the public records. It is well to preserve the old names, as historical data, but modern boards of officials perhaps do not stop to consider this.

SOLDIERS' MONUMENT.

There will be a meeting of the finance committee, Soldiers' & Sailors' monument, at the Common Council rooms on Tuesday evening, June 8th, at 7:30 o'clock. C. M. GIGNOUX, Chairman.

The Electric Light Co. of Portsmouth was organized on Monday of this week, under the general laws of New Hampshire, the stockholders meeting in the common council room and choosing Marcellus Eldredge, E. S. Fay and H. F. Eldredge directors, the board of directors subsequently choosing Calvin Page as clerk. It is estimated that the plant required, of the best and most approved kind, will cost when in working order about $20,000; and it is said that operations for the introduction of the light will be commenced immediately.

One of Forepaugh's advertising cars arrived here on Friday, and the gang of paper-hangers commenced to bill the city and adjacent country for the circus exhibition which is to be given here on Thursday, July 8th.

The Methodist society of Greenland gave a very enjoyable and successful entertainment and strawberry festival in Greenland town hall on Wednesday evening of this week. The attendance was large, and the strawberries and cream both genuine.

Mr. Arthur W. Walker is placing a curb around the front of his house on Middle street, opposite the mansion of Henry H. Ladd, Esq. A substantial foundation is being laid deep in the ground, and built from stone excavated in Deer street.

The house in which Miss Carrie G. Tanton, only child of Harry G. Tanton and Mrs. Eliza (Libby) Tanton, was on Thursday evening united in matrimony with Mr. Henry Wendell, is the same in which her grandfather and grandmother (Deacon David Libby and wife) spent the greater part of their long lives—the same house wherein her mother was born and has always lived—and this marriage took place in the same room, and the couple stood upon the same part of the room, where the bride's father and mother stood when they were joined in marriage.

It is announced that the new hotel at Pocahontas point will open for the season on the 14th inst., having twenty-five guests already engaged. The landing pier is finished, and extends out 350 feet. The steamer James Sampson will make regular trips between this city and the point after the hotel opens.

The schooner George Savage, Soule master, from Bath for New York, arrived at this port on the 4th inst. in a leaky condition, and will go on the railway.

The brick schooners G. W. Raitt, Satellite, Triton and Garnet sailed for Boston on Friday.

A strawberry festival, with vocal and instrumental music and recitations, will be given in Congress hall on Wednesday evening next, in aid of the soldiers' monument fund, by the Woman's Relief corps.

Schooner Charles E. Moody arrived at this port from South Amboy on the 3d inst. with 210 tons of coal, and the schooner William Pickering from Rondout with 1145 casks of cement—both to J. Albert Walker.

Mr. Joseph G. Adams of Gosling road, who was recently reported to have had one of his feet so badly crushed under a car in Boston as to necessitate amputation, was severely injured, but did not lose the foot, which will be saved, though he will be laid up in ordinary for a number of weeks. Fortunately for him, he had an accident policy in the Travellers' Ins. Co.

Mr. S. Follen Lothrop, of the Chelsea Rubber Co., who was here on Daniel street with E. M. Robbins, many years ago, was in the city on a flying trip Friday.

Mr. C. H. Marden of the Wentworth is at the Fifth Avenue hotel in New York, where he is ready to show plans and fix rates for summer sojourners at the best seaside hotel on the New England coast.

The steamer Mystic will go on the marine railway at Kittery on Monday, for a general clean-up and overhaul preparatory to the summer's work. She will have a new and larger propeller put on, which is expected to materially increase her speed. The steamer James Sampson will go on the Mystic's route for a few days.

Burglars entered the Boston & Maine railroad station at Kennebunkport last Thursday night, and blew open the safe. Only a small sum of money was obtained.

Business is dull in Kittery, says a correspondent. The democracy have got their long-coveted prize, and still they are not happy. The grass is growing in the streets at the navy yard, and comparative quiet reigns in the work-shops. The few mugwumps in charge of the departments draw their pay regularly, and cheer the sinking hearts of their bourbon allies with rose-colored tales of the good time coming when the appropriation for the next fiscal year becomes available. Yes, yes. A navy yard without an appropriation has few charms for the democratic patriot. — Biddeford Journal.

Col. Aaron Young, a shrewd republican from the neighborhood of James G. Blaine, has been in the city for two weeks past. His business takes him to the large centres of the country, and he reports a sentiment in favor of Mr. Blaine everywhere.—Detroit Tribune.

Don't miss the great mark-down sale of men's, boys' and children's clothing at Henry C. Hewitt & Co.'s, No. 32 Congress street. Men's all-wool suits $5 and $6, reduced from $9, $10 and $12; and children's all-wool Plaited and Norfolk suits $2.50 and $3, marked down from $4 and $4.50, are specimen bargains.

SKIN TORTURES — AND — BLOOD HUMORS

HUMILIATING Eruptions Itching and Burning Skin Tortures, Loathsome Scaps, and every species of Itching, Scaly, Pimply, Inherited, Scrofulous and Contagious Humors of the Blood, Skin and Scalp, with Loss of Hair, from infancy to old age, are positively cured by CUTICURA, the great Skin Cure, and CUTICURA SOAP, an exquisite Skin Beautifier, externally, and CUTICURA RESOLVENT, the new Blood Purifier, internally.

COVERED WITH SORES.

I have been afflicted since last March with a Skin disease the doctors called Eczema. My face was covered with scabs and sores, and the itching and burning were almost unbearable. Seeing your CUTICURA REMEDIES so highly praised, I concluded to give them a trial, using the CUTICURA and CUTICURA SOAP externally, and RESOLVENT internally, for four months. I call myself cured, in gratitude for which I make this public statement.

MRS. CLARA A. FREDERICK.
BROAD BROOK, CONN.

SCALP, FACE, EARS AND NECK.

I was afflicted with Eczema on the Scalp, Face, Ears and Neck, which the druggist, where I got your remedies, pronounced one of the worst cases that had come under his notice. He advised me to try your CUTICURA REMEDIES, and after five days use my scalp and part of my face were entirely cured, and I hope in another week to have my ears, neck, and the other part of my face cured.

Constitutional Catarrh.

No single disease has entailed more suffering or hastening the breaking up of the constitution than Catarrh. The sense of smell, of taste, of sight, of hearing, the human voice, the mind,—one or more, and sometimes all, yield to its destructive influence. The poison it distributes throughout the system attacks every vital force, and breaks up the most robust of constitutions. Ignored, because but little understood, by most physicians, impotently assailed by quacks and charlatans, those suffering from it have little hope to be relieved of it this side of the grave. It is time, then, that the popular treatment of this terrible disease by remedies within the reach of all passed into hands at once competent and trustworthy. The new and hitherto untried method adopted by Dr. Sanford in the preparation of his RADICAL CURE has proven the heavy burden of thousands. It is instantaneous in affording relief in all head colds, sneezing, snuffing and obstructed breathing, and rapidly eradicates the most oppressive symptoms, clearing the head, sweetening the breath, restores the senses of smell, taste and hearing, and unmuzzles the long constitutional tendency of the disease towards the lungs, liver and kidneys.

[Concluded from 1st page]

one method of treatment possibly suit them all?

It is really very inconvenient. It would be much easier if everybody needed the same thing, was reached by the same medicine, heeded the same advice; but what are we to do about it? I knew a conscientious mother who had two children of about the same age, and both in the high school—a boy and girl. The boy hated study, and the girl studied herself ill; yet they were inseparable companions at home, and could rarely be caught apart to lecture them separately "When I dwell," said the poor mother, "on the importance of study, I do it for Eddie's benefit, but he never heeds it, and Emily takes it to heart, and studies harder than ever. If I remonstrate with her on the danger of overwork, she keeps on just the same, but Eddie takes that part of the advice to himself, and assures me that he will never hurt himself with books." The meat for one was the poison for the other.

The the stress laid of late years on what it is now the fashion to call "heredity" comes in to limit the value of the best advice that we could give one another. In one of Bret Harte's burlesque novels he makes Victor Hugo lay it down as the key to human progress, "Educate your grandmother!" and we all now recognize the need of adapting the training of each person to his or her inheritance. For a young girl whose parents died of consumption we prescribe an out-door life instead of in-door needlework. A young man whose father and grandfather died of heart-disease would be cautioned against rowing boat-races. On the same principle you can not deal with a boy who has in his very blood the hereditary craving after strong drink as you would deal with the scion of a sober race. The heaven that lies about us in our infancy does not spread its full heavenliness over the poor, terrible little Jesse Pomeroys, born with the homicidal mania strong in them. Just when the world too hastily fancied itself outgrowing what the pious Scotch woman called "the guid auld doctrine o' original sin," the fact itself looks at us unexpectedly in the recorded history of the Jukes family, with its 200 criminals descended from a single neglected girl.

The observant parent sees, as time goes on, the strong and weak points of his own character, or perhaps those of some remoter ancestor reappearing in the child, and the questions are countless to which the situation leads. Are these manifestations of temper, for instance, of the kind that must be met outright and conquered, or of the kind that are only strengthened by resistance, and must be borne with in the knowledge that they will be outgrown? Is this sudden tendency to disregard the truth the sign of real laxity, or only of a too lively imagination? How many a conscientious parent has lain awake at night with anxiety over some fancied moral depravity that really was a thing as transient as chicken-pox! And, on the other hand, how many a parent has passed lightly by some dawning tendency that, if disregarded, would end in a terrible moral decline!—T. W. Higginson in Harper's Bazar.

BENTON'S HAIR GROWER.

All who are BALD, all who are becoming BALD, all who do not want to be BALD, all who are troubled with DANDRUFF, or ITCHING of the scalp; should use Benton's Hair Grower. EIGHTY PER CENT of those using it have grown hair. It never fails to stop the hair from falling. Through sickness and fevers the hair sometimes falls off in a short time, and although the person may have remained bald for years, if you use Benton's Hair Grower according to directions you are sure of a growth of hair. In hundreds of cases we have produced a good growth of Hair on those who have been bald and glazed for years, we have fully substantiated the following facts:

We grow Hair in 80 cases out of 100, no matter how long bald.

Unlike other preparations, it contains no sugar of lead, or vegetable or mineral poisons.

It is a specific for falling hair, dandruff, and itching of the scalp.

The Hair Grower is a hair food, and its composition is almost exactly like the oil which supplies the hair with its vitality.

BETTER THAN PROMISES

Is positive proof.

What has been done in many cases can still be done in others. Sufferers from rheumatism and neuralgia can find relief if they wish. In proof of this statement the following letters are submitted:—

East Somerville, Mass., Jan. 26, 1886.

I have been asked to give my testimony as to what good there is in Athlophoros as a cure for rheumatism, and I simply say to those who are suffering from it try it, and if it does not give relief or a permanent cure it will be a most extraordinary case. In my own case it is a well-known fact among many of my acquaintances it knocked the rheumatism out of me.

GEO. C. BOERUM, U. S. N.
44 Franklin street.

East Douglass, Mass., Jan. 25, 1886.

One-third of a bottle of Athlophoros cured me of inflammatory rheumatism. Being a cattle dealer my business compels me to be around in all kinds of weather and by constant exposure I contracted a severe and painful attack of inflammatory rheumatism in the hips and arms, which defied the supposed healing virtues of most every known remedy. Hearing that Athlophoros was doing wonders I tried it with the above gratifying results. Although the rheumatism has not troubled me for nearly a year, I always keep Athlophoros where I can lay my hands on it, and now instead of the disease defying the medicine matters are reversed. I feel perfectly safe for I know Athlophoros will cure rheumatism.

E. P. HEATH.

Boston, Mass., Jan. 8, 1886.

Yes, sir; Athlophoros will cure rheumatism and so far as my experience goes it is the only medicine that will make a complete cure, for I have tried most every thing with no effect. Certainly there was no good effect from my long use of the many so-called rheumatic cures, for all proved worthless; but when I saw with my own eyes what Athlophoros had done for a friend of mine—cured him of rheumatism—I tried it, and two doses of it relieved me so much as to permit me to put my feet on the ground, and in twenty-four hours I was standing on my feet, after which I steadily improved and soon was entirely rid of the rheumatism. So I truthfully say to anybody suffering with rheumatism take Athlophoros and you will be cured.

GUSTAF NELSSON, 216 Harrison Av.

Boston, Mass., Jan. 8, 1886.

I was suffering terribly with inflammatory rheumatism and thought I would just try Athlophoros. I did so, receiving immediate relief after taking three or four doses without any deleterious effects from it. I can honestly recommend it to any one suffering from muscular or inflammatory rheumatism. E. S. RICHARDS.

50 Washington street.

Boston, Mass., Jan. 19, 1886.

I desire to express my feeling of gratitude for the benefit I received from the use of Athlophoros, a medicine of genuine worth; being afflicted with that common but painful disease, inflammatory rheumatism, and being laid up because my feet were so swollen I could not stand up, I commenced using Athlophoros. Before half of the first bottle was used I was able to walk to my store. I continued to use it until in a short while my rheumatism disappeared entirely, the cure complete. I recommend Athlophoros because I know it to be an article of merit.

If you cannot get ATHLOPHOROS of your druggist, we will send it express paid, on receipt of regular price—one dollar per bottle. We prefer that you buy it from your druggist, but if he hasn't it, do not be persuaded to try something else, but order at once from us, as directed. ATHLOPHOROS CO., 112 Wall Street, New York.

FRAUDS IN PRECIOUS STONES.

How Colored Gems Are Imitated—The "Doublet" Method of Description.

"I suppose there is as much fraud in colored stones as there is in diamonds?"

"In comparison to the stones of both kinds that are sold the fraud in colored stones is much greater than in diamonds. There is a system greatly in use by which rubies, sapphires and emeralds of inferior color are made to resemble the fine oriental stones. This is done simply by coloring the culidt, or point, with a lasting solution of the true tint. This gives the whole of the stone the desired appearance, and when it is set no expert can discover the fraud until the stone is loosened. Even when loose I would not undertake to discover the manipulation in every case. As an example, last year I bought, during my periodical visit to London what appeared to be an extraordinary ruby, weighing about three and one-half carrots. I gave over $1,500 for it. We had it in stock for about four moths and had shown it to some of the best judges in this country. Not one of them had found fault with anything about the stone except the price. Finally my head man, while showing it to a customer, had his suspicions aroused as to the genuineness of the color. After a deal of trouble we at last got the stone into its natural state and found that it was worth about $7.50. I returned it to the firm I had bought it of, which, fortunately, was responsible. The firm lost nearly the whole amount, as its buyer had purchased the ruby for cash in the open market at Amsterdam. This is the only instance, where any large amount was at stake, that I have met with during the last few years. Respectable jewelers are always more particular who they buy their colored stones from than their diamonds.

"The second great branch of deception is the 'doublet' method. I haven't got one to show you, as we don't do anything in them, but I will give you the name of a lapidary in the city who carries a large stock of them. The method of manufacturing doublets is of a very old standing. It can be traced back to the fifteenth century, and was first described by Cardan, who said: 'A fraud of a very bad character and one very difficult to find out was employed by Zocolino. This venerable personage used to take a thin flake of real precious stones, such as ruby, sapphire, etc., when he wished to imitate those stones. He chose such pieces as had but little color and were consequently very, cheap. Underneath he placed a piece of crystal or strass (the finest flint glass) sufficiently thick, and united the two parts by means of a transparent cement in which he incorporated a coloring matter in harmony with the stone in process of manufacture. In this way this magnificent workman deceived everybody, even the lapidaries.' This same method is still in operation, though, of course, it has gradually been brought to greater perfection. The cheaper kind of doublets are made now without any real stone at all. The lower parts is strass, the upper quartz, and they are joined, like the others, with transparent colored cement. Even these stones, when set, have a beautiful appearance and stand the ordinary file test. There are an immense number of doublets in use." Almost anybody can be deceived, I suppose, with the finest quality of doublets.

"When they are set by a clever workman it is impossible to distinguish them from the genuine article, and often when they are out of the setting it is a hard matter to decide with certainty. I will give you an instance that is hardly creditable to me for I have been in this business all my life, but it will be a better illustration of the necessities of our trade than an hour's general conversation. About two months ago a lady brought me a magnificent set of emeralds, comprising brooch, ear-rings, and pendant. She wanted the two ear-ring stones altered in shape and the whole reset. I undertook the commission and completed the cutting. After the cutting was done, on looking at the stones my suspicions were aroused and I thought it was just possible they were only doublets. When the lady called I asked her how much this set of jewelry had cost. She informed me that her husband had purchased it while they were making a tour in Europe for $1,200. This strengthened my suspicions, as the emeralds, if genuine, would have been worth at least from $5,000 to $6,000. I told her my doubts, and she insisted at once on a full test. It was one of the hardest jobs I ever had. I had given it up and pronounced the stones real after working for about an hour. But later, by a very exact experiment, I found the lower part was lighter than than the upper. I at last demonstrated that they were doublets, but the finest that could possibly be produced. The lady afterward sent them to the best firm in New York, which, after a week's investigation sent back a report to the same effect. I have often had some difficulty in deciding as to the genuineness of a stone, but I never saw any jewels that puzzled me so much as those emeralds."—Chicago News.

Some Peculiarities of the Oyster.

Late studies on the oyster, by Professor Moeblius, show that out of 140 shells examined, only a very few had any foreign organism on the right valve, while the rest had sponges, hydroids, etc., on the left valve. Forty-three of these bore on their left valve the body to which the spawn fixed itself. The bottom of an oyster bed formed by old oyster shells is not smooth, the young ones being fixed obliquely. The right valve may sometimes be protected so that em-

Danger!

If you have a feeling of oppression and uneasiness a little above the diaphragm, and just below the right ribs, aggravated by lying on the right side, look out! As sure as fate, your liver is disordered. Perhaps not seriously as yet, but—fatal hepatic abscesses are not uncommon. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is the precise remedy to regulate the liver, and prevent its congestion and inflammation, and to disperse such minor indicia of its derangement as yellowness of the skin and ball of the eye, furred tongue, sourness of the breath, nausea on rising in the morning, dizziness, sick headache and constipation. By relaxing the bowels painlessly, it opens a channel of exit for the superfluous bile, checks a tendency to congestion and engorgement of the liver, at the same time giving a gentle impetus to its secretive action, and affords relief to the stomach, which is usually inactive, out of order and oppressed with wind when the bowels are costive. Use the Bitters also in fever and ague, rheumatism and kidney troubles.

A Public Benefaction.

How to laundry linen as it is done in Troy, N. Y., has been kept a secret long enough; it can and should be done in every family. The Elastic Starch is the only starch in the United States that is put up by men who have a practical knowledge of the laundry profession. It requires no cooking, keeps the iron from sticking and linen from blistering while ironing, and gives shirts, cuffs and collars that stiffness and beautiful polish they have when new, which, everybody knows keeps them clean twice as long. Mrs. Joseph Heap, the wife of Constable Heap, of the city, was troubled with rheumatism for five years and could not use her arms. Four doses of the Athlephoros cured her. D. R. Smith, druggist, 135 South Main street, Fall River, Mass.

Joseph Goeler, a peanut vendor, accompanying O'Brien's circus, was fatally beaten at Shamokin, Pa., on Wednesday night of last week. He had a habit of not giving the right change.

The Root of all Evil.

To thoroughly cure scrofula it is necessary to strike directly at the root of the evil. This is exactly what Hood's Sarsaparilla does, by acting upon the blood, thoroughly cleansing it of all impurities, and leaving not even a taint of scrofula in the vital fluid. Thousands who have been cured of scrofula by Hood's Sarsaparilla, testify to its wonderful blood-purifying qualities. Sold by all druggists.

Harry Dunlap, eighteen years old, shot and fatally wounded Mrs. Austin Wakte, near Oswego, N. Y., on Thursday, and then committed suicide.

The Plague

Raged in London in 1665, and 68,000 persons died. Epidemics are terrible in their results. Lung diseases, coughs, colds and bronchial difficulties are very prevalent in this climate, but a sovreign remedy is found in the G. O. Taylor Bourbon and Rye Whiskey, unequalled for purity and medicinal virtue. Bottled by C. H. Graves & Sons, Boston, and sold by druggists and grocers everywhere.

For sale by the bottle or case by John Laighton.

Things Have Changed Since Then.

When, under President Arthur's administration, a republican secretary of the navy used the Tallapoosa in travelling from one navy yard to another, the democratic editors almost fainted over such an exhibition of republican corruption and misappropriation of the people's money, and groaned in universal chorus over the iniquities of "Bill Chandler."

Later, when under a democratic administration several secretaries who have nothing at all to do with the navy, accompanied by their wives and lady friends, went on a grand junket of a week or so at Newport, R. I., on the Dispatch, we held our breath to listen to the roar of democratic editorial indignation which we knew was to follow such a perfidious perversion of the public property to private uses; but we were compelled to breathe again without having heard the roar, the first whisper of which has not yet arisen.

Recently, as the young lady who by virtue of having said "I do" to a question asked her by Dr. Sunderland has since become "the first lady in the land," was returning from Europe by steamer, she was met some distance down New York bay by the revenue cutter William E. Chandler, (there is something in a name, after all,) which she boarded, and was taken up the North river to a point nearest the hotel she was to stop at. No republican paper, so far as we are aware, has found any special fault with this transaction; but two of the ultra democratic papers—and only two, we believe—have heard of it, and speak in disapproval. This duet is not much like the old democratic chorus, but then things have changed since the wicked Chandler went about in the Tallapoosa. The Dover Democrat, one of the papers referred to, says:

This government vessel was ordered to do this job by the president of the United States at the public expense, and Private Secretary Dan Lamont was ordered to superintend the whole affair. It was a most absurdly ridiculous transaction throughout. Here we have been for years exposing and denouncing the wild extravagance of republican junkets and pleasure affairs on the Tallapoosa of the government, the appropriations of public vessels and other property to private uses, and chastising the republicans for such conduct, but it would puzzle all the detectives and philosophers of the universe to find any difference now.

The other displeased democratic paper is the New York World, whose rebuke is as follows:

By what right was a goverment revenue cutter used to carry the president's envoy down the bay and to bring the bride-elect to the city. Was that "Jeffersonian simplicity" and that strict construction of the privileges of office-holders of which we hear so much nowadays? No one would have thought of criticising such a use of a government vessel, run at the public expense and having public duties to perform, while Grant or Garfield or Arthur was president. But does it not invite criticism now in this era of democratic reform?

It may invite criticism, but it don't get it except from the Democrat and World. As we before remarked, things have changed.

Great Strike on the Car Lines.

Every horse railroad in New York, Brooklyn and Jersey City was "tied up" Saturday morning by order of the Empire Association, except the Third Avenue road in New York, which employs non-union men. It is to force this road to discharge its non-union employes that the wholesale strike is ordered by the union.

Mr. Blaine Denounced.

Mr. Blaine having made a speech at a meeting of Ireland's sympathizers in Portland, the British newspapers savagely criticise him, and Lord Salisbury attacked him in the house of lords. Well, unlike Secretary Bayard, Mr. Blaine does not consider it the first duty of an American statesman to please the British rulers.

Hon. Daniel Manning Resigns.

Under date of June 1st is given a letter of resignation of Secretary Manning, accompanied by President Cleveland's reply. The president refuses to consider Mr. Manning's resignation as final, but instead grants him leave of absence until Oct. 1st, which Mr. Manning accepts. It is sincerely to be hoped that his health will be so completely restored by that time that his resignation will be withdrawn.

Naval Intelligence.

Comdr. Wm. S. Dana, Lieut. Comdr. George C. Reiter, Lieuts. C. H. Arnold, Charles A. Clarke and Edward J. Dorn, Ensigns H. W. Harrison and W. G. Richardson, Surgeon Howard Smith, Chief Engr. R. B. Hine, and Asst. Engr. E. H. Scribner, are detached from the Nipsic, and placed on waiting orders. Paymaster H. T. Wright is detached from the Nipsic, and ordered to settle accounts and wait orders.

Carpenter Isaac Cooper is ordered to the Atlanta.

Chief Engineer Edwin Wells is ordered from special duty to the Omaha.

Orders have been issued for the U. S. S. Brooklyn, now at New York, to prepare to proceed to the Asiatic station to take the place of the flag-ship Trenton, now on her way home; also for the Alert, on the Asiatic station, to return home by way of San Francisco; also for the Tallapoosa, now at New York, to proceed to the South Atlantic station by way of Norfolk, where she will take on a draft of boys. The Essex, which will be put in commission in a few days, will probably be ordered to the Asiatic station to replace the Alert.

The vessels of the North Atlantic squadron are to go easterly from New York, as usual, and report for further orders, at Portland, Me. They will visit the fisheries, under instructions from the department, and it is hoped, will help to allay rather than increase the existing antagonisms.

A mulatto named John Stevens was brought into Muskogee, Indian Territory, on Wednesday night of last week, from Coffeyville, charged with having killed five persons there on the previous Friday. The victims were Dr. George Pyle, who had sworn a warrant against Stevens for cattle stealing; Pyle's wife and hired man, named Dykes; a son of Mrs. Kerr, a neighbor of Pyle, and a man named Lewis Winters.

The operatives in George B. Wentworth's shoe factory at Dover struck last week.

Mary Simmons was fatally burned in Providence, R. I., through her clothes taking fire from a grate.

Happiness

results from that true contentment which indicates perfect health of body and mind. You may possess it, if you will purify and invigorate your blood with Ayer's Sarsaparilla. E. M. Howard, Newport, N. H., writes: "I suffered for years with Scrofulous humors. After using two bottles of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, I great relief. It has entirely restored me to health." James French, Atchison, Kans., writes: "To all persons suffering from Liver Complaint, I would strongly recommend Ayer's Sarsaparilla. I was afflicted with a disease of the liver for nearly two years, when a friend advised me to take this medicine. It gave prompt relief, and has cured me." Mrs. H. M. Kidder, 41 Dwight st., Boston, Mass., writes: "For several years I have used Ayer's Sarsaparilla in my family. I never feel safe, even without it. As a liver medicine and general purifier of the blood, it has no equal." Mrs. A. B. Allen, Winterpock, Va., writes: "My youngest child, two years of age, was taken with Bowel Complaint, which we could not cure. We tried many remedies, but he continued to grow worse, and finally became so reduced in flesh that we could only move him upon a pillow. It was suggested by one of the doctors that Scrofula might be the cause of the trouble. We procured a bottle of and commenced giving it to him. It surely worked wonders, for, in a short time, he was completely cured."

Found

At Home

Sold by all Druggists.

Price $1; Six bottles, $5.

One Dollar. Hood's Sarsaparilla is the only medicine of which this can be truly said; and it is an unanswerable argument as to the strength and positive economy of this great medicine. Hood's Sarsaparilla is made of roots, herbs, barks, etc., long and favorably known for their power in purifying the blood; and in combination, proportion, and process, Hood's Sarsaparilla is peculiar to itself.

"For economy and comfort we use Hood's Sarsaparilla." MRS. C. BREWSTER, Buffalo.

"Hood's Sarsaparilla takes less time and quantity to show its effect than any other preparation I ever heard of. I would not be without it in the house." MRS. C. A. M. HUBBARD, North Chili, N. Y. 100 Doses

One Dollar

Hood's Sarsaparilla cures scrofula, salt rheum, all humors, boils, pimples, general debility, dyspepsia, biliousness, sick headache, catarrh, rheumatism, kidney and liver complaints, and all affections caused by impure blood or low condition of the system. Try it.

"I was severely afflicted with scrofula, and for over a year had two running sores on my neck. I took five bottles of Hood's Sarsaparilla, and consider myself entirely cured." C. K. LOVEJOY, Lowell, Mass.

"Hood's Sarsaparilla did me an immense amount of good. My whole system has been built up and strengthened, my digestion improved, and my head relieved of the bad feeling. I consider it the best medicine I have ever used, and should not know how to do without it." MARY L. PEELE, Salem, Mass.

POLICE COURT--BATCHELDER J.

SATURDAY, June 5th.

John F. Forsyth, charged with assaults on James Broughton, Jr., and Charles S. Broughton, was dismissed on both complaints. Sarah Broughton, charged with assaulting John F. Forsyth, was also discharged. From the testimony, which was voluminous, it appeared that Forsyth had for some years occupied a house on Hancock street owned by Mrs. Broughton, and owed $4 for rent. Summary measures were adopted to eject Forsyth and his furniture, and vigorously resisted by him; and during the hostilities one man had a pitcher broken over his head.

RUNAWAY.

A horse belonging to Anderson & Junkins, and attached to their business wagon, while standing on Merrimac street, Saturday forenoon, started on a runaway, and on turning into Miller avenue hit the wagon against a big elm tree and left it there, both tree and wagon being considerably damaged, the wagon the most. The horse kept on down town, and in attempting to turn into Vaughan street after crossing Congress street from Chestnut, slipped on the crosswalk and fell heavily, and was captured before he could gather his wits and his legs for another race.

THE NEW STONE CRUSHER.

A gang of workmen were on Saturday engaged in putting in position at the city yard the new stone-crushing machine procured to take the place of the old, worn out one which has done good service for many years. The new machine, manufactured by the Farrell Machine Co. of Ansonia, Conn., is a great improvement over the old one, being more strongly made and having greater crushing capacity, besides which it screens the crushings, dropping the pulverized portion in one place, the stone of one-inch gauge in another, the two-inch stone in a third heap, and the pieces which will not pass through a two-inch hole at the end of the screening cylinder. There are four or five thousand tons of Deer street ledge stone stacked alongside of the crusher, to commence on.

"BE SURE YOU'RE RIGHT, THEN GO AHEAD."

A writer in the Penny Post urges the city fathers to look after the bequest made for Richards avenue. The same subject came up during the administration of Ex-Mayor Page, when that official investigated the bequest, as can be seen on reference to the files in the city clerk's office. We have seen a copy of the will, by which it appears that the late Mrs. Cutts left a certain sum for the following purposes:

"First, to fence her lot in the cemetery, place suitable monuments for herself, and two tablets for her two sisters; and to have a fund to keep them in repair. Secondly, to purchase three feet or more of land on one or both sides of Richards avenue, commencing at the edge of land then occupied and improved and appurtenant to houses and extending to South road, and to add the same to the side-walks of the avenue as her executors might deem advisable, and for erecting suitable fences or walls or repairing those then erected, setting out trees, and improving the side-walks if they shall deem it expedient, such purchase and improvements to be made by the executors at such times and in such manner as they might think advisable."

The executers, after erecting the monuments and tablets and fencing the lot as directed, in 1875 expended quite a large sum in land damages and in placing curbing on both sides of the avenue, raising the grade in some places several feet, and in building fences on both sides from the dwelling houses at the northerly part of the avenue to South road. The work was done under the immediate supervision of Mr. Joseph R. Holmes, with the present street commissioner, Wm. G. Marshall, as engineer, and here the duty of the executors ended. There was no sum left in trust or otherwise to keep the avenue in subsequent repair, or for any similar purpose. The improvement was gladly accepted by the city government then in office, but since its completion needed repairs have been made from time to time by the city. Had there been such provision made, it is hardly probable that the city would have for over ten years suffered the funds to have remained without drawing upon them for an outlay in this avenue. Mrs. Cutts' directions however were fully carried out when her contemplated improvements were completed, and in regard to the bequest, "our worthy mayor and the chairman of committee on streets" are better informed than the correspondent, who perhaps "means well, but he don't know."

DEMOCRATIC CONVENTIONS.

The democratic congressional convention for the 1st district will be held at Manchester, June 30th; the councillor convention for the 1st district at Newmarket, Sept. 1st; the senatorial conventions for the Portsmouth district at Portsmouth, Sept. 2d, for the Newmarket district at Newmarket, Sept. 9th, and for the Rockingham district at Exeter, Sept. 2d; Rockingham county convention at Portsmouth, Sept. 8th. The state convention will be held at Concord, June 29th.

There is to be a special meeting of the city councils this evening at eight o'clock.

Six persons were baptised at Noble's island on Sunday by Rev. Dr. Alden of the Middle street church and Rev. Mr. Waldron of the Freewill Baptist church.

The Forepaugh party of advance advertisers, who were engaged in "papering" this city and the surrounding towns on Friday and Saturday of last week, expended for billboards alone $120, including $90 paid for putting up new ones at the old Middle street gravel pit and other places.

Major Urch has bought a driving horse —a very fine animal, apparently.

The Dover cornet band has been engaged to accompany the Masonic lodge of that place to this city on St. John's day, the 24th inst.

The percentage of the receipts from the two entertainments given for the benefit of the soldiers' monument by the Helene Adell Dramatic Co., amounts to a trifle over $30, and will, after the next meeting of Storer Post, be turned over to C. M. Gignoux, treasurer of the monument fund.

The tunnelling machinery to be used in boring a hole for the Deer street sewer was being set up on Saturday.

The work of repairing the culvert through which the Eldredge brook passes under Creek street has been completed by the railroad men, who have made a good job of it.

George Woods of this city, who engineered the sawdust swindle on one of the Portsmouth and Boston express companies not long since, has been sent to the Massachusetts state prison for a year. Inventive enterprise does not always meet with the encouragement hoped for.

Mrs. Mary E. Green, nee Cunningham, formerly of this city, now of Boston, who recently pleaded guilty to two charges of larceny of money from her mother, and afterward was sued by her father, Michael Cunningham, to compel the transfer of title of certain real estate, has satisfactorily settled with regard to the latter, having deeded the property back to her parents.

Mr. Robert Roberts, who died in this city last week, was a native of Wales, and came here in the ship Athens about 1841. He sailed out of this port several years, and then settled down ashore, and was the leading rigger of the port for years, at a time when riggers had more to do here than they ever will have again. Afterward he engaged in the coal trade, and later still was largely engaged in teaming, for a long time hauling all of E. F. Siss & Co.'s coal. He was about seventy-one years old at the time of his death.

The graduation exercises and reception of the high school class of '86 will take place on Friday, June 25th.

Pay Director Caleb J. Emery, on the retired list of the navy, died in Newton, Mass., June 5th, aged sixty-six years. He was a captain of volunteers in the Mexican war, and was appointed an assistant paymaster in the navy from this state in 1855. In 1863-65 he was stationed here as inspector of provisions and clothing at the navy yard, and pay and purchasing paymaster.

A writer in the New York Tribune says: C. P. Kimball, of Chicago, who is an old Maine man, told me recently that in coming from Washington the other day with Congressman Hewitt, they fell into conversation about Congressman Reed, of Maine, who is recognized as the republican leader in the lower house of Congress. Mr. Hewitt said: "Reed is a wonderfully strong and able man, and what he does not know about parliamentary tactics is not worth the knowing. I had a tilt with him last week, when all the arguments and right were on my side, but hang me if he did not have me in a hole before I knew it, and the hole was so deep that he left me floundering in it, while the house went on about something else. Reed is too smart for any of us."

A letter to the Army and Navy Journal from the naval academy says: "The Jamestown and the Constellation are in perfect order for the summer cruise, the synopsis of which includes Portsmouth and return, as in previous summer cruises."

SKIN TORTURES —AND— BLOOD HUMORS

HUMILIATING Eruptions Itching and Burning Skin Tortures, Loathsome Sores, and every species of Itching, Scaly, Pimply, Inherited, Scrofulous and Contagious Diseases of the Blood, Skin and Scalp, with Loss of Hair, from Infancy to old age, are positively cured by CUTICURA, the great Skin Cure, and CUTICURA SOAP, an exquisite Skin Beautifier, externally, and CUTICURA RESOLVENT, the new Blood Purifier, internally.

COVERED WITH SORES.

I have been afflicted since last March with a Skin disease the doctors called Eczema. My face was covered with scabs and sores, and the itching and burning were almost unbearable. Seeing your CUTICURA REMEDIES so highly recommended, concluded to give them a trial, using the CUTICURA and CUTICURA SOAP externally, and RESOLVENT internally, for four months. I call myself cured, in gratitude for which I make this public statement.

MRS. CLARA A. FREDERICK.
BROAD BROOK, CONN.

SCALP, FACE EARS AND NECK.

I was afflicted with Eczema on the Scalp, Face, Ears and Neck, which the druggist, where I got your remedies, pronounced one of the worst cases that had come under his notice. He advised me to try your CUTICURA REMEDIES, and after five days use my scalp and part of my face were entirely cured, and I hope in another week to have my ears, neck, and the other part of my face cured.

ITCHING DISEASES CURED.

CUTICURA stands at the head of its class, especially is this the case with CUTICURA SOAP. Having had an unusually good sale this summer, owing to the prevalence of an aggravated form of itch through some localities in the country, in which the CUTICURA REMEDIES proved satisfactory.

W. L. HARDIGG, Druggist.
UNIONTOWN, KY.

CURE IN EVERY CASE.

Your CUTICURA REMEDIES outsell all other medicines I keep for skin diseases. My customers and patients say they have effected a cure in every instance, where other remedies have failed.

Constitutional Catarrh.

No single disease has entailed more suffering or hastening the breaking up of the constitution than Catarrh. The sense of smell, of taste, of sight, of hearing, the human voice, the mind,—one or more, and sometimes all, yield to its destructive influence. The poison it distributes throughout the system attacks every vital force, and breaks up the most robust of constitutions. Ignored, because but little understood, by most physicians, impotently assailed by quacks and charlatans, these suffering from it have little hope to be relieved of it this side of the grave. It is time, then, that the popular treatment of this terrible disease by remedies within the reach of all passed into hands at once competent and trustworthy. The new and hitherto untried method adopted by Dr. Sanford in the preparation of his RADICAL CURE has won the hearty approval of thousands. It is instantaneous in affording relief in all head colds, sneezing, snuffing and obstructed breathing, and rapidly removes the most oppressive symptoms, clearing the head, sweetening the breath, restoring the sense of smell, taste and hearing, and neutralizing the constitutional tendency of the disease towards the lungs, liver and kidneys.

Mean Minds and Little Natures.

Mean minds and little natures skim lightly through all branches of learning, and only gain a mere "talking" knowledge of anything. While seeming to know everything, literally they know nothing, except in the most superficial way.—Mme. George Sand.

Curious Discovery of Rare Metals.

The rather curious discovery has recently been made that in common alluvial clay, used in Germany for brick making, some of the rarest metals made occur. Among these is cerium and yttrium. The immediate effect is to render the bricks of a bright flesh or yellow color, hitherto supposed to be due to the presence of iron. It is probable that large quantities of the oxides of the above metals will, through this discovery, be rendered available in the arts.—Scientific Journal.

Magnetization of Non-Metallic Substance.

Professor Oliver Lodge has recently made a discovery which is certainly of a somewhat startling character. He has found that not merely iron and steel, but that it is exceedingly probable that every substance possesses some capacity for permanent magnetization. Even a piece of wood has become magnetized, or, as he expresses it, a piece of pitch pine suspended between the poles of an electric magnet behave exactly like a weak compass needle.—Texas Siftings.

A Shred of Fine Cut Tobacco.

"It is surprising," says Mr. John H. Sullivan, "what a trifling thing will start a stampede that may cost many lives and the loss of hundreds of cattle before it can be controlled. I was coming up the Texas trail once with a party of other cowboys. We had 4,000 cattle in the bunch. One of the boys opened his tobacco-pouch to get a chew. The wind blew a shred or two of the fine cut out of his fingers. The tobacco floated away and lodged in a steer's eye. In a moment the eye began to smart, and the steer got wild. Its antics started others, and in ten seconds the whole herd was surging and dashing about, out of all control. It was two days before we got the herd working quietly again. Two of our best boys were trampled to death, and scores of cattle were lost."—Exchange.

The Lessons of the Gymnasium.

It is one of the first lessons of the gymnasium, given to each on entering, and held up to him during all the time he remains, that these exercises are not exercises of vanity or jugglery, but are intended to prepare for the work which benefits a man, and for responding to the noblest calls of life; that their aim is to form a healthy, strong, valiant, gladsome man, to endow his body with strength and endurance to render him fit to undergo the hardships of a march and the work of the camp and battle-field. Vanity and empty swagger are restrained; chastity is taught to be the first duty of every German and Christian: beings effeminate or dissolute are pointed at with abhorrence, and none are allowed to stay in this strict and honorable association who have done, or suffered to be done, anything infamous or vicious.—Arndt.

BLOW YOUR NOSE.

Disgusting Habit.

(From the Chicago Herald.)

Perhaps the most disgusting and filthy habit to which Americans are addicted, is the dirty indifference to the use of the handkerchief, and the substitution of the mouth for the offices of the nose. There is no sight so nauseating, revolting and sickening; nothing so suggestive of putrescence as this public relief of the nose and mouth. It is seen on the street, even in the church and theatre, and most offensively in a crowded car and in the presence of ladies, who see there is no escape from its unsightliness, except to leave the car, or kill the perpetrator of such nastiness. Any one who can persist in the habit, after seeing another in the performance of an act so disgusting, must have either an iron-clad stomach or no stomach at all, or is too mean to buy a handkerchief, or too ignorant to know its use. The physiological place of the nose is highly important. Its relation to and sympathy with some of the most dangerous maladies which afflict mankind, are clearly understood. In catarrh, asthma, bronchitis, diseases of the bronchi and lungs and sordered stomachs, it is sympathetically and deeply affected. By the disuse of the handkerchief, the mucous accumulations from the diseased organs drip into the throat and stomach; hence the use of the handkerchief is not only a duty we owe to decency but to health. The nose being always sensitive to these inflammatory secretions of the throat and bronchial tubes, needs attention and nature intended it as a discharge pipe. There is no doubt that by this abuse of the nose, and by this accumulation of these nauseous secretions, incipient consumption is hastened and the throat and bronchial maladies greatly aggravated. The proprietors of Duffy's pure malt whiskey, an article which has a reputation all over the country as being the most effective element in the cure of consumption and kindred troubles, say that of the thousand persons with whom their Medical Department is in constant correspondence on this one subject alone, fully one-half say their troubles are directly traceable to neglect of the proper functions of the nose. We have refrained for a long time from making allusion to a thing so distateful, but it seems to be a growing vice and must be suppressed, if it takes a law to do it. Nuisances can be abated by law, and why not a nuisance which contagion may lurk in these filthy emissions.

Something that will quiet the nerves, give strength to the body, induce refreshing sleep, improve the quality of the blood, and purify and brighten the complexion, is what many persons would be very glad to obtain. Carter's Iron Pills are made for exactly this class of troubles, and are remarkably successful in accomplishing the ends desired, as named above. They are useful for both men and women. Sold by druggists. Price, 50 cents a box. See advertisement.

The journeymen plumbers of Boston, after being on strike five weeks, returned to work Friday morning, under an agreement that the nine-hour system shall go into effect on March 1st, 1887.

Advice to Mothers.

Are you disturbed at night and broken of your rest by a sick child suffering and crying with pain of cutting teeth? If so, send at once and get a bottle of Mrs Winslow's Soothing Syrup for Children Teething. Its value is incalculable. It will relieve the poor little sufferer immediately. Depend upon it, mothers, there is no mistake about it. It cures dysentery and diarrhœa, regulates the stomach and bowels, cures wind colic, softens the gums, reduces inflammation, and gives tone and energy to the whole system. Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup for Children Teething is pleasant to the taste, and is the prescription of one of the oldest and best female nurses and physicians in the United States, and is for sale by all druggists throughout the world. Price 25 cents a bottle. eod1an

WHO IS UNACQUAINTED WITH THE GEOGRAPHY OF THIS COUNTRY WILL SEE BY EXAMINING THIS MAP THAT THE

CHICAGO, ROCK ISLAND & PACIFIC RAILWAY

By reason of its central position and close relations to all principal lines East and West, at initial and terminal points, constitutes the most important and continental link in that system of through railway connection which invites and facilitates travel and traffic between cities of the Atlantic and Pacific Coasts. It is also the favorite and best route to and from points East, Northeast and Southeast, and corresponding points West, Northwest and Southwest.

The Great Rock Island Route

Guarantees its patrons that sense of personal security afforded by a solid, thoroughly ballasted roadbed, smooth tracks, well ventilated cars, substantially built culverts and bridges, rolling stock as near perfection as human skill can make it, the safety appliances of patent buffers, platforms and air-brakes, and that controlling discipline which governs the practical operation of all its trains. Other specialties of this route are Transfers at all connecting points in Union Depots, and the unsurpassed comforts and luxuries of its Passenger Equipment.

The Fast Express Trains between Chicago and Peoria, Council Bluffs, Kansas City, Leavenworth and Atchison are composed of well ventilated, easy riding Reclining Chair Coaches, Magnificent Pullman Palace Sleepers of the latest design, and Magnificent Dining Cars, in which elaborately cooked meals are leisurely eaten. Between Chicago and Kansas City and Atchison they are also run the Celebrated Reclining Chair Cars.

The Famous Albert Lea Route

Is the direct and favorite line between Chicago and Minneapolis and St. Paul, where connections are made in Union Depots for all points in the Territories and British Provinces. Over this route Fast Express Trains are run to the watering places, summer resorts, picturesque localities, and hunting and fishing grounds of Iowa and Minnesota. It is also the most desirable route to the rich wheat fields and pastoral lands of interior Dakota.

Still another DIRECT LINE, via Seneca and Kankakee, has been opened between Cincinnati, Indianapolis and Lafayette, and Council Bluffs, Kansas City, Minneapolis and St. Paul and intermediate points.

HEALTH AND STRENGTH REGAINED.

AND DEBILITATED MEN seeking Health, Strength and Energy, should avoid Drugs, Secret Medicines, etc., and send for "The Review," or "Health and Strength Regained," a large illustrated Journal published entirely for their benefit.

It treats on health, hygiene, physical culture, and medical subjects, and is a complete encyclopedia of information for suffering humanity afflicted with long standing, chronic, nervous, exhausting and painful diseases.

YOUNG AND MIDDLE AGED MEN, and others who suffer from nervous and physical debility, exhausted vitality, premature decline, etc., are especially benefited by consulting its contents. Everything such sufferers wish to know is fully given in its pages. It is need of medical aid or counsel, read it before "doctoring" or investing in medicines or appliances of any description, and you will save time, money and disappointment. If using medicine or medical treatment of any kind, read it and learn the better way.

THE REVIEW exposes the frauds practised by quacks and medical impostors who profess to "practice medicine," and points out the only safe, simple and effective road to health, vigor and bodily energy.

Electric Belts and all curative appliances are treated upon; all about them—which are genuine, which are humbugs. Belts on thirty days' trial (?) and other fallacies reviewed. Thousands of dollars saved nervous-debility sufferers and others by the advice given. THE REVIEW is now in its ninth year of publication. Complete specimen copies mailed free.

A broken journal caused the derailing of five refrigerator cars, loaded with dressed beef, on the Chicago express freight, near Bow, on the Concord railroad last Friday afternoon. Three cars were quite badly wrecked, and both tracks were blockaded several hours, necessitating the running of all trains by the Suncook branch.

PEARLINE. James Pyle's Pearline stands pre-eminent as a most valuable acquisition to the laundry, for it very greatly lessens the labor of washing. It should be, as it very generally is, in every household. No family is so rich as to do without it and none so poor as not to afford to have it. It is obtainable at all grocery stores.

Further details of the attack made at Belfast, Ireland, upon the Catholic navvies, shows that it was a most cowardly affair, the assailants numbering 2,000, while there were only about 100 of the navvies. Twelve of the latter were taken to the hospital, and one, James Curran, eighteen years old and the sole support of a widowed mother, was taken dead from the water. The Orangemen elsewhere strongly denounce the cowardly and brutal attack. The police, armed to the teeth, were patrolling the streets in force on the 5th inst., and the military in the barracks were held in readiness to march out at a minute's notice. The fear was general that Belfast was likely to have another of its historic riots.

BENTON'S HAIR GROWER.

All who are BALD, all who are becoming BALD, all who do not want to be BALD, all who are troubled with DANDRUFF, or ITCHING of the scalp, should use Benton's Hair Grower. EIGHTY PER CENT of those using it have grown hair. It never fails to stop the hair from falling. Through sickness and fevers the hair sometimes falls off in a short time, and although the person may have remained bald for years, if you use Benton's Hair Grower according to directions you are sure of a growth of hair. In hundreds of cases we have produced a good growth of Hair on those who have been bald and glazed for years, we have fully substantiated the following facts:

We grow Hair in 40 cases out of 100, no matter how long bald.

Unlike other preparations, it contains no sugar of lead, or vegetable or mineral poisons.

It is a specific for falling hair, dandruff, and itching of the scalp.

The Hair Grower is a hair food, and its composition is almost exactly like the oil which supplies the hair with its vitality.

DOUBLE AND TRIPLE STRENGTH.

When the skin is very tough and hard, and the follicle is apparently effectually closed, the single strength will sometimes fail to reach the papilla; in such cases the double or triple strength should be used in connection with the single, using them alternately.

The Frog Academy.

Old Doctor Chug was a cultured frog
Who kept an academy
In the moist precincts of an ancient bog,
Where he dwelt with his family.

And the students, to show they were not afraid,
Sang every night this serenade:
Chug, Chug, old Chugglum Chug,
Under the lily leaves all so snug,
Chug, Chug, old Chugglum Chug—
We'll tickle his shoulders to make them shrug.

Old Doctor Chug had inquiring eyes,
An imperturbable face,
While his portly mouth was a useful size,
And his voice was a trombone bass.

In thorough bass he could teach by rote,
And gesture could teach by rule;
So they learned to quote, and to sing by note,
In the Frogs' Collegiate School.

Now Doctor Chug had a mind serene,
A fountain of Grecian thought,
And his head demesne had a campus green
Where Olympian games were taught.

All the students were athletes big and bold,
Excelling in strength and ease;
While the younger Chugs, it was proudly told,
Were experts at the light trapeze.

Old Doctor Chug was a social man,
Adored for his hidden wit
He had set the fashion for bottle green,
And his clothes were a tailor fit.

"Now take advice, and from conflict hide,
And live," said the worthy dean.
"You may swell with pride and be ill betide,
But beware of a French cuisine."

DEACON SUMPTER'S DREAM.

The following true anecdote is communicated to Tid-Bits by a gentleman of Galesburg, Mich.:

Deacon Sumpter, a kind-hearted and righteous man, dwelt, during the reign of George III., upon the outskirts of Plymouth, England. One night in the early springtime, having retired to rest at his usual hour, his sleep was disturbed by a remarkable dream. It appeared to him that he could hear most distinctly a voice from heaven saying to him, "Arise, and go without delay to Bodmin." Bodmin was a market town in the adjoining county (the county of Cornwall) about twenty-five miles from Plymouth. The deacon was not a superstitious man, though living in a superstitious age. He was a man of strong mind and will, not easily moved by strange fancies. Yet the dream troubled him. After thinking about it for some time, he aroused his wife and told her what had disturbed him, and how deep the impression it had made upon him. As she had not herself been dreaming, she could not realize it as he did, and urged him to seek forgetfulness in sleep. After a while he fell asleep and the dream again came to him with all its previous vividness; more clearly and distinctly he heard the voice saying to him. "Arise, without delay, and go to Bodmin." He could no longer rest, and resolved to find for himself whether there was anything more than fancy in it, by immediately setting out for Bodmin. He hurriedly dressed and then went to the paddock adjoining his house that he might catch and saddle his pony. He had some misgiving that it would be a long and difficult task in the night, but to his surprise when he reached the field he found the pony at the gate as though waiting for him. He was soon in the saddle and at a brisk trot started for Bodmin. Just then another thought troubled him. He remembered that between three and four miles from Plymouth he would have to cross a wide, deep, tidal river. In the daytime a ferryboat was constantly plying there, but during the night the ferryboat was kept on the opposite shore, and he feared that he might not be able to make himself heard. When, however, he arrived at the river he found the boat waiting for him. Surprised at this he asked the men why they had remained on that side of the river. They said it appeared to them as if some person called "boat" several times; they crossed the river, and not finding any person there, were about to return, when they heard the noise of horse's hoofs on the hard road (it was a clear frosty night) and determined to wait and see if any person wished to cross. This incident tended to confirm his first impression, that there must be a purpose in his dream.

In due time he arrived in the town of Bodmin, and after so long a ride was glad to seek some refreshment. Then the question came to him, "why am I here?" He was a perfect stranger; he had never seen that town before, he had not a friend in the place. On that occasion Bodmin wore an unusually busy appearance for a small market town. The reason soon became apparent; what are termed the "spring assizes," were being held. In such towns the holding of "assize" is the notable event of the year. Having nothing else to do he strolled into the court. He there found himself surrounded by those medieval arrangements which are still supposed in Europe to lend dignity and solemnity to the administration of justice. There was the judge on the bench, with his wig of powdered horse-hair hanging over his shoulders, and gorgeously attired in a robe of scarlet and ermine. There were the barristers in wigs and silk gowns, and the various officers of the court arrayed in their different uniforms. There were also the usual crowd of interested spectators, the whole forming an impressive scene.

At the bar there stood the prisoner, a man of pale, anxious face, having nothing of the appearance of the ordinary felon. The charge preferred against him was that of highway robbery; a crime in that day always punished with death.

Prior to the deacon's arrival, witnesses had been examined and cross-examined without the testimony being shaken. The prisoner's case appeared most difficult of defense, and it was generally felt that the jury would very speedily arrive at a decision when once it was placed in their hands. The jury were charged by the judge, dismissed to consider the case, and after a short ab-

Danger!

If you have a feeling of oppression and uneasiness a little above the diaphragm, and just below the right ribs, aggravated by lying on the right side, look out! As sure as fate, your liver is disordered. Perhaps not seriously as yet, but—fatal hepatic abscesses are not uncommon. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is the precise remedy to regulate the liver, and prevent its congestion and inflammation, and to disperse such minor indicia of its derangement as yellowness of the skin and ball of the eye, furred tongue, sourness of the breath, nausea on rising in the morning, dizziness, sick headache and constipation. By relaxing the bowels painlessly, it opens a channel of exit for the superfluous bile, checks a tendency to congestion and engorgement of the liver, at the same time giving a gentle impetus to its secretive action, and affords relief to the stomach, which is usually inactive, out of order and oppressed with wind when the bowels are costive. Use the bitters also in fever and ague, rheumatism and kidney troubles.

Hilarious Fishermen.

A despatch of the 5th inst. from Halifax says: "The Canadian police schooner L. Howlett chased several American fishermen out of Canso strait. She was not fast enough to catch them. She fired a gun, but it is not known whether it was loaded or not. The American crews treated the whole thing as a huge joke. They blew fog horns and fired fowling pieces as they scudded along, and made all the noise they could for the edification of the crowd on the shore. Later the Howlett chased a Gloucester schooner away from Port Hawkins over nearly the same course, and was again outsailed. There was something on the Gloucester vessel that looked like a cannon, and the Howlett did not fire her gun. The shore people openly sympathize with the American fishermen. They are angry with the authorities for spoiling their bait trade."

Forty Texas editors went on an excursion to St. Louis the other day, and a committee of home journalists met them and escorted them "to the breweries and other places of interest," as the reports have it. The St. Louis brethren knew their men.

"Nattie" Yeaton, the ancient and old-fashioned ferryman of Durham, pulled down the river to this city in his boat last week for the 4th time this season.

How to laundry linen as it is done in Troy, N. Y., has been kept a secret long enough; it can and should be done in every family. The Elastic Starch is the only starch in the United States that is put up by men who have a practical knowledge of the laundry profession. It requires no cooking, keeps the iron from sticking and linen from blistering while ironing, and gives shirts, cuffs and collars that stiffness and beautiful polish they have when new, which, everybody knows keeps them clean twice as long. Beware of imitations. See that the name J. C. HUBINGER & BRO., New Haven, Conn., is on every package.

It is announced that the president and his wife will visit the White mountains during the president's August vacation, coming from the Adirondacks by special train. They will be met at Bethlehem by state officials and will visit all the prominent points of interest, including the Notch, Fabyan's, Crawford's, and Mount Washington. Subsequently they will go to Massachusetts and stop at several sea shore resorts. Only two previous presidents have visited the White mountains. President Grant and cabinet came in 1871, and President Hayes in 1879.

The Root of all Evil.

To thoroughly cure scrofula it is necessary to strike directly at the root of the evil. This is exactly what Hood's Sarsaparilla does, by acting upon the blood, thoroughly cleansing it of all impurities, and leaving not even a taint of scrofula in the vital fluid. Thousands who have been cured of scrofula by Hood's Sarsaparilla, testify to its wonderful blood-purifying qualities. Sold by all druggists.

Secretary Manning's Resignation.

The letter of resignation of Hon. Daniel Manning as secretary of the treasury, and the reply of President Cleveland requesting his ablest secretary to continue to October, have been published. Besides a pardonable mutual admiration or exchange of complimentary sentences, there is contained in each a rebuke of the majority of their political friends in the house of representatives for not accomplishing in regard to the currency and the tariff the duty committed to the democracy in the last congressional elections. Mr. Cleveland says ditto to what Mr. Manning suggests in relation to silver coinage. The representatives have acted counter to their financial views, and Mr. Cleveland does not forget. He sends these members his wedding cards, but at the same time they have no place in his heart. Mr. Manning makes a Pickwickian remark as to the present sagacious conduct of our foreign policy by the state department, which is capable of being construed either way by Mr. Bayard's friends or his many disappointed former political associates.

Mr. Manning is by far the ablest man in the cabinet, and the president knows his worth. He is especially sound on matters pertaining to the currency. He is a politician, yet at the same time a financier. He believes in stability in our monetary affairs, in an economical administration of the collection of the revenue and a solid gold reserve, and is opposed to a dangerous expansion of silver circulation. In fine, he is a democrat who has no fear of adopting and maintaining correct ideas upon these subjects simply because sound and thinking men of the opposite party have advanced similar ideas, or because for reasons not apparent on the surface men in his own party who have less natural gifts in this direction than he possesses, fail to appreciate the folly of their course.

No patriotic republican desires to see the administration of President Cleveland unsuccessful by reason of incompetence in his cabinet ministers. The democratic party, through their representatives in Congress, will see to it that the next president of the United States will be a republican. No sagacious person can doubt this. It is therefore that republicans as well as the best men in the democracy, regard the probable retirement of Mr. Manning as a public misfortune. Just where the president can find a fit successor for the statesman of the Empire state, in his own party, is difficult to foresee. Very few men can afford to fill the office of secretary of the treasury. Such men as Chase, Richardson and McCulloch are not frequently to be seen in looking over the roll of democratic statesmen.

Mr. Manning is a broader man than his fellow members in the cabinet. Democrat though he was, he rose above all traditional trammels when in an official report at the outset of his term he paid a compliment to the wisdom and financial sagacity of his predecessor of an opposite political faith from the administration of which he was the chief corner stone. As an executive officer, as a statesman endeavoring to administer his department upon sound and economic principles, he has received a just recognition from the leading journals of the party in opposition to the administration, seldom if ever seen in this country, where partisan views have so constantly tended to obscure an impartial contemplation of the excellencies of an officer in the councils of the opposition.

Let us hope that rest and abstinence from official cares will restore the impaired health of Mr. Manning, and the country, in its business career, be saved the delays and inconveniences of adjusting its relations to conform to the views of some new cabinet minister with probably less knowledge of what is needed, less appreciation of our capacities and wants and less familiarity with our financial problem than has been shown by the present incumbent in his official career.

AROUND HOME.

The work of tunnelling though that portion of the Deer street ledge which remains to be pierced for the big sewer, was commenced Monday.

Hon. Cyrus Eastman of Littleton is at his cottage at Odiorne's point. Col. Eastman has recently built and finished the Chiswick Inn, situated a half mile from the railway station in Littleton. The new inn opens this month, and from its piazza is had a view of the White and Franconia mountains. The new establishment is under the direction of A. W. Weeks, formerly of the Asquam house, Holderness.

We are informed that the horse which ran against and overthrew Mr. J. V. Hanscom's carriage on Memorial day was so badly injured by the collision that he had to be killed on Friday, the hide being taken off and sold for a dollar at the tanyard.

Capt. Ed. Jameson is drying fish upon his flakes at Commercial wharf. They are very tempting to the sight, smell and taste, so that the captain finds it a troublesome job to keep the hungry boys from stripping them there.

Lewis Holmes has hoisted a new and pretty American ensign at his boatlanding at Commercial wharf.

It is stated on excellent authority that Ald. Cook of Portsmouth will be the Knights of Labor candidate for mayor of that city at the coming municipal election there.—Dover Democrat.

Col. John S. Jackson of Boston was in town on Monday.

The fog-horn was blowing at a lively rate on Monday evening.

Mr. Samuel A. Hawkes is having an open fence placed about the front of his premises on Deer street. This is public spirited and commendable, for the garden is very agreeable to the view of one landing from the cars at the railroad station, or passing on the street.

The schooner Fleur-de-Lis, netter, was at Commercial wharf on Sunday with a quantity of bait and about fifty mackerel, which latter fish are just appearing on Jaffrey's ledge.

Capt. Levi Downs, of the schooner Agnes E. Downs, was in the city on Sunday. He reported mackerel off Cape Cod.

Mr. Jacob Remick, an old and highly respected resident of Kittery lower foreside, died early Sunday morning, after a short illness with typhoid pneumonia. He leaves a widow and four children, who deeply mourn their loss. Mr. Remick was a prominent Mason and Odd Fellow, and the funeral takes place to-day at the Christian church, under the conduct of those orders.

The regular session of the York county Congregational conference will be held at Kennebunk, to-day.

A fancy bakery is being built upon the premises of Hartley W. Mason at York harbor.

A well dressed man, with a very good horse and carriage, was picked up on Islington street near the residence of Alderman Coffin, Sunday. The man was asleep, apparently from the effects of intoxication; he was taken out of the carriage by a gentleman in that vicinity, and the horse cared for, while the man was placed in a quiet spot to sleep off the effects of his intoxication. He was long in recovering from his stupor, and it was suspected that he had been drugged. On coming to himself in the evening he inquired for his horse and several hundred dollars in money, which he said he had Saturday night. He did not know how he came to be in Portsmouth, or how he lost his money. He is said to belong in Newmarket, and was able to start for that place about ten o'clock Sunday night.

There were fourteen cars on a special train which brought stockholders to this city from Boston and intermediate stations on Monday. A large proportion of the passengers were women, who spent their time looking about the city. The train started on its return at one o'clock.

Mr. George Scott had on exhibition at the north end on Saturday a very small specimen of a very wise-looking bird, which was palmed off on a city official who has quite a reputation as a sportsman, as being an Irish thrush just brought over from the "Old Dart" by a native of the country who recently returned from a visit to the land of his birth. The official afterward tried to make out that he knew all the time that the bird was only a cat-owl.

Hon. Ezra A. Stevens of Malden, Mass., formerly of this city, and state senator from this district under the old dispensation of twelve districts, was in town on Monday.

Happiness

results from that true contentment which indicates perfect health of body and mind. You may possess it, if you will purify and invigorate your blood with Ayer's Sarsaparilla. E. M. Howard, Newport, N. H., writes: "I suffered for years with Scrofulous humors. After using two bottles of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, I great relief. It has entirely restored me to health." James French, Atchison, Kans., writes: "To all persons suffering from Liver Complaint, I would strongly recommend Ayer's Sarsaparilla. I was afflicted with a disease of the liver for nearly two years, when a friend advised me to take this medicine. It gave prompt relief, and has cured me." Mrs. H. M. Kidder, 41 Dwight st., Boston, Mass., writes: "For several years I have used Ayer's Sarsaparilla in my family. I never feel safe, even without it. As a liver medicine and general purifier of the blood, it has no equal." Mrs. A. B. Allen, Winterpock, Va., writes: "My youngest child, two years of age, was taken with Bowel Complaint, which we could not cure. We tried many remedies, but he continued to grow worse, and finally became so reduced in flesh that we could only move him upon a pillow. It was suggested by one of the doctors that Scrofula might be the cause of the trouble. We procured a bottle of and commenced giving it to him. It surely worked wonders, for, in a short time, he was completely cured."

Found

At Home

THE GRADUATING CLASS.

The high school graduating class this year numbers twenty-four, eleven young women and thirteen young men, six of the latter having taken the three years course. Their names are as follows:

THIRD YEAR — Frank C. Hoyt, Thomas D. Noyes, Lincoln J. Coleman, Everett Trefethen, Fred W. Boynton, and Arthur H. Rand.

FOURTH YEAR—Florence A. Webb, Mabel A. Manson, Grace F. Leavitt, Nellie Morrissey, Lucy Hoyt, Annie Wingate, Agnes B. Webber, Ruth Jarvis, Theresa Wilson, Annie Stimpson, Kitty Rand, Minot H. Beacham, Clifton H. Humphreys, George B. Stavers, Harry Hutchinson, Frank E. Mason, William J. Newell, Stanley P. Thompson.

Harlow's orchestra has been engaged for the evening reception in Franklin hall.

Meetings of the class have been held at the houses of different pupils; the next one will be held at Miss Annie Wingate's, Austin street, Wednesday evening.

RESIGNATION.

Rev. Charles R. Crossett on Sunday last presented his letter of resignation as pastor, to the Hanover street Second Advent church. The letter, read by the clerk, has not so far been accepted, but the reverend gentleman announced his intention of preaching his farewell sermon on Sunday, July 4th proximo, after which it is supposed that the next convention of pastors of that denomination will present a substitute to the society.

SUICIDE.

Woolston Levers, coachman for Mayor Eldredge, cut his throat from ear to ear about half-past four o'clock Monday afternoon, at his residence on Cornwall street, and died early that evening. He leaves a wife and several children. No cause is assigned for the suicide.

FIRE-ALARM CHANGES.

The arrangement of the fire-alarm boxes was being changed on Monday, several numbers being re-located, consequent on the addition to the apparatus of several new boxes ordered by the board of aldermen.

The box at the police station will hereafter strike fifty-eight; and seventeen, previously the station number will be struck from the box on the corner of Daniel and Bow streets—a new station. These changes were made Monday, and an alarm pulled in from each box Monday evening to test the gear, which worked all right.

A new box at the corner of Vaughan and Deer streets will be numbered nine.

UNIFORMED OFFICIALS.

All the officials in the New York custom house are to wear uniforms after July 15th, "when on duty." The summer uniform will be of blue flannel with a single-breasted sack coat, and the winter uniform of metropolitan police beaver and a double-breasted coat. The cap will be the present pattern for navy officers, with white linen covers for summer, and "U. S. Customs" embroidered in gold on the front.

If the order is to go into effect all through the country it will create great "uniformity" in the service. We can imagine the style in which the inspectors in the large building opposite our office will go forth to board the British vessels which come into port with railway ties and Dominion eggs, and to examine for possibly smuggled freight. By all means let us have the uniforms. It would be just too nobby for anything, for the little while they would have to be worn, while the officers were "on duty."

UNITED STATES CIRCUIT COURT.

MONDAY, June 7th.

Arthur H. Dealand, who was surrendered by his first bail on the 3d instant, recognized on Monday with a new surety in $1000 for his appearance to answer the indictment pending against him at the October term. Frink for United States; Edgerly for respondent.

CORPORATION MEETINGS.

The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Portland, Saco & Portsmouth railroad company was held at the company's hall in Kittery on Monday. Arthur Sewall, Esq, of Boston, president of the corporation, called the meeting to order, and presided. The call for the meeting was read by F. R. Barrett of Portland. Messrs. William H. Hackett of Portsmouth, E. R. Burnham of Saco and J. Robinson of Salem were appointed a committee to receive, sort and count the votes for directors, and the report of the committee shew the unanimous election of Arthur Sewall of Bath, Wm. B. Bacon of Boston, Samuel C. Lawrence of Medford, Mass., Frank Jones of Portsmouth, Thomas W. Hyde of Bath, F. R. Barrett of Portland and James R. Nichols of Haverhill, Mass.

The annual meeting of the Portsmouth, Great Falls & Conway railroad stockholders was held at the Eastern railroad station in this city on Monday, the meeting being called to order by President Sewall at twelve o'clock, noon. The call for the meeting was read by Wallace Hackett, Esq., clerk. The stockholders then proceeded to the choice of directors, when the following-named gentlemen were declared elected:

Arthur Sewall of Bath, Me., Samuel C. Lawrence of Medford, Mass., Frank Jones of Portsmouth, John W. Sanborn of Wakefield, Charles H. Sawyer of Dover.

At a subsequent meeting of the directors Arthur Sewall was elected president, N. G. Chapin of Boston treasurer, and Wallace Hackett of Portsmouth clerk.

The annual meeting of the proprietors of Portsmouth bridge was held at the same place immediately following the P. G. F. & C. R. R. meeting, and Arthur Sewall, Frank Jones, Samuel C. Lawrence, Charles H. Sawyer, John S. H. Frink of Portsmouth, William H. Hackett of Portsmouth, and John W. Sanborn of Wakefield were elected directors.

The directors afterward re-elected Arthur Sewall president, N. G. Chapin treasurer, and Wallace Hackett clerk.

At the annual meeting of the Wolfeborough railroad, also held in this city on Monday, President Sewall presided and the following-named gentlemen were chosen directors without opposition:

Arthur Sewall, Samuel C. Lawrence, Frank Jones, John W. Sanborn, Charles H. Sawyer, John M. Brackett of Wolfeborough and Joseph L. Avery of Wolfeborough.

At a meeting of the directors Arthur Sewall was re-elected president, N. G. Chapin treasurer, and John L. Peavey of Wolfeborough clerk.

MUNICIPAL AFFAIRS.

There was a special meeting of the city councils on Monday evening, June 7th, the object of the call being to harmonize, if possible, the differences between the two boards in regard to the sale of the city farm and part of the city's railroad stock. The committee of the common council who acted on the questions before, were appointed a committee of conference on the part of the council, other members declining to serve. The joint committee had a meeting in the aldermen's room, and the conferees on behalf of the council on returning reported a disagreement, and asked one week further time for consideration, which was granted by the council.

FIRE.

The alarm of fire from box twenty-four, at half-past twelve o'clock Monday afternoon, was caused by the burning of two feather pillows in the house of Mr. James Carey, No. 14 Washington street. The pillows were in a clothes-basket in a kitchen closet under a flight of stairs; smelling fire, Mrs. Carey hastened to search for the cause, and on opening the door found the closet full of dense smoke, and not knowing how much of a hold the fire had got, very properly gave an immediate alarm. Somebody "snaked" the basket from the closet into the yard, and the ravages of the fire fiend were stayed, the only damage being the destruction of the two pillows, the blackening of the inside of the clothes-basket, and the dissemination through the house of a smell of burned feathers.

After the fire was out, Kearsarge steamer, having steam already up, was placed at the Market street reservoir to have her regular monthly test, and worked satisfactorily, but bursted three lengths of the old leathern hose. This was a good time to burst the old rubbish, which is wholly untrustworthy, and should be at once sold to the junk dealer, and replaced by jacket hose; the heavy taxpayers will never grumble at any plainly needed outlay to keep the fire extinguishing apparatus up to a high state of efficiency.

A circumstance which caused much mirth among the army of unemployed who witnessed it, took place during the working of the engine. The leading hose was stretched from the reservoir toward Congress street, and a gentleman holding a very important position in one of our prominent industries stepped across one of the defective lengths at the instant it gave away beneath him, and the engine being running at full speed at the time, the result can be easily imagined. Some of the spectators assert that he was boosted about two feet into the air by the sudden upward rush of water, but this is probably a flight of the imagination.

THE COTTAGE HOSPITAL.

All the ladies belonging to the different religious societies who will take an active interest in getting up an entertainment for the benefit of the hospital, to be given some time in August, are requested to meet at the hospital to discuss the matter on Thursday afternoon at four o'clock.

PER ORDER.

IMPROVED PASSENGER ACCOMMODATIONS.

The new passenger station in Portland to be occupied by the Boston & Maine, Eastern, Maine Central, Portland & Rochester and Portland & Ogdensburg railroads is nearly completed. The building is 110x40 feet, two storied. The first floor is divided into a large, well-lighted ticket office, ladies' and gentlemen's waiting rooms, closets, etc.; the second floor is to be finished into offices. Three covered slips 245x18 feet extend south between the six new tracks to a covered walk connected with the old Eastern and Maine Central depot.

The present Boston & Maine depot, which has already been leased, is to be altered and enlarged for hotel purposes. The first floor of the old Eastern depot is to be changed into a first-class dining saloon.

The frog is already in place at Westbrook junction, and about June 17th the Portland & Rochester trains will commence running into the new station over the Maine Central track from the junction. The Portland & Rochester's present depot, on the opposite side of the city, is to be devoted to that road's freight business.

This will offered all the railways leading into Portland, with the exception of the Grand Trunk, accommodations under one roof, and of course be of great convenience to travellers passing through Portland to other places in Maine; of course this result is one of the beneficial outcomes of the union of the Boston & Maine and Eastern railways, and the public gain in consequence thereof.

Miss Morgan's school closes this week. The principal goes to Europe per steamer of the 17th inst.

Mr. Will C. Hatch started by the Monday morning train for Kansas City, in search of renewed health. He was accompanied by Mr. Daniel N. Pickering of Newington, who will go as far as Illinois.

If one-half that is claimed for the Electric Light Co. which is soon to be ready to light houses, stores and public places, is true, we are soon to have a most beautiful system of lighting at a moderate cost,—one which will in brilliancy and economy fairly put the present system of lighting by gas entirely in the shade.

The apple tree orchard in front of the residence of the late Capt. Samuel Langdon on Lafayette road has been stripped of leaves by the canker worms.

SOLDIERS' MONUMENT.

There will be a meeting of the finance committee, Soldiers' & Sailors' monument, at the Common Council rooms on Tuesday evening, June 8th, at 7:30 o'clock. C. M. GIGNOUX, Chairman.

C. E. Myers & Co., at the old stand, corner of Market and Bow streets, are offering a full line of men's and boys' all-wool merino underwear at thirty-five cents, well worth fifty.

Soda is the natural alkali of the blood, and is principally given in diseases attended with acidity of the stomach, such as gout, dyspepsia, etc. Preston's Pocket Package is convenient for travellers, and the Tablets perfectly reliable.

SKIN TORTURES — AND — BLOOD HUMORS

HUMILIATING Eruptions Itching and Burning Skin Torturers, Loathsome Sores, and every species of Itching, Scaly, Pimply, Inherited, Scrofulous and Contagious Diseases of the Blood, Skin and Scalp, with Loss of Hair, from infancy to old age, are positively cured by CUTICURA, the great Skin Cure, and CUTICURA SOAP, an exquisite Skin Beautifier, externally. And CUTICURA RESOLVENT, the new Blood Purifier, internally.

COVERED WITH SORES.

I have been afflicted since last March with a Skin disease the doctors called Eczema. My face was covered with scabs and sores, and the itching and burning were almost unbearable. Seeing your CUTICURA REMEDIES so highly recommended, concluded to give them a trial, using the CUTICURA and CUTICURA SOAP externally, and RESOLVENT internally, for four months. I call my self cured, in gratitude for which I make this public statement.

MRS. CLARA A. FREDERICK.
BROAD BROOK, CONN.

SCALP, FACE EARS AND NECK.

I was afflicted with Eczema on the Scalp, Face, Ears and Neck, which the druggist, where I got your remedies, pronounced one of the worst cases that had come under his notice. He advised me to try your CUTICURA REMEDIES, and after five days use my scalp and part of my face were entirely cured, and I hope in another week to have my ears, neck, and the other part of my face cured. HERMAN SLADE.
120 E. 4TH STREET, NEW YORK.

ITCHING DISEASES CURED.

CUTICURA stands at the head of its class, especially is this the case with the CUTICURA SOAP. Having had an extensive trade with this article, owing to the prevalence of an aggravated form of Itch through some localities in the country, in which the CUTICURA REMEDIES proved satisfactory. W. L. HARDIGG, Druggist.
UNIONTOWN, KY.

CURE IN EVERY CASE.

YOUR CUTICURA REMEDIES outsell all other medicines I keep for skin diseases. My customers and patients say they have effected a cure in every instance, where other remedies have failed.

Constitutional Catarrh.

No single disease has entailed more suffering or hastening the breaking up of the constitution than Catarrh. The sense of smell, of taste, of sight, of hearing, the human voice, the mind,—one or more, and sometimes all, yield to its destructive influence. The poison it distributes throughout the system attacks every vital force, and breaks up the most robust of constitutions. Ignored, because but little understood, by most physicians, imperfectly assailed by quacks and charlatans, those suffering from it have little hope to be relieved of it this side of the grave. It is time, then, that the popular treatment of this terrible disease by remedies within the reach of all passed into hands at once competent and trustworthy. The new and hitherto untried method adopted by Dr. Sanford in the preparation of his RADICAL CURE has won the hearty approval of thousands. It is instantaneous in affording relief in all head colds, sneezing, snuffing and obstructed breathing, and rapidly removes the constitutional tendency of the disease towards the lungs, liver and kidneys.

sence returned with the verdict of guilty. According to the custom, before pronouncing sentence on the prisoner, the judge asked what he had to say, why the verdict should not be carried out.

In reply to that question the prisoner strongly asserted his innocence, declared that he was not in that part of the country when the crime was committed, but many miles away. He said there was one man who, if he could meet with him, would be able to attest his innocence. He had met the man before that day, and had not met with him since. He told the court that on the very day the crime with which he was charged was committed, he was riding on the outside of a stage coach, and held a long conversation with that unknown man on an important religious question. When the prisoner had proceeded thus far with his statement, he discovered the presence of the deacon in court, and, addressing himself to the judge, exclaimed, "My lord, the very man of whom I have spoken is here, and if placed in the witness-box can, I am sure, prove that I am innocent of the crime with which I am charged."

The deacon gladly assumed the position of "witness" in this very remarkable trial, and was able to discover the purpose of his presence in Bodmin that day. He referred to his distinct remembrance of the conversation the prisoner had alluded to, and then related to the judge and court the incident of the past night which was the occasion of his journey to Bodmin.

The statement produced a profound impression, and the judge directed that the prisoner should immediately be set at liberty, saying, "This is the finger of God."

The record of this remarkable incident may still be found in the Minutes Assize of the county of Cornwall, England.

The legal fraternity gets any amount of chaffing about the big fees that are charged by some of its members under aggravating circumstances. In a group up-town Gen. Casement, of Ohio, told how a West Virginia attorney had recently attempted to charge him $1,800 for filing a bill of $18,000 with a railroad receiver. Ex-Senator J. B. Chaffee said that he could tell a larger tale than that. S. B. Elkins and himself were engaged some years ago in a controversy over some land in New Mexico. There was a difference between them and other parties which could be compromised for $2,000. On the the advice of four attorneys who were their counsel they refused to settle, and went to court. They got badly beaten in court, and were presented by the four lawyers with bills aggregating $25,000. A Minnesota man remarked after hearing these stories that he knew of a case which outran all these. When he first went west he was engaged in a small way in farming. He raised among other things a litter of pigs. One of the shoats was stolen. He traced it to the domicile of a shiftless neighbor, and sued him for the value of the pig. Of course he hired an attorney. He got a verdict of $3. The lawyer sent him in a bill for a cool hundred. He said he thought it was cheap—for the experience.—N. Y. Tribune.
